Judge Mitchell is president of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania State College and has had the interests of that institution very much at heart ever since his graduation with the class of 1890. His new honors and increased duties will hardly be allowed to interfere with his future interest in the college.

Big Welcome Home.—Independence day was observed here in extending a public welcome home to the young men who served during the world war. All Pine Grove was gay with decorations and while a brief rainstorm dampened the patriotic ardor of the crowd it did not break up the parade which was composed of the returned soldiers, Red Cross, G. A. R. veterans and school children. Major Boal was in charge of his boys and escorted by the G. A. R. and led by the Citizens band they were loudly applauded all along the line of march. A public meeting was held at the reviewing stand in the Diamond. Rev. A. M. Lutton led in prayer and extended a sincere welcome to the returned soldier boys. Major Boal responded and gave unstinted praise to the boys and the guns as the real force in defeating the Hun. Lieut. W. Ned Keller was introduced and in an interesting talk told how the boys went into the fight determined to sacrifice their all to win the struggle.

At this juncture in the proceedings a large sixteen foot flag was flung to the breeze by four young women, to the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner," as rendered by the band. J. Laird Holmes, of State College, was then introduced and stated that he had been present when the farewell reception was given the boys in 1917 and was very glad to join in officially welcoming so many of them home.
The next speaker was Col. H. S. Taylor who, in his customary forceful style, told how the Pennsylvania boys by their valor and patriotism turned the tide of battle at Chateau Thierry and faced the Huns on their road to Berlin, to which place they would have been driven if they hadn't begged for and been granted the armistice which went into effect at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month of 1918. Hon. John Hamilton spoke of solidifying the organizations of the soldiers of the Civil war and those of the world war into one great body in order to assure a lasting peace. Three rousing cheers were given and then all the boys in khaki were conducted to the banquet hall to partake of a most delicious luncheon prepared by the ladies' committee, of which Mrs. J. Will Kepler was chairman. The following returned soldiers registered:
