John H. Close Killed in Railroad

Accident.

John H. Close, of Boalsburg, was instantly killed at Mill Hall on Wednesday afternoon when his big truck was struck by the Lehigh-Pennsylvania train on the crossing at that place. Close was engaged in hauling stone for the state highway and was driving his own truck which he had just recently purchased. According to reports he left the chute at Mill Hall with a load of stone while the train was standing at the water plug takfamily circle. ing water. The unfortunate man was a son of William S. and Sarah A. Close and was born at Oak Hall about fortyeight years ago. For a number of years he assisted his father in his store at Oak Hall and later sold farm machinery. This spring he purchased a truck and engaged to do hauling for the state highway. He lived near Boalsburg and is survived by his wife and four children, Elizabeth, Rebecca, Miles and Madaline, all at home. He also leaves his parents, one brother and two sisters, namely: Mrs. Ira Korman, of Oak Hall; Clifford E. Close, of Fairbrook, and Miss Wilda, at home. Arrangements for the funeral could not be obtained up to the time the "Watchman" went to press, but burial will probably be made at Boalsburg tomorrow.

Mines. The course will begin June 23rd, extending to August 2nd.

The subjects to be taught include ventilation, mine gases, fires, explosions, mine rescue and first aid, mine machinery, mine management, haulage, timbering, hoisting, and Pennsylvania mining law. The course is designed to fit men for the mine foremen examination and other special lines of service. Other subjects may be included to meet the particular needs of men taking the course.

The tuition is free, and virtually the only expense is for board and lodging. Dean Moore said the State mining school was particularly anxious to serve the mining men of Pennsylvania, and that he would do all possible to make this course meet the needs of the men who take it.

State Appropriations of Interest to Centre County.

The Appropriations committee has recommended a two year appropriation for the Bellefonte hospital of $20,000. While this sum will be more than has heretofore been given the hospital it is not any too much and every friend of the hospital hopes that if there is any occasion to use the pruning knife at Harrisburg it will not be used in connection with the Bellefonte hospital appropriation, because the amount of money recommended is not yet commensurate with the demands made upon that institution

The Appropriations committee also recommended appropriations of $603,-935 for the western penitentiary at Pittsburgh and $500,000 for the western penitentiary at Rockview, Centre county.
