The United States railroad administration on Monday placed an embargo on the shipment of stone for the building of state highways, owing to the scarcity of cars. Until further notice permits will have to be secured for all such shipments.

The Pennsylvania State College will open for the fall term next week with an unusually large attendance. According to reports between four and five hundred applicants for admission were refused on account of lack of facilities to accommodate all who applied.

If you did not see Nazimova in "The Red Lantern" last night at the Scenic don't fail to go this evening. It is a picture worth coming miles to see. While Nazimova is in a class by herself other good pictures will be shown at the Scenic evening after evening and you should see them all.

In the Dauphin county court at Harrisburg on Monday Cecil Overton, a young colored man of Bellefonte, plead guilty to robbing the Shope apartments in that city of one thousand dollars' worth of clothing and jewelry and was given an indeterminate sentence in the Huntingdon reformatory.

The Big Spring garage and machine shop on South Water street, better known as the Keichline garage, is now being offered for sale by P. F. Keichline, agent. The garage is equipped with up-to-date machinery for all kinds of automobile repair work. See advertisement in another column of this paper.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of James J. Huff, of Tyrone, and Miss Sallie Gilliland, of State College, the ceremony having taken place on August 30th, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Shilling, in Bellefonte. They will reside in Tyrone where Mr. Huff is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company.

John S. Ginter, of Tyrone, has been appointed one of the administrators of the estate of the late James F. Stott, of Phillipsburg, the others being the widow, Mrs. Catharine Stott, and a niece, Miss Sara Stott. The property interests of the estate are variously estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000, one of the biggest holdings being in the Superior Silica Brick company, at Port Matilda.

Manager Edwin F. Garman has had men at work this week making some needed repairs at the opera house and giving the building a thorough cleaning in preparation for the opening of the operatic season next Wednesday. In this connection it might be said that manager Garman already has a number of very high class shows booked for the early season and all indications point to a very good year.

The North ward baseball team won the Red Cross league pennant in the final game with the South ward team last Friday evening, before the largest crowd seen on Hughes field this summer. The Odd Fellows band turned out and furnished music for the occasion. The South ward team took the lead in the first half of the first inning by scoring one run. They held the lead throughout the game, not another run being scored until the second half of the last inning when the North scored three runs, thus winning the game and the pennant.

The Altoona Tribune says: "Expansion of the business of the McVeey company, real estate dealers with head offices in that city and branch offices in Johnstown and Mt. Union, will result in their opening an office in Bellefonte on October 1st. The office will be located on the Diamond and will be in charge of M. Clair Doyle, formerly employed at the Pennsylvania railroad clearing house. The company has handled a large number of deals recently involving transfers of Centre county farm lands, and it is with the intention of largely increasing this business that the new office will be opened."

THE GRANGE ENCAMPMENT.

Many Tents at Centre Hall Gathering and Big Line of Exhibits.

The transient patronage of the Grange encampment at Centre Hall, the people who ordinarily go there in the morning and home in the evening, has not been as large this year as in former years, but that fact has not detracted in the interest of the gathering so far as the farmers and their families are concerned. There are more tents this year than ever before and the big bulk of them are Centre county farmers and their friends, and it is for their benefit the encampment is held.

The line of exhibits this year is on a par with former years. In fact, some departments are even better. This is true of the stock exhibit and also in the fruit and produce line. The fruit exhibit is exceptionally fine, notwithstanding the fact that this has not been a very good year for fruit. The farm implement exhibit is about equal to other years while the exhibit of automobiles and accessories is much larger than any ever shown at Grange park.

The picnic was informally opened as early as last Friday when tents began to make their appearance on the ground and by Saturday evening many of the tents were filled. A good-sized crowd was in attendance at the Harvest Home services on Sunday afternoon, which were conducted by Rev. John H. Keller, of the Reformed church of China Grove, N. C. Monday was entirely devoted to receiving and placing exhibits and the large force in charge of the work were kept busy all day. In fact this work was not fully completed until Tuesday morning.

The encampment was officially opened on Tuesday with addresses by members of the county Grange. The crowd on Wednesday was probably the smallest that has been present on that day in a number of years. A small admission fee of twenty-five cents has been charged this year, for which sum a ticket good for the week could be had, and whether this fee has mitigated against a larger attendance is, of course, problematical. It is altogether likely, however, that the decreased attendance can be ascribed to other causes. While the speakers for Wednesday and yesterday were all able men, their talks were confined principally to matters of interest to members of the Grange and farmers generally and the general public, that is men and women who ordinarily attend such gatherings when the program includes as a drawing card one or more speakers of national reputation, were not attracted there this year on that account.

But notwithstanding these facts the encampment has been a success viewed from the farmer's standpoint and if the men and women who originated the Granger's picnic forty-six years ago could have been there this week they would have been wonderfully impressed with the result of their initial movement.

STOCK-JUDGING CONTEST. The stock-judging contest for boys and girls on Wednesday proved an interesting feature of the encampment. Quite a number of boys and girls took part and the prize winners with the points scored are as follows: First prize, purebred Berkshire pig, won by Robert Neff, of Centre Hall, with a score of 225 points.

Second prize, $5.00, John Goodhart, Spring Mills, 225 points. Third prize, $4.00, Sarah Goodhart, Spring Mills, 224 points. Fourth prize, $3.00, Glenn Wasson, Lemont, 218 points. Fifth prize, $2.00, John Stuart, 217 points. Sixth prize, $1.00, Roy Markle, 216 points.

Aviator Gilbert B. Budwig was expected to spend several days at the park this week showing the Grangers how to fly high and incidentally take all comers on a little trip through the air at the rate of a dollar a minute, but up to yesterday noon he had not made his appearance on the grounds after his initial flight of Monday. That afternoon he flew over the mountain to see about the condition and facilities of a landing field and learning that Miss Nancy Hunter was going over to see about her vocational school exhibit he very generously invited her to accompany him. Having been up in the machine with Mr. Budwig on a previous occasion, when she experienced the loop-the-loop, falling leaf and a number of other thrills, she very promptly accepted the invitation and accompanied pilot Budwig to Centre Hall Monday afternoon. They came to earth in a field adjoining Grange park and created considerable excitement among the people at the picnic, most of whom flocked to the field where the aeroplane was parked and viewed the monster of the air. Pilot Budwig and Miss Hunter spent about an hour at the park then taking the air and circling until the proper altitude was attained sailed gracefully back to Bellefonte.

Mrs. Joseph Bion Scott has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Janet McCurdy Scott, to Mr. George Stephenson Denithorne, of Huntingdon. The announcement was made at a luncheon given on September fourth by the Misses McCurdy in honor of their niece. Miss Scott is now in Bellefonte and will spend the month of September here with her uncle and aunts.

The Altoona papers are bewailing the fact that although it is now almost a week since the people of that place placed their orders with the Altoona postoffice for a supply of the government food none of it has arrived and nothing has as yet been heard in regard to it. Altoona people are very impatient. It is now well onto a month since the first orders for the food were placed in the Bellefonte postoffice and so far as the individuals are concerned that is the last heard of them. Williamsport and other towns have gotten in several supplies of government foods, even in carload lots, but Bellefonte has so far not received even case lots.

The Gaylord International Engineering and Construction company has the concrete down on the new state highway out beyond the Titan Metal company's plant. The two feet additional width of this piece of road over state highways built in past years is without doubt, a decided improvement. And on the sharp curve at Griffith's the roadway will be made twenty feet which will give ample room to take the curve at any ordinary rate of travel by automobiles. The concrete put down is six inches in thickness and this is to be covered by a two inch top dressing of granolithic asphalt. It is expected that this kind of road built in Centre county, but is said to be not only very durable but dustless and easy for horses to travel on. The builders expect to have it completed on time, and when the work is done it will be one of the best pieces of state highway in Centre county.

On Monday evening four or five boys on east Lamb street started to play ball at the intersection of Lamb and Ridge streets. They had been playing only a few minutes when one of the number knocked the ball through the second story window of the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Engle. Mrs. Engle is away from home and as the house is locked up it naturally resulted in a lost ball, and this fact, as well as the broken window, naturally resulted in breaking up the game on the spot and the boys effaced themselves so far as that immediate vicinity was concerned as quickly and quietly as possible. The question now is when Mrs. Engle returns home and discovers the broken window will the boys come forward like little men and confess and make good the damage, or will they deny liability. Boys are boys the world over and we wouldn't give a snap for one who hasn't got snap in him, but they should select a spot to play ball and indulge in other sports where there is no danger of damaging other people's property.

What's the Idea?

There are no doubt many theatre goers in Bellefonte who will recall with delight the clever antics and laughable parodies of those well known comedians, Rice and Cady, who F. V. Peterson will present in their new musical comedy, "What's the Idea?" at the opera house Wednesday, September 17th, the occasion marking their return to musical comedy after five years of headlining the big time vaudeville circuits from coast to coast.

They will be remembered for their excellent work as the stars of "Fiddle Dee Dee," in which they were seen for three seasons, also as co-stars of Barney Bernard in the, "Two Islands," during the run of the piece at the Circle theatre in New York, after which the alluring salary and long time contracts led them into vaudeville.

"What's the Idea?" is a comedy with music written by Charley Rice, with lyrics by Darl Mac Boyle and music by Walter L. Rosemont, who were responsible for the score of the "Bride Shop," one of the big hits of last season. Its story is well constructed and coherent, with just plot enough to make it interesting, and is brimful of bright lines and ludicrous situations, telling the story of a young girl who at the death of her father inherits large sugar interests in Mexico.

Two old cronies, Col. Hillipont and Major Seement, lifelong friends of the father, are trustees of the estate and also guardians of the wealth of the girl and also under the impression that the Colonel and the Major know little of the financial world try to make an exchange of bogus stock for her holdings but are frustrated in the attempt and everything ends as it should.

There are a score or more lilted, whistly melodies introduced during the action of the piece, which the management has given an elaborate mounting and an array of finery in modes and millinery that the fair sex will no doubt revel in.

The supporting company numbers thirty or more, among whom will be found Adelaide Quelus, Louise Wolf, Bessie Mae, Ruthie Francis, William Dougherty, Jack Bernard, Joseph Berdan, Wendell Miller and a chorus de luxe, well trained in both vocal and terpsichorean art, to say nothing of their being good to look at.

It Pays to be Good to the Aged.

The "Watchman" last week contained a notice of the death of the veteran Moses Eby, at the home of John Brindel, near Fiedler, on August 31st. Mr. Eby, it will be recalled, for many years conducted a distillery at Woodward and while it was generally known he had accumulated some property the exact value of the same was not known.

On Tuesday letters testamentary in the estate were issued and the fact was then divulged that Mr. Eby died possessed of real estate valued at $23,000, and personal property $15,000. Included in his bequests were $2,000 to Mrs. Lydia Brungardner; $2,000 to Mrs. Gertrude Mock; $1,000 to Harry Yearick; $1,000 to Harry Brindel and all the residue of the estate, about $32,000 to John Brindel, with whom he had made his home for several years.

Phillipsburgers Flying.

Not being able to take a flight in an airship when pilot Budwig was in Phillipsburg on Labor day some of the residents of that section decided not to be deprived of the experience because there was no suitable field there, so on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stratton, of Gearhartville, motored to Bellefonte and that afternoon both of them took a flight, and Stratton thoroughly enjoyed it, too. On Monday afternoon Burgess John W. Beals and councilman Rembrandt Dunsmore, of Phillipsburg, motored to Bellefonte and took a flight with pilot Budwig. Frank Grebe accompanied them to Bellefonte but did not go up in the air, preferring to stay on the ground. Pilot Budwig has been busy almost every afternoon taking various persons up for a brief flight, and at this writing does not know definitely how long he will remain in Bellefonte.

New Superintendent Elected for Bellefonte Hospital.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Bellefonte hospital held on Wednesday evening of last week Miss Catharine M. Morgart, of Johnstown, was elected superintendent as successor to Miss Elder. Miss Morgart will come to the Bellefonte hospital fresh from her experience in France where she organized and had charge of a base hospital which contained two thousand beds. She spent two years in that country and only recently returned home. Prior to going abroad she organized and was superintendent of the hospital at Indiana, Pa., for a period of two years, hence has had ample experience to justify the high recommendations given her.

Astronomers Announce Appearance of the Borgeson Comet.

Last Friday's Philadelphia Public Ledger announced the fact that astronomers had detected the appearance of the Borgeson comet and the Rev. James P. Hughes informed the "Watchman" editor that the last appearance of this comet was in 1846, when he was a student at Princeton, and at that time announcement was made that it would not reappear for seventy-five years. As it is now just seventy-three years since its last appearance astronomers were not very far off in their computation if the comet does come close enough to earth to be seen this year.

Mrs. William Bitner, of Tusseyville, spent most of last week in Bellefonte as a guest at the D. Wagner Geiss home; coming here to be near her son, Samuel Bitner, who was brought to the Bellefonte hospital on Tuesday night for a serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ferguson and daughter Margaret, accompanied by Edward L. Gates, motored over from Phillipsburg on Sunday and spent a few hours with Bellefonte friends, returning late in the evening, Mrs. Gates and daughter Betty going home with them.

Harry, the eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Piche, of Millersville, stopped in Bellefonte for a part of the week for a short visit with his grandfather, W. T. Twiss, who is on his way back home to enter Franklin and Marshall College, after spending the summer working in Akron, Ohio.

J. Miles Kephart was an arrival in Bellefonte on Tuesday morning, coming here from Bath, N. Y., where he has been living the most of the past year. He has taken a room at the Brockerhoff house and expects to spend a month or more in Bellefonte and in visiting old friends and acquaintances throughout Centre county.

Mrs. Rachel Williams, with her two daughters and Mrs. Parrish, all of whom have been guests of Mrs. Williams' daughter, Mrs. Wilfred L. Miller, will leave today to return to Atlantic City. Mrs. Williams came here the first of the month, while the other members of the party have been in Bellefonte for the greater part of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Steinkercherer with Mrs. LeRoy Plumb and her two children, Anne and Ned, left Bellefonte Wednesday afternoon for their home in Newton, Kansas. Coming east together the after part of June Mr. and Mrs. Steinkercherer and Mrs. Plumb and her children, have spent the summer here with members of their immediate families.

Mrs. Paul Kreutzpointer, of Altoona, was a guest for a part of the day Tuesday, of Miss Celea Armor, coming here on the noon train to spend the afternoon in Bellefonte. Mrs. Kreutzpointer is one of the women of reputation of Altoona, her work being particularly in the interest of children, a library for whom she has founded, and which now includes in its membership the children in a radius of twenty square miles.

Harry Simler came to Bellefonte a week ago to spend an indefinite time here with his daughter, Mrs. Forrest Bullock. Mr. Simler had been visiting at his former home in Phillipsburg, going there from Trafford City, where he had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Harry Green. The Green's have now moved to Ashland, so that after his visit here at Johnstown with his son, Mr. Simler anticipates making his home in Schuylkill county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Garthoff, of Reynolds avenue, entertained as their weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Sohner, of Waterloo, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Garthoff and daughter, of Lock Haven. Mr. Sohner and wife had been visiting several of the eastern cities, including Atlantic City, where Mr. Sohner attended a convention of insurance agents, representing the Travelers Insurance company, of Hartford, Conn. This was their first trip east and they were very much pleased with their trip.

Rev. Malcolm DePue Maynard, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, was in New York city on Wednesday attending a meeting of the national committee of the nationwide campaign to be waged in the interest of the Episcopal church all over the United States. Rev. Maynard is chairman of the committee for the Diocese of Harrisburg, and the meeting on Wednesday was for the purpose of completing as far as possible the preliminaries of the campaign prior to the meeting of the general convention of the Episcopal church in October.

Chaplain T. W. Young, of the western penitentiary, went out to Butler on Wednesday to attend the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the Presbyterian church in that place to be held today and tomorrow. Chaplain Young was ordained in that church forty-two years ago and later served six years as pastor for the congregation, and he naturally was looking forward to a few days of joyful commemorating among his old parishioners and church people generally. Chaplain Young has been a resident of Bellefonte the past few years and he has endeared himself to a large circle of friends who naturally hope that he will have a happy trip and safe return home.
