UNITED STATES GOT BARGAIN

Purchase of Florida From Spain for $6,000,000 Was Decidedly Good Stroke of Business.

More than $6,000,000 was paid by the United States to Spain one hundred years ago for Florida.

In 1819, on the anniversary of the There goes timid, child-like trust birth of the nation's first president, there was concluded between John Quincy Adams, then secretary of state, and Luis De Onis, minister plenipotentiary of the king of Spain, an agree- And great hearts to face their fate ment and treaty whereby the United In the clash of human hate. States became owner of what were then known as the provinces of East and West Florida.

This territory included not only all of the present state of Florida, but Here's good luck in lands afarpart of what is now Georgia and Alabama, and it was bought for $5,000,-000 and the settlement of some claims which amounted to $1,024,741.44, a total of $6,024,741.44.

The language of the remarkable document between the two nations is clear and precise and differs from other treaties to a marked extent. The two men who drew it up were past masters in statesmanship, politics and diplomacy; also, each was the most advanced thinker of the country he represented.

Spain wanted to get rid of her American possessions before they were taken away from her. She was proud, but recognized the fact that she was in no position to wage a long and possibly unsuccessful warfare to hold her colonies America wanted the land in this continent held by Spain, but was willing to acquire it by purchase rather than conquest, and with both sides ably represented by the best talent, it was not long before a satisfactory conclusion was reached.

WILL MODEL ALLIED LEADERS

American / Sculptor in France Has Been Given the Task of Putting History Into Clay.

Joe Davidson, the American sculptor, now in France, is engaged on a most interesting commission, according to the Manchester Guardian. He is modeling a series of bronze busts of the chief allied military and political leaders. Many have already sat for him, and many, including Haig and Lloyd George, have yet to give sittings. One of the sculptor's recent successes was a bust of Marshal Foch, done in clay, from which the bronze work will be completed. Only two periods of time, totaling five hours, were available for Davidson.

But that proved sufficient. Half way through, the marshal inspected what had been done and smilingly remarked: "Sculpture is not so difficult. after all." He also recalled with some pride that Gustave Dore's illustrations to Poe's works were made in his (Foch's) house. He was only a captain then. The sculptor's description of his sitter is interesting: Foch's broad, high forehead indicates a man of philosophic rather than purely military type, but the deep set, piercing eyes and strong though nowise brutal mouth, nose and chin show that the thinker is equally a man of action and decision. From the point of view of physiognomy, a subject of absorbing interest

Famous Old Tavern Closed.

The rising tide of prohibition has swept away another ancient hostelry, the Blue Anchor, at Front and Dock streets, Philadelphia, claimed to be the oldest tavern in Pennsylvania, and one of the two or three oldest in Amer-

The Blue Anchor is one of the landmarks of the city. Its walls bear the inscription that the inn was founded in 1682, shortly after the landing of William Penn, when Dock street was Dock creek. As a tavern and bar the building on this site has been operated continuously for 237 years.

Chroniclers of Dock street say that the original building was burned in the later years of the eighteenth century, and that the present building dates from about 1789. The inn was long known for its fish dinners.

Heroic Preacher.

In a little cave on a hillside, also under shell fire, a war correspondent found a preacher secretary tending his little group of wounded. The men had fallen too fast that day for the ambulances to carry them all, and so he had picked up a dozen of them, one by one, and carried them back across the shell holes to his little cave in the hill, where he thought they would be safe. All night long, while the guns roared, he made his lonesome journeys out, bringing in new wounded and carrying water to those who cried out for it.-Red Cross Magazine.

Bright Idea for Feminine Apparel. Professor Cimician noted certain substances that have the permanent quality of developing intense brilliancy of color when brought near the light and fading away to duliness again as the light decreases. He urged research with a view to obtaining an increased number of these bodies and their possible application to textile fabrics. As a true Italian despite his Armenian name he imagined a beautiful woman enrobed in such stuffs, entering a brilliantly lighted room and growing more resplendent as she ap-

ONLY HORSES.

These fine lines from Captain Galt-rey's book on "The Horse and the War" every lover of the horse will keenly appreciate:

Every head across the bar, Every blaze and snip and star, Every nervous, twitching ear, Every soft eye filled with fear, Seeks a friend and seems to say, "Whither now and where away?" Seeks a friend and seems to ask. "Where the goal and what the task?"

Wave the green flag! let them go-Only horses? Yes, I know; But my heart goes down the line With them, and their grief is mine-To the burden and the dust! High-born courage, princely grace To the peril it must face! There goes stoutness, strength and speed To be spent where none shall heed;

Wave the flag and let them go!-Hats off to that wistful row Of lean heads of brown and bay, Black and chestnut, roan and gray! Snow-white streak and blaze and star! May you find in those far lands, Kindly hearts and horsemen's hands. -Our Dumb Animals.

"My wife got me into a bad scrape this morning," said Jones. "That so?" asked Brown. "How did that happen?"

"I started to shave before I discovered that she had been using my razor to peel potatoes," replied Jones.
