Senate Wants 28th Division Brought Home.

Harrisburg, Feb. 18.—The Senate today adopted a resolution petitioning the Secretary of War to order the return from foreign service and discharge of the Twenty-eighth division, Pennsylvania Guard, was sent to the House for concurrence.

Officers who have returned from overseas service or who have been mustered out, especially those dissatisfied with the way the War Department handled the National Guard officers and units, will be given opportunity to present their views by the military committee of the House. Chairman Golder, of the committee, announced today that he proposed to hold hearings in various cities on the bills for military training presented to the House.

TWENTY-EIGHTH HARD FIGHTERS.
 Philadelphia, February 18.—Pennsylvania's Twenty-eighth (Iron) division became known as the "Y" division of the American army, according to the Rev. Robert P. Zebley, who has returned to his home, 5304 Chestnut street, after almost two years spent in Y. M. C. A. work abroad.

"Wherever the fighting was most furious and it seemed as if the Germans might have a chance to break through or stem the American offensive the men of the Iron division were sent," he said.

Mr. Zebley formerly was pastor of Grace Baptist church, Camden. He was one of the fifty-seven "Y" workers on board the Oronsa when that ship was torpedoed.

"I was with the Twenty-eighth division at Camp Hancock," he said, "and the wonderful drive at Chateau Thierry, 'he men went into action on the south side of the Marne in June and were fighting continuously as long as the Americans held the sector."

"At La Channel, where Quentin Roosevelt was shot down, the ground changed hands eight times. The fighting was in the open, and there were no dugouts except holes just big enough for a man to get in. These were made by the boys about twenty-five or thirty yards apart as they climbed up the hill and finally held the ground. Eight Germans fell to every American. I was following along with the headquarters."

Income Tax Blanks are Ready for Distribution.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Individuals with incomes of $5000 or less may now obtain income tax return forms at offices of revenue collectors of banks, the revenue bureau announced today. The forms have been distributed throughout the country, and were released today without awaiting signature of the revenue bill by the President. The form for individual incomes of more than $5000 and other tax return forms will be available within two weeks.

The individual for incomes of $5000 or less is a printed sheet divided into three parts, one constituting a "work sheet" on which a taxpayer may figure his income according to the guide provided, another containing detailed instructions, and the third being the actual return form. Married persons or heads of family who made $2000 or more, and single persons who made $1000 or more in 1918, must make out returns before March 15.

Accompanying the individual return form is a schedule for use of farmers in calculation net income for 1918. This will assist a farmer in determining value of crops, live stock, corn products, live stock products, and other materials, sold and on hand, and expenses. The form is itemized in detail.

Bogus Inspectors Mulet Farmers.

Shamokin, Pa., Feb. 17.—Farmers throughout the Mahantonga and Mahanoy Valleys, rural districts of Northumberland county, have asked the police of Central Pennsylvania to assist them in running down a pair of swindlers who during last week muled them to the extent of nearly $1000. The men represented themselves as government inspectors, representing to farmers owning steam boilers for the operation of threshing, butchering and other machinery, that the government required that their boilers be inspected for safety reasons. Fees of from five to eight dollars were exacted of each farmer.

A Table Made With a Jackknife.

A table containing eight hundred and thirty-two separate pieces, including many things, has been made by a California man. The only tool employed in the work was a jackknife. It took just four years to complete the work, and the owner of the table values it at five thousand dollars.

Dr. Edward M. Herbst.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 17.—Dr. Edwin M. Herbst, who represented Berks in the State Senate sixteen years, and who in his time was widely known in Democratic councils in Pennsylvania, died at his home at Friedensberg today, aged sixty-eight years, after a long illness. He was a graduate of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and for thirty years was a prominent figure in Berks politics.

Censor's Office Boy.

It must be the censor's office boy who is responsible for some of the vagaries of the blue pencil. Not long ago some patriotic soul quoted Kipling's line from the "Recessional," "The captains and the kings depart." He had the surprise of his life when the word "kings" was struck out. But worse is now reported. Another scribe, greatly daring in the meatless days, quoted Thomas Hood's joke in an article on "Wayside Graves," or something equally solemn:
 "So they buried Ben at four cross-roads
 With a stake in his inside."
 That was too much for the censor's office boy. A stake in his inside, indeed. The censor's office boy knew if he knew how to spell that the food controller would never sanction a whole "steak"—a nice, succulent, juicy steak, in anybody's inside. So he deleted the offending lines. Who shall say that we are not ardently patriotic people?—London News.

Slow Sartorial Reconstruction.

The question of civilian equipment has its humorous as well as its serious aspects for the honorably discharged soldier or sailor. Some are lucky enough to return immediately and completely to "civils," while others, less fortunate, must content themselves with a sort of half and half adornment. It no longer causes astonishment to detect a pair of neatly creased trousers hanging stiffly beneath military kiaki overcoat, or to see the short blue jacket of the sailor covering an otherwise perfect civilian outfit. These are some of the minor problems of reconstruction.—New York Sun.

Remarkable Repair Ship.

To enable the American destroyers and chasers in British waters immediately to effect repairs and renewals, there was a repair ship stationed at Queenstown of a remarkable character. The vessel, of about 5,000 tons, was a floating machine shop, foundry and store, able to do any kind of repair work short of drydock work. The bakery produced long loaves of crusty bread for all the ships, and once created a most elaborate birthday cake for Admiral Sims.

Fordson Tractor

The Crowning Achievement of Henry Ford

Coming from the Ford Company the quality of this great Tractor can be taken for granted. The purposes it serves on the modern farm are so varied that it would take columns to explain them. It will do anything that a string of horses will do—do it better, quicker, and at much less cost. Plowing, harrowing, drilling, hauling are among the many attractive functions of the Fordson. Then you must add the countless uses to which it is converted on the farm as a stationary power plant. No modern farm will be without one; other farms can become modern profit-producers by buying one.

The Fordson Tractor has a belt power of 24 H. P., and on the Draw Bar 12 H. P. The cost is much lower than you would expect, and the upkeep is proven surprisingly low.

You, Mr. Farmer, owe it to yourself to investigate the Fordson Tractor. Nothing can satisfy you like seeing it do the work. Our representative will call anywhere to show you. Write.

A six-months' subscription to the "Fordson Farmer," a monthly magazine, will be sent free upon request.
