Former Bellefonte Boy Murdered at Spring Grove.

Paid after expiration of year -

2.00

Three weeks ago the "Watchman" told of the death of Charles Wise, twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wise, of Spring Grove, but formerly of Bellefonte, and at the time it was stated that his death was caused by a stray shot from some unknown hunter's gun. It now develops that the boy was deliberately murdered by one of his companions, a seventeen year old youth named Raymond Stambaugh, according to reports from Spring Grove.

The shooting occurred on October 23rd, and the boys' companions asserted that the bullet that killed the boy was fired by some one unknown. But when the boy was carried home the distracted mother discovered that instead of a single bullet hole the boy had been shot three times, and his blue woolen blouse was burned, showing that the shots had been fired at close range. After the funeral the parents of the boy made inquiries throughout the neighborhood and learned that no hunters had been afield that day. This confirmed their suspicions of foul play.

On Monday of this week, according to the story sent out from Spring Grove the parents took their son John. who was with his brother on the fatal 23rd of October, to the scene of the shooting, and after persistent questioning the lad told the following story: That Randolph Stambaugh, Elmer Gladfelter and himself started for the meadow near the town shortly after dinner on the day in question, and that Charles wanted to go along but they warned him to stay at home. The boy then returned home, procured a small rifle and returned to the meadow. The three older boys were hiding behind an old log and Charles shot his rifle in the air twice to attract attention. As the second shot was fired, the elder brother avers, they all got out from behind the log and went to where the boy was. Stambaugh grabbed him by the neck and taking a revolver from one of the other boys, shot him in the back. The boy fell mortally wounded and died in a short time. The boys then concocted the story of the stray shot from a

HELP RED CROSS ROLL CALL.

Its appeal based upon a record of solid achievement during the last year in putting under way its peacetime program, the Fourth Roll Call of the American Red Cross will begin this week. Throughout the length and breadth of the land and even in the far-off possessions of the United States, the American people will be given the opportunity to renew alle-Crago, John clerk Philipsburg Boro giance to their Red Cross through the Decker, Seward S., farmer.....Gregg payment of dues for the coming year. An adult membership of approximately 10,000,000 resulted from the Roll Call last year and preliminary reports from all parts of the country indicate that this extent of support will be maintained and possibly exceeded for 1921.

"The Red Cross comes to its Fourth Roll Call with its war task still unfinished and its peace program rapidly developing," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Central Com mittee. "Never were the world and national needs so pressing and the corresponding opportunities for service so great. Wide-spread distress and sickness stare us in the face in Europe and the Red Cross is carrying on to the extent of its resources, in an attempt to answer the call for help. How permanent and far-reaching that answer shall be depends upon the mind and the conscience of the American people.

The Work at Home.

"At home the wounded and sick sol diers and sailors in hospita.s and elsewhere are still umbered by the thousands. The Red Cross must stand by those who gave their best for their country and extend what aid and comfort may be possible.

"An attempt to build up the health of the country, which is the outstanding feature of the peace program of the Red Cross, is taking the energies of the organization. Demands for visiting nurses come from every corner of the United States and every effort is being made to supply that need, the filling of which is vital. The organization of Health Cente.s is opening up a new conception of community welfare everywhere. The new public philosophy of not merely curing the sick, but of keeping people well is opening illimitable lines of possibility. "The Junior Red Cross is developing in the school children of the country ideals and habits of sound citizenship which mean more, perhaps, than anything else for the future safety of our American democracy. Home Service is a necessary function of the Red Cross, for there are thousands of families of soldiers which are still in need of friendly counsel and relief. Along its historic line of activity and usefulness the Red Cross is standardizing its Disaster Relief, so that there shall be in constant readiness a trained organization ready upon a moment's notice to carry its work of mercy any. where."

Every One Should Join. Jas., farmer......Boggs Twp The Fourth Roll Call will begin generally throughout the country on the second anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, and continue, wherever necessary, to Thanksgiving Day, November 25. For many weeks National Headquarters, the fourteen divisions and the over 3650 Chapters have been organizing Red Cross workers everywhere for the big task that is involved in re-rolling the million of members. That the success of their efforts may be insured, churches, service men's organizations and fraternal and similar bodies are giving generous co-operation. Not the least important assistance that is being given is that of thousands of societies of the foreign born and the foreign language press which in this way are giving evidence of ap preciation for the wide variety of service rendered the immigrant population by the Red Cross. Preparations for the Roll Call include a novel series of posters, for the most part in text form, describing the peace-time work of the Red Cross In its many phases. An innovation in this Roll Call will be a membership certificate presented to every payer of dues, whether the dues be $1 for Annual Membership or $100 for Patron Membership, as well as a 1921 membership button and window membership flag.

Wilson Writing His Last Message to Congress.

President Wilson has begun work on his annual message to Congress, which will be transmitted either on the opening day of the next session on December 6th or on the day following. White House officials said they had no information as to what recommendations the President plans to make to Congress, but administration of-ficers expect that he will again urge enactment of a number of reconstruction measures which he recommended at the first special session of the present Congress early last year.

-The body of James A. Auman, of Miles township, who died in France on October 31st, 1918, arrived at his home at Wolf's Store on Monday, and will be buried this afternoon.

-Miss Mildred Jones returned from Pittsburgh on Tuesday evening almost entirely restored to health.

-The Rebersburg National bank, Curtis W. Bierly cashier, opened for business on Monday morning.

-When you want good job work come to the "Watchman" office.

American Legion Returns Thanks.

Editor "Democratic Watchman."

The Brooks-Doll Post No. 33 American Legion, wishes through the "Watchman" to express their full appreciation to all those organizations and individuals who joined in making Armistice day a success.

No movement could have had more genuine support from the entire community than was afforded the Legion in their first attempt to celebrate that day. It has a wealth of meaning and memory for us, and yet has more than casual meaning for every American man and woman who was behind our armies during those two and a half years. That it all has not been forgotten, that appreciation for the experience we all were forced to undergo, has not faded, that the people are not willing that the 11th of November shall be ignored but celebrated as the second Thanksgiving day of our country, was amply shown on last Thursday.

To the business men of Bellefonte, for their patriotism in declaring a half ho'iday, to all the various organizations who marched, and by their presence made the parade a success, and to all who supported us in our undertaking, we wish to express our appreciation.

With the assurance of hearty cooperation for the benefit of the community and our country, we remain,

Very truly yours, BROOKS-DOLL POST No. 33, American Legion.

W. Fred Reynolds, Jr., Commander.

Scarlet Fever Increasing.

Health officer Benjamin Aikey reported at this office, Wednesday evening, that there are now more than twenty-five cases of scarlet fever in his district, which comprises Spring, Benner and Boggs townships.

It is so prevalent in the country along the Jacksonville road that the Oak Grove school was closed on Tuesday and two of the Benner children, on the Brockerhoff farm, went down with the disease the day before the sale.

Up to this time we have not heard of a serious case, however. Most of them are what we used to call scarlet fonte, died at her home in Haverhill, rash or scarletina, a child's disease Mass., on Monday morning. In addithat was not viewed with alarm. tion to Mr. Sechler in Bellefonte she Nowadays medical science regards is survived by another brother, Wilthem all as scarlet fever, varying in liam Sechler, of Montgomery, Pa., and virulence, and treats them as such and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Foresman, of the same quarantine regulations obtain.

There have been quite a number of mild cases in Bellefonte though they ial was made at Montgomery, Lycomseem to be abating here.

But instead of improving he gradually grew worse until the end on Sunday evening.

Deceased was a son of John and Catherine Rhodes Dunlap and was born in Ferguson township on January 4th, 1851, hence was 61 years, 10 months and 10 days old. As a young man he learned the carpenter's trade, an occupation he followed all his life. He was a life-long member of the Methodist church and a member of Tussey Council No. 115, I. O. A., for twentyseven years. He was a staunch Democrat, a man of strong convictions and high principles, and a true and sincere friend and neighbor. On January 7th, 1875, he was mar-ried to Miss Lizzie Gummo, who survives with the following children: Miss Leah, of Spring City; John C., of Expedite; Randall H., of Twin Rocks; G. R., of Pine Grove Mills; Miss Edith, of Johnsonburg, and Miss Catherine, at home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Ed Bubb, of Colyer, and two grand-children.

Funeral services were held at his late home at Pine Grove Mills at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon by his pastor, Rev. I. E. Fisher, after which burial was made in the new cemetery.

WEBER .-- John P. Weber, a member of one of the oldest and best known families of Howard, passed away at 12:30 o'clock on Sunday following a year's illness of sarcoma of the throat.

He was a son of Balser and Magdalina Pletcher Weber and was born at Howard on January 15th, 1868, hence was in his fifty-third year. His entire life was spent at Howard where he was interested in the well known firm of Weber Bros. and for a number of years engaged in farming. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the I. O. O. F.

On September 19th, 1889, he was united in marriage to Miss Kate Yearick who survives with the following children: Nelle, Loretta, Mary, Helene, Virginia, John and Walter. He also leaves two brothers and two sisters, Abram, William, Mrs. Clara Weber Thomas and Mrs. C. M. Muffly, all of Howard. Funeral services were held at his late home at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, after which interment was made in the Schenck cemetery.

Wilson Bids Nation to Return Thanks.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.-Pres-ident Wilson issued his Thanksgiving proclamation tonight, saying that "in plenty, security and peace, our virtuous and self-reliant people face the future," and setting aside Thursday November 25, for the usual observances. The text follows:

"The season approaches when it behooves us to turn from the distrac-tions and preoccupations of our daily life, that we may contemplate the mercies which have been vouchsafed to us, and render heartfelt and unfeigned thanks unto God for His man-ifold goodness. This is an old observ-ance of the American people, deeply imbedded in our thought and habit. The burdens and the stresses of life have their own insistence.

"We have abundant cause for thanksgiving. The lesions of the war are rapidly healing. The great army of free men which America sent to the defense of liberty are returning to the grateful embrace of the nation, has resumed the useful pursuits of peace, as simply and as promptly as it rushed to arms in obedience to the country's call. The equal justice of our laws has received steady vindication in the support of a law-abiding people against various and sinister attacks, which have reflected only the baser agitations of war, now happily passing. "In plenty, security and peace, our virtuous and self-reliant people face the future, its duties and its opportunities. May we have vision to dis-cern our duties, the strength, both of hand and resolve, to discharge them, and the soundness of heart to realize that the truest opportunities are those of service.

"In a spirit, then, of devotion and stewardship, we should give thanks in our hearts and dedicate ourselves to the service of God's merciful and lov-

the service of God's merciful and lov-ing purposes to His children. "Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thurs-day, the twenty-fifth day of Novem-ber next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and I call upon my coun-trymen to cases from their ordinary trymen to cease from their ordinary tasks and avocations upon that day, giving it up to the remembrance of God and His blessings, and their du-tiful and grateful acknowledgement."
