Fire Prevention Suggestions by State Fire Marshal.

Following the announcement that he had fixed the week beginning May 12th as clean-up week for Pennsylvania, Howard E. Frisvold, state fire marshal, made public a list of suggestions to be followed out in the various communities of the State which the fire marshal believes will be helpful in the department's campaign for fire prevention. Of course, the removal and disposal of all rubbish about the homes and public buildings, mills, factories and other places of employment is a primary factor in fire prevention and it is the intention of the fire marshal to exert every effort to make Pennsylvania free from rubbish during clean up week. In addition to the clean up campaign, the fire marshal is of the belief that the week of May 12th would be a good time for the introduction of other measures which would aid in preventing fires and also in checking fires should they get started.

The suggestions of Fire Marshal Butz as outlined in this direction are as follows:

Make it a duty to inspect your premises regularly.

Remove and destroy useless material that might cause fire.

Ask your neighbor to help you reduce insurance rates by improving conditions and the prevention of fires.

Keep in view the possibility of fire and use precautions to avoid one.

Earnestly labor for improved building regulations and the use of fire resistive material in the erection of new buildings.

Put no trust in the fact that you never suffered a loss by fire as a reason for being unprepared.

Expend a few dollars for extinguishers and place them handy for instant use.

Never discourage a neighbor who is wise enough to protect his property; do likewise.

Now is the opportune time to encourage carefulness in the handling of inflammable liquids—they are not fool proof.

Stop fire losses—they add to the high cost of living.

You are responsible for damage to a neighbor's property.

Look after defective chimneys, flues, heaters, stoves and stovepipes; have defects remedied; they are the cause of disastrous fires.

Very many persons do not recognize the danger of carelessly handling gasoline. It is dangerous and should be used with caution to avoid accident or possibly death.

Always provide metal receptacles for oily rags and waste. Spontaneous combustion may result by failure to do so.

Never permit children to play with matches—many a little tot has lost its life through neglect of parents to caution against this dangerous practice.

Insist on the inspection of every property in your community and the remedying of conditions in the interest of fire prevention.

Assist in the work by calling together the neighbors and forming a fire prevention association.

Fires come when least expected.

Is not the saving of your home worth an effort to get busy and protect it by cleaning up and keeping it clean, free from rubbish and trash?

Extinguish matches before throwing them away. Use none but safety matches.

Rubbish heaps are fire breeders. Fires start in them and are fed by them.

A clean city will have few fires.

Oil stoves and lamps should be trimmed only in daylight and out of doors if possible.

Ownership of property should use all reasonable effort to preserve their property in the event of fire—better, however, to expend effort in the prevention of fire.

Frequent clean-ups prevent fires, add to the beauty of the home and surroundings, enhance the value of your property, create comfort, happiness and will make Pennsylvania fire-proof.

HOWARD E. BUTZ,
State Fire Marshal.

Will you use him hurriedly for your quick ends?
And will you then discard him because he is worn out—and still a foreigner?
Or will you teach him, watch him grow, and help him to be one of you,
To work with you for those great things you seek?
He is my son, America.
And all my treasure,
I bring him here to you—
And you, what will you do with him?
