WORSE THAN ANCIENT FORMS

Oldtime Ordeal by Fire and Water Declared Eclipsed by That of Modern Travel.

Those who opine that the widely advertised ordeals and trials of the olden days were the only simon-pure specimens have another opine coming to them. Their opiners, I may say, are badly out of kilter, writes Kenneth L. Roberts in the Saturday Evening Post. There was a time when I could shudder as with the palsy at some of the trials upon which mankind deliberately embarked before the old world had become as shopworn as it now is; but now that I have looked more deeply into the matter I can't get a shudder out of any of them. They weren't genuine, blown-in-theglass articles at all. Anybody could beat the game. There was always a little shop up an alley where for a certain consideration one could buy fireproofling material guaranteed to carry him safely through trial by fire, or an imitation stomach which could be lowered cunningly down the throat so that trial by poison could be safely negotiated, or asbestos paint of such potency that after three coats had been applied to the soles of the feet the owner of the feet could not only skip lightly across nine red-hot plowshares, but could even do a marathon on them if the occasion demanded it. keff, a native of Bulgaria. No; the gentlemen back in the dark ages who went through fire and water in order to demonstrate their worthiness to tall willowy blonds who lived less as some people suppose. And there is a present-day trial which makes those cleverly press agented trials of the moldy past look rickety and undernourished and nauseated. I refer to that celebrated European ordeal known as trial by travel.

Chinese Tea Myth.

An interesting myth has been woven about the 5 o'clock "tea." According to a Chinese legend, tea was discovered by a son of an Indian king, Darma, who in 519 A. D. paid a semireligious visit to China. To prove his religious fervor, Darma led an austere life, ate only vegetables, and prayed prayer, but one day, after many years, he was overcome with drowsiness and, against his will, slept. On awakening. he wept bitterly. To show his remorse he cut off his eyelids. The next morning he found the eyelids metamorphosed into two shrubs called "chaa," the Chinese for eyelids. The moral of this legend points out that Darma learned its arousing properties. In 1639, the Chinese presented the "chaa" or "tea" leaves to the czar, and later they were introduced into London.

An Ancient Secret From Europe.

A PITTSBURGH MAN

With Rosy Cheeks and Sparkling Eyes; Uses a Simple Plan to Fight Off Disease and Old Age.

H. H. von Schlick is known to millions of men and women as a human benefactor. He gave the secret of his change from a sickly sufferer to a strong, energetic man.

At 40 Mr. von Schlick, a wreck from disease, chanced to meet Boris Maro-Marokeff, at 96 years, was a physical giant, with mind clear, eye keen, complexion ruddy and enough health for a dozen people.

Marokeff explained that in his counin unheated stone castles and were try the natives never depart from nature in forming health plans. The matism were not so hardy and reckby a combination of herbs which help free the system of poisons, purifies blood and kidneys, keeps stomach in condition and regulates the liver.

"I'll make it for you," he told Mr. von Schlick. "It is composed of leaves, barks, roots, seeds, herbs and flowers of different plants. You will note a new feeling. You will begin to be a new man." Mr. von Schlick tried this nature tea; Marokeff's formula was a great discovery for healing the sick. He took on a new lease of life. Today at near 60 he is younger than when he began using Bulgarian Blood Tea at

Von Schlick secured the herbs from Europe, Asia and Africa. Von Schlick's constantly. He vowed never to sleep sickly wife became strong. A Truck for City, Farm and Interurban Deliveries.

T N the few years it has been on the market, the Ford One-Ton Truck has mounted ▲ rapidly to popularity. During the past year, more than one-third of the total number of trucks sold in the United States, were Ford One-Ton Trucks. It is a record of achievement made entirely on demonstrated merit. Wherever the Ford Truck has been used—on the farm, in the city, its sure, economical service and simplicity have made it a success. So that today it is a necessity for the wholesaler, the retailer, the farmer. It offers efficient and economic hauling for every business. Demountable Rims and Pneumatic Tires.

The Ford One-Ton Truck costs less to buy than any other truck; it costs less to operate and less to maintain. Added to this, is the Ford service organization; spare parts and Ford mechanics are always convenient and ready to keep the Ford Truck on the job. The Ford Truck cuts delivery costs. Because of increasing demand, orders should be placed without delay. Will give you prompt attention.
