MONSTER HALLOWE'EN PARADE

Two Thousand in Line at Big Demonstration Monday Night.

The people of Bellefonte, Milesburg, Pleasant Gap and surrounding communities are to be commended on the whole-souled interest manifested in the big Hallowe'en demonstration of Monday night. From chief marshall G. Wash Rees leading the parade under the shelter of a big umbrella to Cecil Walker and Miss Pearl Royer as Uncle Sam and Miss Columbia bringing up the rear the display was magnificent. To describe it in detail is beyond the ken of even our facile pen, even were we able to describe the myriads of costumes such description would be utterly worthless as a news item for the simple reason that there was no way of telling who were inside the costumes. Not one in fifty of the masked and gaily costumed paraders were recognized by the general public, and for all we know many a pretty dress hid the stalwart form of man just as many buxom lassies may have been encased in a pair of old Rabbit Hunting Season Now On.

The rabbit hunting season opened on Monday and quite a number of Bellefonte hunters went out to try their luck, but so far as the writer observed there were no up-to-the-limit bags. Quite a number of hunters from other counties came to Centre county to try their luck and a few of them were successful in bagging strings of six and eight, but the total kill so far has not been large. In fact the weather is not favorable for good rabbit hunting, and especially without the aid of a seasoned rabbit dog.

FOURTH RED CROSS CALL.

Canvass.

The fourth Red Cross roll call for the Bellefonte Chapter will be made in one big drive on Sunday, November 14th, the day already designated as "Red Cross" Sunday, and proclaimed officially by President Wilson as "Armistice Sunday," and as such to be observed as a memorial to those American soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields across the sea.

The Bellefonte Chapter is already making preparations for the roll call and it is expected that the work of this one day will result not only in a 100 per cent. enrollment of present ber, visiting with her sister, Mrs. E. B. members, but in an over-subscription | Spangler.
