Lewisburg branch of the Pennsylvania railroad did not get out of Bellefonte on Wednesday morning until after eight o'clock owing to a damaged engine. It was helped out by the engine and crew of local freight until met by another engine sent up from Sunbury to haul the train on its eastward trip.

The ladies of the Lutheran church are serving a private supper this (Friday) evening to the Presbyterian boys of the Northern conference, and through some misunderstanding it has been rumored that this is to be a public affair, which is not the case. However, the ladies are planning a public supper to be held within the next two weeks, announcement of which will be made later.

-Last Saturday eggs sold in Bellefonte at 70 cents the dozen. Over the mountain at Centre Hall they were just 52 cents. Considering the fact that it is only nine miles from Bellefonte to Centre Hall the 18 cents difference in the price of a dozen of eggs is at the rate of two cents a mile. As to the eggs, there is no question but that the Centre Hall eggs were just as good as the Bellefonte

-There are 531 children in the public schools in Bellefonte, from grade one to grade eight, inclusive, and of this number 255, almost half, are seven to ten per cent. underweight. Don't ignore the fact that there is a good chance that your child is among the number. Look at his tag, for this is "tag day," and go to hear Miss Packard talk on "Diet for the School Child," tonight in the High school building.

---In all of Centre county there is probably not a more generous hearted man than our good friend George Stevenson, of Buffalo Run. When he has anything real good he is not selfish enough to keep it to himself, and very frequently his generosity leads him to distribute some of his good things among his friends. For instance, this week he brought to this office two frames of white clover honey which is just about as delicious as anything in the honey line can be, and the gift was appreciated sumctions in addition to the call arter and the call forth this public acknowledge- that makes it a valuable compendium flattering compliment on her ability noon from 2 to 5. State College Wants Better Railroad Facilities.

An effort on the part of students at The Pennsylvania State College is being made to obtain better railroad transportation to and from that town, says an item sent out by the college press bureau. Some progress has been made in spite of the inability of railroads to extend their lines into new territory at this time. With over three thousand persons to handle at the beginning and end of every vacation period, the question of proper transportation has become a very important one. Under existing conditions students and visitors have to be transported in ty-five miles to make satisfactory connections in any direction. Students have taken the matter in hand since Lemont and Tyrone for automobile service. Committees will be appointed to investigate and take up the matter with proper authorities. Electric lines from Bellefonte to Lewistown, through State College, or from the Bellefonte-Sunbury branch | of the Pennsylvania Railroad through State College to Scotia and Tyrone, -Announcement was made this have been proposed in the past. Either would bring State College better connections in all directions.

Academy Athletic Banquet.

The annual athletic banquet at the Bellefonte Academy was held in the ler's field at Newark is so deeply imbig dining hall last Friday evening | bedded in snow that wheels cannot be | from 6:15 until 10 o'clock, and in every way it proved as successful and the machines, and fortunately there is enjoyable as any such previous event. Covers were laid for one hundred and thirty-five and all taken by students, members of the faculty and household and invited guests. Mingled in the decorations were the Academy colors, blue and gold, and scarlet and black in honor of Dr. W. W. Comfort, president of Haverford College who, with John Blanchard Esq., were the chief guests of the evening. The menu was as varied and delicious as possible to serve at this time of year.

Among the interesting toasts responded to was that by Prof. Harstine on, "The Academy, a Tremendous Force in the Community;" Rev. Malcolm DePue Maynard on "Good Felkindness and sympathy on the part of lowship;" Prof. A. H. Sloop on "Triangle and King;" Dr. McKinney on "Foreign Recognition of the Academy;" John Blanchard Esq., on "Our Alumni," and Dr. W. W. Comfort on

The College and Secondary School." Mr. James R. Hughes officiated as toastmaster and music was furnished by Smith's orchestra. Brief talks were made during the evening by Louis Levinson, Mr. J. H. Hess and coach Lilling. The one thing that marred the perfect serenity of the gathering was the absence of Rev. Hughes, on account of his morrow evening. lames P. last illness, the first banquet he had missed in many years.

Entertainment in Bellefonte High School.

The fourth number of the Bellefonte High school entertainment course will appear next Thursday tainers will present a fine, novel, ny takes its name from Roselth an humorist in the Lyceum. She is -The passenger train over the not a reader at all, rather an impersonator, a depicter of characters. Miss Breed states that her mission is to grow a crop of laughs, instead of leading a procession of "sob sisters." While she is very funny, she is admired as a true artist of her work. The musical part of the program will be in the hands of Miss Vera Chadsey, solo pianist and accompanist, and Hollis Rundlette, saxophonist and cellist. They are both artists and their numbers complete one of the best entertainments on our list. This year's entertainments have been the best ever given in Bellefonte, yet the course suffers for lack of patronage. The public should not fail to attend this one.

Thomas Rishel Badly Injured.

Thomas Rishel, supervisor on the Bellefonte Central railroad, suffered a compound fracture of the skull last Saturday when a stone from a blast put off in the Sunnyside limestone quarries hit him on the head while at work a short distance from the quarries. The accident happened a few minutes before twelve o'clock. Mr. Rishel was in charge of some work being done on the track of the Bellefonte Central. He was far enough from the quarries to feel no anxiety over and danger from the blasts. But unfortunately a good sized stone from one of the blasts came down on his head with such force as to knock him down and render him unconscious.

He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital where an examination showed that he had suffered a compound fracture of the skull. Mr. Rishel fortunately wore a thick fur cap and the doctors aver that but for this fact he would have been killed outright. In fact the stone cut through the cap. Since receiving proper surgical attention Mr. Rishel has been getting along very well with good chances of a permanent recovery. ----A very neat and comprehensive almanac was distributed to its subscribers by the Millheim Journal last week. It is not only attractive in de-

-Pilot Robillard came into the ark on Wednesday with runners on used so runners have been placed on to make the landing on runners perfectly safe and smooth.

-If you want to get the people you've got to show them value for their money. The big crowds that patronize the Scenic every evening go there because of the good pictures shown. Manager T. Clayton Brown has always believed that the very best in motion pictures was the only kind to give the people of Bellefonte and surrounding community and that is why the Scenic has an established reputation and always draws good houses.

-A boxing meet with the University of Pennsylvania, a wrestling scrap with Lehigh, and a basket ball set-to with George Washington University, are the attractions at Penn State for the week-end, and they will furnish an athletic bill of indoor winter sports the equal of which has never before been served to a local audience. The basket ballers will have their contest this (Friday) evening, the wrestlers will go at it tomorrow afternoon, and the big boxing meet with Penn is staged for to-

Centre County Association of Philadelphia.

The sixteenth annual dinner of the association will be held on Tuesday evening, February seventeenth, 1920, at seven o'clock, at the Rittenhouse, 22nd and Chestnut streets. The cost of the dinner will be three dollars per cover. Members desiring to secure seats for themselves, their families or their friends are requested to send their subscriptions at once to the secretary or the treasurer.

County Auditors Complete Their Work.

County Auditors C. M. Gramley, T. W. Pletcher and H. H. Stover completed their work of auditing the county accounts on Wednesday of this week, establishing a record for doing the work. Ordinarily it has taken the auditors seven and eight weeks to go over the county accounts so that the present board is deserving of congratulation for completing the work at such an early date. But the members have no hesitation in ascribing the fact to the splendid condition in which they found the books and accounts. This was especially true of the books of the County Commissioners as kept

Miss Nancy Hunter Receives a Merited Appointment.

In order to work out the idea of vocational training in the public schools the State Board of Education has divided the State into three districts, corner of envelope "official business" the headquarters of the three to be in and drop in any letter box or post-Allegheny, Columbia and Chester counties. In looking around for suitable persons to put at the head of each district as regional directors Dr. Finegan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, selected Miss Nancy Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hunter, of Bellefonte, to district, with headquarters at Bloomsburg. Dr. Finegan was influenced to make this selection because of the most excellent work Miss Hunter has been doing in the vocational school at Spring Mills. This new department in educational work will be instituted

The real causes, for the malnutrition, can and should be found and removed and if done the child will in every case promptly return to normal weight and height. All children who are habitually as much as seven per cent. under weight for their height are malnourished, and are at least a whole year below the normal standards which they ought to have attained. The safe policy is: Every child above its normal weight line. ### Illness Delayed Electrocution.

The illness of chief electrician Broderick, of the western penitentiary, delayed the electrocution of two negroes at the Rockview institution from Monday morning until the same afternoon, or until the arrival of the chief electrician from the Ohio State penitentiary, and it was just 3:30 o'clock when the first man was sent to the electric chair, and nineteen minutes later the second man went to fonte Friday, after a five week's visit with his fate.

The men electrocuted were William Hiter, of Lancaster county, who on May 3rd, 1919, murdered George Eschenauer, near Bainbridge, for the county, who murdered Wolffe Lacob, were implicated in the latter crime, one of whom was acquitted and the other made his escape and has never been caught.

Cronister Farm Sold.

transactions completed this week was that of the Henry Cronister farm, three miles north of Martha Furnace, along the public road to Philipsburg. This farm contains 103 acres, most of which is in a high state of cultivation, together with some valuable timber. This deal has been closed through the Bellefonte office of the McVey Real Estate company to Mr. A. D. Maurer, of Altoona. What future plans Mr. Cronister has are uncertain, but it has been rumored that he will enter the mercantile profession in a large city with the coming of spring. Mr. Maurer, who has for a number of years been connected with the Pennsylvania railroad, will sever his connections with that company on March 1st, and will take up the incidental work on the farm prior to the coming season. The consideration on this property was $5,000. Did the Census Enumerator Get You?

Frank E. Costello, of Bradford, Pa., supervisor of census for this congressional district, is anxious to know if every man, woman and child in his district has been properly registered in the 1920 census. So far as known all the census enumerators in the district did their work carefully and very well, but at that there is always a possibility of some persons being missed, and that is the reason for this notice. If any person or persons in Centre county know they have not been enumerated, or for any reason think they have not, they are requested to send their name and complete address to Frank E. Costello, Supervisor of Cen- home spending Sunday with his family sus, Bradford, Pa. Simply enclose same in an envelope, mark right hand office. No postage is required.

-Bellefonte has assumed $2500 as its share of the $8000 allotted to Centre county as its apportionment of the Near East relief fund. Up to yesterday Bellefonte had raised about $1000 of its allotment, which includes everything donated within the past three months. This leaves practically $1500 yet to raise. In the county outside of Bellefonte about $2000 has been given which leaves a balance of $3500. From these figures it will be seen that the people of Bellefonte and Centre county will have to show a spirit of greater liberality in their giving if they do not want to fall behind in this very worthy cause. Therefore give now, and give until you feel
