In the organization of Phillipsburg borough council for the ensuing two years Edward L. Gates, editor of the Phillipsburg Ledger, and formerly of Bellefonte, was elected secretary at a salary of two hundred dollars a year.

At the annual meeting for the election of officers of the Auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital, held at the hospital, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Brouse was re-elected president; Mrs. Keller, secretary, and Mrs. Shugert, treasurer.

Former sheriff W. E. Hurley has bought the small brick residence property on Howard street owned formerly by M. I. Gardner. It is the one recently occupied by the Buckius family. Sheriff Hurley and his family will move there from their present residence on High street before April first.

While in the act of cranking his Ford car on New Year's day, Peter Shuey, of Axe Mann, a brother of C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte, had his right arm broken when the critter back-fired and the crank struck him a terrific blow. Mr. Shuey works at the penitentiary and the injury will keep him off duty for some time.

The Odd Fellows band of this place is planning to put on a minstrel show for the benefit of the organization. The date has not as yet been set but it will probably be some time within six weeks. Much of the old talent of the town will be drawn upon and just enough to make it a modern and up-to-the-minute black-face success.

Miss Helen E. C. Overton, chairman in charge of the Christmas seals in Bellefonte, closed out her allotment on New Year's eve by disposing of a little over one hundred seals to James R. Hughes and Harry Keller. The total sale of seals in Bellefonte was thus brought up to 25,000, or five thousand more than the original allotment.

Sam, the Clothier, is offering some good bargains in overcoats in an advertisement published on the seventh page of today's paper. You may not need such a garment this winter but the indications are they will be even higher next winter than they are this, and the wise man always looks into the future, even in the purchase of clothes.

Forest Ocker, who has been living at Rebersburg since leaving Bellefonte a number of years ago, was in Bellefonte last week and assisted in taking the annual inventory at the G. R. Danenhower & Son wholesale grocery. He has also accepted a position as traveling salesman for the same company, but has not yet decided as to whether he will move to Bellefonte or not.

The short course in agriculture at The Pennsylvania State College opened yesterday but owing to the fact that the college is so crowded with regular students that housing room is at a premium only a limited number of short course students could be taken, and most of the number have been put up at Lemont and will be hauled back and forth to the College.

A photographic corps of the Goodrich Tire company was in Bellefonte this week taking photographs and securing data for use in an energetic advertising campaign for their tires. Among the photographs secured were pictures of tires on the Emerick motor bus No. 22, which originally was the palace on wheels in which Mr. Emerick and family made their trip to the Pacific coast and back.

NEW COUNCIL ORGANIZED.

Every Member Present to Start the New Year Right.

The old borough council held its final meeting on Monday evening and the new council organized with a full attendance. Prior to the meeting of council Burgess W. Harrison Walker administered the oath of office to poor overseers Alexander Morrison and Thomas Morgan and borough auditors C. L. Gates and Merrill T. Eisenhauer.

When the old council convened every member was present. The Street committee presented the report of the borough manager which showed that the total collections made by him from July to January 1st, 1920, were $870.40.

The Water committee presented the report of the borough manager so far as it related to that department and further reported that on east Curtin street there is a gap of over eight hundred feet between two fire plugs and the committee recommended the placing of an extra plug in the gap, which was authorized.

The Fire and Police committee reported several recent fires and also presented the burgess' check for $27.00 for fines and licenses collected.

The Finance committee reported a balance in the hands of the treasurer on January 1st of $822.66, after notes and bills approximating twenty thousand dollars had been paid. The committee also asked for the renewal of notes for $1,500, $1,400 and $2,000 for six months from January 2nd; one for $5,000 for six months from January 5th, and a new note for $5,000.

A communication was received from D. C. Stackpole, district engineer of the State Highway Department, enclosing a complete statement of the borough's apportionment for the building of the highway on south Water and Willowbank streets, the total of which was given as $6,070.95. The original estimate of the work made the borough's share a little more than $7,200. Borough manager James D. Seibert stated that there still are some errors in the Department's statement which will reduce the total as above given, and the matter was referred to the Street committee and borough solicitor to check up. It might here be stated that the borough does not owe the above amount, as payments covering approximately the entire sum have been made.

On motion council authorized the payment of $2,000 into the sinking fund and gave both fire companies their customary annual appropriation of $250.

Bills totalling $4,188.81 were approved and on motion the old council adjourned sine die.

NEW MEMBERS SWORN IN.

Burgess W. Harrison Walker then swore into office the two new members, Philip L. Beezer, of the South ward, and John L. Knisely, of the West ward, and also administered the oath of office to the three old members re-elected, namely: John S. Walker, of the North ward; A. Fauble and Harry Flack, of the South ward.

In accordance with the new code Burgess Walker then announced council ready for organization and John S. Walker was elected president and W. T. Kelly secretary.

The first official business presented to council was a statement from the borough manager of a proposition submitted by G. R. Gamble to erect a building near his mill, put in a turbine wheel and dynamo and furnish the borough all the electricity it will need for street lighting and to pump the water for a stated sum of $7.50 a day. The borough manager stated that the power that would be furnished the borough would be approximately 150 h. p. during the night when the lights are on and 20 h. p. during the day hours, which would be sufficient to operate the pump at the water works. The borough, of course, would have to provide its own street wiring and equipment as well as the pump and motor at the water works. Under the present contracts with the State-Centre Electric company it is now costing the borough $13.20 a day for street lighting while the pumping of water runs over eight dollars a day, or a total cost of approximately $22.00.

The Special committee recommended that the recent proposition of the State-Centre Electric company, which virtually meant a new contract for pumping water, be rejected and council so voted. Report was also made that the committee expected to meet officers of the Electric company on Tuesday for the purpose of effecting a final settlement of old differences, if possible.

The bonds of Alexander Morrison and Thomas Morgan, overseers of the poor, in the sum of $2,000, were presented and approved.

An application was received from H. Elmer Yeager for the position of patrolman of Bellefonte borough and the same was referred to the Fire and Police committee.

The fire companies reported that at a meeting of delegates held on January 1st Charles Anderson had been elected chief fire marshal; Allen Waite first assistant and Frank Hull second assistant. The matter was referred to the Fire and Police committee for recommendation.

Edward F. Gehrett was re-elected borough treasurer for a term of two years.

The question of the purchase of new fire fighting apparatus was again brought up, but as no definite recommendations were at hand final action was postponed, president Walker, however, requesting the Fire and Police committee to get together on some definite recommendation by next meeting night and every councilman be prepared to take final action.

Burgess Walker then addressed the new council and asked that an ordinance be passed regulating the control of jitneys and commercial trucks within the borough. He stated that while some owners willingly paid the license exacted by the borough others refused and it was necessary to have an ordinance governing the same in order to compel the payment of license fees.

The burgess also asked council to provide some means of safeguarding the "kiddies" in their pleasure of coasting. He suggested that two or three streets be set aside for coasting privileges from four to ten o'clock p. m., and that a proper officer be there at that time to control traffic so as to prevent accidents. The matter was referred to the Street committee with power.

There being no other business to transact council adjourned.

"The Feast of the Red Corn," to be sung by members of the Patriotic League, will be staged in the Garman opera house Thursday night, January 29th. The Indian stage settings, a chorus of thirty voices, with plenty of good music interspersed with pretty dances, should make this benefit the most popular night of the season.

Prof. Nathan N. Keener, dramatic reader and impersonator, will appear in Bellefonte Friday evening, February 6th, under the direction of the Lutheran Brotherhood. Prof. Keener is head of the department of oratory at Susquehanna University, and has delighted local audiences upon former occasions when he was with the glee club from that university.

The days may be getting longer and the evenings shorter, but the latter are still long enough to make the Scenic a very attractive place to pass the time. The weather may be cold outside but it is always comfortable inside and the pictures are sufficiently interesting to make the time pass quickly. There's a big program every evening and in order to avoid missing the best you should be a regular.

Edmund G. Joseph, formerly of Bellefonte, and Harold R. Zeamans, of New York, have formed a partnership for the general practice of law under the firm name of Joseph & Zeamans, with offices in the American Circle building at 1834 Broadway, New York. Everybody in Bellefonte practically knows Edmund Joseph, as it is only a few years since he was a boy in Bellefonte and his many friends wish him unbounded success in his chosen profession.

Two hundred and fifty invitations have been issued for a gathering of ladies to be held at St. John's Catholic church on Sunday, January 18th, for the purpose of instituting an order of St. Isabella, which is similar to the men's organization of the Knights of Columbus in that church. Prominent officers and members of the order are expected here from various sections of the State and there is every reason to anticipate that it will be a big day for the lady members of the Catholic church.

If Bellefonters suffer for lack of ice next summer it will be no fault of the weather man. There hasn't been a day in the past month that there was enough let up in the cold weather to spoil the ice in making, and now it is from a foot to fourteen inches in thickness. But according to reports a far larger supply has already been cut and stored than was put up last winter and with a new dealer out at Coleville and George H. Yarnell's big ice house down at Hecla there ought to be plenty of ice for domestic use next summer; especially as it won't take so much for highballs.

In the reorganization of the State Highway Department field force C. H. Buckius, who has been located in Bellefonte, has been made acting engineer of district No. 4, composed of Venango, Mercer, Lawrence and Butler counties, with headquarters at Franklin. D. C. Stackpole remains in Bellefonte as engineer in charge of district No. 1. W. D. Meyer has been transferred from district No. 14 to district No. 13, composed of the counties of Beaver, Allegheny and Westmoreland, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, and W. O. Bennett has been transferred from Clearfield county to McKean county with headquarters at Bradford.

The many friends of Mrs. D. G. Bush, who dislocated her right shoulder three weeks ago, while on a visit to her niece, Mrs. Carrie Sides, at Jersey Shore, will be pleased to hear that she is recovering as well as can be expected. Mrs. Bush celebrated her eighty-third birthday, Monday, and was very much gratified and pleased at receiving messages to the number of many more than a hundred, from friends all over the State; and on account of her inability to write, she takes this means, for the present, of sending her thanks to those friends. Her condition is such that it is expected she will be able to be moved within a month.

The Bellefonte Firemen's Relief association will hold its annual banquet at the public building on Howard street next Tuesday evening, January 18th, when he will gladly answer all questions asked.

New County Officers Sworn In.

Just a little more formality than has been customary in the past attended the swearing in of the new county officers on Monday morning. It just happened that a brief session of court was held that morning and after the important business had been transacted Judge Quigley suggested that the oaths be administered in open court and consequently all the officers elect were summoned to the court room.

The retiring Prothonotary, D. R. Foreman, administered the oaths to James C. Furst, re-elected District Attorney, the new County Commissioners, Harry P. Austin, George H. Yarnell and George M. Harter, and the incoming Prothonotary, Roy Wilkinson.

Mr. Wilkinson then performed his first official act by swearing in Recorder William H. Brown, re-elected.

Recorder Brown then administered the oaths to Treasurer L. Frank Mayes, Sheriff Harry Dukeman and Register Frank Sasserman.

Following him Prothonotary Wilkinson administered the oaths of office to H. W. Irwin and H. C. Valentine, clerks to the County Commissioners; C. M. Gramley, T. A. Fletcher and H. H. Stover, the new County Auditors; A. Clyde Smith, deputy treasurer, and Walter Armstrong, deputy recorder.

Judge Quigley then extended the congratulations of the court to the new officials and called attention to the fact that in their oath they had sworn to discharge the duties of their office with fidelity and to the best of their ability and as long as they did that they could feel assured they would have the support of the court. But the court would not withhold censure if they were derelict in their duties.

The new officers took charge officially at twelve o'clock. One of the first acts of the new board of County Commissioners was to appoint a clerk for the board of auditors, Ralph Hartsock, who was one of the retiring auditors, called the attention of the Commissioners to the fact that under a new law they were empowered to appoint a clerk for the auditors, and he was an applicant for the position. After looking up the law the Commissioners made the appointment, but it was given to Miss Blanche Malone, of Snow Shoe, who for some time past has been assisting with the work in the county treasurer's office. Her compensation was fixed at $60.00 a month.

All the new officers were entertained at the Nittany Country club on Monday evening by the retiring county treasurer, David Chambers.

Some Business Plans for the Spring.

C. Y. Wagner has completed all the plans for the erection of his big flour mill, which is to be located along the L. and T. railroad just south of the Phoenix pumping station and work will begin just as soon as the weather opens up sufficiently to make it practicable. It will be of reinforced concrete, four stories or more high, and will be built by Geo. E. Rhoads & Sons.

Notwithstanding the cold weather work is going right on with the construction of the big hydrating plant which the American Lime and Stone Co. is erecting on the old glass works meadow.

Few people realize what an immense plant this will be when completed or what the ultimate purpose of the company is in its construction. It will probably be the largest hydrating plant in the world and, in addition, will concentrate practically all of the production of that company at one place.

A large rotary lime kiln will be installed and probably a battery of twenty-four stack kilns built on that plot so that all the lime, hydrated lime and by-products will be made at the one central plant, which will be electrically operated and electrically controlled.

Stone from all the quarries will be loaded by steam shovels and hauled to the central plant where it will be manipulated as desired into ballast, fluxing stone, or lime and there will be no loss or overproduction in screenings for the latter will go right into the rotary kiln and be converted into buckwheat lime the advantageous use of which the trade is just beginning to discover.

It is expected that cost will be greatly reduced in this centralization of the scattered units and that a long step will have been taken toward the solution of the labor problem.

Irvin G. Gray to Get New Trials.

On Monday the Supreme court handed down its decision in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Irvin G. Gray in which the judgment of the Superior court and the sentence of the lower court was reversed in the two cases appealed and new trials awarded Mr. Gray. Mr. Gray is now serving his sentence of not less than two years nor more than two years and six months in the penitentiary on one case on which he was convicted, so that just when he will be given new trials in the other cases is, of course, problematical.

Charles D. Fox, of the Williamsport recruiting station, will be in Bellefonte one day each week to answer all questions pertaining to the U. S. navy; government insurance, allotments, etc. Enlistments in the navy are open to all men between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five. Mr. Fox can be seen in the vicinity of the Bellefonte postoffice next Tuesday, January 18th, when he will gladly answer all questions asked.

Walter Cherry, son of P. H. Cherry, is in Bellefonte, having been discharged recently from the medical department of the army.

Rumor has it that the Roland Curtin property at the corner of the Diamond and extending through to the alley at Parrish's drug store has been sold. The rumor is not without foundation because there is a purchaser for the property, as yet unknown, but he has not been able to come to an agreement as to terms and probably will not for some time as one of the owners is in China and communication with her is very slow.

Interesting Aviation News.

While Wednesday was not cold like some days we have had the pilots on the aerial mail route were unable to get over the Allegheny mountains owing to the density of the clouds. Pilot Robinson got in from New York and Max Miller started for Cleveland but when he reached Clearfield he was confronted with a bank of clouds that reached virtually from a few hundred feet of the ground to an altitude of seven thousand feet, and he was compelled to fly back to Bellefonte. The pilot who left Clearfield flew into the cloud bank at Brookville and was compelled to come down. Pilot Stevens, however, made the return flight from Bellefonte to New York.

As now planned the big Martin bombers will be put into service as mail carriers between New York and Cleveland on January 16th, but the usual number of DeHaviland cars will be kept here in case of emergency.

James C. Maresa, the wireless operator who helped to install the radio station on the Bellefonte field and has since been in charge, was this week sent to Heller field, Newark, N. J., to complete the installation of the station there. He was succeeded here by Marshall C. Wright, who arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday. While the planes have not yet been equipped with the wireless apparatus the Bellefonte station easily picks up messages from all points along the Atlantic coast as far south as Key West, Florida, and from vessels five hundred miles at sea. Messages are also easily caught from the Cleveland naval station.

Joseph L. Montgomery III in Sunbury.

Joseph L. Montgomery left Bellefonte Wednesday noon, to attend the meeting of the association of match companies, of which he is president, that is now in session in New York city.

He had not been feeling well for a few days prior to his departure but undertook the trip notwithstanding. As the train neared Sunbury he became very ill, in fact so much so that he left the train at that place and was taken to the hospital. Fortunately Calvin Troup, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Match Co., at this place, was traveling with him and was able to look after his comfort until yesterday morning when Mrs. Montgomery went down to be with him until he recovers sufficiently to come home.

Word received here yesterday afternoon was to the effect that Dr. Brinton, of Philadelphia, the specialist under whose care Mr. Montgomery was during his previous illness, has been called to Sunbury. He is in the Mary Packer Memorial hospital, a splendid institution, and is assured very efficient care.

Buster Brown.

Buster Brown is to be the attraction at Garman's this (Friday) evening. It is at least eight years since this exceedingly amusing musical cartoon has been seen here and the present management have seen fit to invest many thousands of dollars in new wardrobes, scenery and all necessary accessories. Buster Brown is of the kind that produces many a genuine laugh; in fact, it was largely written with that end in view, consequently it is not to be wondered at that no less than four companies presented this remarkable success for one or two consecutive theatrical seasons. Included in the present production are girls, girls and girls, for what would a musical comedy be without the dainty darlings and in this instance, they have been engaged not only because they can dance, but for their singing ability as well.

BIRTHS.

Nancy Lee is the name of a little daughter born Wednesday, December 10th, to Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Seator, of Roanoke, Va. Mrs. Seator will be remembered as Miss Edith Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Entrekin Jr. of Orange, N. J., are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, Virginia Bullock, who was born Monday, January 5th. Mrs. Entrekin is well known in Bellefonte as Miss Harriet Bullock.

Evan Blanchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchard, of Linn street, met with a mishap while coasting last week that may result in a few permanent scars on his face. With Johnny Curtin and Billy Potter he had been coasting out in a field on east Curtin street where there was no danger of collision with motors and they were returning home down the alley running from Curtin to west Linn. For a last ride they started coasting down the alley. All went well until Evan reached the cross alley at the rear of the Crider property at the same time that a truck appeared. He hit it head on and was cut badly over the nose and one eye the wounds requiring some stitches to close up. It is hoped that permanent scars will not be left but that depends entirely on how the wounds heal.

Mrs. Frank Warfield has leased her former home, the John P. Harris home, on Linn street, and will take possession on Monday, expecting to conduct a rooming house.

Will sell a few shares in gas well in best McKeesport territory. Have map on hand showing location. -J. M. Keichline. 2-1f
