THE WOMEN WANT TO KNOW.

Ask Borough Council to Attend a Meeting to Enlighten Women on Civic Duty.

The women of Bellefonte do not intend to be caught napping when they finally get the ballot as was evidenced at the regular meeting of council on Monday evening when that official body was invited to attend a meeting at the High school building on Tuesday evening, January 27th, called for the purpose of imparting to women the rights of the ballot and their civic duties when they become legalized voters under the laws of Pennsylvania.

Every member of council was present at the meeting, which was quite an improvement over the usual attendance during the past six months or a year.

Howard Smead presented a written application for appointment as a police officer of Bellefonte and the same was referred to the Fire and Police committee for recommendation.

The list of standing committees for the next two years was announced as follows, the first named gentleman in every case being the chairman.

Finance—Fauble, Richard, Beezer. Street—Harris, Richard, Fauble. Water—Cunningham, Brouse, Beezer.

Fire and Police—Flack, Cunningham, Knisely. Market—Knisely, Brouse, Flack. Sanitary—Brouse, Harris, Knisely. Village Improvement—Beezer, Flack, Knisely.

Special—Richard, Fauble, Brouse, Harris, Cunningham.

The secretary read a telegram from State Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler requesting council to take immediate action on the application for the building of the state road on Bishop, Spring and Pine streets.

A communication was received from the State Board of Health inquiring as to what action had been taken toward the erection of a sewage disposal plant, as per the Department's notice in 1908. The matter was referred to the Street committee and borough solicitor.

The offer of George M. Gamble, reported at last meeting of council, to erect a suitable building, equip the same with a water wheel and generator and furnish the borough electricity for light and pumping water for the sum of $75.00 a day was submitted in writing.

A lengthy communication was received from borough manager J. D. Seibert recommending the purchase of two combination chemical and hose trucks for the fire department, and giving at some length his reasons for believing that they would be ample for the needs of the borough at the present time.

Mr. Harris, of the Street committee, reported a bill from Isaac Baney for $75.00 for injuries to himself and horse when the animal tramped through a plank on the Willowbank street bridge before it was rebuilt. Mr. Harris reported that the horse had been off work only five days. The matter was referred to the Street committee and borough solicitor.

Mr. Cunningham presented a brief report of the borough manager specifying the thawing out of several water pipes on the streets. Mr. Cunningham also reported that the water register had been completely gone over and brought up to date and that the new assessment will show an increase in water taxes of approximately $1250.00 over that of former years.

The Fire and Police committee recommended the election of Elmer Yeger as a policeman for the borough, which was promptly done by council.

The Special committee reported that nothing further has developed in the adjusting of the water pumping question between the borough and State-Centre Electric company, and recommended that the balance due the company for pumping water during the borough's experimental year be paid, and council authorized the same.

Council voted to approve the election of Charles Anderson as chief fire marshal, Allen Waite first assistant, and Frank Hull second assistant.

J. D. Seibert was re-elected borough manager for a period of two years without a dissenting vote.

The question of council's position on the building of the state road on Bishop, Spring and Pine streets was pretty thoroughly discussed. The bid for this piece of road is a little more than $38,000, and the borough's share will be something over $11,000. The County Commissioners have approved the application so far as the county's portion of the expense is concerned, and as approximately five-sixths of the property owners along the route of the road have signed a petition asking for its construction, the ordinance providing for the building of the road passed first reading and the secretary was instructed to notify the State Highway Department of the favorable action of council.

Under the head of old business highway engineer D. C. Stackpole's statement of the account of contractor R. B. Taylor was taken up but action on the same was postponed until next meeting night to permit the Street committee to go over the statement with Mr. Stackpole and check it up.

At this juncture president Walker asked the Fire and Police committee if they were ready to report on the question of the purchase of additional fire fighting apparatus, but members of the committee requested that the matter be deferred until the next meeting of council, as they had as yet not conferred on the matter.

A representative of the La France fire apparatus company was present and requested the privilege of submitting bids when council had decided on what kind of apparatus to purchase, and he was assured that the same privilege will be given his company as accorded to any and all builders of such equipment.

Mr. Richard called attention of council to the fact that careful consideration should be given to the request presented to council at the last meeting by the Krader Motor company for permission to make some very decided changes on the street at the old Curtin property, and the Street committee was instructed to confer with the borough solicitor as to the property rights of an owner where a building is to be used for business purposes.

Bills to the amount of $332.67 were approved by council.

Before adjournment president Walker requested the various committees to make a careful estimate of the amount of money that will be required to bear their expense of the current year, not counting the unusual expense of the building of the state road or purchase of new fire fighting equipment. This estimate will be used as a basis for laying the millage for the current year. Inasmuch as the millage question is not settled until some time in April the various committees will probably be governed in their estimate by the forthcoming auditor's statement of the amount of moneys spent by each department last year.

There being no other business council adjourned.

Children Bought and Sold Seals.

The following letter of appreciation was received by Miss Helen E. C. Overton, chairman of the Christmas seal campaign for Bellefonte, from Ira E. Foutz, publicity director for the State and as it boosts the boys and girls for the work they did we publish the same to show them how their activities were appreciated:

"On behalf of the Pennsylvania society for the prevention of tuberculosis I write to thank you, and through you the teachers and scholars under your direction, for the wonderful assistance given by the public schools in the Christmas seal sale of 1919.

The aid given was beyond the fondest hopes of both the State seal organization and local committees. In some localities the seal sale was a success only because of the efforts put forth by the schools. In previous seal sales the schools were by no means laggards but this time all the enthusiasm of all former years seemed to be rolled into one huge boost.

"Figures at hand show the big push given the campaign by the girls and boys. And it is not alone the aid given the actual sales that is gratifying. It would be hard to estimate the educational value. Many of the thousands of children who bought and sold seals learned the lessons about keeping themselves healthy and avoiding tuberculosis they will never forget. After all it is the children we must get if we are to conquer the white plague.

The seal sale itself was a big success in Pennsylvania. With the money secured and the health lessons given we are confident a real start has been made in the intensive program planned to overcome the scourge that took 12,885 lives in this State in 1918, a greater relative number than in any previous year except 1906 and 1907. The war and influenza have caused an increase in the tuberculosis death rate in recent years. We are sure the schools will do their full share in the greater fight to be waged against this insidious menace.

Will you not convey to your schools our appreciation for an unequalled service whole heartedly rendered to a cause that so closely touches every life.

Two Prominent Men to Talk at State College.

Announcement has been made that Dr. Harry T. Collings, former head of the department of German, at The Pennsylvania State College, will give an address at the College on Saturday evening, January 24th, on "Belgium and Reconstruction." Hamlin Garland, the poet and humorist, will speak at the College on Saturday evening, February 7th, on "Talks With American Authors." Both men will appear under the auspices of the Phi Kappa Phi honorary society in their movement to secure prominent men to appear before Penn State audiences. The same society was responsible for the appearance last fall of ex-President William Howard Taft, who spoke on the League of Nations.

The census enumerators have completed their work in Bellefonte, and practically all of Centre county, and their reports have been forwarded to supervisor Frank E. Costello, at Bradford. And now we will all be anxious to see the report of how much we have grown during the past decade.

LOCKE.—The very sudden death of Mrs. M. J. Locke, wife of Dr. Locke, on Monday, was a distinct shock to her friends in Bellefonte, many of whom did not know of her illness, let alone serious condition. During the holidays she suffered an attack of the grip and shortly after New Years pneumonia developed. She was under the care of a professional nurse until the latter part of last week when she had so far recovered as to be up and around. On Sunday she looked after the preparation of the family dinner but was taken worse Sunday night and while her condition was serious enough Monday morning it did not seem alarming. After the doctor had eaten by his wife's bedside while the nurse went to lunch and it was just at 1:30 o'clock when Mrs. Locke passed away so suddenly that no one realized the end so near until it had actually come.

Deceased's maiden name was Miss Blanche M. Kipe and she was born in Philadelphia on August 7th, 1871, hence was past forty-eight years of age. She was united in marriage to Dr. Melvin J. Locke when twenty years of age and as a bride came direct to Bellefonte and this had been her home ever since. She was a woman whose greatest energies were always devoted to her home and her children though in later years she took quite an active part in the work of the Bellefonte Chapter, D. A. R., of which she was a member.

She is survived by her husband and four children, LeRoy, Mildred, Melvin Jr. and David, all of Bellefonte. She also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Miss Adelaide Kipe, of Plainfield, N. J.; Dr. Wilmer Kipe and Mrs. Frank Berghof, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Keeney, of Quakertown, and David Kipe, of Bath, Maine.

His nephew remained with him until the end.

Mr. Baum was quite well known in Bellefonte, as aside from the fact that his brother and family lived here, he made frequent business trips to the town. He is survived by two brothers, Aaron, of Philadelphia, and one brother still at the old home in Germany, and one sister, Mrs. Strauss, of Philadelphia.
