Doing of the Borough Dads.

Eight members were present at the regular meeting of borough council on Monday evening. Secretary W. T. Kelly read a communication from S. S. D. Gettig Esq., relative to the payment of a claim of $75.00 presented by farmer Isaac Baney for injuries to himself and horse at the old bridge over Logan's branch early in 1919. Council has always considered the bill excessive and the matter was referred to the Street committee and borough solicitor.

A communication was received from the State-Centre Electric company stating that their present contract with the borough would not be affected in any way by their increase in rates.

The Street committee reported various repairs on several streets of the town.

The Water committee reported that connection had been made for the sprinkler system in the new silk mill, as well as some necessary repairs to water pipes. The committee also stated that the State-Centre Electric company is ready to turn over the uncollected portion of the 1919 water duplicate, amounting to $5,142.65, to the borough treasurer for collection and would then be in shape to receive the 1920 duplicate as soon as it is available.

The Fire and Police committee stated that policeman Yergler is in need of a new coat and policeman Howley a new overcoat. The matter was referred to the committee with power.

The Finance committee presented the treasurer's request for the renewal of notes for $630, $1000, $400 and $1000, all of which were authorized.

Mr. Harris, of the Street committee, stated that the Business Men's association would like to have the co-operation of the borough in the work of fixing up Mill street, that short stretch of roadway extending along the Lewisburg railroad from south Water street to the new state highway at C. Y. Wagner's new mill. Inasmuch as only about two-thirds of the roadway is in the borough and the other third in Spring township the matter was referred to the Street committee and borough manager for consultation with the supervisors of Spring township, and with power to act so that the repairs can be made before cold weather sets in.

Mr. Cunningham stated that G. Fred Musser, of the G. F. Musser Co., would like council to reconsider its action establishing the rent of the Phoenix mill property at $1000 a year dating from April 1st, 1921. The rent for the present year was placed at $750, and Mr. Musser maintains that that amount is all they can afford to pay and would like to make a five year contract for the property at that figure. Mr. Cunningham also stated that the property is in need of some repairs and the entire matter was referred to the Water committee and the borough manager.

Relative to the request of tax collector J. Kennedy Johnston that his commission during the rebate period this year be increased from three to four per cent., the Finance committee recommended that the commission remain the same as last year, and the recommendation was approved by council.

A request of the Lauderbach-Zerby company for permission to cut down the curb along the state highway on south Water street to enable them to make a better driveway into the building recently purchased from Forest Bullock was refused on recommendation of the Street committee, on the grounds that it would establish a precedent that might result in the mutilation of any and all curbs to suit the demands of individual property owners. The company will have the right, however, to construct a small swinging bridge to solve the problem of the new entrance to its building.

Bills to the amount of $1715.77 were approved and council adjourned.

Prothonotary Roy Wilkinson will not move his family to Bellefonte until after the election. Being a Republican office holder he naturally "dastn't" lose his vote.

WOODRING.—In the passing away last Saturday morning of Daniel W. Woodring Bellefonte has lost another of its old-time citizens, a man who has been more or less prominent in the history of the town and county for over half a century. His illness dated back several weeks and was the result of a bad cold which developed into pneumonia causing complications which resulted in his death.

He was a son of Samuel and Catherine Woodring and was born on the old Woodring farm in Worth township on October 27th, 1837, hence was within eleven days of being eighty-three years old. His boyhood and youth were spent upon the farm but when this country was plunged into Civil war he enlisted for service in Company H, 148th regiment on August 16th, 1862. In the battle of Chancellorsville on May 3rd, 1863, he was wounded in the left arm and shoulder, the abdomen and the right leg. He was carried to the Twelfth corps field hospital and left lying on the ground without anyone to care for him. In trying to crawl off the field he fell into a hole in the woods from which he was unable to extricate himself. Some time later the 124th Pennsylvania went into line of battle near where he lay and by order of Colonel Hawley he was carried to the road and put into an ambulance in which he was hauled to Potomac Creek and placed in a large hospital. He was the only inmate and he was left there alone and uncared for until May 10th when his left arm was amputated and his wounds dressed for the first time. The loss of his arm naturally terminated his service as a soldier and as soon as he had sufficiently recovered he was sent home and later discharged.

In the fall of 1865 D. Z. Kline was elected Sheriff of Centre county and when he took office the first Monday of January, 1866, he selected Mr. Woodring as his deputy. So efficient was he in the discharge of his duties that when the next election rolled around in 1868 he became the logical candidate of the Democratic party for Sheriff, was nominated and elected by a good, safe majority. As Sheriff of the county he served from January, 1869, to January, 1872. Retiring from the sheriff's office he formed a partnership with George W. Woodring and leased the Brockerhoff mill at Roopsburg which they conducted a number of years. On retiring from the mill business he opened a grocery store on Allegheny street next door to the old Ceader bakery and when he disposed of that he purchased the Balfout stationery store in the Humes block (now Crider's Exchange). His stationery store went up in flames when the Humes block was burned in 1887 and he never reopened. Since that time he conducted a fire insurance agency in Bellefonte and for a number of years was local representative of the American Lime and Stone company.

In 1870 he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Huey, of College township, who passed away over thirty years ago. About twenty-five years ago he married Miss Mary Galbraith, who survives with the following children by his first marriage: Robert H. and S. Kline Woodring, of Bellefonte; Mrs. W. T. Hunt and Mrs. Roy Conkling, both of Renovo. He also leaves one sister, Miss Nancy Woodring, on the old homestead in Worth township.

Funeral services were held at his late home on east Howard street at 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning by Dr. W. K. McKinney, of the Presbyterian church, after which burial was made in the Union cemetery.

WOLF.—Martin Luther Wolf, a native of Centre county, died at his home in Altoona on Sunday night after a four day's illness with dilatation of the heart. He was a son of Emanuel and Leah Wolf and was born at Boalsburg, this county, on July 23rd, 1854, making his age 66 years, 2 months and 25 days. All his life was spent in Centre county until fifteen years ago when he moved to Altoona and went to work for the Canan-Knox Supply company. Three years later he gave up his job with that company and had since been caretaker of the Oak Ridge cemetery.

On December 30th, 1880, he was united in marriage to Miss Nora Stover, who survives with four children, Mrs. Mahlon Rice, Roy S., John A. and Elsie M., all of Altoona. He also leaves one brother and two sisters, A. S. Wolf, of Keyser, W. Va.; Mrs. Maggie Weaver, of State College, and Mrs. Milton Mater, of Altoona. Funeral services were held at his late home at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, after which burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery, Altoona.

SPANGLER.—Jonathan Spangler a retired farmer who has for some years past made his home in Rebersburg, died at the Lock Haven hospital on Tuesday, to which institution he was admitted last Wednesday, following an illness that dated back six months or more. He was aged 78 years, 5 months and 23 days and is survived by the following children: Joseph, of Newton, Kan.; Charles, of Lincoln, Neb.; Mrs. William Burt, of Tobias, Neb.; Mrs. Charles McFadden, of Fairmount, Neb.; Mrs. O. F. Stover, of Rebersburg, and Rev. Ira Spangler, of Carlisle. He also leaves two brothers and a sister living in the west. Rev. C. B. Shank will have charge of the funeral services which will be held tomorrow morning, burial to be made in the Rebersburg cemetery.

—If you want all the news you can get it in the "Watchman."

SHUGERT.—Frank McCoy Shugert passed away at the Bellefonte hospital about three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon following an illness which dates back to the middle of last December when he became suddenly ill while working at the Hyde City plant of the Nickel-Alloys company. He was promptly taken to the Clearfield hospital where his ailment was diagnosed as a blood clot on the brain, as the result of which his one side became partially paralyzed. Some months ago, when it became evident that his illness would be prolonged indefinitely, he was brought to the Bellefonte hospital where he finally passed away.

He was the third child of J. Dunlop and Mary S. McCoy Shugert and was born in Bellefonte on January 9th, 1874, hence was in his forty-seventh year. He was educated at the Bellefonte Academy and after completing his course there went to work at the old Linn & McCoy furnace near Milesburg where he spent some years. Later he worked at various industries in Bellefonte and after the Nickel-Alloys plant was put in operation at Hyde City he went there and was employed by that company until stricken by illness.

Upwards of twenty years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Helen B. Malin who survives with one daughter, Miss Elizabeth M. Shugert. He also leaves one brother and two sisters, John M. Shugert, president of the Centre County Banking company; Mrs. David J. Kelly, of York, Pa., and Miss Kate D. Shugert, of Bellefonte.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church and Dr. W. K. McKinney had charge of the funeral services which were held at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the John M. Shugert home on east Linn street, Rev. M. DePue Maynard, of St. John's Episcopal church, assisting, after which burial was made in the Union cemetery.

SCHULTE.—Mrs. Mary Alice Schulte, widow of Joseph Schulte, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Rothrock, in Tyrone, at 12:20 o'clock last Saturday morning, following an illness of some weeks with pernicious anemia. Her maiden name was Mary Garber and she was born at South Bend, Ind., on February 7th, 1862, hence was in her fifty-ninth year. She came to Bellefonte when quite young and on Christmas day, 1884, was married in St. John's Catholic church, Bellefonte, to Joseph A. Schulte, of Latrobe, living here until about twenty years ago when she went to Tyrone.

Her husband passed away twenty-five years ago but surviving her are two daughters, Mrs. E. W. Rothrock and Mrs. R. G. Lytle, both of Tyrone; She also leaves two sisters and one brother, namely: Mrs. A. G. Armor, of Bellefonte; Sister Antonia, of St. Mary's convent, Phoenixville, and Harry F. Garber, of Tyrone. She was a faithful member of St. John's Catholic church, in this place, and later of St. Matthew's church in Tyrone. The remains were brought to Bellefonte on the 9:50 train on Monday morning and taken to the Catholic church where requiem mass was celebrated by Father Downes, after which burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

PETERS.—John Peters, who served during the Civil war as a member of Company C, 15th Pennsylvania cavalry, died at his home at Port Matilda on Tuesday of last week, aged 77 years, 3 months and 21 days. He is survived by three children, Joseph and William, of Tyrone, and Mrs. Jennie Lathers, of Port Matilda. Burial was made at Port Matilda on Thursday.

Notice to W. C. T. U. Members.

A radical change made by the Centre county W. C. T. U. convention changes the time of paying annual dues to October. The annual dues were increased to one dollar, which includes a year's subscription to the State paper, the Pennsylvania W. C. T. U. Bulletin. To give every member an opportunity to pay the dues this month an attractive autumn "Dues Social" will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms, Petrik hall, on Friday evening, October 29th, from 8 to 10 o'clock. Ice cream and cake will be served free, late news from the State convention given and a general good time enjoyed. Autumn leaves will be freely used with hydrangeas to lend pleasing effects to the decorations of the room. All members are most cordially invited and urged to be present. If unable to attend please send dues to Mrs. L. H. Gettig, treasurer, east Bishop street, Bellefonte.

Red Cross Roll Call.

The fourth annual Red Cross roll call will be held November 11th to 25th. Mrs. John Porter Lyon has been selected as roll call chairman for the Bellefonte Chapter. In Bellefonte the actual canvass for names will be made on Sunday afternoon, November 14th. All churches are requested to observe this date as Red Cross Sunday. Because of the splendid work of Miss Peterman, the community nurse, and the possibilities of still greater work along this line, it is hoped that there will be a large enrollment.

Marriage Licenses.

Maurice W. Neidigh and H. Ethel Ralston, State College.
Carl G. Schreffler and Edna L. Jackson, Lemont.
Ira G. Robinson and Malissa M. Mann, Howard.
Lewis H. Johnson, State College, and Maude H. Miller, Bellefonte.
Boyd C. Young and Catharine M. Leathers, Howard.

Early Records Show Potato Spraying Pays.

State College, Pa., October 20.—Returns are rapidly coming in from all parts of the State on potato diggings in fields where spraying demonstrations were conducted during the past summer. Although incomplete, they show that in every instance there was a paying increase in yield, which in thirteen counties averages forty per cent. This figure represents but a small portion of the 5000 acres used for demonstrational purposes, but indicates that there is no doubt but that spraying potatoes pays the farmer and pays him well.

The record Pennsylvania yield thus far was 188 bushels increase per acre of sprayed potatoes over a yield of 152 bushels for the unsprayed. This creditable showing was on the farm of Lloyd White, near Pleasant Gap, Centre county, and the digging was witnessed by E. L. Nixon, extension plant pathologist at The Pennsylvania State College, who has been instrumental during the past two years in boosting potato yields in the State. The record last year was 147 bushels increase of sprayed over unsprayed. The Centre county farmer has a yield of 340 bushels to the acre in his sprayed field and is one of the very few farmers in this section who can boast of no rot developing as a result of the late blight.

No more convincing figures could be presented in favor of potato seed selection and spraying than those already collected by the State College specialists. In the thirteen counties where records have been made available there is an average yield per acre of 297.5 bushels on sprayed fields as compared with 212.6 bushels on unsprayed, or an increase of 84.9 bushels in favor of spraying. The cost of spraying is about $12 an acre, or only fourteen cents for each bushel increase.

Hunting Season Opens.

The hunting season for such small game as pheasants and squirrel opened on Wednesday but so far as could be learned no great amount of either kind of game was bagged in this section. Of course conditions were not the best for bird hunting, at least. The ground is thickly carpeted with a heavy covering of newly fallen leaves, and as no rain has fallen for some time past the leaves and twigs are dry and it was utterly impossible to get within gunshot of the birds. Of course the same conditions applied to squirrel.

But even under the best conditions obtainable there is not much hope for big success in the hunting of squirrel or pheasant, for the simple reason that the game isn't in the country. The cutting out of the virgin forests, and especially the various kinds of nut trees, has driven the squirrel family to migrate somewhere to better feeding and housing grounds, and the various forest fires which occur every year in the mountainous regions of Centre county have destroyed more pheasants and pheasant eggs during the hatching season than are killed in several years by hunters.

The efforts now being put forth by a number of true sportsmen of Centre county, in co-operation with the State Game Commission, to stock the mountains with ringneck pheasants ought to be encouraged by every hunter to the extent that particular pains be taken to leave these birds alive. If the few that are now in the woods are not killed off but allowed to remain for breeding purposes it will only be a matter of a few years until the woods will be full of the beautiful ringnecks and there will then be worthwhile hunting for all.

From a report received yesterday there must be some squirrel up in Ferguson township, as Sam Hess and Ed Martz each got five and George Burwell shot three before breakfast.

X-mas Seals.

The 1920 X-mas seal is a very pretty design, being a representation of Santa Claus with a little child on his back holding up the new design that has been officially adopted for tuberculosis campaigns. It is what is now known as the Lorraine cross, with two bars instead of one. The words "Merry Christmas 1920" appear in the upper right hand corner and "Healthy New Year" at the bottom. The seals will be placed on sale November 29th.

Persons willing to volunteer to sell seals in their community are requested to send their names to Miss Helen Overton, Bellefonte, with the number they will take. The public is asked to co-operate in the purchase of said seals.

A big six ton moving van arrived in Bellefonte about eight o'clock last Friday morning with the furniture and personal belongings of Mrs. Ivan Walker, who prior to her recent marriage was Miss Mary Hicklen. The van left Philadelphia at eight o'clock Thursday morning accompanied by three men, all of whom are drivers, so that their drive was continuous day and night with the exception of three hours Friday morning when they were compelled to halt along the roadside owing to their prestolite tank going dry.

—On his way from his home to the F. W. Crider & Son office on Wednesday afternoon Oscar Wetzel was stricken with paralysis and had to be removed to his home. His left side is affected but yesterday he showed slight improvement. Mr. Wetzel has been book-keeper in the Crider office the past twenty-five years and his many friends hope his affliction will soon pass away.

LADY WOLVERTON, Founder of the Needlework Guild of America.

A History of the Needlework Guild of America.

In 1883, at Iwerne, Dorsetshire county, England, the foundation was laid for a structure that should unite waste and want—The Needlework Guild of America.

The founder, Lady Wolverton, was deeply interested in an orphan asylum and conceived the idea of having the wardrobe of the institution abundantly cared for by asking friends each to contribute two new articles a year of wearing apparel or household linen, laying stress on the fact that they must be new.

Very soon a group of women began this labor and the growth was rapid. Later a paragraph in the local paper was copied in London, and Lady Mary Adelaide, of Teck, the mother of the present Queen, launched the London Guild, and then Guilds grew up swiftly and in wide-spread localities.

In 1885, an American, Mrs. Alanson Hartpence, traveling in England, learned of this charity, and brought the idea home to Philadelphia. Her niece, the founder of the American organization, Mrs. John Wood Stewart, interested a few young women of her acquaintance, and from that little band the work has grown until now it has become a mighty national organization, counting in 1917 over 350,000 members in the United States, with offshoots in Canada and Scotland, and strong branches in Paris, Lyons and Honolulu, and is constantly working to extend its usefulness by the forming of new branches.

In 1907 the organization became affiliated with the American Red Cross for co-operation in times of international, national and local disaster. In 1909, the affiliation with the General Federation of Women's clubs was effected. The Needlework Guild is also a member of the National Council of Social Work, and the National Council of Women of the United States. In 1917 the Camp Fire Girls became affiliated with the Needlework Guild of America.

The By-laws provide that in times of local, national or international disaster, special collections may be called to help in such emergency. In this connection valuable assistance was rendered at the time of the Johnstown and Dayton floods, the San Francisco earthquake and fire, the Spanish-American war, and in many local casualties.

At the outbreak of the war in Europe in 1914 workrooms were established in Lyons, France, under the Lyons branch. Later the War Relief Department was opened in New York, and has since operated in the interest of the allied countries.

As in all great enterprises, the pioneer days were full of work and anxiety. An organization without a clause providing for definite sums of money to be collected for its support must needs experience days of "work and anxiety." For many years the By-Laws of "the Needlework Guild" had no money clause at all, just the requirement of two or more new articles of wearing apparel or household linen, but later, as the organization grew, provision for a donation of money—no amount specified—was added, for financial support was necessary for Guild extension as well as for an office and a paid executive.

The Needlework Guild of America is the only national organization in the world the specific duty of which is to collect annually a central stock from which is given grants according to the desires of the directors, to meet the great need of "hospitals, homes and other charities."

The plan of work is very simple and the effect far-reaching, especially the moral effect of the new clothes. The Guild aims not to supersede but to supplement what is already being done, and is steadily gaining a deeper hold on the interests of people, who at once enter into the plan and give it their service as Guild members.

The Needlework Guild of America is non-sectarian and in Bellefonte has the following officers:

President—Mrs. Harry Valentine.
Vice Presidents—Mrs. R. S. Brouse, Miss Mary Hoy.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. F. Reynolds.
Secretary—Mrs. John M. Shugert.
Asst. Secretary—Mrs. John Curtin.
The annual contribution of new articles of wearing apparel or household linen, or a donation of money takes place this week and the Bellefonte branch will welcome anything in this line you may care to give and will also welcome you as a new member if you are not one already.

Women's Conference.

The annual fall county conference of all women's organizations will be held in the High school building Bellefonte, tomorrow, October 23rd. There will be two sessions, at 10:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. An interesting program has been arranged. A box luncheon will be served at noon in the domestic science rooms, to which all are invited. The women of all organizations are urged to be present.

—Big programs of high-class motion pictures at the Scenic every evening. Don't miss them.

Bishop Quayle at State College.

The people of State College and vicinity enjoyed a rare treat in the visit of Bishop William A. Quayle, October 16th and 17th. On Saturday evening, in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, the Bishop delivered his famous lecture, "Rip Van Winkle," to a large and appreciative audience. As a lecturer, Bishop Quayle is unique. His ready wit, graphic pictures, satire and oratory, make him one of the greatest lecturers on the American platform.

On Sunday morning the Bishop addressed a large company of college students on "The Business of the Church." At 10:45 he preached to a large congregation, taking for his text Hebrews 12:2, "Who for the joy that was set before Him, endured the cross despising the shame." In his inimitable way, he showed that shame and sin are about the only things to be despised. That we are not to endure life but enjoy it. Not bear it like a stoic, or look upon it as a cynic but brave the storms like a christian keeping our hearts set to the eternal melody of joy.

In the evening the Bishop was greeted by an audience which crowded the church to its capacity. The text of the evening was: "Wherefore the Foundations of God standeth sure." The speaker was at his best. In a masterly way he raised the questions concerning the existence of God, the immortality of the soul, the immutability of the Bible, the divinity of Christ. Taking them in their order, he said, "After fifty years or more of scientific control and investigation God is a fact more than ever before. The soul is apart from the body; the Bible the most published and read book. Christ is the greatest force in this country and loved by more people than ever before." This was a master sermon and its influence will linger with those who were fortunate enough to hear it for many days.

A Good Show Coming.

A theatrical event for which patrons of the theatre have been looking forward to for some time is announced for the opera house, Bellefonte, on Monday evening, November 1st. It is the forthcoming engagement of "Tea for Three," Roi Cooper Megrue's sterling comedy hit which is presented under the management of The Selwyns. The cast, which is of super excellence, is headed by Bert Leigh and includes Millicent Hanley, J. W. Cowell and others. The comedy will be seen here, exactly as it was presented at Maxine Elliott's theatre, New York, where it ran for one entire year.

"Tea for Three" is a brilliant bit of writing. Critics have declared it the best thing of its kind to come from the pen of an American playwright. Moreover, it is one of the most dramatic stories ever told on the stage. The strongest proof of the excellence of the attraction booked for the Garman theatre is the fact that since it was first offered to the public, it has been seen by more people than any other play of similar character. And the first unfavorable criticism has yet to be uttered of it.

To tell the story of "Tea for Three" would be to deprive theatre goers of some of the pleasure in store for them. Suffice it to say it is intensely interesting; highly dramatic and vital so thoroughly human that it is verily nothing more than a slice out of real life.

"Tea for Three" will be seen here for one performance only. The seat sale opens at Mott's drug store Saturday, October 30th.
