

—Henry Keller, who is a surgical patient in the Bellefonte hospital, is rapidly recovering from his operation of a week ago.

—Don't overlook the fact that Mrs. Robert Sechler will offer for sale all her household goods at one o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at her home on north Spring street.

—George C. Glenn had the misfortune to lose a nice sized hog on Wednesday evening and the carcass was hauled down to the Boggs township factory yesterday morning. While the animal was not quite eight months old, Mr. Glenn estimates that its death represented a fifty dollar loss to him.

—In the regular advertising columns of today's "Watchman" will be found the advertisement of the Bellefonte Fuel & Supply company offering Snow Shoe coal at $5.00 per 2,000 pounds at the company's yard or $5.50 delivered. This is probably the lowest price at which any kind of coal can be purchased in Bellefonte at the present time.

—Aviator Gilbert B. Budwig will be one of the big attractions at the great Milton fair to be held next week, and we can assure the people of that city that he will be worth seeing. The Milton fair, by the way, has every promise of being more wonderful this year than it has been for some time, and Centre counties who are anxious to see a good fair should go to Milton.

—On the Shearer farm at Bald Eagle station is an immense field of cabbage that attracts the attention of all travelers on trains through Bald Eagle valley. There are between three and four thousand heads in the field and it is all of good size and in splendid condition. With cabbage selling anywhere from four to six cents the pound the owner will reap a nice return from his cabbage, if he is careful to market it properly.

—The degree team of the Bellefonte Encampment of Odd Fellows, composed of Edward R. Owens, district deputy grand master; M. L. Altenderfer, O. A. Schaffer, D. A. Barlett, E. F. Young, J. C. Kaup, W. M. Owens, T. A. Hazel, S. H. Griffith and L. A. Stover, went to Phillipsburg on Monday evening and performed the work in connection with the installation of the new officers of Moshannon Encampment No. 173 of that place.

—"Heart of Humanity" is one of the most graphic pictures ever made. At Scenic Oct. 3. 39-1t

—A rather unusual condition exists up Buffalo Run and Halfmoon valleys where, it is alleged by a farmer from that section that the farms in general are not cultivated to over two-thirds of their capacity owing to the shortage of farm labor. The gentleman named several fine farms that are virtually lying idle and several farmers are arranging to make sale this fall yet and leave the farm. Among the number is John Meek, who has been on the Waddle farm at Waddle a number of years. He will sell out and move to Tyrone. The question of help on the farm now is a vital one, as there are potatoes to raise and the corn is about ready to husk and very little help to do it with.

—Ladies' shoes for corn husking. See Yeager's shoe store advertisement. 39-1t

—A few days ago the crew of the Buffalo Run railroad while crossing through the Barrens saw a herd of four deer crossing the road in front of the train. They particularly noticed the fact that the leader of the herd was a monster buck, with a wide spread of antlers, and they naturally concluded it to be the same animal that hunters have been trying to shoot for some years past. Every year this big buck has been seen in the Barrens, and likely migrates between there and the Seven mountains. He is so big that the railroad crew became intensely excited and not a man of them can tell whether the other three deer were bucks, does or fawns. In the game line the railroad crew are also authority for the statement that pheasants were never more plentiful in the Barrens than they are this year while quite a number of wild turkeys have also been seen. And as to rabbits, they are so numerous that they can be seen doing the hop, skip and jump along the road every day, but so far very few squirrels have been seen.

Service-Value-Beauty

You have often heard tell that "a chain is as strong as its weakest link." And any garment is just as well made, as beautiful and as dependable as the house that produces it.

Last Spring one of our customers purchased a fur-collared "Wooltex" Coat from us. After months of wear she discovered a defect in the collar. We returned the garment to the "Wooltex" Company, who gladly sent it to the best furrier in Cleveland for proper attention, without a cent of extra charge.

Does it pay to purchase garments of international repute? Draw your own conclusion.

Here are a few makes of which we are the sole distributors:

- "Wooltex" Coats, Suits, Skirts
- Merode Underwear
- Onyx Hosiery
- Centimeri & Dent Gloves
- Warner & Gossard Front Lace Corsets

We carry a full line of Extra Size Garments.
