

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Supt. F. H. Thomas, of the Bellefonte Central railroad, has chucked his old Franklin car and is now driving a new Ford.

Not enough active members of Bellefonte borough council were in town on Monday evening to hold a regular meeting, consequently there wasn't any.

The embargo on the shipment of stone for road building purposes in Pennsylvania has been lifted and stone can now be shipped without going through the formality of securing a permit.

The Pennsylvania railroad company has had a force of men at work this week putting another covering of ground limestone on the grounds surrounding the passenger depot in this place.

The Bellevue Sunday school, of Huston township, has donated twenty dollars made at the festival held by the Sunday school on June 16th to the Bellefonte hospital, and the donation has been gratefully acknowledged.

George M. Harter, who on Tuesday was nominated as one of the Democratic candidates for County Commissioner, desires in this way to extend his thanks to his fellow Democrats for the very substantial vote given him.

On the fifth page of this issue will be found the advertisement of the great reduction sale now on at the Schlow Quality Shop. As Miss Newman's entire stock is to be sacrificed, such an opportunity for buying at cost is seldom given people of this community.

The contract for the building of 12,355 feet of state highway from Osceola Mills to Sandy Ridge, in Rush township, has been awarded to the Warren Bros. Co., of Boston, Mass., for $121,795.66. It is expected that work on the same will be begun this fall.

Mr. C. T. Gerberich had an ugly fall Tuesday evening when he attempted to go into the bathroom at his own home, got into the wrong door and fell down a flight of stairs. He cut a gash on his head and was somewhat bruised and shocked by the fall, but fortunately no bones were broken.

For the week ending September 6th, Centre county had a per capita of 4 cents on war savings stamps sales, or a total per capita of $2.08, and retains second place in the list of counties of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania. Invest your Liberty bond coupons, due September 15th, in government savings stamps.

Death warrants have been signed by Governor Sproul for the electrocution of Tony Mulferro, Clarion county, and Broneslau Bodonick, Beaver county, the week of October 20th; Gregory Pzaros and John Sandoe, Lancaster county, the week of October 27th; Alexander Dale, of Schuylkill county, and Robert H. Brown, of Allegheny county, the week of November 3rd.

While playing tag on the streets with a number of other boys last week Cameron Heverly, the ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Heverly, fell and broke one of the bones in his right arm at the elbow, as well as tore some of the ligaments. While the child is up and around there is some danger of the injury resulting in a stiff arm, though every effort will be made to prevent this.

Mrs. A. T. Barclay was hostess Wednesday at a very beautifully appointed bridge luncheon of twelve covers, given in compliment to Miss Janet Scott, whose engagement was announced recently. Mrs. Barclay, and her mother, Mrs. Cooper, are here from Galveston, Texas, spending several months with Mrs. Cooper's aunts, the Misses Benner, at whose home on High street the luncheon was given.

The management of the Bellefonte hospital take this means of publicly thanking the members of the Grange who so generously gave to the institution the exhibits they had at the picnic at Grange park last week. Potatoes, tomatoes, cabbage, beans of all kinds, pumpkins, etc., were included in the donation. A private donation from Mrs. David Meyer and a basket of fresh eggs from Mrs. S. W. Smith are also gratefully acknowledged.

On Sunday, the beginning of autumn, the day and night will be of equal length, and the shorter days and lengthening nights are mute witnesses of the fact that the summer is about over and winter approaching. Sunday school picnics and family reunions are practically over for this year and the agricultural fairs are now in full bloom throughout the State. In fact there are only ninety-six more days until Christmas and the wise shopper will soon begin to plan her holiday purchases.

Last Friday evening a convoy of three big army trucks passed through Bellefonte on their way from Harrisburg to Erie where they were sent by the State Highway Department to assist in hauling limestone on state highway contracts. The trucks were of three ton capacity and some of those turned over by the War Department to the State Highway Department for use on state road work. They were equipped with the red seal Continental motor and will help out considerably on road work where the recently declared railroad embargo makes it difficult to get stone onto the job.

TUESDAY'S PRIMARIES QUIET.

Capt. E. R. Taylor Heads Democratic Ticket for Sheriff.

The general primaries on Tuesday for the nomination of a full ticket of men to be voted for at the November election for county, borough and township officers, were very quiet and devoid of any sensational episodes. Just how quiet they were can be more clearly demonstrated by the fact that a total of only 1744 Democratic votes were cast out of a total registration of 4257, or only about a two-fifths vote, while on the Republican ticket 2811 votes were cast out of a total registration of 5668.

The smallness of the Democratic vote can doubtless be accounted for in the fact that there were only two interesting contests on the whole ticket, that between W. A. Carson, of Haines township, and Capt. E. R. Taylor, of Bellefonte, for the nomination for Sheriff, the latter winning the nomination by a majority of 396. The other contest was for the nomination for County Commissioner between Burdine Butler, of Howard; W. H. Fry, of Ferguson township; George M. Harter, of Marion township, and George H. Richards, of Philipsburg. Fry and Harter won out in the contest by substantial majorities.

The other nominees on the Democratic ticket are for Prothonotary, Harry N. Meyer, of Bellefonte; Treasurer, James A. Harter, Penn township; Register, J. Frank Smith, Bellefonte; Recorder, D. Wagner Geiss, Bellefonte; District Attorney, John J. Bower, Bellefonte; County Auditors, J. C. Condo, Marion township, and Herbert H. Stover, Miles township, all able men and well qualified to fill the offices to which they aspire. In fact every aspirant on the Democratic ticket was a good man, but unfortunately all could not be nominated.

ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

There were four major contests on the Republican ticket, namely for Sheriff, County Treasurer, Recorder and County Commissioner. For Sheriff Harry Dukeman, of Bellefonte, defeated Harry Nash, of Philipsburg. L. Frank Mayes, of Lemont, won out for County Treasurer over A. H. Hartswick, of State College, while W. H. Brown, of Bellefonte, was nominated for Recorder over Clarence D. Daley, of Bellefonte, and Lloyd Stever, of Spring township. Of the nine candidates for County Commissioner Harry P. Austin, of Milesburg, and George H. Yarnell, of Bellefonte, won against the field. The other nominees are for Prothonotary, Roy Wilkinson, of Philipsburg; Register, Frank Sasserman, of Bellefonte; District Attorney, James C. Furst, Bellefonte; County Auditors, Clement H. Gramley, of Miles township, and Thomas A. Pletcher, of Howard; Coroner, Walter B. Heaton, of Philipsburg.

Detailed returns of both the Democratic and Republican vote will be found on page four of today's paper.

IN BELLEFONTE BOROUGH.

About the only contest in Bellefonte borough was between the five candidates for overseer of the poor on the Democratic ticket. Daniel Eberhart and James E. Solt being the successful men. The detailed vote on the various offices is as follows:

Table with columns: Office, Name, Votes. Includes Democratic Ticket and Borough Auditors.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Table with columns: Office, Name, Votes. Includes Overseer of the Poor and Borough Auditors.

In the North ward John S. Walker was the choice of both Democrats and Republicans for borough council; in the South ward the nominees are Adolph Fauble, Harry Flack and Philip Beezer, and as there are three to elect all will be sure winners. In the West ward the Republicans nominated John L. Knisely and the Democrats Edward Teaman.

John M. Keichline being the only candidate, was nominated for Justice of the Peace in the South and West wards.

For Constable Howard Smead was nominated in the North ward, George Glenn in the South and James H. Rine in the West.

"Little Giant to Speak."

Clinton N. Howard, who will lecture in the court house, Bellefonte, on Thursday evening, September 25th, at 8:15 o'clock, was one of the most popular speakers in the war drives and camps. He spoke in every State during the period that the United States was in war. He was recalled to Washington for patriotic lectures nine times. His lecture, "The World on Fire," was heard before the Senate committee and ordered printed as a public document. Over 150,000 copies were put in book form.

On next Thursday night he will give a new lecture entitled "A Joy Ride to the Grave," which is said to be a side-splitting and stirring funeral oration suitable for a wake for John Barleycorn. It is expected the court house will be packed by both friends and foes of the departed. 5000 mourners recently attended the obsequies in Philadelphia and many turned away.

Mrs. Theodore Kelly is critically ill at her home on Bishop street.

Michael Caffigan, alias Michael John Rivers, escaped from the western penitentiary on Tuesday morning. He is twenty-three years old and was sent up from Potter county for eight years for breaking and entering, and assault with intent to commit robbery.

S. D. Ray, of the Bellefonte Shirt Co., reports that from now on his lady operatives will be able to earn from thirty to fifty per cent. more wages than heretofore. This is made possible by a new arrangement with Mr. I. L. Marrow, of New York, which provides for an entirely new schedule of prices on athletic underwear, to meet the new labor conditions. He expects now to fill every machine in his factory.

"I Love You" will be the attraction at Garman's next Monday evening, September 22nd. The play is founded upon the theory that a man and a maid can be made to fall in love at the whim of the elements or the will of the moon. It abounds with many satirical shafts directed at the social delinquencies and absurdities of the people with whom the play is concerned. See advertisement in another column.

The board of directors of the Red Cross baseball league will hold a meeting at eight o'clock this (Friday) evening to consider the claim of the South ward team for another game with the North ward before the question of the pennant is definitely decided. If the directors decide to grant the request of the South ward magistrates the game will be played on Saturday afternoon. Watch the bulletin boards and if the game is scheduled be sure to attend as it will be a contest worth seeing.

Among the promising athletes at State College this year is Heston Hart Hile, a son of the late Charles Harvey Hile, of Boston, who graduated at State in 1892. Young Hile is a Junior at State and during the summer has been running for the Boston Athletic association, winning honors in all the meets in which he was entered. Commenting upon his work on the track the Boston Herald last Saturday said: "H. H. Hile, wearing the colors of the Boston A. A., was the individual star of the meet. He captured the low hurdles in 26.4-5 seconds and ran second to S. H. Thompson, of Princeton University, in the high sticks. In the low hurdles he literally ran away from the field and won as he pleased."

On the advice of Dr. Haskins, of Williamsport, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Runkle last week took their little son William to Philadelphia to consult an eye specialist regarding his eyes. They drove as far as Shamokin in the car where they left their youngest child then went by train to Philadelphia. The specialist consulted pronounced the sight of one eye entirely gone and that of the other very bad, but he held out hope that by proper treatment one eye might be saved. The child's trouble is undoubtedly the result of a bad attack of the flu it had last fall. Mr. and Mrs. Runkle have the sympathy of their many friends in this unfortunate affliction of their little son, and we are sure we voice the sincere hope of all that the sight of one eye may be wholly restored and the child live many years in which to appreciate the manifold beauties and delights of nature.

A Change of Route Suggested for the Highway to Lewistown.

On at least two occasions the State Highway Department has invited bids on sections of the road crossing what are known as the Seven mountains on the route from this place to Lewistown. Both bids were rejected for the reason that they were higher than the sums allotted for the construction of that particular road.

Bidders on the work later explained that mountain construction where all of the material would have to be hauled over very difficult grades forced them to make large margins of safety in their estimates and necessarily ran them into figures that looked vastly out of proportion to lowland construction.

If this is really the case might it not be an economy to look for another route through the mountains. One that would have a less grade, be easier to maintain and less liable to washouts in spring and snow blockades in winter.

There are no settlements or improved lands that would be affected were the course of the road over the middle ranges to be diverted from the present survey.

Suppose that coming north the route were to leave the present course at the foot of the Long mountain and run through Cox's valley and out through the gap to Cherrity's. Then it would be on a water grade with a rise of scarcely more than three per cent. Thence it could run to the old Faust place and instead of crossing Sand mountain continue westward to the gap that would bring it out near the new forester's home on this side. All of such a route would be at a grade at or near three per cent, and it would be following the old Milliken railroad survey through the mountains without a hill to climb. Such a route would be just about two miles longer than the present one, but investigation might prove that in service the extra distance would prove an advantage rather than a disadvantage.

The "Watchman" offers this suggestion to the highway engineers under whose charge the route has been placed only with the thought that it might help in solving a problem that now seems difficult.

A BOON FOR THE BLIND.

Representative of the Pennsylvania Home Teaching Society Now Here.

The Pennsylvania home teaching society and free circulating library for the blind is the pioneer home teaching society in the United States and has arranged for a course of instruction in Centre county.

This society was established in 1882 by the late Dr. William Moon, the inventor of the "Moon" embossed type for the blind. The organization sends teachers to visit the blind in their homes and public institutions for the purpose of instructing them in reading. Lessons in all types of raised print are given free of charge. Embossed books are loaned to the readers free of charge; also sent free of postage both ways from the society's library, which is located at 204 S. 13th St., Philadelphia.

In 1917 the circulation of embossed books was 29,576 in all raised types, 21,245 of these being in the "Moon" embossed type, which is peculiarly adapted to the needs of the adult blind to whom the services of the teacher are given. Miss Olivia Reichert, one of the teachers, is now located in Centre county and will remain until all the adult blind have had an opportunity to learn some raised print. Lessons in knitting, crocheting and sewing are also given to those who wish to improve along these lines of hand work.

About two-thirds of the adult blind are generally found to be over fifty years of age. The age limit of schools for the blind is usually twenty-one years; therefore, it is only through home teaching that the adult blind can be reached and taught. Many learn the "Moon" type in three or four lessons.

The representative will call at the home of any blind child in the vicinity and impress upon his or her mind the importance of their education. There are two schools for the blind in this State: One located at Philadelphia, the other at Pittsburgh.

By sending the name of any blind person in Centre county to Miss Olivia Reichert, 321 Bishop St., Bellefonte, you will be giving them the opportunity of once more enjoying the pleasure of reading.

The officers of the Pennsylvania home teaching society are: L. Webster Fox, M. D., L.L. D., president; John E. Baird, Ellis A. Gimbel, Esq., vice presidents; John J. Wilkinson, Esq., treasurer; Isabel W. Kennedy, secretary. The office of the society is located at 617 Witherspoon building, Philadelphia.

Joyrider in Jail for Wrecking Car.

George Howard, an ex-soldier and for some time past night watchman at the Beatty garage, is now in the Centre county jail for having completely wrecked the Buick car belonging to W. C. Rowe, which he took without leave at an early hour Sunday morning for a little joy ride to Milesburg. Mr. Howard admitted taking the car about four o'clock on Sunday morning just for a little ride. He drove down to Milesburg where he turned and started back to Bellefonte. He claims that he was traveling at a speed of about forty miles an hour and just as he rounded the curve at Moore's iron works he noticed directly ahead of him, to the left of the road, a telephone pole.

In order to avoid hitting the pole he turned the wheel hard to the right, turned it a little too hard, in fact, and the result was that at the high rate of speed he was traveling the car ran down over the bank at the right hand side of the road. At the place where the car ran over the bank a number of small trees had recently been cut but the stumps were still standing. The right front wheel hit a stump which tore off the wheel and threw the rear end of the car around against another stump, tearing off the left rear wheel. Howard was thrown from the car and was uninjured but the car turned turtle and was so completely wrecked that after being hauled into Beezer's garage workmen there found that to be any good as a car in the future it will have to be rebuilt.

When the wrecked car was discovered and identified on Sunday morning the police were notified and had little trouble in discovering who had taken the car out of the garage without permission. Howard was arrested on Sunday afternoon and promptly confessed that he had taken the car, declaring that he merely wanted to take a ride and, of course, did not contemplate such an eventuality. At first it was thought he had probably taken out a party of joyriders but this he denies, maintaining that he went alone. Howard is an ex-service man, having gone out with Troop L in September, 1917.

An unknown car was wrecked some time Saturday night or Sunday morning when the driver ran over the bank out near Nigh bank, landing headfirst in a ditch six feet deep. So far as known nobody was hurt.

A. A. Dale Esq., a member of the Centre county bar and who in past years has won considerable of a reputation as a Memorial day orator, is also entitled to a great deal of credit as a gardener. Just for exercise he usually cultivates the garden of his brother, Clement Dale, Esq., at his home on Allegheny street. In this work he has had wonderful success every year, but this year probably has exceeded all former records. Just to show what he was able to do in the potato line he brought to this office on Monday morning three early rose potatoes that he had just taken out of the ground. One of them weighed 1 1/2 ounces, one 1 1/8 and the other a little less than a pound.
