Major Leitzell returned to Camp Dix on Sunday to be there for the mustering a few days' stay in Mechanicsburg becommand, the old Boal machine gun troop. Major Leitzell already promised to secure for State College as many of the relics as possible for their welcome home parade on May

Major Boal has not yet returned from France but according to reports he has planned to construct a museum on his estate in which the relics will be displayed. Additions to the Further plans contemplate a clubhouse at Boalsburg for the officers of the 28th division, more than 700 of before tomorrow, and some may even perpetuate the memory of the division and its part in the war. While no definite arrangements have been made, it is expected a number of cottages will be built on the mountains near Boalsburg, on Major Boal's land, for the use of the officers and their families. He will, it is announced, develop an extensive hunting and fishing preserve for the entertainment of the club members, with the museum and clubhouse as headquarters for other visitors who will come to inspect the relics.

Enlisted men of the division will be offered the use of many buildings already on Major Boal's farm which were occupied by the Boal Machine Gun company when it was an independent organization, before it became the machine gun troop of the First Pennsylvania Cavalry. These buildings and the surrounding country, much of which is Major Boal's property, will be at the disposal of the soldiers and their families for outings and reunions. The entire project looks toward the permaent establishment of the 28th's future headquarters and activities in the mountains of Centre county. Lieutenant Philip Shoemaker, of the 107th Machine Gun Battalion, who was invalided home, is now at Boalsburg preparing the site to house the war relics until the permanent museum can be erected.

How Soldiers Can Get Mileage Due.

Discharged soldiers, sailors and marines are now allowed five cents mileage from the place of their discharge to their homes, or place of muster into service, instead of 31 cents as formerly. The bill as passed by Congress is retroactive and as many soldiers, sailors and marines were discharged before it became effective they are entitled to recover the additional 11 cents, and here is the way to go about getting it: An affidavit on government form which may be obtained from the Director of Finance, Lemon building, Washington, D. C., should be filled out and mailed with the soldiers' discharge to the Director of Finance, Travel Allowance Division, Lemon is being organized to be increased to 1,000 clerks and although the bonus checks are not all out as yet, the mileage vouchers will begin to be mailed at once.

Discharged sailors may get their additional mileage upon application to the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.
