Bellefonte, Pa., August 29, 1919.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Carpeneto on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. John Porter Lyon will again have charge of the grade sewing in the schools of Bellefonte, the teachers all being members of the Woman's club.

Mrs. Nancy Lipton McMeen, of Curtin, celebrated her ninetieth birthday anniversary very quietly, Wednesday, with the family of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Curtin, and in receiving a few of her near friends.

The barn on the farm of Rudolph Gingery, in Huston township, was struck by lightning on Monday and burned to the ground, with all its contents. Mr. Gingery estimates his loss at $6,000, with no insurance.

Miss Carrie Rankin, who has made her home for a number of years past with Miss Martha Stalker, at Williamsburg, went out to Pittsburgh last Friday where she will make her home in the future with her niece.

At their festival and community sing at the High school building last Saturday evening the members of the Patriotic League, in addition to having a delightful evening, cleared in the neighborhood of forty dollars.

Clarence C. Rhoads has withdrawn from the firm of George Rhoads & Sons, contractors, and accepted a position as guard at the new penitentiary.

"Gritz" is in every way qualified for his new job and the prisoner who gets away from him will have to go some.

Major Wilbur F. Leitzell and Lieut. Richard C. Harlow, two well known residents of State College, last week purchased the Heffner drugstore in that place and are now engaged in giving it a regular overhauling preliminary to the opening of college.

The International Engineering and Construction company have at last gotten their big concrete mixer working and on Wednesday poured the first concrete on the Bellefonte end of the new state highway between Bellefonte and Pleasant Gap.

Everything goes right they expect to cover four hundred feet daily.

The sixtieth annual Juniata county fair will be held at Port Royal September 9th to 12th, and the organization having it in charge claim it will be the best in years.

Soldiers will be admitted free and $2,800 in purses will be hung up for the fifteen races pulled off during the week. All kinds of exhibits will be entered and free exhibitions and baseball games will be given daily.

Customers of Weaver Bros. grocery store will be confronted by beautiful shrubbery on their approach to the store in the future.

Yesterday the large window box that stretches along the entire front of the store over the entrance was filled with fresh earth and shrubbery planted therein.

The miniature trees are of the evergreen variety and will constitute a year around adornment.

Just because the scenic had two big days this week exhibiting to the people of Bellefonte and Centre county that wonderful picture, "Mickey," don't think that the other pictures shown there nightly are not worth seeing.

Every evening there is something new and if you fail to see it now you may never see it again. It's the regular attendant who gets the benefit of every picture. Therefore, be a regular.

Just to show that they had not lost their lust for the wilderness David Robb, of Marsh Creek, aged 81; Thomas Lingle, of Blanchard, also 81, and his brother, James Lingle, of Camden, N. J., aged 86, went out to the "Bull Pen," in the Scotoc region, last week for a few days' outing.

These three octogenarians have probably hunted every foot of that country many a time and while they could not indulge in that sport this trip because this is not the hunting season it is more than likely that they swapped stories of old-time hunts when deer and bear were more plentiful than they are these days.

The Waite brothers have on exhibition at their implement store on South Water street, Bellefonte, a stalk of Sudan grass just nine feet high. It was grown by Clarence A. Heatz on what is known as the old Dr. Blair farm near Unionville.

The seed was planted on June 4th and the stalk was pulled on August 15th, just seventy-two days from the time the seed was put in the ground. One plot of ground sowed with the grass has been cut three times and each time produced a bountiful yield.

Sudan grass is very succulent and is readily eaten by all kinds of stock. It is also much easier to grow than alfalfa.

Clair Weiser, of Altoona; Thomas Lane, of Tyrone, and Omer Bressler, of Plainfield, Ill., all youths within their teens, while visiting at Millheim last week stole the Ford car of Frank Stover, of Brush valley, on Friday afternoon and drove it to Clearfield.

When the theft was discovered Saturday morning the Weiser boy's father was notified and he went to Clearfield and made the boys drive the car back. Though the boys were not arrested at the suggestion of district attorney James C. Furst they were brought to Bellefonte and taken before Judge Quigley on Tuesday morning who, after administering a severe reprimand, suspended sentence upon the payment of the costs.

GRANGE ENCAMPMENT AND FAIR.

Forty-Sixth Annual Exhibition Will be Held at Centre Hall September 6th to 12th.

The forty-sixth annual encampment and fair of the Patrons of Husbandry of Central Pennsylvania will open at Centre Hall on Saturday, September 6th, and will continue a week.

Workmen have been busy for two weeks preparing the ground and erecting tents for this great gathering. The old exhibition buildings have been repaired and a new one built for hogs and sheep.

Premiums will be paid for all good live stock and special premiums for pure bred animals. The camp will be larger and more complete than ever before.

The grounds and buildings are well lighted by a complete electric system. Every farm boy and girl is invited to take part in the stock judging contest which has been arranged by the county farm agent for Wednesday, September 10th.

For list of prizes see article on "Stock Judging Contest" printed below.

The State College will have an exhibition in a tent of their own, and lectures and demonstrations will be given daily on important household and farm topics.

The State Health Department will have an exhibition in a tent of their own. A competent person will be in the tent to give information along health lines and especially on ways of fighting the house fly.

Some member of the War Savings committee will be on the ground during the week to explain the value of war savings stamps.

Prof. Rasmussen, Secretary of Agriculture, will deliver an address during the week. Important Grange subjects will be discussed in the auditorium daily.

An appeal is again made to the farmers of Centre county to make the exhibit of farm products the largest and best ever held in the county.

A premium will be paid for every meritorious exhibit. Take the interesting things you have in your homes as well as your best handwork, canned fruit, vegetables and jellies and help to make every department of the fair a success.

The exhibit of automobiles and farm tractors promises to be larger than last year, and that of farm machinery fully as large as in former years.

Amusements have been provided to please everybody. There will be excursion rates on the railroads from all points within 75 miles of Centre Hall.

Special trains will be run Wednesday and Thursday, leaving Bellefonte at 10 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. for Centre Hall, and leaving Centre Hall for Bellefonte at 7:30 p. m. and for Bellefonte at 9:45 p. m.

Stock Judging Contest.

R. H. Olmstead, county farm agent, urges the boys and girls of Centre county to compete for the valuable prizes offered in the stock-judging contest at the Grange encampment on Wednesday, September 10th.

Horses, dairy cattle and hogs will be judged and the prizes to be awarded are as follows:

First prize, a pure bred Berkshire pig donated by W. F. Rishel, of Farmers Mills. Second prize, $5.00; third, $4.00; fourth, $3.00; fifth, $2.00; sixth, $1.00.

Any boy and girl in the county between the ages of 10 and 21 years may compete. No previous experience is needed to go into the contest.

The training and experience gained in such a contest is well worth the time, even though no prizes are won, and every live boy or girl in the county should avail themselves of this opportunity.

Send your name and address to the Farm Bureau, at Bellefonte, and information will be promptly forwarded that will help anyone to get ready for the contest.

This year it is planned to have a most successful year at the big encampment. This can and will be true if each Granger takes a personal interest and helps.

The women are urged to help by taking canned and dried fruits and vegetables, jellies and various kinds of needle work relics.

In order to have a uniformity of products and a more attractive display, we print the following score cards by which canned goods, preserves and jellies will be judged.

Please study this carefully and select your products with the idea of carrying home the blue ribbons:

It pays to advertise. If you don't believe it think of "Mickey" at the scenic. On Tuesday and Wednesday the picture was there for seven exhibitions and six times out of the seven people had to be turned away.

In fact the "Mickey" rights for Pennsylvania are controlled by George C. Wilson, of Tyrone, and it has been mainly through his persistent advertising that the picture has attained its popularity, notwithstanding the fact that it is the kind of a picture that appeals to the public.

Burnsides cabin on the top of Muncy mountain is proving a delightful retreat for the aviators located in Bellefonte and especially as a most fitting place to celebrate their natal anniversaries.

Pilot Charles H. Anglin was twenty-five years old last Saturday and in the evening a large party of aviators and their Bellefonte friends journeyed to the cabin and had quite an elaborate feast in celebration of the event.

On Monday pilot Krader was twenty-four years old and quite naturally the event was appropriately celebrated with another feast at the cabin on Monday evening.

The two gatherings proved so delightful to all those who had the pleasure of being in attendance that there is likely to be a regular deluge of birthday anniversaries in the near future.

In these days of woman suffrage, equal rights, etc., it is nothing very strange to hear of woman, lovely woman filling any old position in life that in past years was naturally regarded as man's chief domain.

So it was not at all startling on Tuesday when Bellefonte was visited by Miss Ruth Clark, of Altoona, who is the real generalissimo behind the Vipond Construction company, which is engaged on the contract of building the state highway from Milesburg to Gum Stump.

Miss Clark was in Bellefonte on business relative to the road work being done in Boggs township and while here announced that the company is now arranging to put on a night force as well as day force on their job in this county so that work will be continuous until the road is completed.

Miss Clark, who is credited with being one of the biggest units in the Vipond Construction company, has entire charge of the Centre county job, purchasing the material required, hiring the men and handing out the payrolls.

Smallpox in Cambria County.

The Pennsylvania Department of Health has been advised by Dr. Matthews, medical inspector of Cambria county, that he recently saw a case of smallpox in the person of a railroad police officer, and a resident of Barnesboro.

This man took sick on or about the 14th day of August and on the 16th day of the month he attended a Scottish picnic in Sunset park, near Carrollton, and there mingled with hundreds of men, women and children.

In giving publicity to this fact the Department of Health urges people to be vaccinated, as it is not possible to locate individuals who might have gone over to Carrollton from Centre county to attend the above picnic, and there may have taken into their systems the infection for a later development of this loathsome disease within themselves, and probably become the source of an epidemic of smallpox in their own communities.

Young Men Arrested for Robbery.

On Wednesday morning George Teaman and Joseph Dann were arrested on warrants charging them with feloniously entering and stealing four dollars in cash from the Gregory Bros. Candyland store on the nights of August 20th and 24th.

The young men were let go on their own recognizance on their promise to appear before the court at eleven o'clock yesterday morning for a disposition of the case but when the court called at that hour and all was in readiness the young men failed to make their appearance, and inasmuch as neither one of them had been seen during the morning the natural impression at the time this article is being written is that they skipped out.

For some weeks back the owners of Candyland have been missing money and candy and as both disappeared during the night the only conclusion that could be arrived at was that some one was persistently robbing them.

On various occasions tools and various things have been missed from the Beatty garage but where they went could not be found out. The police were notified and on various occasions had men watch both places all night but nothing happened.

On Wednesday night of last week Candyland was again entered and money and candy taken and the proprietors decided to take the affair into their own hands. Consequently one of them spent all Saturday night in the store but nothing happened.

He camped there again on Sunday night and everything was peaceful until four o'clock Monday morning when the above young men were caught as they entered the store through the rear window near the Beatty garage.

While the information only charges the young men with the theft of four dollars the Candyland proprietors aver that in the neighborhood of sixty dollars in cash has been taken at various times not counting the candy, and they cannot tell the value of that.

Both Teaman and Dann were in the employ of the Bellefonte Central railroad company as drivers of their big buses between Bellefonte and State College, but they were paid off and discharged on Wednesday evening, and it is quite likely that they then decided to leave town and not face the charge against them.

BELLEFONTERS FLYING HIGH.

Taking Trips Through the Air in Pilot Budwig's Ship.

Aviator Gilbert E. Budwig, a former pilot on the Wilson aerial mail route and who is under contract to do flying stunts at Philipsburg's big Labor day and welcome home demonstration next Monday, was an arrival in Bellefonte last Friday morning with his wife and promptly announced the fact that his Curtis plane was coming by express and that he would spend the week here and take up any and all who desired to try a flight through the air.

His unexpected arrival naturally created a ripple of excitement among residents of Bellefonte who have long aimed to fly high and then saw the opportunity within their grasp.

Pilot Budwig's machine and mechanic did not reach Bellefonte until late Saturday afternoon but it was quickly unloaded and hauled out to the Beaver farm. By eleven o'clock on Sunday morning the machine had been assembled and thoroughly gone over by the mechanic and pilot Budwig then gave it a thorough testing out in a series of flights and stunts in the air.

Immediately afterwards he took up Mrs. Budwig for a short flight through the air, thus according her the honor of being his first passenger in Bellefonte.

Sunday afternoon he was ready to take up passengers and George Carpeneto was the first man to go up. The second was Lloyd Glinz, and he enjoyed the novel sensation of flying through the air so much that he took a second trip the same afternoon.

In fact pilot Budwig was kept busy all afternoon and on Monday he was kept busy most of the day taking up passengers. Among the number taken up Monday morning was Mrs. William Hood Hackenberg, of Milton, who was the first lady passenger to go up in Bellefonte, not counting the pilot's wife.

All who have taken the trip have enjoyed the sensation of flying through the air, and while some admit having felt a little nervous at the start they aver that once under way there is a feeling of perfect security without a thought of not making the trip in absolute safety.

Pilot Budwig's machine has a speed of about eighty miles an hour and is so constructed that it takes the air at only a moderate speed and can be brought to land in the same way. The pilot is a good driver and keeps his machine under perfect control at all times, so that it has much the appearance of a big bird in its graceful flight through the air.

Pilot Budwig will spend the balance of the week here then fly over to Philipsburg for the big time on Monday. The length of time he stays in Philipsburg will depend on the number of citizens of that town and vicinity who may wish to take a trip through the air, but at the conclusion of his date there the aviator will return to Bellefonte and remain here a day or two longer before returning to New York, where he is connected with the Queens Aerial Navigation company, an organization formed by Mr. Budwig after he resigned from the service of the Postoffice Department.

A complete list of those who have taken flights since pilot Budwig has been in Bellefonte is as follows: Sunday afternoon, Lloyd Glinz, two flights, one over the Nittany mountain and Centre Hall; George Carpeneto, Samuel Dick, C. W. Heny, George Hile and H. W. Harter.

Monday afternoon, Mrs. W. H. Hackenberg, of Milton. From early Monday afternoon until Wednesday noon no passenger work was done owing to overhauling the motor and replacing parts.

Wednesday afternoon, Samuel E. Noll, L. Ward Hile and Ray C. Noll, all of Pleasant Gap; Miss Henrietta Quigley and S. H. Poorman, of Bellefonte.

Yesterday morning pilot Budwig took Mr. Conners, of the Bellefonte and Lewistown bus line on a trip to Lewistown and back, making it in just 72 minutes, which included circling over the town several times.

Pilot Budwig yesterday informed the "Watchman" that he will be in Bellefonte until Sunday evening then go to Philipsburg for Labor day but will return here for a few days' stay in order to give any one desiring a flight an opportunity to go up.
