

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Centre county friends of Capt. James A. Quigley, of Blanchard, father of Judge Henry C. Quigley, of Bellefonte, will be glad to know that he is recovering very nicely from an operation he underwent at the Lock Haven hospital last Friday.

—Mrs. Hastings and Mrs. Frank McFarlane will be hostesses Thursday evening at the September meeting of the Bellefonte Chapter of the D. A. R. A feature of the evening will be a talk by Miss Rebecca N. Rhoads, on her experience in overseas service.

—Having resigned his position in the First National bank of State College Philip Benner Meek entered upon his duties this week as a salesman for the Beatty Motor company, of Bellefonte. Ben is a hustler and it will now be up to the head of the company to get the cars for him to sell.

—Centre county had a per capita of .01c. for the week ending September 13th, 1919, or a total per capita of $2.09 to that date, and retains second place in the list of counties of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania. Don't stop buying savings stamps. Keep saving and savings will keep you.

—The first meeting of the Woman's club for the year will be held Monday night, September 29th, at the High school building, and as it will be a social meeting, every member of the club is asked to make a special effort to be present. During the half hour devoted to business, the president will outline the work for the coming year.

—Don't overlook the fact that when you are considering a good place to get an evening's entertainment you cannot go wrong by attending the Scenic. The motion pictures shown there will interest and entertain you, and many of them are highly educational, as well. If you see them at the Scenic you can depend upon it that they are the best obtainable and strictly up-to-date.

—A. A. Dale and Ivan Walker Esqs., assisted the County Commissioners in computing the vote cast at the primaries last week. They began the count at noon last Friday and completed it on Wednesday. There are so few variations in the official count from the complete totals as published in the "Watchman" last week that the results as announced are not affected in any way.

—Miss Maude Johnston, who had engaged to teach school in Curwensville the current school term, secured her release from the school board of that town and has accepted a school in Pittsburgh at a very flattering increase in salary. The Pittsburgh school in which she will teach is located very close to the home of her brother, Collins Johnston Jr., which will enable her to make her home with him.

—Governor Sprout last week issued respite staying the execution of three convicted men so that their cases can be taken before the board of pardons at its October sitting. The men are William Evans, of Dauphin county, and Lewis Page, of Fayette, who were respited from the week of September 29th to the week of October 27th, and Robert Loomis, of Northampton county, from the week of October 13th to the week of November 24th.

—The Secretary of the Treasury on Monday issued a statement cautioning the public to beware of a twenty dollar counterfeit bill now in circulation. It is a very good counterfeit, save for the fact that the border of the bill and the background of Cleveland's picture are almost solid black, instead of showing fine lines, and the serial number is printed in black instead of blue. At the present writing we haven't any of them among our collection.

—W. J. Emerick, who returned last week from his three month's trip to the Pacific coast, did something this week that very few employers are guilty of. One of the first things he did after returning home was to go over his books and see how the accounts stood. Finding that everything had been conducted as business-like during his absence as while he is at home he generously presented each one of his eight employees with a fifty dollar Liberty bond.

—The "Watchman" last week carried an item detailing the fact that the Rev. Paul Perigord had been killed in an automobile accident at Hugo, Minn., but it now appears that it was his brother, Rev. Jules Perigord, who was the victim. Rev. Paul Perigord is still alive and well and at present located at the Thropp University, Pasadena, California. While it is unfortunate that his brother should meet such an untimely end Centre county friends of Rev. Paul Perigord will rejoice to know that he is still in the land of the living.

—The Lititz, Lancaster county, Record last week entered upon its forty-third year, and for a weekly paper published in a town the size of Lititz, it is one of the best that comes to the desk of the "Watchman" editors. It is carefully and conscientiously edited throughout, always presents a neat and painstaking typographical appearance, and is filled with interesting local news of that section as well as various features that cannot help but appeal to its readers. We wish the Record many more years of success in serving the community in which it is published.

RADIO STATION LOCATED.

Will Stand on Old Nittany Valley Railroad South of Bellefonte Aviation Field.

The location of the big radio station to be erected in connection with the Bellefonte aviation field as a guide to flyers on the New York-Chicago air mail route was definitely settled last Saturday when the plant was staked out on the right-of-way of the old Nittany Valley railroad, less than half a mile south of the aviation field. Definite orders to locate the plant in Bellefonte were received from the airmail branch of the Post-office Department at Washington on Friday afternoon by superintendent Blakesley, of the aviation field.

Acting upon the instructions received Mr. Blakesley and contractor George Rhoads, who has the contract for the concrete work of the plant, staked out the foundations on Saturday morning. It was the intention to begin work on Monday morning but rain interfered but ground was broken on Tuesday morning and the construction of the plant will be rushed to completion as fast as possible. All the concrete work for the foundations of the steel poles will be put down by Rhoads & Son while Gehret & Lambert will erect the buildings.

The original plans for the plant here provided for two poles 200 feet in height set 150 feet apart, but those plans have been changed and the most modern system known will now be installed. It is known as the loop system, and requires poles only forty feet in height. The poles are to be furnished by the Pole and Tube company, of Newark, N. J., and all the instruments and equipment by Emil A. Simon, of New York City. Mr. Israel, representing Mr. Simon, arrived in Bellefonte on Monday and a good part of the equipment is already here.

The system to be installed will have a radius of hundreds of miles and will combine both wireless telephone and telegraphy. With its use, it is alleged, aviators hundreds of feet in the air are able to communicate with submarines when submerged at a considerable depth, and will afford ample means of communication with air-planes when aviators become lost in a fog or low, overhanging clouds. The fact that work has now been begun on the station in this place will probably settle for good all doubts as to its location.

INTERESTING AVIATION NEWS. Last Friday morning aviator Ellis left Bellefonte with over three hundred pounds of mail for Cleveland and when he reached DuBois he was compelled to come down owing to motor trouble. The Bellefonte field was notified and pilot Lewis left here with mechanic Crider in another plane for that town but were caught in a storm and forced down at Marion Centre, landing in a peach orchard and puncturing a tire. They went to DuBois by automobile. The trouble with Ellis' motor was disposed of and he completed the trip to Cleveland. Lewis and Crider returned to Bellefonte and pilot Krader and Earl Kline went out to Marion Centre, put a new tire on the machine left there, and brought it to Bellefonte Saturday evening.

Pilot David Legg made his last flight on Tuesday, he having quit the service to go to college in Chicago and complete his course that he gave up to enter the service. It is also rumored that pilot Charles Anglin will quit the service in the near future.

COMMERCIAL FLYER WILL VISIT BELLEFONTE.

An announcement was sent out from New York on Monday that Merrill K. Riddick, the twenty-four year old "super pilot" of the U. S. airmail service who resigned last Saturday to enter the commercial aviation field, has gone to Toronto to secure a new plane for the Adams Aerial Transportation company with which he will be affiliated. He expected to leave Toronto Wednesday or yesterday and will return to New York in a round-about flight for the purpose of studying the possibilities of landing fields in various cities and towns as well as the outlook for commercial business in the air. Pilot Riddick's route will be from Toronto to Buffalo, and as far west as Youngstown, Ohio, thence east through Pennsylvania, stopping among other places at Altoona, Bellefonte, Lock Haven and Williamsport. He should reach Bellefonte the latter part of this week or beginning of next.

PILOT KRADER WENT UP 11,000 FEET IN 15 MINUTES.

Just at noon on Wednesday pilot Krader took one of the standard DH planes up in the air to test it out and as it was working fine decided to make a test flight for altitude, in the belief that he could go up fifteen thousand feet in fifteen minutes. He failed in doing so but he did attain an altitude of 11,000 feet in that length of time, which was just a little over two miles up in the air. There was not a cloud in the sky at the time and though his machine was plainly visible at all times, it looked pretty small when sailing around in space over two miles above the earth.

ARMY PLANE PHOTOGRAPHERS VISIT STATE COLLEGE.

Residents of State College were very much wrought up last Saturday when a telegram arrived in that place detailing the fact that two army planes would visit the town within the week on an inspection trip, or something of the kind, and some of the people naturally jumped to the conclusion that the aerial mail aviation field was to be moved there.

On Wednesday afternoon two planes reached Centre county but came to earth several miles west of State College. They are part of a unit of the army aero photographic section and had been at Johnstown taking pictures of the big celebration there. Four planes left Johnstown but only two reached the vicinity of State College. Yesterday morning one of the pilots came to Bellefonte to get some spark plugs and a few other things at the aviation field and he stated that as soon as they got fixed up they would leave for Washington without undertaking to do any photographic work, and that will probably be this morning.

Bellefonte Boy's Interesting Work Among Aeroplanes.

Anything with a flavor of aeronautics has a peculiar interest for the people of Bellefonte and Centre county these days, because of the fact that Bellefonte is "on the map" as one of the prominent fields on the New York-Chicago airmail route, and for almost a month now has been an airdrome from which those desiring to try their nerve as high flyers can do so at the rate of a dollar a minute, hence the "Watchman" is constrained to publish the following letter from Phil J. Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gross, of Bellefonte, who is now in the employ of the Glenn L. Martin Co., at Cleveland, Ohio. Under date of September 20 Mr. Gross writes:

"Would you kindly note the address given above and send my paper there instead of my old address, as I have moved and the paper comes very irregularly, due to the double handling by the postoffice; you know, it's a calamity to miss the good home town paper,—just once!

The aviation news always interests me, and my great hope is to see Bellefonte come into its own through this wonderful new development.

Our company builds a twin-motored machine of seventy-two foot wing spread, and a forty-six foot fuselage. By re-designing the fuselage but keeping the same principle and centre of gravity, without altering the wings or tail surfaces, we have made a gun machine, bomber, cannon machine, trans-continental, twelve passenger, and a mail plane, which may be used on the New York-Chicago route. We now have in prospect a machine carrying a thousand pound torpedo above the landing gear. It swoops down, releases the torpedo, and makes a get-away; the torpedo goes straight, under its own power, and does the rest.

It has been my fortune to be in the experimental engineering department of this company since the designing of the first plane.

Our field is larger than the one at Woodland Hills, and I have seen many notable sights on it. My curiosity has always been satisfied when a stranger arrives, as an employee is allowed to go in and inspect a new ship to his heart's content. The Lawson air liner was here a few weeks ago, and I found it just as wonderful as the press claims it to be. The "Round the Rim" flyer, a three motored Caproni, a Vogt, piloted by Major Schroeder, a Handley-Page, the Aerial Circus, consisting of allied and German planes, and about every standard make of American and some foreign planes, have landed on our field within the past year. Passengers often stop, and "fuel up", then go on their way, or a stranger will fly close and satisfy his curiosity, then go without revealing his identity.

An aviator likes a big field, and good,—every inch. Bellefonte has a natural field of unlimited size. It already holds a prominent position among the fields in the country. If its people only boost, now,—you have a "cinch" for something good, soon. Yours respectfully,

PHIL J. GROSS.

Academy Football Schedule.

Headmaster James R. Hughes, of the Bellefonte Academy, has announced the Academy football schedule for the season as follows:

- Oct. 4—Game Pending for Hughes Field.
Oct. 11—Syracuse Fresh at Syracuse N. Y.
Oct. 18—Pitt Freshmen at Pittsburgh.
Oct. 25—Bucknell Freshmen at Hughes Field.
Nov. 1—State Freshmen at State College.
Nov. 8—Pending.
Nov. 15—Mansfield Normal at Hughes Field.
Nov. 22—Dickinson Seminary at Hughes Field.
Nov. 27—(Thanksgiving game pending).

In this connection it might be said that the outlook for a winning team at the Academy was never better than this year. Among the more than one hundred students are athletes from Michigan, Illinois, New York, West Virginia, Ohio, New Jersey and Pennsylvania; and quite a number of them were stars on their home high school teams. They are now hard at work practicing for the opening contest which will be one week from tomorrow, and football fans in Bellefonte may expect to see some good sport this fall. Make your decision now to attend every home game and give the local team the support it deserves.

U. B. Church Appointments.

The eighty-first session of the Allegheny conference of the United Brethren church came to a close in Tyrone on Saturday evening by the announcement of the appointments by Bishop W. M. Bell. Rev. C. W. Winey, formerly pastor of the Bellefonte church but who has been stationed in Altoona the past five years, was assigned to the Wilkinsburg church. Following are the appointments for Centre county:

- Bellefonte—G. E. Smith.
Houserville—J. H. McHenry.
Phillipsburg—J. H. Bridgum.
Port Matilda—J. E. Stover.
Zion—J. V. Mountain.

BIG TIME AT SANDY RIDGE.

Rush Township Citizens Honor Returned Soldiers.

A beautiful monument commemorating the heroic services of the young men of Rush township in the world war was unveiled on the school house grounds at Sandy Ridge on Saturday in the presence of a large gathering of people, including a very liberal representation of boys who wore the khaki. F. I. Gill was chief marshal of the parade which took place at ten o'clock. In the line were Our Girls band, of Milesburg, members of the G. A. R. in automobiles, P. O. S. of A. camp No. 276, school children led by Prof. A. C. Weaver, a large delegation of the Red Cross in charge of Miss Emma Briggs, and a good-sized squad of ex-service men commanded by Sergt. D. W. Woodie. The parade marched from Sandy Ridge to Retort where it halted long enough to permit the young soldiers to give an exhibition drill on the school house grounds, then counter-marched to the school house at Sandy Ridge where a reviewing stand had been erected close to the monument.

Rev. Cobb was master of ceremonies and invoked the Divine blessing upon the assembled multitude. This was followed with a patriotic song by the school children and then came the unveiling of the monument while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The monument is a bronze tablet on which are the names of the soldier boys, mounted on a base of white brick. It is the gift of citizens of Sandy Ridge and Retort, as well as others in Rush township. Following the unveiling very appropriate addresses were made by Burgess W. Harrison Walker and Col. H. S. Taylor, of Bellefonte. The names of the Rush township soldiers inscribed upon the monument are as follows, those marked with a (*) having given their lives for the cause:

- Jay W. Reese, Glenn H. Hoover,
William N. Hoover, Wm. R. Cartwright,
John L. Spitzer, William Spitzer,
William Robinson, James A. Robenolt,
Guy Stevens, Daniel A. Cassidy,
Jacob C. Cassidy, Clyde E. Coyner,
Jesse Cowher, Denzel W. Woodie,
Ashley C. Woodie, James W. Sharpless,
Samuel Pfoutz, Andrew C. Vaughn,
Harry T. Wilson, James W. Kehoe,
Herbert G. Williams, Fred Snyder,
Theodore Williams, Samuel R. R. G. Merryman, William C. Muir,
R. G. Merryman, William C. Muir,
Harry M. Ruckart, Rex Young,
Harry E. Bryan, David A. Frantz,
Charles Snyder, Tony Cochilo,
Fred Bellefontaine, G. Paratore,
D. Castagnola, F. Fagazzoli,
George H. Kishlivi, Peter Juczkak,
Alexander Zebrowski.

At the conclusion of the speech-making the crowd present partook of a picnic dinner and the afternoon was devoted to athletic events. A baseball game between the Sandy Ridge team and All Stars of Phillipsburg was won by the latter by the score of 7 to 2. The potato race was won by John Bryan, of Milesburg, who received a prize of 50 cents. Earl Moore also got 50 cents for winning the egg race. In the boys race the first prize of 50 cents was won by Charles Resides, second prize of 25 cents by William Flack and third prize of 25 cents by Gray Price. The sack race winners were Lee Corrigan, Frank Richards and Daniel Marin, in one, two, three order. Annie Owens won the girls' race, and Matthew Reese and James Flick broke even in the old men's race. The greased pig was caught in one minute by Billy Flick, so it can be seen that Saturday was a big day at Sandy Ridge.

A Delightful Gathering at Graysville Church.

Saturday, September 20th, brought together the people of Spruce Creek valley in a most enjoyable out-of-doors affair held at the old stone church at Graysville. The women of the Presbyterian church had for some time planned a dinner for their men folks and soldier boys; and so under the coloring maples the tables were spread with snowy cloths and brilliant flowers; and the plates of fried chicken and bowls of steaming noodles and pyramids of cake fed a hundred at the first sitting. The second table, numbering some thirty ladies, were so happy over duties well performed that they broke forth occasionally into song which was real melody; the aged pastor coming in for a share of their approbation.

Mr. "Bob" Goheen proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies, which they received with becoming modesty (?). A suit-case race, three legged races, fat women's races and mens' races kept everybody laughing for a season and a ball game took place in Oliver's meadow, with Dan Irvin as umpire.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weiland, of Linden Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarlane, of Boalsburg, and Mr. and Miss Wigton, of Harrisburg, were welcomed as old friends. The kindest feeling shone forth from all countenances and the community will be the better for this time of neighborly concourse.

One Who Was There.

J. S. Ginter Elected President of Eastern Refractories Co.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Eastern Refractories company, held at their Bellefonte office on Tuesday, Mr. J. S. Ginter, of Tyrone, was elected president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late James F. Stott, of Phillipsburg.

Mr. Ginter is cashier of the Farmer's and Merchant's National bank, of Tyrone, and is one of the administrators of the James F. Stott estate. He is a man who is well known in banking and business circles. He is very familiar with the business of the Eastern Refractories company, as he has been closely associated with it since its organization.

September Court Cullings.

When the regular term of court convened on Monday morning Louis Grauer was appointed foreman of the grand jury. Among the cases disposed of were the following:

Commonwealth vs. Clarence Simpson, selling liquor without a license. Defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of six months.

D. W. Bradford vs. John Snavelly, was an action to recover for an International Harvester tractor with plow attachments which plaintiff claimed to have sold defendant on August 1st, 1918, for $1100. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount claimed with interest from February 1st, 1919.

Com. vs. Orin Hull, charged with not stopping and with injuring a person on the public highway. This action was the result of the allegation that the defendant, while riding a motorcycle, knocked down and seriously injured the little child of Edward Quick, in Milesburg, on August 10th, 1919. At the close of the evidence for the Commonwealth a compulsory non-suit was granted upon motion of the defendant.

The grand jury completed its work on Monday afternoon and in its report specified that the jail had been found in need of numerous repairs and recommended that the same be made. Also that a new garage be built for the sheriff. They also complimented the janitor for keeping the court house in such good condition.

The case of E. G. Henderson vs. The P. R. R. Co., an action in trespass to recover for a small strip of ground between the railroad and the hotel at Howard has been on trial two days and is not yet finished.
