Items of Interest Dished up for the Delectation of "Watchman" Readers by a Corps of Gifted Correspondents.

AARONSBURG.

Albert Mingle, who had been employed in Akron, Ohio, came home and expects to remain in Centre county.

Mrs. William Wolfe, who for the past week has been a sufferer from poison on her face, is now improving nicely.

Ray Stricker and family, of Boalsburg, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Stricker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stricker.

Charles Bollinger, of Bridge Water, S. D., circulated among friends here and on Monday was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mowery.

Miss Sue C. Lenker, of Lemont, spent Sunday in town among former neighbors and friends. While here she was the guest of Miss Mary G. Forster.

Thomas Hull, who, after spending the past few months in Glen Richey, where he was employed at his trade, came home Saturday to spend some time with his family.

Miss Lois Cunningham, one of our popular teachers, employed at Peru, with Miss Samsel, of Pleasant Gap, spent Saturday with Miss Cunningham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham, on Front street.

We regret to note the illness of John M. Otto, who was brought home from Philadelphia last Thursday evening. On Tuesday night he was stricken with paralysis. Their friends and neighbors deeply sympathize with the family in their affliction and hope Mr. Otto may speedily recover his health.

The Misses Lydian and Lodie Harter, of State College, spent Sunday at their home in this place. Miss Witmyer, who has been staying with her uncle, Charles Harter, near Madisonburg, also came home to remain with her grandfather Harter, while Mrs. Harter is in Bellefonte, where her son, Charles Harter, is a surgical patient in the hospital, having submitted to a serious operation for appendicitis.

ORVISTON.

George Bixel made a flying trip to Williamsport on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Confer are rejoicing over the birth of a lovely little daughter, whom they call May Belle.

Mrs. Leonard Shearer, who has been very seriously ill, is much better, although still in a weak and nervous state and very frail.

Mrs. William Heverley, of Romola, a former Orviston lady, was taken to the Lock Haven hospital last week for an operation, which was performed Saturday. We learn she is doing very nicely. Mrs. Heverley is well liked in our little town, and we all hope for her speedy recovery.

John Bland, who has been feeling very badly of late, became so ill Sunday it was deemed necessary to remove him to his parents' home, in Howard. It is rumored he was to be taken to the hospital. His prospective bride, Miss Viola Walker, accompanied him home, as he was in a very weak state.

Walter Wilson, of Beech Creek, and Miss Charlotte Herr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Herr, of this place were married on Tuesday, but where or by whom the scribe has not learned. Suffice it to say, both young parties are well liked friends of ours and we wish them all the happiness there is to be had.

Some of our mighty young nimrods, viz: Paul Lomison, Will Barcott, Eddie McCaslin, Earl Lomison and Alex Hume traversed the mountains yesterday looking for big game. They all got a trophy but Alex says the game was all so sure he was a "sure shot" that they ran and hid at his approach. Perhaps what the other boys got were all committing suicide. Just perhaps. Never mind Scotch, maybe next time you will get 'em all.

RUNVILLE.

Roy Kauffman, of Ryde, came up last Sunday to visit his sister, Miss Fannie Kauffman.

Austin Walker, who is employed at Snow Shoe, spent Sunday with his home folks in this place.

Mrs. Jacob Shirk and Mrs. G. F. Walker spent last Sunday at Lock Haven, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hoover.

Mrs. George Wilson, with her two little daughters, of Tyrone, spent a few days last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Flick, of Altoona, came down last Sunday to spend a few days with Mrs. Flick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Walker.

Mrs. George Jodon and Mr. and Mrs. James Jodon, of Akron, Ohio, visited at the home of Mrs. Sallie Friel, last Wednesday and Thursday.

Lawrence Poorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Poorman, returned home on Tuesday of last week after eighteen months' service in France. Lawrence is the last of our soldier boys to arrive home and a glad surprise it was to his home folks as well as his friends in the entire community, as no word had been received from him since last May. A reception will now be in order soon for our brave fellows as we have been blessed with the return of all who went out from this place with the exception of one, Simon H. Lucas, who made the extreme sacrifice, and one wounded, Earl Kauffman.

JACKSONVILLE.

Miss Margaret Dixon spent Sunday at her home here.

Miss Florence Neff spent Sunday with her friends, Hoy and Rosetta Harter.

The young folks in this vicinity celebrated Halloween to the limit of their ability.

Lynn Ertley spent the first day of the rabbit hunting season on his old hunting grounds in this section.

William Walizer and wife, of Boston, Mass., spent several weeks here visiting Mr. Walizer's aunt, Mrs. George Stover.

Late hours are not very good for the young men of this vicinity. On Saturday night one young man was returning home quite late, fell asleep and tumbled out of his buggy, but fortunately was not badly hurt.

The masquerade party held at the home of Mrs. George Stover, on Halloween, was marred to a certain extent by the rain and bad weather, the result being that many of the invited guests were unable to attend.

Will the Walrus Follow the Buffalo to Oblivion?

The killing off of the walrus had far more than anything else to do with the peril of starvation which menaced the very existence of the Eskimos only a few years ago. Reindeer, imported from Siberia, have saved them, but to them the loss of the gigantic marine mammal is a really dreadful misfortune.

The walrus is one of the most useful creatures provided by a bountiful providence for the benefit of mankind, and since time immemorial it has been the main dependence of the Eskimos in Alaska.

There are today comparatively few walrus left alive, and the prospect is that before long this valuable species will be virtually exterminated. Persistent slaughter has reduced its numbers to such a point that there is no longer much profit in hunting it for commercial purposes—wherein lies the only hope for its survival.

Hunters seek the beast for its tusks, which are of very fine ivory; for its hide, which makes first-rate leather, and even for its whiskers, which furnish picks for opium pipes. To the Eskimo it is (or was) food, clothing, house, utensils (from bones and tusks) and most other necessities of life.

More than half a century ago the whalers, responding to a commercial demand for ivory, turned their attention to the walrus and proceeded to wipe them out systematically. Sometimes as many as 2000 of the animals were slaughtered on a single cake of ice merely for their tusks. Thus today a walrus is hardly to be found in waters where the creatures used to be so numerous that their bellows were heard above the roar of the waves and the grinding of the ice floes.

The poor animals had no chance at all. Usually the method adopted was to approach a herd of walrus on the ice, and after picking off the most alert bulls from a safe distance with rifles, slaughter the rest at leisure.

Motortruck's Life in Hands of Driver.

The truck driver who pays no attention to the daily inspection of his truck is costing his employer so much more than his salary that his salary is a comparatively small item of expense. The driver who treats his truck with less consideration than he would treat a horse is a big liability. It is a common practice for drivers to engage the transmission gears, preparatory to starting, and then engage the clutch so quickly that the final drive instantaneously, subjecting every part of the mechanism to a very severe strain. Here is an illustration of the effect of this practice:

Suppose that the rear wheels of the truck are so fastened or secured to the ground that it is impossible to turn them. Leaving them in this condition, start the engine, release the clutch, engage the first speed gear reduction, and, with the engine running at about 600 revolutions per minute, engage the clutch suddenly. The play between the transmission gears, the universal joints and the final drive gears is first taken up by the power applied and the strain travels from that point all along the line back to the first cylinder of the engine.

Unless a truck is built and so balanced as to partially overcome this abuse, its life will be short, and no matter how well a truck may be constructed, the driver's carelessness is bound to show up sooner or later in large repair bills, numerous replacements of parts and inefficient delivery service.

With this responsibility on the driver's shoulders, the owner cannot profitably overlook him. The manner in which the driver works his clutch, the manner in which he cares for it and the regard with which he treats his position should determine whether you have the right man or whether you are in the market for a new driver.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Catarrh Does Harm

Whether it is of the Nose, Throat, or Other Organs, Get Rid of It.

Catarrh of the nose or throat when it becomes chronic weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and may lead to consumption. It impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice. It is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by purifying the blood removes the cause of the disease and gives permanent relief. This alternative and tonic medicine has proved entirely satisfactory to thousands of families in three generations.

If there is biliousness or constipation, take Hood's Pills—they are a thorough cathartic, a gentle laxative.

HAS WON PLACE OF HONOR

Salvation Army's Work for Fifty-Four Years Recognized as Worthy of the Highest Praise.

Except for the war the Salvation Army would have celebrated its fiftieth birthday four years ago, but there could hardly have been a better reminder of what the army had done and become in a half century than the recent award of the Victoria Cross to three Salvation Army soldiers for their service in France. Fifty-four years ago things were very different; the first appearances of the salvationists aroused opposition, rowdies tried to break up the meetings, and on at least one occasion members of the future army were arrested in England as "disturbers of the peace." Originally simply an attempt to make converts by outdoor preaching, the movement which William Booth started in July, 1865, was put on a military basis and became the Salvation Army in 1878, since which time it has grown from 75 corps in England to about 9,000 corps and outposts in more than 60 countries. The army was officially recognized by King Edward VII when he received the founder at Buckingham palace in 1904; a different yet remarkable "official recognition" occurred quite recently when a tableau honoring the Salvation Army was taken the climax of the current "Ziegfeld Follies" on Broadway.
