December Term of Court.

The regular term of December court convened on Monday morning, with Judge Henry C. Quigley presiding. John Crago, of Phillipsburg, was appointed foreman of the grand jury and just here it might be stated that this august body established a record. Eight bills of indictment were given to them. They passed upon all of them, found a true bill in each case, examined the public buildings, submitted their report and were discharged by three o'clock the same day.

One of the true bills found was against William D. Hall, the convict who escaped from the penitentiary two years ago and shot an Altoona policeman before he was recaptured. After hearing the Commonwealth's evidence in the case when Hall was called for trial his attorney, Mr. Henderson, of Altoona, made a motion to quash the indictment as the statute of limitation prevents action after the expiration of two years.

After going over the list and noting the cases not ready for trial the case of the Commonwealth vs. C. A. Caulfield, charged with skipping a board bill at the Potter house in Phillipsburg, was taken up. The allegation of the Commonwealth was that the defendant had engaged boarding for himself and others and left after paying only ten dollars on account. The defendant admitted that he had gone away as above stated, but that he had confessed he had no money but would pay as soon as he got some, and had left personal effects of greater value than the bill. He was later arrested and when he got the money to pay the bill the prosecutor refused to accept it, and also to return his personal effects. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty but pay the costs and the defendant moved for a new trial which was promptly granted.

On Tuesday afternoon the case of N. E. Shaughnessy vs. The P. R. R. Co., was taken up, being an action in trespass to recover for an alleged injury in a train wreck at Dix on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad. The case was on trial until yesterday morning when it was given to the jury by the court with instructions to find a verdict for the defendant. Mr. Shaughnessy was represented in the trial of the case by Spangler & Walker, of Bellefonte, and John T. Lanahan, of Wilkes-Barre, while John Blanchard represented the railroad company.

Farm Bureau Annual Meeting.

Preparations have been made for a big farmer's day at the court house on December 23rd. This will be the third annual meeting of the Centre county farm bureau and the report of the year's work will be of interest to every farmer in Centre county. As there is no membership in this county, every farmer is a member of the farm bureau and has the privilege of voting for the officers at the annual meeting.

If the bureau is to serve you efficiently attend this meeting and give your suggestions as to how it can be made a better and more effective organization. The morning program begins at 10 o'clock and will include election of officers for 1921, and the county agent's report of the work accomplished during the past year, as well as discussion of the probable program of work next year.

In the afternoon E. L. Nixon, extension plant pathologist, will give a talk on potato improvement in Centre county. There will be one or two other short talks but the program has been arranged so that farmers from other sections of the county will be able to get home in good time.

Don't forget your exhibits for the corn, potato and apple show on the same day and place. At present it looks like a big show with a great many exhibits and keen competition in all classes. Centre has the goods, so should prove it by making this a big show.

Christmas Cards.

We have a rather attractive line of embossed Christmas cards which we are offering at $2.50 for twenty-five cards with enclosing envelopes to match. The price includes printing of any greeting desired. The selections are all in small quantity so that duplication is avoided. We can deliver in two days from receipt of order.

—THE WATCHMAN PRINTING HOUSE.

—It is said that Hungry Hi Johnson threw something like a conviction fit when he heard that Harding is consulting with Herbert Hoover.

ALEXANDER.—Mrs. Lillian Allison Alexander, widow of the late Dr. John F. Alexander, of Centre Hall, passed away at twelve o'clock Friday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank McCoy, in this place, following almost a year's illness.

Mrs. Alexander was a descendant of pioneer Scotch-Irish stock, dating back to George McCormick, the first settler of Spring Mills, and Robert McNitt, one of the first pioneers in the Kishacoquillas valley. They took an active part in the defense of what was at that early date the frontier and fought during the Revolutionary war. Her grandfather, Archibald Allison Jr., was one of the first purchasers of the Penn's lands in what is now Potter township, and which were part of what was known as the Manor of Sucooth. Mrs. Alexander possessed many of the sturdy characteristics of her forebears.

She was a daughter of William and Sarah McNitt Allison and was born at Potters Mills on September 28th, 1860, hence was 60 years, 2 months and 12 days old. She was educated in the public schools of Potter township and later graduated at Elmira College, Elmira, N. Y. Returning to Potters Mills she ably assisted in the care of the family home there until her marriage in 1898 to Dr. John Francis Alexander, of Centre Hall, the ceremony taking place at the Allison home and being performed by the late Rev. Dr. Laurie, of Bellefonte. Dr. and Mrs. Alexander made their home in Centre Hall and during the years of her residence in that place she endeared herself to a large circle of friends by her gentle womanliness, warm hearted hospitality and upright Christian character. In her girlhood days she united with the Presbyterian church but after her marriage she had her membership transferred to the Reformed church, of which her husband was a member. Her husband passed away in 1906 and she lived in Centre Hall until 1916 when she closed her home there and went to Potters Mills to care for her brother, Edward Allison, who was down with a serious illness. For three years she devoted herself to his care and comfort until he finally passed away a year ago. Last March she came to Bellefonte for a much needed rest but almost at once was stricken with the disease that finally caused her death. Although she was confined to bed almost nine months she was ever cheerful and thoughtful of all those upon whose care she was dependent, and her one regret was that she was unable to go to Spring Mills to assist in caring for her brother William, who has not been in good health for some months.

A member of a family which added largely to the history of Pennsylvania her immediate survivors are her sister, Mrs. Frank McCoy, of Bellefonte, and two brothers, Hon. William M. Allison of Spring Mills, and Archibald Allison, of Bellefonte. She also leaves two step-daughters, Mrs. Albert L. Vogt, of San Diego, Cal., and Mrs. George K. Reed, of Los Angeles, Cal.

Funeral services were held at the McCoy home at two o'clock on Monday afternoon. Rev. R. Raymond Jones, of the Centre Hall Reformed church, was in charge and was assisted by Dr. W. K. McKinney, of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church. Following the services the remains were taken to Spring Mills and laid to rest in the private cemetery of the Allison family. Her carriers were her four nephews, John McCoy, of Bellefonte; Charles and Frank Allison, of Toronto, Can., and William Allison, of New York city, assisted by John D. Meyer, of Altoona, and Henry S. Linn, of Bellefonte.

ROBINSON.—Samuel Robinson, for twenty-five years a resident of Bellefonte, died at the Altoona hospital at noon on Sunday as the result of an attack of pneumonia. He was taken to the hospital two weeks previous for treatment for cancer of the stomach but pneumonia developed, causing his death.

He was born in Lowden county, Va., forty-seven years ago, coming to Bellefonte at the age of twenty-two years. He was a good workman, sober and industrious and eventually was given employment by John P. Harris, as man of all work around his Linn street home. He worked for Mr. Harris twelve years, or until the Harris home was closed. Early last year he went to Altoona and got a job in Gable's department store where he had worked ever since.

Sixteen or more years ago he married Louisa Dunlap who survives with one daughter, Catharine. The remains were brought to Bellefonte on Monday morning and taken to his late home back of Beaver street, where funeral services were held at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon by the pastor of the A. M. E. church, burial being made in the Union cemetery.

LOVE.—Mrs. Belle Musser Love, wife of Rev. Curry H. Love, of Clinton, Arizona, died on Wednesday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. N. Houser, at Pennsylvania Furnace, following an illness of seven months.

She was a daughter of Samuel and Nancy Rider Musser and was born at Marengo, this county, on September 24th, 1873, hence was in her forty-eighth year. She was married to Rev. Love in 1901 who survives with one daughter, Janet Belle Love. She also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Dr. W. S. Musser, Michael, Marshall and Mrs. E. E. McClintock, of Tyrone; Howard, of State College; Edward, of Meyersdale, and Mrs. L. M. Houser, of Pennsylvania Furnace.

Rev. Love is now on his way east and funeral arrangements will not be made until his arrival.

ALEY.—Samuel Aley, the well known shoemaker of Marion township, passed away at his home in Jacksonville on Friday of last week following a year's illness with sarcoma. He was a son of Samuel and Mary Huff Aley and was born on February 10th, 1839, making his age 81 years and 9 months. He served during the Civil war and was an honored member of the G. A. R. Sixty-two years of his life were spent in the house in which he died last Friday.

He was married to Miss Nannie Johnson, of Jacksonville, who survives with five children: Edward and Ira Aley, of Jacksonville; William, of Niagara Falls; Mrs. Edward Leathers, Renovo, and Mrs. Edward Smith, of Lock Haven. He was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and Dr. W. K. McKinney, of Bellefonte, officiated at the funeral which was held on Monday, burial being made in the Jacksonville cemetery.

ALEXANDER.—Mrs. Tabitha Alexander, widow of Irvin G. Alexander, died on Monday morning at her home at Unionville following a two day's illness, aged 75 years, 4 months and 2 days. Her maiden name was Tabitha Baughman and she was born in Clearfield county. Practically her married life was spent in the vicinity of Unionville. Her husband died seven years ago but surviving her are one daughter, Mrs. P. J. Loughrey, of Philadelphia, and one brother, Tace Baughman, of Clearfield county. Burial was made yesterday afternoon in the lower cemetery at Unionville.

SMALLWOOD.—Mrs. Robert Smallwood died at her home at Paulsboro, N. J., on Sunday, following an extended illness. She was the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson P. Ard, of Woodward, Pa., and a sister of Major George P. Ard, of St. Louis, Missouri.

Interesting Sunday School Conference.

A large and representative number of delegates attended the mid-year conference of Sunday school workers in Centre county held in the Lutheran church in this place last Friday. The first session opened at ten o'clock with devotional service conducted by Rev. Dr. R. H. Hancock. The county president, E. R. Hancock, introduced as the first speaker Miss Emma G. Lemen, the State primary superintendent, who told of the work being done in her division.

The next speaker was Mr. John C. Sisley, State administrative superintendent, who used the topic "Administration Dynamics" as the basis of a very interesting talk on Sunday school work. Among the many good points he made were the following: "Enthusiasm is our biggest asset. The childhood of our country demands our best. Right form work is much more important than reform work. Time is the essence, delay is criminal; we should be the tithers of our time as well as tithers of our money. We are just as big as we think; I can do all things" is the expression of a winning faith. Only those who finish are acclaimed the victors. Courage, patience, and well directed, sustained energy are virtues conquering the world."

At the conclusion of Mr. Sisley's talk the conference members adjourned to the basement of the church where an appetizing lunch was served by the ladies of the congregation.

At one o'clock p. m. the county executive committee held a brief session and decided that the next annual convention be held at Millheim on June 7th and 8th, 1921. On motion the association treasurer was authorized to execute a loan of $200 to enable him to pay the first quarterly installment of the State pledge as well as a few other bills.

When the general session opened at 1:35 Mrs. R. S. Brouse was introduced and gave a brief outline of the world's Sunday school convention held in Tokyo, Japan, in October. The remainder of the afternoon was taken up by Mr. Sisley in concluding his talk begun at the morning session. The following resolutions were adopted:

- Resolved, First, that the 18000 officers, teachers and pupils of the Sunday School association of Centre county, through its executive officers, in the Lutheran church, Bellefonte, December 10th, petition the Honorable Court of Centre county to refuse all applications for license to sell intoxicating liquors in the coming year.
- Second, that recognizing the sacredness of our constitution and the obligation resting upon all citizens to abide by and enforce every law on the statute books of our country, the 18th amendment of the constitution and the Volstead act included, we hereby call upon all citizens, especially those elected to office in town, county and State, who heartily to stand back of the constitution and the spirit of true patriotism without fear or favor, and see that these laws are everywhere enforced.

Turn on the Lights and Make Hens Lay More Eggs.

With eggs bringing a return of a dollar a dozen in some parts of the State, poultrymen should make every effort towards a higher winter production. Lengthening the hen's feeding day by the use of artificial illumination is not a new experiment, but is one that has proved practical through experience. Specialists at The Pennsylvania State College recommended a "feeding day" of from twelve to fourteen hours through the use of electric lights in the poultry houses. Too long a day is likely to force a spring moult. Morning light seems to give the best results. Proper feeding is essential.

Answers to Health School Questions.

Question 1—How is Rabies contracted?
Answer—By the saliva of a rabid animal coming in contact with an open wound, usually by the bite of a rabid animal.

Question 2—How should a dog bite be treated?
Answer—The wound should be enlarged, made to bleed freely, washed out well and cauterized.

Question 3—What should be done with a dog suspected of Rabies?
Answer—The dog should be killed, his head should be packed in ice and sent to the nearest diagnostic laboratory.

The next lesson is entitled "The Leak." The use of antitoxin for diptheria has very greatly reduced the death rate from that disease. It is possible to go still further and by the use of "Toxin-Antitoxin" to eliminate diptheria entirely.

Penitentiary Inmates Study Agriculture.

State College, Pa., Dec. 15.—More than three hundred prisoners at the western penitentiary at Rockview, only a few miles from the college, occupy some of their time in studying scientific farming by correspondence with the agricultural school at The Pennsylvania State College.

According to John Francis, the warden at the penitentiary, and Prof. T. I. Mairs, who has charge of this agricultural instruction, the inmates there have taken a greater interest in the work in the last few months than ever before. Over one hundred of the men eagerly study one lesson after another, and cases have been reported where some of these upon their release have settled down on farms in various parts of the country. This co-operative instruction was started only a few years ago and is now more active than ever. Professor Mairs on a recent visit to the penitentiary spoke to many of the men on the advantages to be secured through such study of agriculture, and enrolled an additional number. The lessons are supplied without expense to the prisoners or the State, as they are to any one in Pennsylvania who desires to specialize on any agricultural subject.

ORVISTON.

George Hahn back once more. He is still feeling the effects of his injury and sports crutches. He was in the Lock Haven hospital over three weeks. Charles Lucas developed an acute attack of appendicitis on Sunday and was rushed to the Lock Haven hospital for an operation. His condition is considered serious. His foster brother, Wilbur, is also quite ill in the same hospital.

James Kephart, the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Kephart, fell from the table Sunday and cut his mouth and tongue badly, also knocking out a few of his teeth. He was taken by auto to the Lock Haven hospital, where several stitches were put in his tongue. He is much better.

Francis Dullin is back from a visit to Mrs. Dullin and the little daughter. Mrs. Dullin has been caring for the children of a deceased sister, at Westport, for some time, but is waiting until the whooping cough abates before bringing the Dullin children to Orviston, and we are hoping it will be soon, as she is a general favorite.

Whooping cough still hangs on well, the latest victims being the two baby daughters of Hensyl Young, Dorothea and Helen, and their little brother Harvey. Mildred and Beatrice Croll and Eva Estright are still whooping it up, but are on the mend, except little Eva, is really very ill, suffering with a slight hemorrhage Sunday.

Burdine Butler, who has been an almost life-long resident of Centre county, died December 12th, at the residence of his son, James Butler, of Romola. Deceased was about 87 years old, and is survived by the following children: Mrs. Alice Chapman, of Lock Haven; Mrs. Carrie Krape, of Howard; John Butler, of Lock Haven, and William, Samuel and James, of Romola. Mr. Butler also leaves a large number of grand-children, some of whom reside in Orviston. The family has the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends.

Among those who spent Sunday at the A. C. Peters home were, Mr. and Mrs. John Kocher, of Meek's church; Mrs. Sue Peters and Miss Mildred Peters, and Mr. Harpster, of Pine Grove Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosemer Warren and baby, who have been in Oklahoma for some time, arrived at the home of Mr. Warren's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gingrich, on Tuesday. They will spend an indefinite time here.

Artificial Wool.

The artificial wool which has been under test at Leeds (Eng.) university is produced from cotton waste, its basis being cellulose acetate. It is claimed that the product is an even better insulator against heat and cold than wool, that it takes dyes successfully, and that it will wear well. In the experiments made, it has been satisfactorily converted into fabrics. Equal parts of artificial wool and natural wool gave a cloth resembling tweed, and the head of the university's textile department has suggested that this should be useful for men or women fancying homespun effects in clothing. Cheapness and possible wearing qualities constitute the special appeal of the material. Its defects are said to include inelasticity and liability to break, and these unfit it for yarns of the worsted type, requiring a combing length of two inches or more, though it may serve well for yarn and cloth where short fibers are suitable.

New Aircraft Rises Vertically.

Stimulated by recent offers of large money prizes a number of French aeronautical engineers are busy with the construction of vertically rising, heavier-than-air machines. The largest of these is a helicopter, characterized by its unusually large size and substantial construction, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The wings resemble in plain the leaves of a four-leaf clover, and are carried on metal tubes which radiate from a central upright. This upright is mounted on the middle of the metal fuselage and is revolved by a nine-cylinder radial engine.

Had a Home-Made Lock.

A few years ago we were enjoying a vacation trip in a little car of ancient vintage. This little car had been built originally without a windshield; later we had improvised one, using a bent wood frame. One day while I was waiting for my wife another motorist walked up to me and said: "Do you know that car of yours doesn't look so bad until one sees the windshield, and then any one can tell you made the whole thing yourself."—Exchange.
