

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Several cars of hard coal arrived in Bellefonte this week, the first in ten days, but the majority of it was large sizes, and of course all of it large in price.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church will hold a student's social this (Friday) evening, at eight o'clock, in the Sunday school room. Everybody is invited and a good time is promised to all.

"A Good Name," what the public thinks of you, your standing in the community, your credit before the world. A sermon at the Methodist church, Sunday, at 7:30. Special musical selections. Courteous ushers.

A squad of four prisoners were taken back to the Pittsburgh institution on Tuesday, the men having failed to live up to the rules and regulations of the new institution. Two guards had the men in charge.

In Mrs. Thaddeus Cross' flower garden at her home in Spring township is perhaps the greatest variety and most beautiful dahlias of any in the county. Her flowers have always attracted attention but this year have exceeded those of any other year.

The get-acquainted reception and dance for the new students of the Bellefonte Academy was held at that institution last Friday evening and was largely attended. Hill's orchestra furnished the music and a delightful social time was had by all those fortunate enough to be present.

Mrs. Eben B. Bower, chairman of the publicity committee, announces that a parent-teachers' meeting will be held in the High school building Monday evening, October 4th, at 7:30 o'clock. This will be a social meeting and every person interested in the work is urged to attend and become a member.

The motion picture today is the great attraction for old and young in every town and city in the country, and one great reason for their popularity is the realistic nature of the pictures. The very best of these pictures are shown at the Scenic in Bellefonte six nights a week and that is the reason why the Scenic enjoys such a large patronage.

William Jennings Bryan did the people of Millheim two good turns last week. He gave them a lecture such as they never heard before and because of his appearance they sold $900 worth of tickets, and as his bill was just $300 they came out $600 to the good. That is enough to make most any community feel kindly toward the Great Commoner.

Harry Diem was arrested at Phillipsburg last week and held in one thousand dollars bail for trial at court on the charge of breaking into and attempting to rob the office of the Penn Public Service company, notwithstanding the fact that he presented affidavits to the justice of the peace that he was in bed in a hotel in Tyrone at the time the attempted robbery took place.

The great Milton fair will this year be held October 12th to 15th inclusive, and in addition to the races, which are always among the best of any county fair in the State, the display of livestock, etc., the management announces a wild animal show of forty lions, tigers, leopards, bears, etc., and some of the best free attractions to be seen anywhere. See advertisement in another column.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Kelley, of Snow Shoe, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mae Agnes Kelley, to Daniel Joseph Murphy, of Philadelphia, the wedding to take place in the Gesu church, Philadelphia, at 9:30 o'clock on October 12th. Miss Kelley has been located in Philadelphia the past several years, being in charge of the Kelley Bros. coal office in that city.

According to Walter Gherry, who lives on the Pat Gherry place in the Seven mountains, deer never were more plentiful in the mountains than they are this year. In fact he avers that they are more plentiful than rabbits and some of them quite tame. This will undoubtedly be good news to the deer hunters, though when the time comes it will probably be just as difficult to shoot a big buck as it has been in years past.

All the iron work for the new railroad bridge over Spring creek, south of the Pennsylvania passenger station in this place, is now on the ground and it is quite likely the bridge will be erected in the next few weeks, so as to have it in place before cold weather sets in. The bridge will be put together on temporary underpinning alongside of the present bridge and when everything is ready will be moved into place on a Sunday when no trains are run over the Lewisburg branch.

The Bellefonte Academy opened its football season last Saturday by playing the Altoona High school eleven and won by the score of 33 to 0. The Academy has some good material this year and the management has hopes of rounding out a winning team. State College also played its opening game on Saturday with Muhlenberg on Beaver field, winning by the score of 28 to 7. The visitor's only score was made on a fumble by one of the State players, and the showing made by the State team in its initial contest was entirely satisfactory to the coaches.

PILOT F. A. ROBINSON KILLED.

Accident Happened Near Millersburg on Monday Afternoon

Pilot Fred A. Robinson, of the aerial mail service, was instantly killed at Millersburg about three o'clock on Monday afternoon, when his plane crashed on the big cable of the Cumberland Valley Telephone company across the Susquehanna river and hurled him into the stream. Pilot Robinson left Hazlehurst field, N. Y., about 12:40 o'clock for Bellefonte in a D. H. plane carrying sixteen bags of mail. The weather was very bad. Not only was it raining but the clouds were dense and low and the pilot flew low in order to keep his direction. All the pilots knew of the big cable over the river at Millersburg and just how Robinson came to fly into it will never be known. Ordinarily the course of the pilots was about the middle of the river, which at that place is about a mile wide. The big cable hangs quite low in the middle of the stream so that it offers little danger to the fliers. On Monday, however, pilot Robinson kept pretty close along the eastern bank of the river, where the cable is naturally much higher, and the result was the landing gear of the plane caught the cable. The plane was thrown straight up about thirty feet then turned turtle and fell into the waters of the Susquehanna river, which at that place are only about three feet deep.

Several people saw the accident and promptly organized a rescuing force but it was half an hour before they got the dead pilot from the wrecked plane and carried to the river bank. An examination of the body disclosed the fact that the pilot was most likely killed at the moment his plane struck the cable, as the right side of his forehead was crushed by being thrown against the cowl of the machine, and his neck was dislocated. The party that rescued Robinson also got all the mail out of the machine and delivered it to the Millersburg postoffice.

On Tuesday morning manager Morris J. Kelly, of the Bellefonte field, sent Charles E. Gates down to Millersburg to get an official report of the accident and make arrangement for caring for the body of the unfortunate pilot. The trip was made with Thomas Beaver in his car, who voluntarily offered to make the trip when all efforts to secure another car were without avail. Superintendent Smith, of the eastern district, aerial mail service, also went to Millersburg from New York and assisted in the final arrangements.

Pilot Robinson was about twenty-four years old and since the tragic deaths of pilots Miller and Stevens was the third senior pilot in the aerial mail service. He was not only a daring flier but always exercised good judgment and had one of the best records of any man in the service. His home was in Redlands, Cal., and the body, accompanied by pilot Page, was sent there on Wednesday for burial.

Centre Counties in Stock Judging Contests.

Seventeen year old Sara Rishel, of Spring Mills, won the highest honors in the stock-judging contest at the Eastern States livestock exposition at Springfield, Mass., last week, and two young people of Pennsylvania were also members of the winning team. The Centre county team consisted of Miss Rishel, Miss Sara Goodhart, aged 16 years, and Byron Decker, aged 18, all of Spring Mills. The team took first honors in the Guernsey butter judging contest, second honors in general livestock judging, third in the Holstein contest and fourth in the general dairy class. The three young people were awarded gold medals for their team work while Miss Rishel was also awarded a bronze medal for her individual work. The Centre county team won a first place in the stock judging contest at State College in June, and since that time had been coached by State College specialists.

Ammerman Properties Sold. Vintena Still on Hand.

The two properties of the Ammerman estate were sold at public sale on Saturday but the stock of Vintena still reposes in the basement of the brick building which was sold with the right of storage reservation until the port wine "patent medicine" can be legally disposed of. The big frame dwelling house on the corner of Bishop street and Perry alley was sold to Frank Davis for $3,000. Mr. Davis will move into it this week, or as soon as some very needful repairs are made, and in addition to making it his permanent abode will have a number of extra rooms to let to anyone desiring same.

The brick building was purchased by J. Kennedy Johnston for Ed. E. Cooke, who is moving back to Bellefonte from Baltimore. The price paid was $4,550. Just what business Mr. Cooke purposes engaging in has not been divulged.

Auto Excursion.

The Centre county Farm Bureau, co-operating with the Centre county Farmer's Co-operative association, has planned an auto excursion to attend the Blair county Holstein Breeders' association's consignment sale at Altoona, Wednesday, October 6th. Seventy-five Holsteins will be consigned to this sale. Everyone interested in Holsteins should plan to attend. The excursion party will leave Pine Grove Mills at 8 a. m. sharp. Sale begins at 10 a. m.

The price of living must come down is heard all over the country, but so far there has been no neck-breaking tumble of prices in Bellefonte. Of course last week a car load of medium grade peaches was disposed of here at $4.00 the bushel basket, while this week a car load of better grade fruit went for $3.75, but that price was about twice what they were worth.

While in Bellefonte last Thursday morning William Jennings Bryan was shown the trout in Spring creek and watched them feed on raw meat. The sight so impressed him that he stated that in all his travels in this and other countries he had never seen anything to equal it. Of course the great Commoner only voiced the sentiment of every other stranger who comes to Bellefonte and takes a look at the trout.

Henry Ford saw the drift of the times to lower prices so last week deliberately took the bull by the horns and announced large reductions in the price of all Ford cars and Fordson tractors. For details as to price reductions, etc., see the large advertisement of the Beatty Motor Co., of Bellefonte, Ford distributors for Centre county, on page three of this issue of the "Watchman." If you have been thinking of a Ford now is the time to act.

While "Jim's Girl" gave two very good performances in the opera house last Thursday and Friday evenings, it had the misfortune of drawing poor houses on both nights, and the result was the management decided to quit the road and the company left on the early train Saturday morning for New York. The show had been on the road just two weeks and although the performance was clever and filled with comedy, it did not take and the manager decided to quit while the quitting was good.

Non-property holders in Bellefonte were somewhat staggered the past week on receiving their tax notices for 1920 to discover that the school tax had been increased to an even five dollars. Heretofore one dollar was the maximum. Of course the big increase in the pay of school teachers, under the Act of 1919, has got to be taken care of in some way. In addition to the above the property tax for school purposes has been increased from eighteen to twenty-one mills, and the state appropriation under the Woodruff salary bill increased from $28,901 to $37,650.

What may perhaps prove to be the most delightful session of the Woman's club for the coming year, was held last Monday night, the first of its meetings since June. With a short business session, in which the women were keenly interested after their rest through the summer, followed by a social session, enjoyed by every one, due to the delightful musical program, rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Louis Schad and Nevin Robb, the future of the club took on an added enthusiasm. Refreshments were served during the social period by Miss Allison and members of the High school, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Keichline.

Eleanor Weston and Elizabeth Meek went to Milton on Monday, by invitation of the tuberculosis committee, to assist in "boosting" the health crusade now being introduced into the public schools there on a more systematic plan than last year when it was tried in only certain of the schools as an experiment. On Tuesday, Elizabeth Meek talked to pupils in the higher grades and, in the afternoon at four o'clock, gave an illustrated lecture in the High school building to the teachers from all five schools. Miss Weston, in her role of health clown, gave performances before the lower grades, spending half a day in each school so that she remained in Milton until yesterday afternoon. There has been a community nurse in Milton for five years but her duties had become so arduous that another nurse had to be added to the service recently. An infant welfare center, well and attractively equipped, was opened for free use of the community on Tuesday and it was to celebrate and advertise this important event that this week was devoted to a health campaign.

Last Wednesday afternoon Miss Nan Hoy decided to go down to the Hoy farm this side of Curtin and as she neared the place she failed to see the farm house looming up through the trees as usual, and she thought it rather singular. But she was more astonished when she arrived at the place to find nothing but a pile of smouldering ashes where the farm house originally stood. The farm is tenanted by Luther Brodbeck and the threshers were there that morning threshing out the season's crop. Shortly before the noon hour fire broke out in the attic of the house and with no means of fighting the flames the building was burned to the ground. The fire evidently originated from a defective flue and as soon as the flames were discovered the threshing crew and a crew of thirteen section men at work on the railroad ran to the house and were able to get out every bit of furniture belonging to the Brodbeck family, even to the linoleum on the kitchen floor. A small two roomed building standing a little distance from the house was not burned and the farmer's family promptly moved into it. The Misses Hoy carried some insurance on the property and immediate steps will be taken to rebuild the house.

Denithorne-Scott.—A large number of invited guests assembled in the Presbyterian church at the noon hour on Tuesday to witness the marriage of Miss Janet McCurdy Scott, of Bellefonte, and George Stephenson Denithorne, of Pittsburgh. The ceremony took place promptly at twelve o'clock and was performed by Dr. W. K. McKinney, pastor of the church, the ring service being used. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Charles M. McCurdy, wore a gown entirely of white lace, veiling satin, with a short train also of lace. Her veil was arranged coronet fashion. She carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley, sweetheart roses and orchids. Her only attendant was Mrs. Willis Dale Crittenberger, of West Point, N. Y., as matron of honor, who wore a gown of pale pink draped with chiffon, with touches of silver, and a hat of delicately patterned silver lace. She carried snapdragons, ward roses and blue larkspur. The best man was Philip S. Chess, of Pittsburgh. The wedding march was played by Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes, of Bellefonte, while the ushers were Robert Stuart Smith, of Philadelphia; John Pendleton Butt, of Gettysburg; and Charles McCurdy Scott, a brother of the bride. Simplicity marked the decorations in the church, laurel and white and pink hydrangeas being used with beautiful effect.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served the bridal party at the Charles M. McCurdy residence on East Linn street, and during the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Denithorne went by automobile to Tyrone where they took the train for a brief wedding trip.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Joseph Bion Scott, of Bellefonte, and is a beautiful and charming young woman. She graduated at Kent Place, Summit, N. J., and later took a course at Wellesley. After leaving school she was engaged in library work in Pittsburgh, until relinquishing her position about six months ago. The bridegroom is a native of Huntington, a graduate of State College, class of 1915, and now holds the position of sales engineer of the Consolidated Expanded Metal companies, with headquarters in Pittsburgh. During the world war he served for fifteen months as a first lieutenant of engineers.

Social functions prior to the wedding included a tea given in honor of the bride by Miss Eliza Eggert Morris, at the Morris home on East Linn street on Monday afternoon, and on Monday evening the bride's uncle, Charles M. McCurdy, entertained the bridal party with a dinner at the Country club. Mr. and Mrs. Denithorne will take up their residence in Pittsburgh.

Love-Bryan.—John L. Love, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Love, of Bellefonte, and Miss Beulah May Bryan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bryan, of Altoona, were married at the home of the bride's parents in the Mountain city at three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. E. Burton Learish, of the United Brethren church. Mr. and Mrs. Love are now spending a portion of their honeymoon in Bellefonte with the bridegroom's parents, on Reynolds avenue. They will reside in Altoona where Mr. Love is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company.

Daugherty-Updegraff.—Lynn R. Daugherty, of State College, and Miss Edna M. Updegraff, of Ambridge, Pa., were married in the First Methodist church at Ambridge on Saturday evening, September 18th, by the pastor, Rev. H. E. Lloyd. Following an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty will take up their residence at State College, where the bridegroom is engaged in the insurance business.

Moyer-Hazel.—Merrill A. Moyer, of Pleasant Gap, and Miss Lulu G. Hazel, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hazel, of Lamb street, were married at the Lutheran parsonage on Tuesday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. Wilson P. Ard.

Polly and Her Pals.

Distinctly different in every department of its production and staging from the usual cartoon musical comedy, is George M. Gatt's offering, "Polly and Her Pals" to be presented at the opera house, Bellefonte, Saturday, October 2nd, matinee and night. John P. Mulgrew, the author, brought Cliff Sterrett's famous cartoons to life by writing a book in two acts and four scenes that abound in original wit, humor and perplexing situations, for "Polly" and her companions, Hampton Durand, and who has a number of Broadway successes to his credit, is responsible for the score and Harry Hume wrote the dainty lyrics. Among their latest compositions will be found "In the Quaint Old Town of Algiers," "That Typical Topical Tune," "What a Wonderful Girl You Are," "An Old-fashioned Bride" and "Different Eyes." Don't fail to see this.

Simler Batcheler to Sell His Dairy Herd.

Simler Batcheler, the well known Phillipsburg dairyman, is going to retire and on Thursday, October 7th, at 10 o'clock, he will sell all of his dairy herd, milking machines, electric motors, separators, milk bottles, cases and the other equipment of a high-class dairy barn. Most of the herd are registered Holstein-Friesian cows and heifers, and are reported as being fine stock. This may be a chance for dairymen and farmers to inject some new and good blood into their stock.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Harry Clevens spent a part of last week in Atlantic City, attending a baker's convention.

Miss Rachel Miller, a daughter of Mrs. Roland Miller, of Ford City, is visiting with her grandmother, one Thomas street.

W. B. Potter, of Karthaus, was a business visitor in Bellefonte on Monday and found time to spend a few minutes in the "Watchman" office.

Miss Bessie Sommerville and Miss Mary B. Platt drove in from Williamsport last week, for an over Sunday visit with Miss Sommerville's cousin, the Misses Anna and Mary Hoy. Many persons here remember Miss Platt very pleasantly, she having been at one time a very popular art teacher in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and their small daughter, Mary Gertrude, will come from Sunbury tomorrow for a short stay with Mr. Smith's cousin, Miss Mary McQuiston. Their visit at this time is to accompany Mrs. Keefer, Mr. Smith's aunt, back to Sunbury, she having been Miss McQuiston's guest for three weeks.

Miss Grace D. Mitchell will leave Sunday for Princeton, N. J., where she has accepted the position as instructor in higher mathematics in Miss Fine's school for girls. Miss Mitchell had anticipated spending the winter in Bellefonte, but so much pressure was brought to bear upon her to resume her work that she finally consented to go to Princeton.

Charles M. Scott, of Ponca City, Oklahoma, came east last week, to attend the wedding of his sister Janet, who was married Tuesday, in the Presbyterian church, to George Stephenson Denithorne. Mr. Scott will spend about two weeks here with his mother, Mrs. Joseph Bion Scott, and her sisters, the Misses McCurdy, at the home of Charles M. McCurdy.

Miss Sara McKinney returned recently from a vacation, spent at Phillipsburg, N. J., Atlantic City and Philadelphia. Going from the latter place to Ford City, Miss McKinney was a guest for several days of Mrs. Roland Miller and her family, who were her neighbors and closest friends before leaving for their present home in the western part of the State.

J. Harris Hoy, with the Atlas Powder Co., and until recently located in Pittsburgh, was in Bellefonte to spend Sunday with his sisters, the Misses Anna and Mary Hoy, and Mrs. Reynolds. Mr. Hoy was on his way east, having been transferred to the home office in Philadelphia, and left here Monday morning to take charge of the work in his new position.

Mrs. W. H. Miller and her sister, Miss Annie Nell went to Altoona Saturday, to be guests for the week-end of their nephews, Wilkie Horner and his family, Mr. Miller joining them there Sunday. Mrs. Miller and Miss Nell have been spending much of the latter's ten days' vacation visiting with relatives, the early part of last week being given to the Bottorf family, at Glen Iron.

Mrs. Nathan Bachman, of Millsburg, made one of her hurried business visits to Bellefonte Monday, her time on the farm being so fully occupied till left for business affairs. Mrs. Crosthwaite, who makes her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bachman, will go to Clearfield this week to attend the fair, and will be a guest while there of her sister, Mrs. Carrie Stover.

Mrs. James B. Lane, her sister, Mrs. Charles Shaffner, and Mrs. John Porter Lyon are members of a motor party on a drive through New York State, guests of Mrs. Lane's son, Richard Lane, of McKeesport. Leaving here Monday, the party, after the week's drive, will reach McKeesport Saturday, for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lane, who will then join them for the run to Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kirk, of Grindstone, and their small daughter, Mary Katherine, will arrive in Bellefonte tomorrow, Mrs. Kirk coming for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Willard, while Mr. Kirk will return home after a short stay in Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. Willard are looking forward to a visit from their daughter, Miss Vera, also, who will leave Denver, Col., Saturday, on a forty-day furlough, coming directly to Bellefonte. Miss Willard was transferred west a year ago and is now doing duty in an officer's hospital at Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Gamble were guests for the week-end of their daughter, Mrs. Osterag, at Lancaster.

Miss Agnes McGowan returned home on Sunday morning from a two month's stay at Atlantic City and Philadelphia.

Mrs. W. T. Hunt, of Renovo, came to Bellefonte Tuesday, called here by the illness of her father, ex-sheriff Woodring.

Mrs. Louise V. Harris is at Evanston, Ill., visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Robert DeGolyer. Mrs. Harris left Bellefonte Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Daggett have been in Philadelphia this week, Mrs. Daggett spending the time with her mother, Mrs. Canfield, at Wyncote.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cowdrick, of Niagara Falls, and their son, have been guests of friends and relatives in Centre county during the past week.

Mrs. Edward Nolan and Mr. and Mrs. Levy Johnson, Mrs. Nolan's daughter and son-in-law, will arrive in Bellefonte Monday, having come east from Chicago in their car ten days ago. At present the party is in Philadelphia, expecting to stop here for a visit at the John S. Walker home and with friends over the county, on their return trip west.

J. A. Collins, county representative of the Western Maryland dairy, is now in Bellefonte and will remain here a few days to do his bit in hurrying along the completion of the company's milk station in this place. It might be added that contractor Conrad, who is just as desirous of completing the plant as Mr. Collins, has been held up in the work by bad weather, delays in getting material and certain portions of the work done, but the building has progressed to that stage where it ought not take long to finish it. Naturally Mr. Collins is quite anxious to have the plant completed as he has a good market for milk and would like to get his trade supply established in Centre county before cold weather sets in.

Silk Mill Bonds Ready to Lift.

At a meeting of the Business Men's association on Wednesday evening Nelson E. Robb, chairman of the executive committee, reported that the silk mill bonds are now ready for delivery to all those who have paid the subscriptions in full. All that is necessary is to present the receipts of payment at the Bellefonte Trust company and get the bonds. And those who have not yet paid in full are urged to do so at once, as the money is needed to make good Bellefonte's pledge to the silk mill company. Mr. Robb further stated that as a result of a duplication at the time the canvass for subscriptions was made there is an error in the amount of bonds subscribed for, Bellefonte being short a few thousand dollars of its pledged quota, and any one desiring to invest in the bonds now that the silk mill is so nearly completed should do so at once. The bonds are first mortgage, six per cent, and of the value of five hundred dollars.

Fred Weber is the Inventor.

Several weeks ago there was published in these columns an article descriptive of an invention, the patent for which is in process, of a Centre county that is designed to revolutionize the business of manufacturing burial vaults. At the time the "Watchman" described the invention we directed attention to it as a possible product for an industrial enterprise in the county. It may be recalled that we did not give the name of the inventor. At that time we were not permitted to do so, but now we are at liberty to announce that Mr. F. Weber, of Boalsburg, is the man who conceived and has produced the vault. If any one should be interested in its manufacture and sale he will be glad to have them communicate with him concerning it.

Cards were received in Bellefonte this week announcing the birth of Richard Wallace Ebe Jr., the first child born to Dr. and Mrs. Richard Wallace Ebe, of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Ebe is well known in Bellefonte as Miss Martha Shoemaker.

There will be a showing of the correct winter models at Miss Snyder's millinery store Friday, October 1st.
