TRAVELING IN THE ORIENT.

Another Interesting Letter from Mrs. R. S. Brouse, Depicting Travel in China.

Shanghai, China, Sept. 10.

One thing that has impressed more of us probably than the sights of these wonderful, old-time countries is the large number of men and women we have met everywhere who are graduates of American colleges. A Mrs. Fugui, who acted as interpreter for us at a dinner given at the Shinghi club is a graduate of Smith College. In our preliminary travels through Japan we were elaborately entertained in every city we visited.

We left Keota just two hours before the congressional delegation arrived and all of us were sorry we missed them. Our trip took us through Korea, which is evidently a very interesting country. To us it looked as if it were located on top of a volcano. The feeling between the Koreans and Japanese is still somewhat unsettled, and so far as we had occasion to judge, not very friendly. We were hurried through Korea owing to the prevalence of cholera in that country, and naturally we had no inclination to stop. In fact many of the towns were under quarantine.

China is undoubtedly a country of magnificent distances. It was a twenty-eight hour ride from Seoul to Mukden. The latter city is a strange mixture of Chinese, Russians, Americans, British, and most every other nationality. The new part of the city is very modern in every respect, with fine, large, up-to-date buildings. A number of us took a long rickshaw ride through the old part of the city and were very much surprised to run across Bostock's wild animal show on exhibition there.

The train service in China is very good. We had a better sleeping car on our trip through this country than any I have ever been in in the States. The most of the locomotives in use on the railroads in the Orient are American built. From Mukden we went to Pekin, another long ride of more than eight hundred miles. One glimpse of that city and many of us decided that we would like to stay there. Some of us went on a trip to the Great Wall. It took two days, going and returning, and while there we climbed up three thousand eight hundred feet to the watch towers. While there we watched a camel train coming in from Mongolia, just as they have done for hundreds and thousands of years. At Nanku we stayed in a small hotel which is surrounded by a high wall, with soldiers on patrol all the time. There is quite a large barracks at Nanku, and quite a number of skirmishes have occurred there the past few weeks.

After spending the night at Nanku we left in the morning for the Ming tombs. We were carried in sedan chairs, four men to a chair. The distance is twenty miles, so you can imagine it was some trip. The tombs were built by the Emperors and there are thirteen of them. They are over seven hundred years old, but that seems modern to some temples we have seen which date back to many years B. C.

We reached Shanghai yesterday and received our first mail from home. From Pekin to Shanghai is over one thousand miles and we passed through the provinces where the famine is now raging. We saw beggars everywhere, and were literally stripped of all our spare cash.

Just over the Yellow river the countryside was flooded and we saw hundreds of people working in the water up to their knees trying to save their rice. They had built high racks on which they were piling it up to dry. Last Saturday we went out to visit the Emperor's summer palace and on our way home were invited to a luncheon at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Malone. The professor is one of the teachers in the Indemnity college built by the United States. It is a beautiful place and the buildings are big and substantial. We could not stay late as the city gates are closed at 6:30 p. m.

On Sunday we went to church at the Presbyterian mission, built since the Boxer uprising. The old mission was destroyed at that time and a number of the inmates killed. They have a splendid boys' school with 1200 pupils and one for girls with 200 in attendance. A good hospital is also attached to the mission which is surrounded by a high wall.

Cook's representative has just been here and informed us that there is some doubt as to our getting to Manila, as there has been a heavy typhoon there which caused great disaster, and it may not be wise to make the trip. The missionaries have just come to take us to a reception so will have to close.

Altoona Citizen Killed in Airplane.

Earl H. Fluke, of Altoona, was instantly killed in an airplane accident near that city Monday afternoon, when the machine in which he had taken passage to Pittsburgh fell to the ground from a height of 150 feet and was badly wrecked. During the past several weeks two Curtiss J-N-4 planes have been in Altoona and vicinity giving exhibition flights and taking up passengers. Having filled all engagements they were scheduled to return to Pittsburgh on Monday. Mr. Fluke arranged to accompany pilot Elmer Schleifer as a passenger to the Smoky city. The first plane to leave had some difficulty attaining a sufficient height to cross the mountains owing to a high wind. Pilot Schleifer delayed his departure until 3:45 o'clock when the wind had fallen somewhat. When he finally did take off he got up only 150 feet when his motor went dead. The pilot attempted to turn to the left in order to volplane to the ground but just at that moment a hard puff of wind caught the plane under the right wing and tipped it up sideways, and although the pilot tried valiantly to right it the distance to the ground was so short that he failed in his efforts and the plane nosed to earth in a field on the Dr. W. Frank Beck farm. Fluke was strapped in front of the pilot in the cockpit and when the plane struck the ground his strap broke and he was hurled forward, his neck, jaw, nose and both arms being broken and one side crushed. Pilot Schleifer was not seriously injured and was able to crawl out of the cockpit and not only pull Fluke from the wrecked machine but dragged him two hundred yards to the road from where a passing automobile took him to the Altoona hospital but life was extinct. Fluke was 27 years old, a veteran of the world war and worked for the Pennsylvania railroad company.

Answers to Health Questions.

Question 1—How may persons be protected against smallpox?
Answer—By vaccination.
Question 2—What evidence of vaccination of children must teachers have?
Answer—A certificate signed by a physician.
Question 3—Upon what authority may a child be excused from vaccination?
Answer—Upon presentation of a certificate, signed by the county medical director or some one deputized by him, (in municipalities by the medical representative of the health authority) setting forth the fact that the child is physically unfitted for vaccination. Such certificate is good for one year.
The subject of the next lesson is "Sneezes." Coughing and sneezing, especially in street cars, motion picture houses and at public gatherings are often the cause of the spread of disease.

Unhurt After His Auto Turned Turtle.

About four o'clock Wednesday afternoon E. W. Roberts, of Tunkhannock, a traveling salesman, was motoring along the state highway about one mile east of Penn Hall. At that point George Rhoads & Sons are building a new concrete bridge. It is located at the bottom of a short hill and Roberts approaching at a good speed did not notice the danger signals until he was dangerously near the open bridge. His brakes refused to hold and when it seemed that he would dash into the stream he turned the car suddenly striking a telephone pole with a crash that wrecked the steering gear and front axle. The car, a small Jackson runabout, turned clear over, pinning the driver under it. The Rhoads men ran to the rescue at once. When they had lifted the car off Roberts he was lying in the road, but gathered himself together in an instant and jumped up apparently without any injury whatever.

Poultry Culling.

During the week of September 21-24th the Centre county Farm Bureau conducted nineteen poultry culling demonstrations, widely distributed so as to cover the more important poultry producing sections of the county. Two hundred and forty-three persons attended these demonstrations. Eight flocks, a total of 996 hens, were culled. 492 of these were thrown out as poor producers and not laying at present. Records were kept of these flocks one week before and one week after culling. Reports have been received from four flocks. The 235 poor hens taken from these four flocks laid a total of three eggs during the week after culling. This goes to show that the methods used in culling are practical; and they are simple enough that any person with a little practice, such as is given at one of these demonstrations, can cull poultry very satisfactorily.

GRENOBLE.—Miss Minnie M. Grenoble passed away at the Bellefonte hospital on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, as the result of tubercular peritonitis. She was a daughter of John L. and Nancy Shuey Grenoble and was born in Haines township forty-three years ago. She came to Bellefonte about twenty years ago and fourteen years ago went to the home of C. T. Gerberich. About three years ago her mother suffered a stroke and she left the Gerberich home and returned home, and for two years gave all her time and attention to taking care of her mother until she passed away about a year ago. Shortly thereafter Miss Grenoble returned to Bellefonte and resumed her old position in the Gerberich home. Last July she was taken ill and was taken to the Bellefonte hospital for an operation. She never recovered from the effects of same and tubercular peritonitis finally developed and caused her death. It is thought that her injury was sustained by constantly lifting her mother, who was entirely helpless.

She was a faithful member of the Reformed church and had many friends in Bellefonte who showed her every kindness during her long illness. And of these none were more devoted in their solicitude for her welfare than were Mr. Gerberich and son Harry. But all the kindness that could be showered upon her could not stay the progress of the dread disease and she finally passed away. Surviving her are her father, living at Woodward, two sisters and one brother, namely: Mrs. Haston Long, of Woodward; Mrs. Frank Haines, of Canyon, Texas, and Harry Grenoble, of Scotland, South Dakota.

The remains were taken to the home of her sister, at Woodward, and funeral services will be held this Friday morning at 10 o'clock, in the church at Woodward, Rev. Dr. Ambrose Schmidt, of this place officiating.

When a young woman she was united in marriage to Thomas Buchanan and their early married life was spent in Bellefonte. About twenty-one years ago they moved to Altoona and lived there ever since. She was a member of the Third Presbyterian church of Altoona and a good, christian woman.

Surviving her are her husband and the following children: Jonathan F., of Altoona; George W., of Juniata; Mrs. Harry Olewine, of Altoona; Thomas H., of Pittsburgh; Levi A., Harold C., Alma M., Elizabeth and Leona Mae, all at home. She also leaves these brothers and sisters: George O. Symmonds, of Flinton, Pa.; Mrs. Mary Hoy, of Lemont; Mrs. Della Williams, of State College; Mrs. Cyrus Solt and Mrs. Abraham Bailey, of Bellefonte. As a young girl she united with the Methodist church and was a consistent member all her life, devoting all her energies to the welfare of her family and in serving her Master.

She is survived by her husband and the following children: O. D. Eberts, Mrs. C. E. Spachman and Mrs. J. B. Miles, all of Martha Furnace; two sons and two daughters preceded her to the grave. She also leaves one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Maggie Spotts and W. H. Williams, of Port Matilda, and A. S. Williams, of Pittsburgh. M. Neidigh, son of Newton C. Neidigh, of Pine Hall. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. C. Stover, of the Reformed church, in the presence of a number of invited guests. The attendants were Miss Margaret Ralston, a sister of the bride, and Judson Neidigh, a brother of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony the happy young couple were tendered quite a reception with a wedding dinner later, after which they departed on a brief wedding trip. The bridegroom is a graduate in veterinary science of the Ohio State university, class of 1916, and is located at State College where he is already attaining considerable success in the practice of his profession.

The Suance River Quartette.

After ten years together this famous quartette is more popular than ever. Following a long Chautauqua season through New England and Canada they are filling one hundred and fifty consecutive Lyceum dates this fall and winter.

Three of the members of this quartette are university graduates and the company was formed from a bible class conducted by John Gantt, its present manager, in a big colored Methodist Episcopal church in Cleveland, Ohio. They do not pretend to be the best quartette in the world, but they are unquestionably the best negro quartette in America. Their voices blend beautifully, their mezzo voice work is especially good.

The program is a composite of the different types of negro songs—some rollicking, some grave—the old plantation, jubilee, and camp meetin'. John Maxwell, tenor, is an excellent reader, and offers stories and poems of Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the negro poet. In addition they form an instrumental quartette of banjos, guitars, and mandolins, and as a special feature introduce character costume songs by John Gantt with the quartette singing off stage.

The whole concert is arranged with but one idea—to present genuine entertainment. Don't fail to hear it this (Friday) evening at the High school auditorium.

Notice to W. C. T. U. Members.

A radical change made by the Centre county W. C. T. U. convention changes the time of paying annual dues to October. The annual dues were increased to one dollar, which includes a year's subscription to the State paper, the Pennsylvania W. C. T. U. Bulletin. To give every member an opportunity to pay the dues this month an attractive autumn "Dues Social" will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms, Petrikin hall, on Friday evening, October 29th, from 8 to 10 o'clock. Ice cream and cake will be served free, late news from the State convention given and a general good time enjoyed. Autumn leaves will be freely used with hydrangeas to lend pleasing effects to the decorations of the room. All members are most cordially invited and urged to be present. If unable to attend please send dues to Mrs. L. H. Gettig, treasurer, east Bishop street, Bellefonte.

$250.00 Reward Offered.

The Pennsylvania Department of Forestry will pay a reward of $250.00 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons setting incendiary forest fires in this State, according to a statement issued by Gifford Pinchot, the chief forester. He has notified all of the forest fire wardens to that effect, and hundreds of posters announcing the reward will be distributed through the State forests by foresters and forest rangers.

The Department of Forestry has collected $811.82 from individuals and corporations responsible for starting forest fires during 1920. The amount represents the cost to the State of putting out the fires, but it does not take into account damage to young timber and soil.

Bishop Quayle at State College.

Bishop William A. Quayle will lecture in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, State College, tomorrow (Saturday) evening, on "Rip Van Winkle." The Patriotic Order Sons of America of Pennsylvania had a red letter affair last Thursday evening when the degree team from Lemont camp, thirty-four strong, and led by degree master James Schreck, conferred the degree upon a class of nineteen new members in the Centre Hall camp. The officiating visitors did very efficient work and for a small place the size of Lemont the camp there has surely put that town on the map. And it might here be mentioned that the Centre Hall camp can also lay claim to being among the real live ones. In addition to the class of nineteen new members initiated last Thursday evening six more have been elected to membership, making a total roll of over 130 members.
