Gov. Sproul Appoints New Commissioner of Labor.

Governor Sproul last Friday appointed C. B. Connelly, of Pittsburgh, Commissioner of Labor and Industry to succeed John Price Jackson, resigned. Mr. Jackson was appointed Commissioner by Governor Brumbaugh when he took the gubernatorial chair and was re-appointed for a term of four years in May, 1917. Shortly after that he offered his services to the U. S. government for the duration of the war, was accepted and sent to France. His work there was of such a character as to win for him a promotion to lieutenant colonel. When Governor Sproul took office he appointed Mr. Connelly acting commissioner. Last August the Governor received a letter from Col. Jackson tendering his resignation as the nominal head of the labor bureau but it was not accepted for the reason that the Legislature of 1917 passed a law that State employees could not be discharged during the term of their service with the government. Col. Jackson recently returned from Europe and last week again tendered his resignation and the same was promptly accepted and Mr. Connelly appointed. Just what Col. Jackson has in view is not known at this time. He left State College to accept the appointment of Commissioner of Labor and Industry and it is not known if he contemplates returning to the College or not.

Celebrated Golden Wedding.

On November 19th, 1869, Samuel Glenn, of the Branch, and Miss Priscilla Mothersbaugh, of Harris township, journeyed to Lewistown where they were united in marriage. They returned home and took up their residence on the old Glenn homestead on the Branch where they spent the half century of their married life.

Mr. Glenn is seventy-two years old and his wife seventy-one, and both being vigorous and in splendid health they celebrated their golden wedding on Wednesday afternoon with a home-gathering of their children and by inviting their intimate friends to the gathering. About fifty people were present and the evening proved a most delightful one for everybody. A big dinner was, of course, one of the features of the gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn were the parents of ten children, two boys and two girls having passed to the Great Beyond. Those living are Rev. James Glenn, of Carlisle; Mrs. Samuel Wasson, of Lemont; John, at State College; Edward, who has had charge of the home farm since the retirement of his father two years ago; and Margaret and Ella at home. The Glenn family is one of the oldest and best known in College township, and has the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends. Mr. Glenn is an elder in the Presbyterian church and his wife is an active worker in the same. May they live to celebrate many more anniversaries.

State College President to Continue Vacation.

After spending two weeks at his old home, Dr. Edwin Erle Sparks, president of The Pennsylvania State College, left on Monday for Harrisburg, where he attended the educational conference. He will then go to Washington where he will remain with his family until about the first of the year when he expects to return to State College to resume his presidential duties, after an absence of almost a year on account of illness.

Dr. Sparks regarded his short stay at the College as an enjoyable visit, and on several occasions during that time addressed the entire student body. He has displayed a new vigor following his long rest and freedom from care at Ephriam, Wis., where he spent the summer months, and is anxious to resume his duties. While Dr. Sparks was in State College, the Board of Trustees of the college passed a resolution accepting from him an endowment fund of $500, the proceeds of which will be used to award, each college semester, a prize known as the "President's Medal," given to the Freshman attaining the highest scholastic standing.

Special Sunday school meetings will be held at Pleasant Gap and in Bellefonte on Sunday. On Sunday morning Mr. Reel and Mr. Bowen, of the corps of field workers of the Pennsylvania Sabbath school association, will hold a Sunday school institute in the Methodist church at Pleasant Gap. In the afternoon they will hold a meeting in the Lutheran church, Bellefonte. Several of the officers of the Centre county Sabbath school association will also be present. Every person interested in Sunday school work should attend these meetings.

Mrs. M. C. Delmonico will give free instruction on embroidery with any piece purchased. Mrs. Delmonico will open her art shop in the Shoemaker flats, tomorrow.

WALKEY.—Mrs. Emma Walkey, wife of Harry Walkey, passed away at her home on east Bishop street about seven o'clock last Friday morning after less than a week's illness. She had been a sufferer for some years with Bright's disease and during the past year or eighteen months had suffered several severe attacks, caused by overwork in the interest of the Red Cross and other organizations with which she was connected. Her last attack occurred the Saturday previous to her death and it proved so serious that little hope of her recovery was entertained at any time.

Mrs. Walkey was the only daughter of C. D. and Emma Shank Crider and was born at Warriorsmark. When a child her parents moved to Tyrone and after a few years spent there came to Bellefonte thirty-one years ago and this had been her home ever since. Her father died twelve years ago and her mother ten years ago last August, and just ten years ago Tuesday of last week she was united in marriage to Mr. Walkey. Following her marriage she became a member of the Reformed church and ever since had been unusually active in all manner of church and Sunday school activities. She carried the same ardor and enthusiasm into her work with the Red Cross and the Woman's Club of Bellefonte, of which she also was a member.

She leaves no children and her only survivor is her husband. Funeral services were held at her late home on east Bishop street at two o'clock on Monday afternoon by Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt, and burial was made in the Union cemetery.

Among the out-of-town people here for the funeral were Mrs. George B. Brandon and son, Robert Patterson, of Scranton; Miss Raybold, of Warriorsmark; Mrs. Buck, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Linn Blackford, of Huntingdon; Harry Johnson, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Annie Barnes, of Johnstown; Mrs. Frank Hain, of Tyrone, and John L. Noll, of Altoona.

BOTTS.—William Murid Botts, stable boss at the western penitentiary, dropped dead at his home at Mrs. Benjamin Smith's, on east High street, at ten o'clock on Wednesday evening. He had worked all day and was in apparently good health up until he suddenly dropped over dead. Heart failure was assigned as the cause.

He was a native of Pennsylvania and was born in 1871, hence was in his forty-ninth year. He came to Bellefonte from Philadelphia about eight years ago and during the past few years has been stable boss at the penitentiary. He was twice married and is survived by his second wife, who before her marriage was Miss Margaret Smith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Smith, and whom he married a year ago last Friday, and two children by his first wife, namely: Mrs. C. B. Williams and Harry H. Botts, both living in Ohio.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. Alexander Scott, of the Methodist church, will officiate and burial will be made in the Union cemetery.

KEYS.—Mrs. Frances S. Keys, widow of the late Irvin S. Keys, a former resident of Beech Creek, and a sister of James Clark, of Bellefonte, died at her home in Wamego, Kan., on Friday of last week following a brief illness, aged seventy years. Just three weeks previous she had gone to her home in the west after a visit with her relatives in Centre and Clinton counties. She leaves six children living in Kansas and the following brothers and sisters: Robert H. and Harry B. Clark, of Beech Creek; James Clark, of Bellefonte; Miss Josephine Clark and Mrs. Ambrose B. Brady, of Beech Creek. Burial was made on Tuesday at Wamego, Kan.

ISHLER.—Mrs. Sarah Ishler, wife of William Ishler, died at her home at Colyer, November 7th, following an illness of several weeks as the result of an abscess of the bowels, aged 52 years, 4 months and 17 days. Her maiden name was Sarah Weaver, and she was born and spent her entire life in Potter township. In addition to her husband she leaves three children, Bruce, Lydia and Esther, all at home. She also leaves one brother, John Weaver, of Colyer. Funeral services were held at her late home at Colyer on Monday morning of last week, after which burial was made at Tusseyville.

GONDER.—James Gonder, the man who was so seriously injured when a runaway draft of cars demolished the baggage room at Osceola Mills on Wednesday of last week, died at the Cottage State hospital, Philipsburg, on Friday morning. Mr. Gonder was fifty-three years old and had been in the service of the railroad company thirty-five years. He lost a foot in an accident on the Moshannon branch some years ago, and his father was killed while employed on the Tyrone and Clearfield branch. Mr. Gonder is survived by his wife and five children, all residents of Osceola Mills. Burial was made at that place on Sunday.

GATES.—George W. Gates, a native of Ferguson township, this county, died at his home in Lewistown last Friday evening following an illness of only two days with acute pneumonia, aged seventy-seven years. In early life he followed farming but later worked as a carpenter. He was twice married and is survived by his third wife and four children to his first wife. Burial was made at Lewistown on Monday afternoon.

STOVER.—John Farver Stover, a life-long resident of Spring township, was found dead in the woods of Cambria county early last week by a hunter out for small game. Mr. Stover, who was 80 years, 7 months and 29 days old, was born and spent practically all his life in the neighborhood of Pleasant Gap. Last March his son Jerry came to Centre county and took him out to his home at Marsteller, Cambria county, where he spent the summer. Two weeks ago the son came to Centre county on business and wanted his father to come along as he thought a visit back to his old home would do him good, but the aged man declined to come. On Monday of last week the son received a telephone message saying that his father had left home and could not be found, and his natural thought was that he had finally decided to come alone to Centre county. Monday evening Jerry came to Bellefonte from Pleasant Gap, expecting to see his father get off the train, but he didn't. The next day, however, he received word that his dead body had been found by a hunter in the woods, about four miles from Marsteller. The general opinion is that the aged gentleman, in a fit of abstraction, wandered away from home, became lost and died from exposure and fatigue.

Mr. Stover was an old soldier, having served with distinction during the Civil war. He was a carpenter by occupation and a good citizen in every way. He was married to Miss Sarah Noll, of Pleasant Gap, who died seven years ago since which time he had made his home with his sons, four of whom survive, as follows: George, of Jacksonville; William, of Boalsburg; Samuel and Jerry, of Marsteller. The son Samuel accompanied the remains to Centre county last Thursday for burial in the Shiloh cemetery, Rev. S. C. Stover, of Boalsburg, having charge of the services.

HOUCK.—Francis Xopher Houck, for many years a resident of Warriorsmark valley, died on Tuesday at the home of his son, J. M. Houck, in Altoona, of general debility, aged 86 years and 9 months. He was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, but came to this country when sixteen years old and learned the blacksmithing trade. He established a shop at Centre Line and worked there for a half century or more. His wife died a number of years ago but surviving him are two sons and one daughter, J. W. Houck, of Lyswen; Jeremiah H. Houck, of Altoona, and Mrs. J. B. Nearhoof, of Warriorsmark. The remains were taken to Warriorsmark where funeral services will be held and burial made this (Friday) morning.

The Mott Drug Co., of Bellefonte, is making a specialty of the Dodd Mead sweets, which come in boxes suitable for Christmas presents and gifts at any time. If you are looking for anything of the kind go over their assortment before buying elsewhere.

Last week a Lancaster county seed buyer made a trip through the lower end of Pennsylvally buying clover seed at $25 a bushel. One man, Frank Stover, of near Centre Mills, sold $1200 worth of seed. The buyer got a car load which cost him approximately $12,000.

Congress has adjourned and for the time being the peace treaty is dead. The whole civilized world is left in turmoil because a few Senators of the United States preferred playing partisan politics to world pacification. An outraged public should call Lodge, Reed, Gore, Walsh, Borah and all of them to an accounting of their stewardships. Whether the President will now withdraw the treaty and present it again at the regular session in December is a matter of conjecture.

Teacher—Why are the days so short in the winter? Dull Boy—I guess it must be because the nights are so long.

Notice to Prospective Buyers of Cadillacs.

Dear Sir:

We regret that we have had to disappoint many a person who wanted to buy a Cadillac this year but could not get one because there were not nearly enough to go round.

Our entire allotment was absorbed by those who foresightedly ordered their cars in advance of the time when they actually needed them.

Already, we foresee that we shall not be able to secure, during 1920, all the Cadillacs our territory will want.

So, if you wish to own a Cadillac next year, we advise you not to delay in placing your order.

Please understand that we are not urging you to make an unpremeditated purchase of a Cadillac.

We are giving you these facts concerning the demand for the Cadillac, not in our own behalf, but seriously and earnestly, because we wish to guard you against disappointment.

Very truly yours,

CHAS. A. YULLE, Huntingdon.

Illingworth — Lutz.—The "Watchman" last week mentioned the fact of Henry S. Illingworth being a caller at this office on Wednesday and at the time was accompanied by a very charming young lady. It now develops that the young people were in town that day taking out a marriage license, the young lady in question being Miss Mary J. Lutz, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lutz, of Struble. Going from Bellefonte to Boalsburg they were married that evening, at the Reformed parsonage, by Rev. S. C. Stover.

Mr. and Mrs. Illingworth went direct to the bridegroom's home on the Snyder farm near State College, where they have been busy receiving the congratulations of their many friends. Mr. Illingworth is a son of Rev. Ralph Illingworth, of Ohio, but formerly the Methodist pastor on the Pennsylvally charge. Friends of the young couple wish them full measure of joy and prosperity throughout their married life.

Mingle — Winkleblech.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Winkleblech, at Fiedler, was the scene of a quiet little wedding on Sunday evening when their daughter, Miss Edna M. Winkleblech—was united in marriage to Albert E. Mingle, of Aaronsburg. Only a few intimate friends were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. J. Weaver. The bridegroom has been located at Akron, Ohio, since his graduation from the Millheim High school several years ago but recently returned to Centre county to embark in the mercantile business at Coburn and it is in that town the young couple will make their home.

The young people were attended by A. E. Kline, of Altoona, and Miss Alice Owens, of Bellefonte, and only intimate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. Following a wedding trip through the west Mr. and Mrs. Kaup will locate at Birmingham temporarily, the bridegroom at present being employed in the master mechanic's office in Altoona.

Kerstetter, of State College, was united in marriage to Miss Aldah Madaline Hanley, of Bellefonte, the ceremony being performed by Rev. George E. Smith, of the United Brethren church. Only immediate friends of the young people were present at their marriage. Following the ceremony a delicious wedding supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. Kerstetter. The young couple will make their home at State College.

Confer—Lyons.—Philip Confer, of Yarnell, and Miss Madaline Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lyons, of Lyontown, were married on Tuesday of last week by Rev. M. C. Piper, at his home in Milesburg.

"This is a very sad case, very sad, indeed," said the doctor. "I much regret to tell you that your wife's mind is gone—completely gone."

"I'm not a bit surprised," answered the husband. "She has been giving me a piece of it every day for the last fifteen years." Selected.

Wife—Don't you think, dear, it would have been better to look up that cook's references? Hub—Heavens, no! They might not have been satisfactory.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the George Mitchell home on the Branch, last Wednesday afternoon, by the ladies of the Presbyterian church, in honor of Miss Mary Dale, who will soon become the bride of Rev. L. V. Barber. She was the recipient of a large number of presents which will be both useful and ornamental in her future home.

On Monday evening the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snyder Illingworth, who were married on Wednesday of last week, gathered at their home on the Snyder farm near Bloomsdorf and gave them a real, old-fashioned serenade, with enough of noise to wake up the natives in that entire community. The bridegroom is a member of the Citizens band and among the serenaders, leading off with the piece, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." Naturally this brought out the bride and groom and the serenaders were invited into the house and fed up on refreshments tapered off with a good smoke and then settled down for an evening of good-fellowship with the newlyweds. It was well past midnight when the serenaders left for their respective homes, each and every one extending their congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Illingworth.

An American Mother's Thanksgiving. "Thankful?" sighs the harassed house mother. "Oh, yes, I suppose I am! But it does seem harder to feel properly grateful with turkeys soaring quite out of sight and the usual things that go with them almost beyond one's reach."

Suppose you stop to think—you with so great a cause for heartfelt praise—what some other women feel thankful for, women who wrote things like this from across the seas: "One in Germany whose husband was carried home to her with one leg amputated above the knee writes, "But we'll do the best we can to find for him some new way to make an honest living, and, oh, dear heart, how thankful am I that he is so maimed, for now I may keep him with me!"

Another one, in France, whose daughter, but lately married, lost her reason when suddenly confronted with her young husband's name among the killed, says, "Heart aching as it is to hear her foolishly contented prattle about Didier, whom she constantly prepares to welcome home tomorrow, I thank the good God from the bottom of my soul for the mild insanity which keeps her from realizing that Didier is dead and both her brothers missing and that I, her mother, am the most bereaved and desolate of women."

A third wrote from her home in Folkestone, England: "And little did we think we should ever get reconciled to our dear mother's death so soon after Aunt Lucy's! How true that God knows best, for from the deepest corner of my heart I feel grateful to the Lord for taking mother and Aunt Lucy home before the soul-revolting war brought all the misery to us."

Then come, thou desponding American soul! Instead of turkey and mince pie serve rice pudding, fricassee, pot roast or even lamb stew. Look around your table at your well fed, warm and well covered brood, sound and all there good man, and most devoutly thank the good God for this blessed America of ours!

Anticipating His Birthday. "Dear, the baby has swallowed a penny. What on earth shall I do?" "Oh, well, let him have it. Next Thursday is his birthday anyway."

PRESIDENT'S PEACE TREATY REJECTED.

Republican Senate Adjourns After Voting Against Confirmation.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Falling after three attempts to ratify the peace treaty the Senate late tonight laid it aside, ended the special session and went home.

The first vote taken on the Lodge resolution stood 39 to 55 against. On the second vote, taken after several hours of parliamentary wrangling in which the Democrats made vain efforts to win over some of the Republican group of mild reservationists, 41 Senators voted in the affirmative and 51 in the negative.

The third vote was on a straight-out ratification without reservations which got only 38 votes to 53 opposing it. Only one Republican, Senator McCumber, North Dakota, voted with the Democrats in its support.

Republican leader Lodge declared today's voting constituted a final decision on the peace treaty unless President Wilson circumvented the Senate rules by withdrawing it and then submitting it again to the Senate. In other quarters, there was some difference of opinion but the general sentiment seemed to be that there was only a slender chance that the treaty would come up at the beginning of the next session of Congress, beginning next month.

One effect of the Senate's failure to ratify the treaty will be the continuation of various war time laws and regulations at least until the new session opens. Among these is the war time prohibition act.

The resolution presented tonight to declare a state of peace will come up at the beginning of the new session and is expected to start another stubborn fight. The administration is understood to be opposed to such a method of legally ending the war and in the background is a constitutional question as to whether Congress can do so by a resolution not requiring the President's signature.

It was suggested tonight among Democratic Senators that President Wilson might be asked during the recess to feel out the other powers as to their attitude on reservations with the idea of bringing the treaty to some sort of a ratification after Congress reassembles.
