Bellefonte, Pa., March 28, 1919.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Dr. M. J. Locke is now driving a new Ford runabout.

—Only eighteen more days, and then: Oh boy! Trout fishing time will be here.

—Michael Hazel celebrated his birthday anniversary on Tuesday and he candidly admitted that it was at least his thirtieth.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Tressler will store a part of their furniture in their house on Howard street, going to make their home for the present with their son Samuel, on Curtin street.

—C. D. Casebeer, the jeweler and optometrist, moved this week from his old location in the Centre County bank building to a room in the Brockerhoff house block, next door to the Brockerhoff office.

—Centre county's per capita of war savings stamps bought up to the week ending March 15th was 96 cents, keeping the county third on the list of all the counties in the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

—A business meeting and thimble bee of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. R. S. Brouse, Friday afternoon, March 28th. All the members and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

—Mrs. Milford Kunes and three children, of Blanchard, are ill with typhoid fever. While helping to take care of them Mrs. Milford Heverley, of Howard, also contracted the disease and was taken to the Lock Haven hospital on Monday.

—The Aid society of the Reformed church have begun on their big benefit sale, to be held the Saturday before Easter. Bread, cakes, pies and articles of plain sewing will be on sale. Special orders for pastry or sewing should be sent in early.

—Three prisoners made their escape from the Clinton county jail at Lock Haven at an early hour on Tuesday morning by breaking the lock on the rear door of the jail and prying open the lower part of the door in the wall surrounding the jail yard.

—At a meeting of the board of directors of the First National bank of Howard held on March 19th George M. Harter, of Nittany, was elected a director. Mr. Harter is a Democratic candidate for the nomination for County Commissioner of Centre county.

—Twelve loaded cars were wrecked near Gardner station on the Tyrone and Clearfield railroad about 1:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon when one car jumped the track. Nobody was injured but the accident tied up traffic on the Mountain branch until after midnight on Tuesday morning.

—The March meeting of the Woman's club will be held in the High school building, Monday evening of next week. In view of the great amount of work the club hopes to accomplish between this and the end of the year, it is urgent that all members should be present at each meeting.

—The County conference of Women's clubs will hold a day's session in the High school building on April 5th, beginning at 10 a. m. A box luncheon will be served during the social hour at noon, and coffee will be provided by the Woman's club of Bellefonte. This meeting has been planned with special reference to the "carry on" work which, it is hoped, women will undertake now that the war is over, and a full attendance of all women in the county, whether club members or not, is earnestly desired.

—Three prisoners who evidently hadn't sense enough to appreciate their surroundings at the new penitentiary at Rock View were taken back to the old institution at Pittsburgh on Wednesday morning. One of the men protested rather vigorously against being taken back. His main objection to the Rockview institution was the work connected with it. He liked the place well enough but he refused to work and as the new penitentiary is no place for idlers the authorities decided to take him back to Pittsburgh.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Hull had her left hand badly mangled at an early hour last Friday morning by getting caught in the moulding machine at the City bakery. Mrs. Hull was employed at the bakery and was engaged in feeding the dough into the moulding machine when her hand was caught between the rolls. The bones in several of her fingers were broken and the flesh literally stripped from the back of her hand. The small arteries were also torn loose. She was taken to the Bellefonte hospital where every effort is being made to save her hand and her attending physicians are now hopeful of doing so.

—J. E. Rice, of Harrisburg, the original instigator of the Bellefonte tax automobile proposition a number of years ago, which of course didn't materialize, is again in trouble in Williamsport, this time on the charge of false pretense and the fraudulent retention of property. Representing himself as agent for a tire company he made a trip through Lycoming county last December, took orders for tires for future delivery, collected partial payment but failed to deliver the tires. Lycoming county authorities went to Harrisburg last Saturday, arrested Rice and took him to Williamsport to answer to the charge against him.

FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED.

A Score of Centre County Farmers Want to Borrow $72,500.

Fifty Centre county farmers were present at the meeting held in the grand jury room in the court house on Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a Centre county branch of the National Farm Loan association, and so enticing were the arrangements for securing and carrying loans for agricultural purposes as presented by a representative of the Federal Land bank of Baltimore that twenty farmers made application for loans aggregating $72,500, and a Centre county association was formed by the election of the following officers:

President—Frank H. Clemons, Buffalo Run.

Vice President—J. J. Markle, State College.

Secretary and Treasurer—Nelson E. Robb, of the Bellefonte Trust Co.

The board of directors selected is composed of the above three gentlemen and in addition James C. Smith, State College; Harry F. Haagan, of Yarnell, and Thomas J. Burke, Howard.

Prior to the organization of the association the entire plans and purposes of the Farm Loan association were very fully explained by I. W. Whitehead, of Baltimore, and who is now engaged in organization work in Pennsylvania. Mr. Whitehead told in detail of the organization of the Federal Reserve banks as a means of financing big business over panics and financial difficulties and the land banks were organized under an Act of Congress to aid the farmers of the country. Under the act Congress appropriated $750,000 for the work and the country was divided into twelve districts, Pennsylvania being in the second district with Baltimore as the financial centre.

Under the plans formulated farmers can borrow to the extent of fifty per cent. of the valuation of their land plus twenty per cent. of the insured value of their buildings and improvements. The rate of interest charged is 5 1/2 per cent., with an additional one per cent. to be applied to the reduction of the principal. An loan is made for the long term of 34 1/2 years and at the expiration of that period, if the farmer has met his interest payments regularly, the loan is cancelled and the mortgage satisfied. If, however, any borrower desires to pay off his obligation he can at any interest-paying period after five years, pay any amount he sees fit in multiples of twenty-five dollars.

The attraction in the offer is this: If a farmer borrows from a local bank or an individual for a period of one or two years, when his paper matures he will be compelled to meet it somehow if the person who made the loan so demands, whether it suits him to do so or not. In the Farm Loan association all loans are made for the maximum period of 34 1/2 years and cannot be called as long as the farmer meets his interest obligations promptly. And at the end of the thirty-four and a half years he has not only paid his interest but the principal, too. On the other hand, if a farmer secures a loan and should be in a position to meet it in two or three years, he cannot do so until after the expiration of five years.

All loans must also be made for strictly agricultural purposes and nothing else. But under that head is included any improvements that a farmer may want to make to the buildings on his land, or for buying stock or farm implements.

A Big Tractor Demonstration.

The Beatty Motor company has arranged for a big demonstration of the Fordson tractor to be held on the Thomas Beaver farm near Bellefonte on Thursday of next week, April 3rd, from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. There is no question but that the tractor will play an important part in future farming operations the country over. Every farmer is realizing this fact more and more every day. The only debatable question in his mind is which make of tractor will be best for his purposes.

Mr. Beatty believes the Fordson the most practical and best adapted for use on Centre county farms and he is not only willing but anxious to prove it. That is why he is going to give a demonstration next Thursday, and he asks of the farmers of Centre county is that they come to the demonstration on Thursday in the morning until six in the evening. If the weather interferes on Thursday the demonstration will be held the next day. See advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

The Fighting Roosevelts.

The Nittany theatre at State College, Saturday, matinee and evening, March 29th, will exhibit "The Fighting Roosevelts," from the cradle to the life and works of the late Colonel Roosevelt. The picture shows accurately and completely the many important, notable, and historic events of this wonderful man's life. Many private facts were provided by him from his diary. The Roosevelt family album was extensively used so that the characters at his early age could be faithfully portrayed. In some later scenes he personally appears. One of his last acts was his final approval of the screen version of his life works. All financial returns received by Colonel Roosevelt's estate from this picture will be devoted to the American Red Cross until all our men return from the war.

—Follow the crowds to the Lyric.

—Wm. S. Hart, in his newest Paramount Aircraft production, "Breed of Men," at the Lyric theatre Wednesday. 13-1t

—The delightful spring evenings are coming on apace and with the clocks turned ahead an hour next week there will be plenty of time for recreation. One place to take it is at the Lyric. The big programs of such motion pictures as are shown there will make the time pass rapidly, and you will go home feeling very much better for having been there. Try it once and see.

—A two hour show of the best motion pictures to be had is what you can see every evening in the week at the scenic. Big features and special attractions are shown every week in addition to the regular circuit program. The scenic has always had the reputation of being the best motion picture show in central Pennsylvania and neither money nor effort is spared in keeping it up to its past reputation.

—One day last week Mr. Charles F. Beatty, of the Beatty Motor company, took Bill Doak, the blind man into his store and spent an hour with him going over a Fordson tractor and explaining the separate parts as Bill felt them with his hands. It was only a little act of kindness but it was a wonderful hour for Bill and no man with all his senses and faculties can appreciate just what that meant to him.

—The extremely early spring necessitates the getting busy at once of every householder in Bellefonte. Cleaning away the rubbish and accumulations of the winter, means ridding the town of the germs; painting and putting things in order, means making it more sightly. Begin this work immediately, and continue it until by the time of the annual clean-up week in May, Bellefonte will be in perfect condition.

—While at work helping to tear down the big viaduct of the old Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, on Tuesday afternoon, John Peace fell from the roadway to the ground in the lot of the old Thomas property now occupied by John McGinley. At first it was feared he was critically injured and he was hurried to the Bellefonte hospital but a thorough examination there revealed the fact that no bones were broken and that his only injuries were bad bruises and a few slight contusions.

—Charles Nelo and Veto Polce, two Italian soldiers who have just received their discharge from the American army, and who were naturalized while in service, have opened an up-to-date shoe repairing shop, with all the latest improved machinery, in the room formerly occupied by Roy Whitmer in the Bush Arcade. They are prepared to half-price shoes while you wait, at reasonable prices. The shop goes under the name of United Shoe Repair Shop. A first-class shoe shiner and stands arrive, they having been delayed in shipment. Give the Italian soldier boys a trial.

—Capt. William Murray, of the regular army, committed suicide by shooting himself, in a hotel at Chicago, on Tuesday. He had been stationed at Chicago for some months but had recently been assigned for duty at Camp Grant. When the United States became embroiled in the world war Capt. Murray was assigned for duty to the first training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y. Later he was transferred to the Pennsylvania State College and was the first man in charge there in training the student enlistments. He is well remembered by the people at State College as well as a number of Bellefonters. The cause of his taking his own life is a mystery.

—As evidence of what a man can do in his spare moments take James O. Brewer, bookkeeper for McCalmont & Co. Some time ago he started in soliciting subscriptions for the Farm Journal, a publication for farmers published in Philadelphia. Of course he did not allow this work to interfere with his regular work but when he met a farmer he would that way get him in the paper and in that way got many subscriptions. Just what his work would amount to he did not know definitely until Monday when he received a check from the publication for $525.00. He also got another check for $18.50 for sending in the most subscriptions in a certain period and just missed getting a check for $460 for making the best record in a given time. All of which is evidence that it pays to make use of your spare moments.

—The beautiful weather we have been having of late would be ideal weather for flying and quite naturally many Bellefonte people are wondering what has become of the proposition to establish that aerial mail route from New York to Chicago by way of Bellefonte. While the "Watchman" office has nothing definite in regard to the matter we have indirect information that another attempt will be made to inaugurate the service some time between April 1st and 15th. The Handley-Page machines which it is intended to use in the service are now in shape and all that remains to do is to complete some of the final arrangements as to putting the service into effect. And when they do start it again, it is to be hoped the pilots who are sent out on the course will be able to find Bellefonte and not get as far out of their line as those who attempted to inaugurate the service in December.

BIG FIRE IN PHILIPSBURG.

Grant Block, on Front and Presqueville Sts., Completely Ruined.

Philipsburg had another bad fire yesterday morning which burned the second and third stories of the Grant block, on the corner of Front and Presqueville streets, in which were located several stores, the two telephone exchanges, various offices and the Masonic fraternity of Philipsburg. The fire started on the second floor in the rear of the American Union telephone exchange and the flames had gained such headway by the time they were discovered that it was impossible for the fire fighters to get control until the second and third floors had been entirely gutted. Philipsburg officials incline to the belief that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

The building, which was one of the finest in Philipsburg, was owned by the Grant estate and the loss on it is estimated at $25,000, mostly covered by insurance. The Masonic fraternity occupied the entire third floor and their equipment was valued at $5,000, on which they carried an insurance of $3,500.

On the second floor were the exchanges of the American Union Telephone and Telegraph company and the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania. Each one estimates their loss at $12,000, with $10,000 insurance each. Dr. F. K. White's dental parlors were burned out entailing a loss of $4,000 on which he had $2,000 insurance. Other offices on the second floor were the White-Dugan Coal Co. and the Madeira Hill Coal Co., which were also burned out. Miss Louise Adams and sister had an apartment in the building and they were hemmed in by the flames and had to be taken out of a second story window.

On the ground floor of the building were George F. Troutman's drug store, with a stock estimated to be worth from $7,000 to $8,000; Ibberson's ladies' furnishing store carrying a $13,000 stock and Sankey & Marks' shoe store, with a stock of $15,000. While none of the stores were damaged by fire the stock of each is thoroughly water-soaked and consequently badly damaged. Just how much insurance they carried is not known.

Adjoining the Grant building was the J. W. Dunwiddie mansion and the upper portion of it was also badly damaged.

Few Changes Made in M. E. Conference Appointments.

Comparatively few changes were made in the list of appointments handed out by Bishop McDowell at the adjournment of the annual sessions of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference at Sunbury late on Monday night. Dr. Ezra H. Yocum, that grand old man who has been pastor of the Bellefonte church the past eight years, was transferred to Woolrich, Clinton county, and Alexander Scott will be his successor in Bellefonte. M. S. Mellet has been assigned to Howard and Zachariah Weston to the Milesburg and Unionville charge.

An important item of the business of the Laymen's association on Saturday afternoon was the report of the Conference Home Missionary society, which has $8,500 to help the underpaid pastors. It is the aim of the society to have enough to secure a salary of $1,000 for every married man; $900 for every single man; $900 for every married probationer and $800 for every single man; $700 for each married supply and $700 for unmarried.

The committee on the home for aged communicant members of the conference reported that an option had been taken on the C. K. Sober farm of 200 acres, located in Irish valley, as a location for the home. The sum of $400,000 has been pledged by conference for the support of the home. The above farm, by the way, is the one on which Mr. Sober is now growing his paragon chestnuts, the grove containing ten thousand trees.

One of the most touching scenes witnessed by the conference occurred on Saturday when Rev. Richard Mallalieu, of Williamsport, who has been in the ministry for the past fifty-three years, was called to the front of the altar, and there was honored by Bishop McDowell in recognition of his years of faithful service. Bishop McDowell presented him with a large bouquet of pink and white roses, making very fitting remarks as he did so. For a short time Rev. Mallalieu, who has since a reorganization fifty-one years ago, and was two years in the East Baltimore conference of which this territory at that time was a part, stood so moved and affected by this kind, loving and thoughtful expression of the Bishop that he was unable to speak. Finally he made a fitting reply of appreciation, and just as he was about to take his seat, Mrs. Mallalieu was discovered in the audience and was brought to the side of her husband, where they stood until after he pronounced the benediction and received the handshake of christian fellowship and love from many of those present. Rev. Mallalieu and wife frequently visited in Bellefonte during the years that their son, W. S. Mallalieu, was manager of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania.

—Mary Gussallus, a little girl living near the old glass works got too close to the railroad last Friday just as the Buffalo Run train came along, was hit by the steps on the passenger coach, knocked down and injured. She was taken to the Bellefonte hospital but had so far recovered that she was sent home on Wednesday.

More Knitters Needed.

More knitters are needed in the work which the Red Cross is doing for the comfort of the afflicted women and children in the war-torn countries of Europe. Those willing to help are asked to communicate with Mrs. William Waddle, at the Brant house, who will supply yarn and instructions.

Used clothing is still in demand and the drive for such articles is still on in our Chapter. The country auxiliaries have been notified of the need and will no doubt respond generously. Bellefonte men and women must not be slackers in doing their share in this cause. The daylight saving law will go into effect on Sunday. All the railroads of the United States have sent out orders to turn all clocks ahead one hour at two o'clock on Sunday morning. Just turn your clock ahead an hour when you go to bed Saturday evening and then remember to get up an hour earlier on Sunday morning. Easy, isn't it?

People Living in Glass Houses Should Never Throw Stones.

However, in this enlightened age we have plenty of light and it is unnecessary to go groping in the dark when properly fitted glasses will enable you not only to walk in the light but at the same time make life worth living.
