

In order to punish those persons who are so early in the season beginning the destruction of gardens and flower beds along Willowbank street, and that section of the town, residents of the locality are asked to take the names of children or grown-ups seen trespassing, in any way on property in that neighborhood. Parents should be responsible for their children, but if not, those who are guilty of such misdemeanors should be treated as incorrigibles.

Word was received last evening just as the Watchman was going to press of the death on Wednesday of Edward C. Rowe, at his home in Albuquerque, New Mex., and that the body is on its way to Bellefonte for burial. Mr. Rowe will be remembered by the people of Bellefonte as the man who, a number of years ago, conducted a furniture store in the Bush Arcade.

Next week there will be a general oxodus of the unfettered toward the Pacific coast and San Francisco is the place where the man will be named who will be the central figure at the big parade in Washington on March 4th, 1921.

Save your laughs and your nickles and dimes and bring them to the circus, Thursday, July 8th.

HOW "ROMOLA" WAS WRITTEN

George Eliot's Immortal the Result of an Inspiration and Much Hard Work.

The scene of "Romola" is the Florence of the fifteenth century, and the plan of it came to George Eliot in the course of an Italian journey, "one of those journeys that seem to divide one's life in half so many new sources do they suggest, so many new sources of interest do they open to the mind." Having fixed on her scheme, she returned to Florence, visiting the old streets, rummaging ancient books, seeking to impregnate herself with the spirit of the venerable city. But she was still far from her goal. When, on her return home, she at last set to work, she saw its difficulties rising before her. Would not her genius desert her when she left the familiar scenes of rustic life in the England of today for foreign countries and past ages? She despaired more than once, gave up her task, then took it up again, plunged (conscientiously as she did everything) into historical studies, and brought forth in sorrow a kind of moral tragedy which even the reader cannot behold without emotion.—Edmond Scherer.

SCULPTOR'S USE OF CEMENT

Gigantic Figure of Neptune is Work of Art as Well as Architectural Curiosity.

At Monterosso, near Spezia, Italy, there stands an architectural curiosity—a gigantic figure of Neptune, constructed of cement and used to support the extreme end of a terrace for a seaside villa. The house is the Villa Pastine, and the statue is the work of Arrigo Minerbi, a talented sculptor of Rome.

A small promontory on which the villa is built presented many difficulties to the architect, but he finally succeeded in building there a very commodious and comfortable residence. The statue, which is wonderfully life-like, is about 33 feet in height. The body, which, like the head, is built of reinforced cement, is hollow, and contains a spiral staircase. Considering the nature of the material with which Signor Minerbi had to work, he is to be congratulated on the result of his labors.

"All For a Song."

"He has sold his future for a song" they said of a rich man's son who, instead of taking advantage of the unusual opportunities open to him for a worthwhile career, was willing away his golden years on the Great White Way.

"All for a song" has come to mean to us "paying too much for a whistle," any undue sacrifice or waste for something that is worthless or only of transient moment, particularly the superficial.

It has come down to us from the day when its significance was literal. As a token of her appreciation of the poet, Edmund Spencer, Queen Elizabeth ordered Lord Burleigh to present him with £100, which in those days was a small fortune. Upon this Lord Burleigh is said to have exclaimed "All this for a song!"

Penn and Land Buying.

The story that William Penn bought from the Delaware Indians as much land as a dozen bulls' hides would cover and then cut them into narrow strips to cunningly enable him to trick the Indians by encircling a vast stretch of territory is not true. This is a very old story. It was told in remote times of Dido of Carthage. The legend is that Dido built that city after buying as much land as a bullock's hide would cover. She cut the hide into strips, getting a large bit of real estate in the transaction. The story reappears in the case of the Dutchman in Irving's "Knickerbocker," who bought as much land from the Indians as Tenbreeck had on pairs of trousers enough to cover the island of Manhattan.

MEET ME AT COHEN'S.

Just what do you feel most like doing these intense hot days? Well without a doubt we can guess. Of course you don't want to cook, or sweep or clean or anything like that. You don't even feel like moving around the house. Don't you feel just like going to the woods and staying in the cool? We feel just like doing the same thing, and it is just as impossible for us to do that as it may be for you to do it. Then you ask us there no solution for the hot weather problem. Sure there is. Why work over a hot stove all day preparing meals? You are too warm to enjoy what you prepare and you have the house all heated up so that the folks who walk from the office or shop, home through the sun have not a cool place to eat. We only ask that you try some of our remedies for the overheated house and for the benefit of the whole family. Heinz Prepared Salad Dressing 45c; Heinz Tomato Catsup 25c; Heinz Vinegar 23c a pint; Beech Nut Peanut Butter 16c; Mustard 14c; Libby's Potted Meat 9c; Olives 8c; Stuffed Olives 19c; Chow Chow 25c; Sweet Relish 25c; Dried Beef 28c per glass; Van Camp's Soups 12c; Salmon 37c per can; Pat-A-Cake Flour 30c. Second Floor. While we are on the subject of warm weather we may as well tell you some more of the devices that we have for keeping cool. What is nicer than a couch swing or a couch hammock? These are ideal for your porch or out in the yard under that favorite tree. A large roomy swing for $19.50. A large swing with a head rest for $21.50. Of course you want a regular porch swing and we have some very nice ones that we offer you all kinds of porch furniture from $5.98 up. Don't you like to have a Victrola that you can take with you in the car when you go out for supper, or for the day? Well why not have one? We can demonstrate them and give you prices as low as $25.00. Then of course you want to take the baby out. Have you seen our line of go carts? We can show you beautiful carts in ivory or gray as low as $16.50—Visit Our Second Floor.

Street Floor. For the sun of course you want as large a straw hat as you can possibly get, no matter if you have to wear it all of the time or only when you work in the garden. We can supply your wants and show you hats that will be just what you want for 29c. Work gloves for the men or for the ladies who want gloves for out side work. Coal Sense

Our idea of the Coal Market is that while it may not go higher it will surely not be any lower for a long time to come. Therefore it would be wise for you to lay in your winter coal supply now and forestall the danger of a rise in price when the regular fall demand sets in. Besides, you can get it free from ice and snow and now we will have time to screen it and deliver to you in the best condition.

Considering the uncertainties of the coal market the coal in your cellar is worth more than the money that would pay for it is in your bank.

If you want coal let us know your needs and we will do our best for you.
