ONLY A SUGGESTION.

As you travel down life's pathway Cast the rocks aside; Pluck the thorns from out the highway And the brambles from the byway,

Aiding those who're in the wrong way, Make this rule your guide. Thus you smooth the way for others Who must follow you; And you make their trials fewer And life easier to endure,

For the deeds you do. Kindness does not cost you dearly, Do not hoard it all: Spread it all around about you, Give no cause for man to doubt you, Heed no evil minds who flout you, Lift up those who fall.

And the world will grow more pure

And you make of life a blessing, Cheering all you greet; You will be of use to others. Man to man as friends and brothers; Not with enmity that smothers, Blest by all you meet.

CLEAN STREETS AND ALLEYS ARE A TOWN'S BEST ADVER-TISEMENT.

The Way to Get Them is to go After Them All Together in a Regular Campaign.

The streets and alleys need cleaning. No town ever suffered in the U.S. A .- the nation that has made eyes of strangers or got a bad reputation from having clean streets, bordered with shade trees well trimmed and cared for, with yards and houses bearing the evidence of being well is like the refreshing ocean breeze to the traveler who has gone from one dirty town to another until he has almost lost his anticipation of finding cleanliness and beauty in a municipality. The impression that clean streets make upon such a visitor will make him talk about it wherever he travels. Streets are not all that should be kept clean. The visitor does not get much opportunity to see the alleys, but that is no reason why they should be permitted to be dirty and unsanitary. The public health is an even higher consideration than a reputation for cleanliness and beauty. No matter what the town government may do toward keeping the town clean, experience shows that it does not succeed. It cannot succeed alone. Gradually refuse accumulates almost everywhere. There is only one way to make a complete cleanup and that is for the citizens to unite and do the job themselves, with official aid, of course. Then there is only one way to keep the city clean-and that is through the citizens themselves.

Here is where the National Cleanup and Paint-up campaign comes in. It sets the people to work all over the 14 of 433 163 14 of 337 121 415 town, each around his own home and in his own neighborhood. It gets results that can be had in no other way. After such a campaign is through a actually clean, far different from its former condition, no matter how clean the people imagined it to be before the campaign, for clean streets and alleys actually can be secured when all the people get on the job together and at the same time. Every public improvement organization, every club, every neighborhood association, every municipal department, should be united in one great and practical effort to create such a state of cleanliness and then they should determine to preserve that condition, keeping it up. The town that keeps everlastingly clean also keeps everlastingly growing. What the town needs is some of the strong, growing pains produced by shovels, rakes, brooms, water, dump carts and scrub and paint brushes.

Employers Give College Training for Workers.

State College.—The increasing interest of the industries in the training and education of their employees is reflected in the rapid growth of education as applied to shops and factories all over Pennsylvania. On this account the convention of the engineering extension division of The Pennsylvania State College to be held June 16, 17 and 18, immediately after the college commencement, is attracting the attention of the industries because of the topic,—"Training for Industrial Employees."

These sessions will be largely attended by representatives of industries which have already begun systematic training of their employees and those contemplating such work. Besides these, the agencies in the State co-operating with the college plans,— night schools, extension centres, civic organizations, Chambers of Commerce, manufucturers' associations,all realize the importance today of not only securing employees but training them, which nearly always solves the problem of keeping them.

Speakers of national reputation will address the convention, but by far the most interesting to the delegates will be the reports from the various shops and factories on the success they have had, their methods, and their plans for further work. Pennsylvania has always been a leader in this line and the State College has been enlarging its staff from year to year to meet the needs in the field. Never before, however, has there been such a wide and ready acceptance of the principles by industries in general. This makes the convention the most notable of those scheduled in recent years, and a comprogram of the sessions is awaited with great interest in all

HELLO, THERE, GOOD FRIEND State College Commencement Pro-AMERICA!

America is a country where every man has more chances to make good each month than he would have in other countries in a whole year. As a people, we are composed of the very pick of the plain, hard-working folks from every nation on the This is a land where everybody is a workman. The foreigner who dreams of going back to the old country should wake up to the fact that, since the war, it's not the "same old place." His eyes will become opened when immigration sets in, and his brothers, now in Europe, beat it over here in shiploads-to stay!

If American dollars are worth working for-then American ideals and institutions are surely worth boosting.

The country that gives a man a living is worth signing up with as a real, honest-to-goodness public spirited citizen.

Every American citizen is a king all by himself! This nation is the garden spot of the earth—in peace, wealth, health, happiness and—OPPORTUNITIES.

The country in which a man makes -Lee Fay. his success ought to be the only place on earth for him-always. America is a government of the people, by the people, for the people

-hence each man is a part of the government. The foreigner here who wants American opportunities to fatten his pocketbook—and then go back to the old country to spend it—certainly has a bunch of nerve! There is no place like the good, old good in everything it ever started. America is a nation in which every honest man is just as good as any-

The man who lives here but won't kept and newly painted. Such a town become a citizen is the sort of fellow who does not know a good thing when he sees it. The man who "hollers" the loudest about the way things are run in this

Alcohol in Buttermilk Puts it in "Booze" Class.

Buttermilk is "booze" when it contains more than one-half of 1 per cent. of alcohol, according to a report made by the Department of Agriculture to Representative William L. Igoe, of Missouri. Chemists recently in convention in St. Louis reported buttermilk sometimes contained one-half of 1 per cent. of alcohol. "If buttermilk contains more than one-half of 1 per cent. of alcohol, clearly it does not continue to be buttermilk," the Department of Agriculture said. "If buttermilk really turns out to be a prohibited drink," said Mr. Igoe, "the enforcement officers, to do their duty, must go to the farms and confiscate the cows, the barns and the dairy utensils. Something would have to be done by Congress to save buttermilk for the nation."

He was a Chinaman. He ran a speak a word of English. I often wondered why he had not learned our beautiful language. But to my queries he only shook his head.

One day when I paid for my week-usual. "You've short changed me, and Mrs. Shirk. Ping Pong!" I cried.

Ping Pong smiled blandly, showed me his Americanization of Foreign Merchants certificate and speaking for the first time in faultless English, replied: "No. I've raised."

State Importing Quail by Flocks.

Thousands of Mexican quail are being imported into Pennsylvania by the State Game Commission as insect destroyers. Even with the shipment of from 10,000 to 12,000 quail from Mexico the Game Commission does not expect to be nearly able to meet the demand of farmers over the State. As a potato bug destroyer, the quail is said to have no equal.

The Mexican quail is similar to the native quail. It thrives if shipped here any time after March and before the cold weather of autumn sets in. Under a ruling of the United States biological survey shipment of quail across the border from Mexico was permitted only during certain months of the year. These months covered the cool weather period in Pennsylvania and the Game Commission is now negotiating with the survey to permit their shipment during the spring with out special permit.

The quail, which are being received now almost daily, are being sent into virtually every section of the State, except the northern tier counties where the underbrush in the wooded sections is said to be too thick. Coveys of the birds, which are of a fairly well-developed size, have been distributed in Bucks, Chester, Lancaster, Cumberland, Adams, York, Franklin and numerous other counties. When released in this State the Mexican birds have a disposition to travel south.

The Game Commission is also sending to game wardens over the State 30,000 ring-neck pheasant eggs.
