MAY NOT KNOW PAGO PAGO

Yet Town on Island of Tutuila, in American Samoa, is Worth Attention of Tourists.

Pago Pago, on the island of Tutuila in American Samoa, would probably be an easy winner in competition for the least-known town of its size under the American flag.

Most Americans never heard of Pago Pago; yet it has an excellent harbor, is an important naval coaling station, and is governed by American naval officers.

The island of Tutuila is one of six little tropical atolls which constitute American Samoa. They are all mountainous and are picturesque with their jungle-covered steep and their great palm groves sheltering little white native towns.

These natives are a peculiarly attractive people, as any American Jackie who has spent a while at Pago Pago will tell you. They are kindly, hospitable, and full of fun, while some of the women, especially the half-castes, are really beautiful.

The favorite native diversion, strangely enough, is cricket, which was taught the Samoans by British missionaries long ago, and has well supplanted all the really indigenous sports. But the Samoan has made of cricket a thing after his own barbaric heart. He plays with 40 or 50 men on a side, so that a grand scrimmage is inevitable; he roots with tom-tom and with intense excitement; and the winners always perform a "serpentine," which has all the characteristics of a savage war dance.

NITTANY.

Mr. Heckman has resigned as teacher of the Snyder town school to accept a better paying job and Wilbur L. Dunkle has been chosen by the Walker township school board to teach the unexpired term.

Mr. Emehizer, who has occupied the L. A. Schaeffer farm at Nittany the past year, has purchased a farm of his own on Dix Run, above Unionville, and will move there on or about April first. Charles E. Emerick and A. D. Gunsallus each hauled a sled load of his farm implements up to his new home during the week.

Augusta, Ga., Plans to Entertain Boys of 28th Division.

The Pennsylvania boys of the 28th Division, who trained at Camp Hancock prior to their participation in the war will assemble at the first annual reunion of the 28th Division at Augusta, Ga., April 4 to 10.

The close ties of friendship that sprung up between them and the people of Augusta, makes a great rejoicing between these boys from Pennsylvania and the men and women of Augusta who have an inseparable affection and love for each other.

The people of Augusta are looking forward to the return of the Keystone soldiers. Elaborate plans of entertainment have been arranged by the various civic and commercial bodies, barbecues, carnivals, dances, theatre parties and other forms of amusement have been made that will delight the visitors.

A committee of representative business men and women is to visit various parts of Pennsylvania at an early date to extend a formal invitation to the ex-members of the 28th Division through the newspapers and personally, as far as possible.

That Explains It.

The lady of the house had occasion to object to the number of blouses her maid-servant sent to the wash. "Why, Mary," she said, "my own daughter doesn't send six blouses a week to the laundry." "Perhaps she don't," replied the servant with great indignation, "and perhaps she don't go walking with a coal man."—Houston Post.

The Swift Year Book is Out
Send for Your Copy

Swift & Company was a favorite topic of conversation last year.

Committees investigated it, commissions attacked it, law makers threatened it, many condemned it.

Presently people began to think about it; began to realize that Swift & Company was performing a necessary service in a big, efficient way; began to wonder whether it could be done as well in any other way.

Read what Swift & Company did last year, and what it meant to you, in the Swift & Company Year Book, just issued.

It's a fascinating narrative—simple facts in simple words. There is one ready for you. Send for it.

She Was Awfully Fussed

She had just received an invitation to an impromptu party, and she really had nothing good enough to wear, and there was no time to have a gown designed and tailored.

Then some one suggested Schlow's Quality Shop.

And was she suited?

Well I should say!

In less than half an hour she had the neatest, dressiest, smartest gown that one could desire.

And then too, right there and then she got her gloves and hose to match.

She was surprised how easily she could get all the other dainty, fluffly, pretty little desirables.

And of course she had a good time. Everybody admired her attire and told her how stunning she looked.

Now she tells everybody what a nice shop Schlow's is.

Won't you come in and let us show you our pretty line of merchandise?

Thank You.
