

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

A freight wreck below Milesburg on Sunday morning necessitated the transfer of passengers from the train west to the train east.

State foresters Walter Leach, who has been in charge of the Blackwell state forest in Tioga county, has been transferred to the Centre, Clinton, Clearfield county district, with headquarters at Snow Shoe.

Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, a member of the Life Extension Institute, has an article on prolonging Human Life in today's Watchman that is well worth careful personal attention, and as we all should like to prolong the efficient years of life much can be learned from the publications of the Life Extension Institute.

On Wednesday George C. Glenn donned his policeman's uniform and badge during the absence of policeman Robinson he will be one of the duly constituted officers of the law of Bellefonte, and whatever he says will go. In this connection it can be said that George will be just as faithful as a guardian of the law as he is in anything he undertakes to do, and that is saying a lot.

The Nypen club of Lock Haven will picnic at Hecla Park on Labor day, Monday, September 6th. One of the attractions will be two concerts by the famous Nypen band and another will be a return game of baseball between the Bellefonte and Lock Haven teams. Louie Hill's orchestra will play for the dancing in the pavilion. Bellefonte people are asked to join their neighbors from Lock Haven in this day's outing.

Mrs. Earl Lambert, of Centre Hall, was injured in an automobile accident near Centre Hill, last Thursday night, when a collision occurred between the car in which she and her husband were riding and one driven by Russell Reish. With Mr. Reish was his brother and the only one injured was Mrs. Lambert, who sustained a bad cut which required several stitches to close. Both cars were considerably damaged.

The eyes of the world are today turned toward the Near East. In Pennsylvania the best informed man we have on this subject is Rev. J. Calvitt Clarke D. D., of Harrisburg. Dr. Clarke will preach in the Methodist Episcopal church, Bellefonte, on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This is a rare opportunity to hear actual present day conditions in the Near East. No appeal for money will be made. The public is cordially invited.

The Wetzler band, of Milesburg, gave its last summer concert on the Diamond on Wednesday evening, at least the last one under the arrangement with the business men's association. And the last holiday for this summer was observed yesterday afternoon by the business places of Bellefonte; all of which emphasizes the fact that the autumn is rapidly approaching and those empty coal bins loom forth like a dismal nightmare.

The fact that no evening entertainments have been scheduled for the teachers' institute next week will leave the teachers free to spend the time as they see fit, and one of the places in Bellefonte where they will be sure of a good evening's entertainment is at the Scenic. This well known motion picture house has always been popular among the teachers and this year they will be able to attend it and see the big programs from beginning to end.

The camp for the officers of the old Twenty-eighth division will open at Boalsburg tomorrow when a large number of those who served in France are expected to arrive as Col. Theodore Davis Boal's guests. The Colonel has arranged for a big dance tomorrow night and quite a number of young people of Bellefonte will go up for the affair. In fact Col. Boal has very gallantly offered to place at their disposal one or more motor busses to transport them from Bellefonte to Boalsburg and return.

Bellefonte is well plastered with "Smiling Bobby" signs and doubtless many people are wondering what they mean. They refer to Miss "Smiling" Bobby Jones who, with her big Jass opera will be the opening attraction at the opera house three nights next week, September 2nd, 3rd and 4th. The company carries its own orchestra, has a chorus of Broadway beauties and will give a change of program every night. Prices will be 35 cents up. Don't miss seeing "Smiling" Bobby and the galaxy of stars she has assembled for her 1920 tour.

According to various estimates in the neighborhood of five thousand people attended the business men's picnic at Hecla Park last Thursday. While the bulk of the crowd went from Bellefonte and vicinity there was a large attendance from Lock Haven and all intervening towns. The baseball game in the afternoon between Bellefonte and Lock Haven was the big attraction, Bellefonte winning by the score of 6 to 1. Wetzler's big band, of Milesburg, was in attendance and gave several concerts throughout the day. Various other sports were held and these, with the dancing in the pavilion, kept the large crowd pretty well occupied all the time. Everybody went to the park in motor busses and automobiles and so far as the writer could learn there was not an accident during the entire day.

Transcontinental Flyers Held Up in Bellefonte.

Just four weeks ago the Watchman told of the start of two Larsen all-metal monoplanes on a transcontinental flight to the Pacific coast and back the two planes having sailed over Bellefonte at a height of eight thousand feet on July 29th. One of the planes evidently dropped out by the wayside, but the other made the round trip, reaching DuBois last Thursday. Weather conditions were so bad at that time that the party, which included J. M. Larsen, the builder of the plane; E. E. Allyn, president of the Aluminum Casting company, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Eddie Rickenbacker, the All-American ace, decided that it would be a little too hazardous to venture across the Allegheny mountains in such weather, so left their ship at DuBois in charge of Pilot DeCosta and the mechanic and came by train to Bellefonte.

Of course they expected to get out of here on Friday but the weather continued bad and they didn't get away. Saturday they telephoned their pilot to come over without fail and he did, but he also went over without stopping and flew into New York alone, leaving the distinguished party marooned in Bellefonte. Slim Lewis, who was in Bellefonte recovering from a recent illness, was induced to go to New York on the 8:10 train Saturday evening and fly the plane back to Bellefonte on Sunday and Mr. Larsen offered Frederick and Philip Reynolds the opportunity of going to New York with him and making the flight back in the plane and both accepted.

They left New York at 10:20 Sunday morning and notwithstanding the fact that they encountered considerable fog and many low cloud banks they made the trip in three hours and twenty minutes, landing safely on the Bellefonte aviation field at 1:40 p. m. Both Frederick and Philip Reynolds declared they enjoyed the flight and that flying was fine. It goes without saying that both Col. and Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds, as well as a large crowd of people were on the field to see the ship come in and Mr. Larsen very generously told everybody to look it over as much as they cared to, and scores of people climbed into the comfortable cabin and out again just for the pleasure of being in the swim.

Workmen on the field went over the ship to see that everything was all right, filled it with gas and oil and at 2:20 o'clock the party started on the return trip to New York. During their stay in Bellefonte Messrs. Larsen, Allyn and Rickenbacker were entertained at the Nityany Country club and dined if not "wined" by various citizens of the town and all were emphatic in their declarations that they had had a very enjoyable time of it.

During the progress of the dinner at the Country club Mr. Rickenbacker made a clever little speech in which he recounted some of his experiences while a combat flier in France and made very pleasing reference to Bellefonte's only aviator in the service abroad, Elliott Morris. Elliott had succeeded in passing all the tests and was with Mr. Rickenbacker on the front line squadron for a short experience in combat flying when the armistice was signed and his chance of an actual engagement cut off.

Will the old Gas Plant Start a Gassin'?

Many Bellefonters will naturally be interested in the announcement that a well known public utility company of Bellefonte is at present engaged in making a survey of the old gas plant and also endeavoring to compile a list of prospective customers, with a view of resurrecting the plant, and putting it into commission again. The closing down of the old steam heating plant and the gas plant were two hard blows to the progressiveness of Bellefonte, and although an effort was later made to operate the gas plant, it did not prove a success because of the lack of patronage; and the main reason at that time for the lack of patronage was undoubtedly lack of confidence in the management.

But if the company that is now considering the proposition of restoring the gas plant gets hold of it, it will mean that it will be run right and the people of Bellefonte can depend on an unlimited supply of gas at all times. While the taking over of the gas plant will have nothing to do with the steam plant, at present, at least, it would not be surprising if eventually that very desirable public utility might be rejuvenated and put into service again.

Miss Mollie Snyder Recovers Bag and Valuables.

The "Watchman" last week told the story of how Miss M. H. Snyder, of Bellefonte, had lost a black bag containing $21,000 in bonds and jewelry, while on a motor trip from Milford, Del., to Baltimore, Md., on Sunday, August 15th. She has now recovered her bag with the contents intact. It appears that the bag was found by a man named Charles Conner, of Magnolia, Del., and seeing a notice of the loss in the papers he immediately wrote a letter to Miss Snyder, sending it to Bellefonte. The letter was forwarded to her in Baltimore and as soon as she received it she made haste to go to Magnolia where she had no trouble in recovering the bag from Mr. Conner, after describing it in detail. It is a foregone conclusion that Miss Snyder was overjoyed to recover her wealth, as is no doubt comprised the savings of the years she has been in the millinery business in Bellefonte.

The Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, through its bureau of rehabilitation, has offered free service to four persons in Centre county who have been permanently disabled through industrial accidents. Just what the above announcement means can be judged from the fact that one young machinist in the State, who lost a hand in an accident, is taking a course in mechanical engineering at the expense of the bureau. A laborer who earned four dollars a day, lost an arm in a cement factory. The bureau found employment for him in a plant operating a glass blowing machine, where he is now earning $33 to $40 a week, having a better income with one arm than he had with two.

Last Saturday was a bad day for picnics of any kind, not so much because of any rain that day, but owing to the fact that the hard rains of previous days had rendered the usual run of picnic grounds extremely wet and disagreeable; and inasmuch as the above conditions prevailed in the John Q. Miles grove at Marthas the usually big Williams family reunion was very much curtailed. When the weather Saturday morning looked so ominous the committee in charge of the reunion notified Mr. Wetzler, of Milesburg, not to take his band up and the speaking program was also annulled. Very few people put in an appearance on the grounds in the morning but the nice weather of the afternoon brought out quite a large number of people, and as there was no set program everybody spent the time in a social way and watching the ball game between the brick yard and outlaws teams of Port Matilda, the latter winning by the score of 3 to 2.

From the big hole now in evidence in front of the Brockeroff property on Spring street there is a possibility that at some time or other the bottom may drop out of the street at that place. Almost two months ago the borough had a deep ditch dug on the east side of Spring street from Bishop street down to in front of Schofield's store for the purpose of putting down new sewer pipe, then ran out of pipe. A week or more ago it was noticed that the water in the ditch from the constant hard rains was disappearing into a small hole in the bottom of the ditch opposite the house occupied by J. C. Young and family. As time worn on the hole grew bigger and last week's heavy rains washed it out as big as a barrel. It runs down some ten or twelve feet into a cave-like opening that from all appearances crosses the street to the Bush property. So far, however, nobody has had the courage to go down and investigate the hole, but it must be of cavernous proportions, as the water running into it sinks out of sight, and there has been no evidence of it coming out anywhere. As the cave is not over ten feet underground a very heavy vehicle traversing Spring street is liable to break through the crust and sink out of sight.

Mule Drowned, Cow Disappears.

Of course everybody knows that we have had an abundance of rain the past few weeks, but few people outside of Curtin's gap will credit the story that on Tuesday night of last week such torrents of rain fell in that part of the county that the little stream through the gap was raised high enough to float a mule, and yet it is a fact. Persons living in that locality were surprised on Wednesday morning to see a dead mule floating down the stream. It was one of the Curtin farm mules that had been passing in the gap, but just how it met its death is not known. It may have been drowned in the flood, or struck by lightning and fell into the stream. At any rate the carcass floated down into the old canal where it was pulled out and consigned to the grease factory.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Harry Curtin appraised her fine herd of cattle in the barnyard at her home at Curtin and in the herd was a full blooded Holstein cow that was the especial pride of the owners herd. Friday morning the cow was gone, and though every effort has been made to find out what became of her it has proved unavailing and she could not have disappeared more completely had the earth opened up and swallowed her.

The Hat Shop to Sacrifice Summer Millinery Stock.

Miss Cooney, of The Hat Shop, will run a sacrifice sale all of next week, through which she hopes to dispose of all summer millinery goods. Prices will be quoted with the purpose of disposing of summer models, both in hats and trimmings and an opportunity will be given for wise buyers to purchase against their next summer's needs at prices worth while.

Public Sale of Personal Property.

The Bellefonte Trust Co., executor of the estate of the late Wm. H. Walker, dec'd., will offer at public sale in the Diamond, Saturday, August 28, at 1 o'clock p. m., the balance of his personal property, which will include show tents and picnic stands, doll boards, balls, etc., and various other articles too numerous to mention. Tents in good condition and good size for camping or hunting parties. 34-1t.

Our famous peanut brittle and homemade candies Saturday and next week.—Sourbeck's. 34-1t.

Harper—Barnhart.—The marriage of John Harper and Miss Martha R. Barnhart was solemnized at eleven o'clock last Friday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Barnhart, on West Linn street, by the Rev. Alexander Scott, assisted by Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt, the double ring ceremony being used. The wedding march was played by Miss Nellie E. Monks and the wedding party included Miss Setti Vrabec, maid of honor; Miss Louise S. Barnhart, ring bearer; Miss Eleanor Barnhart, flower girl, the latter two sisters of the bride, and Philip S. Barnhart, a brother of the bride, best man.

The bride's gown was white georgette over silk. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of white rose buds. The maid of honor wore white organdie with a yellow sash and carried yellow gladiolas. The ring bearer wore rose and the flower girl blue organdie. All the gentlemen wore blue coats, white trousers and white shoes. The bride was given away by her father.

The interior of the Barnhart house was a bower of flowers, the colors of rose, yellow and blue predominating. The three colors were carried out in decorating the bride's table. Only a few relatives and friends were present. Immediately following the ceremony and congratulations a wedding breakfast was served.

The bride, who is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke, Mass., was the recipient of many beautiful presents. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College. The young couple left on the 3:10 p. m. train for the east going by boat from New York to Sagamore Beach, Mass., where they are spending their honeymoon. After September 15th they will be at home at No. 214 Glenwood Boulevard, Schenectady, N. Y., where Mr. Harper holds a responsible position with the General Electric company.

Guests from a distance who attended the wedding included Miss Nellie E. Monks, Washington, D. C.; Miss Setti Vrabec, Langhorne, Pa.; Miss Caroline Orris, Bellwood; Mrs. H. G. Hurd and Paul Hurd, of Jersey Shore; Dr. W. S. Campbell, Dilltown; Miss Cora Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Loeb, Punxsutawney; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McCalmont, Philadelphia; Mrs. F. G. St. Clair and Miss Martha St. Clair, DuBois, and Miss Mildred Campbell, Tyrone.

Oliver—Yarrington.—The "Watchman" was just a little behind last week in announcing the engagement of Miss Louise P. Yarrington, of Richmond, Va., and James Oliver, of Harbor Point, Va., on Tuesday of last week. Miss Yarrington is well known in Bellefonte, her mother having lived here during her early life and her daughter having visited here frequently. She just recently returned from France where she was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work, having been stationed at Coblenz, Germany, for fifteen months.

Mr. Oliver is vice president of the Oliver Plow Manufacturing company of South Bend, Ind., his grandfather being the inventor of the Oliver chisel plow, from the manufacture and sale of which he amassed a fortune of many millions. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver will go to South America on their wedding trip where they will remain until early winter, when they will go to Europe, expecting to be away until next spring.

Yoder—Cronister.—The home of ex-sheriff and Mrs. W. M. Cronister, at Marthas, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday of last week when their daughter, Miss Ora M. Cronister, was united in marriage to Jacob N. Yoder, of Hegins, Schuylkill county. Rev. C. E. Driver, of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony and the young couple were attended by Miss Helen Wagner, of Marthas, and J. Albert Strausser, of Detroit. Miss Laura Rumberger, of Unionville, played the wedding march. Following the ceremony a delicious wedding dinner was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Yoder left on a wedding trip to the Thousand Islands and Canada.

The bride is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school and the past few years has been one of Centre county's successful teachers. Mr. Yoder is a graduate of Penn State and holds a good position with the Pennsylvania railroad company in Altoona, where they will make their future home.

Eberhart—Smith.—Paul Dewey Eberhart, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Eberhart, and Miss Claudina B. Smith, daughter of Charles S. Smith, both of Bellefonte, were married at the Pine street Methodist church in Williamsport on Tuesday morning by the pastor, Rev. John H. Daugherty. They were attended by Miss Elizabeth Hugar, of Williamsport, and Mahlon Eberhart, a brother of the bridegroom. The young people will make their home in Williamsport.

Sherman—Moyer.—Anson Sherman and Miss Mary Moyer, both members of the Hazleton High school faculty last year, were married last week at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Moyer, at Rebersburg, this county. They will take up their residence at Freehold, N. J., where Mr. Sherman will teach the coming school year.

Poverty. Is it inevitable? It's antiquity, its causes, and its banishment, a sermon you should hear, at the M. E. church on Sunday evening.

Howard F. Gearhart, of Princeton, N. J., was a "Watchman" office caller on Saturday, he and his wife having come to Bellefonte to spend a portion of his vacation at the Fox home on Bishop street.

John C. Mullinger was down at Sunbury on Monday attending the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Julius Moerschline, who passed away last Thursday after a lingering illness with sarcoma, at the age of fifty-nine years.

Mrs. D. Wagner Geiss and son George, went to Philadelphia on Tuesday where George will take a course at Pierce's Business College. Mrs. Geiss expects to be away for two weeks, visiting with Mr. Geiss' father, David Geiss, and his sisters, Miss Elsie and Mrs. W. G. Miller, of Philadelphia; and will also visit relatives in Trenton and Phillipsburg, N. J.

Lee H. Walker, who has lived on the Island of Santo Domingo so long that he is beginning to feel almost like a native, arrived in Bellefonte on Sunday for a short visit with his parents, ex-sheriff and Mrs. W. Miles Walker. Lee is assistant director-general of the Dominican Republic and there won't be any more revolutions down there if he can help it.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Garthoff, of Reynolds avenue, are entertaining Mrs. Garthoff's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Epley, of Freeport, Ill. The Epleys arrived in Bellefonte on Tuesday and had planned to continue their trip to Rebersburg yesterday for a visit with friends there, but Mrs. Epley has been taken sick while here and this will necessitate remaining until she is recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Beatty and their youngest child have been in Pittsburgh for the week. Mr. Beatty having gone out to attend the convention of the Ford Motor Company while Mrs. Beatty has been shopping and visiting with members of her immediate family. Mrs. R. M. Oursler, Mrs. Beatty's mother, came in Sunday to be here with the Beatty children during their parents absence.

Mrs. C. E. Kline and daughter, Miss Mary, said good-bye to their Bellefonte friends on Tuesday and left on the afternoon train for Philadelphia where they will make their future home. Mrs. Kline disposed of all her household goods at public sale on Saturday with the exception of one truck load which she took with her to her new home. A big moving van came to Bellefonte from Philadelphia, loaded up the furniture, and accompanied by John Kline, left for the Quaker city early on Monday morning.

Mrs. Thomas Gramley, of Altoona, and her brother, James C. Kerlin, of Boone, Iowa, were Bellefonte visitors over Friday night, having stopped here from a short trip to Spring Mills, the home of their birth. Mr. Kerlin, by the way, left Centre county forty years ago, when he was only nine years old, and this was his first trip back to his native heath. He is now a passenger conductor on one of the big western railroads and with his wife and daughters came east two weeks ago, his family remaining in Pittsburgh while he made the trip to Centre county.

Dr. J. Harris Orbison, who is better known among his old friends as "Hal," is expected in Bellefonte this week to spend a few days as the guest of Mrs. James A. Beaver. The greater part of Dr. Orbison's adult life has been spent as a medical missionary at Allahabad, India, but he with his family came to this country late in June for the express purpose of placing their youngest son in a school in the States. They spent the month of July in the Presbyterian mission cottage at Ventoar, near Atlantic City, and it must have been an enjoyable month as they had with them their seven children, Dr. and Mrs. VanSteen, of Japan, who are now in this country, Mrs. VanSteen being their eldest daughter; Dr. Archie Orbison, who served with the U. S. regular army in France, their four children who have been in this country going to school, and the youngest boy, brought over with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Beatty and their youngest child have been in Pittsburgh for the week.
