Campaign Incidents Regretted.

Looking back over the campaign just closed there are many things to regret. Among them is the shattering of idols of various kinds in several ways. For example there is William Howard Taft. A friend of his once said "he was the worst President and best liked of all our Presidents." A lover of ease and seeker of pleasure he was almost universally appraised as an honest, amiable and honorable man who would bear false witness against nobody. Colonel Roosevelt admonished the public against him but most persons took the statements of the Colonel as the voice of selfishness influenced by disappointment, and passed them up as unworthy of belief. An estimate today would be different.

The recent campaign has altered the opinions of thousands with respect to Mr. Taft. For many years, even before he was thought of as a candidate for President, he has cherished an ambition to occupy a seat on the Supreme bench of the United States court. During recent years many of his fellow citizens shared in the hope that his ambition in that direction would be fulfilled. But incidents of the campaign have changed the public mind on that subject. It is a current belief that the next President will have the appointment of several justices of that court and as a bid for one of these party favors Professor Taft has reversed himself completely. He has contradicted every utterance of his life.

Other things to regret in the recent campaign are the vast increase in the expenses of political work and the utter disregard of honor and morality in campaigning. The chairman of the Republican National committee has revealed himself as a moral monster who hesitates at no iniquity to accomplish his purposes. Starting out to buy the office of President for a candidate whose cause he espoused he prostituted every agency available to that end. Beginning two years ago he bought a majority in the Senate to harass the President and has constantly since followed devious paths to debauch the vote. These methods will bring disaster to the country unless condemned by public sentiment forever.

Then there is a small chance that Colonel George Harvey may be eliminated from future party councils and in that case even a small chance is encouraging.

Good or Bad Accordingly.

The organization, in Harrisburg, the other day, of an association of dairymen to be affiliated with the National Dairy Council, may be conducive of good or evil, accordingly as it is managed. The ostensible purpose of the organization is to "promote human welfare and national efficiency by developing the dairy industry and increasing the consumption of milk and its products through co-operative and united effort of all Pennsylvania dairy interests." Nothing could be more desirable. Milk is not only a wholesome but it is a nutritious and palatable food and any concerted effort to increase its use is commendable. If the organization holds itself to that purpose it will deserve popular favor.

The people of this country eat too much meat for their own good and we know of no substitute as desirable as milk or the bi-products of the dairy. In the industrial sections of Europe cheese is eaten instead of meat and statistics show that it is quite as nourishing and much less harmful. If the organization in question will be able to make it a popular substitute for meat, it will not only contribute to the healthfulness of the country but take a long stride in the direction of reducing the cost of living. Cheese costs much less than meat and milk is a more healthful drink than coffee or tea. It might be possible, through concerted effort, to impress this fact on the public mind.

But if the purpose of the organization is to raise prices or oppress farmers who produce the milk and are practically cut out of the agencies of distribution, it will not serve a public advantage. There are too many organizations dedicated to selfish ends and in that event this one would be an addition to the number. The farmers are hard enough pressed already between the middle man and the consumer and unfortunately both ends in that combination are made to play in the interest of the middle. We want to encourage every plan that makes for the good of the producer and the consumer. But organizing the big fellows into forces of oppression are neither desirable nor beneficent.

They are making hats of wood in England, according to newspaper talk but that's nothing. In this country there are lots of wooden heads.

The offer of the German miners to go on a sympathy strike to help the English miners is carrying the spirit of fraternity to the limit.

Unofficial Vote of Centre County Tuesday, Nov. 2, 1920

Table with columns for Districts, Candidates, and Votes. Includes candidates like Harding, Wilson, and various local figures. Total votes listed at the bottom.

DEMOCRACY ROUTED BUT NOT SURRENDERING.

The vote for President in 2707 precincts out of 3226 in the State gave Harding, 351,645; Cox, 408,197. For United States Senator 2512 precincts gave Ernst 355,892; Beckham 386,897.

INCOMPLETE RETURNS FROM 90 OUT OF THE 95 COUNTIES IN TENNESSEE, gathered by the Commercial Appeal, up to 9 o'clock Wednesday night, show the Presidential race very close with both sides claiming victory by majorities of from 3000 to 5000. For Governor, Taylor, Republican, was leading Governor Roberts, Democrat, by 13,000 on the same returns.

OHIO.

The Republican avalanche of votes that swept over the nation Tuesday and elected Senator Warren G. Harding, President by one of the greatest pluralities in the nation's history, continued to pile up majorities by the thousand in the Senator's home State Wednesday for his colleagues.

Not a Republican candidate for State office was defeated and late returns indicated the possibility that the entire Ohio delegation in the next Congress may be Republican. In the present Congress there are eight Democrats and 14 Republicans from Ohio.

Harding's plurality over Cox passed the 300,000 mark late on Wednesday and was continuing to speed upwards with approximately 1000 precincts yet to be heard from out of the 7145 in the State.

Former Governor Frank B. Willis' plurality was climbing toward the 300,000 mark in his race against W. A. Julian for the right to occupy the seat that will be vacated by Senator Harding next March.

CALIFORNIA.

California voters Tuesday emphatically registered their approval of legislation against alien land ownership in the State. The amendment aimed at the Japanese, which will prohibit them from owning or holding land in the State, carried by at least three to one.

The Harris prohibition act, modeled after the Volstead enforcement measure, which would have given State official spower to enforce prohibition, was defeated.

California went overwhelmingly for Senator Harding on the face of returns from half the State. The only question left seemed to be the extent of the majorities that Harding and Samuel Shortridge, successful Republican for Senator, would receive.

OKLAHOMA.

Taking the lead in the Presidential race in Oklahoma on a tabulation compiled at 2 o'clock Wednesday, Senator Harding, on the face of unofficial and incomplete returns at 3 o'clock, had increased his lead over Governor Cox to 1291 in 1343 precincts out of a total of 2685 in the State.

THE SOUTH.

A real surprise in the Presidential election in the South has been furnished in Louisiana.

While Louisiana apparently was safely Democratic, the size of the vote polled by Harding came as a distinct surprise to leaders on both sides. He carried 10 parishes, apparently was an easy winner in the Third Congressional district, and received majorities in eight New Orleans city precincts, mostly in the up-town residential section. His vote in New Orleans alone was 17,000 to 31,400 for Cox, or more than the total Hughes received in the entire State four years ago.

All of the other Southern States appeared Wednesday to have rolled up the traditional Democratic majorities, with Democratic leaders in North Carolina claiming the largest majority there in the history of the State. While in some counties in Alabama and Georgia Republican majorities were returned, these had no effect on the outcome.

CHAMP CLARK DEFEATED.

All the other States in the Union counted their allegiance to their respective parties. Probably the most notable Congressional loss to the Democracy was the defeat of the Hon. Champ Clark in the Ninth Missouri district. He had been a distinguished and able member of Congress since 1893.

A WOMAN FROM OKLAHOMA.

Late returns indicate that Alice M. Robertson, Republican, has beaten W. W. Hastings, Democrat incumbent, in the Second Oklahoma district.

GOVERNOR COX TO VISIT EUROPE.

Gov. Cox accepted his defeat in fine spirit, asserting as he did throughout the campaign that he considered the contest as one for a great moral principle and in no wise personal. He is planning for a rest trip to Europe. President-elect Harding will go to Texas for a rest and probably to assure himself that there are really some Democrats in the country.

PRESIDENT WILSON MAKES NO COMMENT.

President Wilson had no comment to make on the result of Tuesday's election, nor did he send any messages of congratulation to President-elect Harding.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the President's personal physician, made a special visit to him at noon and stated subsequently that the President's health apparently had been unaffected by the result of the election. He said the President had had a restful night and that he was in "good condition."

Soldier's Remains Brought Home for Burial.

The remains of private Ira L. Wolf, who died of pneumonia on February 22nd, 1919, while serving with the A. E. F. in France, was among a recent consignment of soldier's bodies to be brought home for burial. They arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday and were taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wolf, of Coleville, where funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Alexander Scott, burial to be made in the Union cemetery.

Private Wolf was a member of the regular army prior to the United States entering the world war. His term of enlistment had expired and he was called for service in April, 1918. On going to France he was attached to the 305th Motor Supply company but was later transferred to the provincial military police of the Second army. The Brooks-Doll Post of the American Legion will attend the funeral in a body this afternoon.

Killed in Railroad Wreck.

Thomas Force, seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Force, of Pine Glenn, died in the hospital at Kittanning on Sunday, October 24th, as the result of injuries sustained in a railroad wreck near Kittanning the same morning. He was employed as a brakeman on a freight train and was injured in a rear-end collision. He is survived by his parents, seven brothers and sisters. The remains were taken to Pine Glenn where funeral services were held last Wednesday, burial being made in the Advent cemetery.

Edward Miller, son of Mrs. Della Miller, of Bellefonte, had his left leg broken below the knee while practicing football on the High school commons last Thursday afternoon. Both bones were fractured and the young man was taken to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment.

EBERHART.—Mrs. Agnes T. Eberhart, wife of Jacob Henry Eberhart, passed away at her home on North Penn street at 12:25 o'clock on Monday night. Just four weeks ago yesterday she suffered a stroke of paralysis and her condition had improved very little up to Monday morning when she suffered another stroke which resulted in her death at the time above stated.

Her maiden name was Agnes T. Shearer, a daughter of Ephraim and Catharine Moyer Shearer, and she was born at Zion on February 3rd, 1862, hence was 58 years, 8 months and 29 days old. Her girlhood life was spent at the home of her birth and on December 27th, 1888, she was united in marriage to J. H. Eberhart, and ever since had made her home in Bellefonte. She was a member of the Lutheran church from girlhood and always took an active part in the various church activities. In addition to her husband she is survived by three children, Misses Helen and Ruby, and Doyle, all at home. She also leaves three brothers and one sister, G. A. Shearer, of Olean, N. Y.; John and H. R., of Curwensville, and Mrs. Nellie E. Markle, of Harrisburg.

Rev. Wilson P. Ard had charge of the funeral services which were held at her late home at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, burial being made in the Union cemetery.

RILEY.—David G. Riley died at the Clearfield hospital on Friday, October 29th, following an operation. He was a son of Thomas and Elizabeth Riley and was born at Graysville June 19th, 1865, hence was in his fifty-sixth year. When but eighteen years of age he entered the service of the Pennsylvania railroad company and continued therein until a few weeks ago. He was married to Miss Juniata Hostetter, of Williamsport, twenty-five years ago and she survives with the following children: Mrs. John Nelson, of near Petersburg; Bruce, Joseph and Inez, at home. He also leaves four sisters, namely: Mrs. John W. Stiver, of Warriorsburg; Mrs. R. H. Long, of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. Linda Ritchey, of Franklinville, and Mrs. John B. Griffin, of Tyrone. Funeral services were held at the Griffin home at 10:30 o'clock on Monday after which interment was made in the Grandview cemetery, Tyrone.

NOLAN.—Mary Nolan passed away at the home of her son, George Goodwin, at Pennsylvania Furnace, last Friday, following a brief illness with valvular heart trouble, aged 73 years. Of late years she made her home at Dundanville, but was visiting at the Goodwin home when taken sick. She was twice married, her first husband having been George Goodwin, by whom she leaves eight sons and four daughters. Her second husband was J. B. Nolan, who died several years ago. Mrs. Nolan was buried on Monday afternoon, Rev. R. M. Campbell officiating.

NESTLERODE.—Miss Mary Nestlerode, a native of Eagleville, died in a Pittsburgh hospital last Wednesday of blood poisoning, alleged to have been caused by a drug injected into her gums by a dentist before extracting teeth. She was a daughter of the late John Nestlerode and was forty-five years old. She is survived by her mother and ten brothers and sisters, one of whom, Mrs. O. E. James, lives at Eagleville. The remains were taken to Eagleville on Friday and burial made in the Disciple cemetery on Saturday.

Tea for Three.

Ro'i Cooper Megrue's wonderfully interesting play, "Tea for Three," was the attraction at Garman's on Monday night. The lines fairly scintillate with the cleverest of repartee and they were interpreted so well as to have left nothing to be desired on the part of those who were there.

It is quite probable that the play was "over the heads" of some, but their interest could not but have been held by its many compelling comedy and dramatic denouements.

As "the Friend" Bert Leigh, as "the Wife," Millicent Hanley, and as "the Husband," J. W. Cowell, were so true to type and so natural in action as to suggest them more as some folks were really know in their own homes than as only players on a stage. Miss Marguerite Tyler and Ernest Hickok played the only two other roles there were in the cast, the maid and the valet, and in a way that brought out the importance of minor parts in a well balanced production.

Altogether it was a play that required artists to present and in this company the Selwyns seem to have gathered together a rare combination of them.

MURRAY.—Jacob Murray, a native of Lemont, died at Barnesboro last Friday following a few days' illness with pneumonia, aged 45 years. He is survived by one brother and a sister, George Murray, of State College, and Miss Belle Murray, of Lemont. The remains were brought to Centre county on Saturday and burial made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte, on Wednesday morning.

Senator Lodge may enjoy the notoriety he has acquired but most people will call it by the name of infamy.

CENTRE HALL.

J. H. Breon has been confined to his bed for several days. He is now on the mend. The entertainment by the minstrels, on Monday evening, was quite good, and drew a large crowd.

Mrs. Mary E. Shoop, who is now located in the Methodist Home, at Tyrone, arrived in Centre Hall on Saturday and will visit with friends for a week or more.

Wedding Bells! The home of merchant C. F. Emery was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday evening, when the second daughter, Miss Lillian, became the bride of Thomas Foss, who is employed in Altoona. Only a few of the intimate friends of the contracting parties, besides the families, witnessed the ceremony. The newly-weds will begin housekeeping in Altoona, near the place of Mr. Foss' employment. All good wishes are extended to the bride and groom.

Prices are high, beyond question, but it is comforting to know that there is money in most of the pockets to pay them.
