

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The Thimble Bee of the ladies of the Reformed church will be entertained at the home of Mrs. D. R. Foreman, on Spring street, Friday afternoon of this week.

The ladies Bible class of the Lutheran church will serve a sauer kraut and baked bean supper in the basement of the church, Thursday evening, February 3rd. Price of supper, 75 cents, including dessert.

Dr. A. L. Martin, of State College, will address the Bellefonte Woman's club on Monday evening, January 31st, at 8:30 o'clock, after the regular business meeting. His subject will be, "Pacific Ocean and Japano-American Relations." The club extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the meeting.

Don't miss the big auto show to be held in the armory, Bellefonte, beginning tomorrow and continuing next week. Auto dealers from all over Centre county have taken space for exhibits and practically every standard make of car will be represented. Good music every day of the week by the Mandolin club, of State College.

The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church was held on Wednesday evening, Messrs. F. H. Thomas and James C. Furst, whose terms as trustees expired on January 1st, declined a re-election, and James W. Herron and Charles F. Mensch were chosen as their successors. No other business of importance was transacted.

Miss Grace A. Marvin, who for some time past has been associated with the Robin Film company, at Culver City, Cal., has accepted a more enticing offer with the Hal Roach studios, of the same city. Miss Marvin has been engaged in motion picture work for some months and is evidently proving a success when rival producers go bidding for her services.

A quantity of ice was harvested last week before the warm wave struck this locality, but it is not anywhere near enough to keep Bellefonte cool during the coming summer. From all indications the remainder of the winter will be a succession of cold and warm spells, and ice men should take advantage of every spell of cold to fill their houses, else they are liable to be short on ice next summer.

A letter received this week by Mrs. A. J. Cruse from her son, Templeton Cruse, of Pittsburgh, contained the information that he has been made superintendent of delivery of mails in the Pittsburgh postoffice, and will thus have charge of all outside deliveries. This is quite a promotion and his many friends in Bellefonte will be glad to know that his efficiency in the postal service is bringing its reward.

According to a summary just issued by the Department of Internal Affairs the number of men employed in productive industry in Centre county during 1920 was 3750. They earned an average wage of $985.71 and the value of the product of each one is estimated at $2,519.41. The productive value of the Centre county employee is within six of being the lowest in the State, while the average wage paid was within fifteen of being the lowest.

At the annual meeting of the Harris Dental association in Lancaster on Wednesday of last week Dr. Wilbur Twitmore, of that city, was elected president of the association. Dr. Twitmore is a son of Mr. W. T. Twitmore, of Bellefonte, and the fact that the Harris Dental association is the only society of its kind in Lancaster city and Lancaster county, Dr. Twitmore's election as president of the same is quite an honor for a man so young in the profession.

A great benefit matinee for the European relief fund will be given at the Scenic theatre to-morrow afternoon, January 29th, in the wonderful play, "The Soul of Youth." The story is similar to that of "Huckleberry Finn," with a human interest that will appeal to all. Also, a two-reel Buster Keaton comedy, which is a scream. The admission will be 25 cents flat, with no war tax, every penny received to be donated to the relief fund. Judge Lindsay, of Denver, appears in this picture.

Mrs. Emma Cooke was defendant in a case heard before Squire J. M. Keichline the past week, the action being one for damages brought by James R. Hughes for the mutilation of two trees standing on the Academy property. After hearing the evidence the justice postponed the case several days and went onto the ground and viewed the damaged property after which he imposed a fine of thirty dollars and costs upon the defendant in default of the payment of which a jail sentence was attached. Mrs. Cooke appealed the case to court.

For some time past there has been an impression among various residents of Bellefonte that the town clock on the court house was not showing correct time. The clock is not only kept in running order but properly adjusted by F. P. Blair & Son, and on Wednesday of this week when compared with the correct Washington time it was found to be just one second out of the way. In the future readers of the "Watchman" will find at the bottom of the F. P. Blair & Son advertisement in this paper a line stating just how the clock is—whether fast or slow.

COME TO THE AUTO SHOW.

Grand Opening Will be Held in Bellefonte Armory Tomorrow.

Twenty years ago the automobile was regarded merely as the rich man's toy; today it is the poor man's friend. It neither eats nor sleeps and the only expense outlay entailed is when it is working. The passenger car, the light and heavy delivery trucks and the farm tractor have all proven their value in this twentieth century progress and it would be practically impossible to get along without them.

Millions and millions of dollars are invested in the manufacture of the various types of cars today and the majority of the types have reached that standard of perfection where they may all be characterized as good. The only question at issue being the special type each buyer might prefer. And that is the main excuse for the big auto show which will be held in the armory in Bellefonte for one week, beginning tomorrow.

Dealers from all over the county have taken exhibition space in the armory and will have cars and accessories on display, so that the prospective purchaser will be able to see just what the car is like, whether it be a passenger vehicle, a big truck or a farm tractor. Competent representatives of the various dealers will be on hand to give any and all information desired. Prospective purchasers and present owners of cars should not miss this opportunity of seeing a big auto show. It is the first of the kind ever held in Centre county, and will be complete in every detail.

There will be special days for every section of Centre county, but this will not prevent any one from attending every day, if they feel disposed to do so. In addition to the exhibition there will be lectures on the care of cars, the utility of trucks and tractors, and a musical program every day by the Mandolin club of State College.

Consult the big advertisement on page five of this issue of the "Watchman" as to the details of the show, then be sure to attend.

Tractor Clinic During Auto Show.

On Tuesday, February 1st, in conjunction with the Auto Show, Bellefonte is to be the scene of a tractor clinic, which promises to be well attended and one of the most interesting days of the show.

To the average individual a gathering of this nature has no special attraction. But with the introduction of power farming in agriculture in recent years, it means much to the person closely associated in the development of farm lands. The tractor for power on the farm has solved the labor problem to a great degree and has done much toward making farming a more profitable and pleasant business.

A very interesting program has been arranged for the occasion, consisting of motion pictures depicting the tractor in many phases of its work, an exhibit of farm implements as well as the working parts of a tractor and talks by persons directly associated with the development of the farm tractor. Prof. R. U. Blasingame, dean of the department of agricultural mechanics, of The Pennsylvania State College, will talk on "Power and Progress."

Several hundred invitations have been sent out, but in the event you did not receive one and are desirous of attending this gathering, communicate with the Beatty Motor company, at Bellefonte, and they will gladly send you an invitation.

To Improve the Union Cemetery.

Bellefonte's picturesque home of the dead—the Union cemetery—will be very much improved and beautified the coming summer, if the plans recently formulated by the cemetery association can be carried out successfully. They include the raising of a fund for the purpose of fixing up and putting under perpetual care the old and practically filled up portion of the cemetery. This will mean the resetting of the tombstones and markers, grading of lots, sodding, etc. A temporary committee of well known men and women of Bellefonte has been appointed to solicit contributions to the fund.

In this connection it might be said that all persons whose ancestors are buried in the cemetery should contribute as liberally as possible to the fund. They should be interested in seeing that the graves of their forefathers are not only put in a more presentable condition but kept green at all times. And the only way this can be assured is through the agency of a perpetual care fund. It is hoped to have a sufficient fund on hand to begin the fixing up of the cemetery early in the summer, and because of this fact the committee will start in at once to solicit contributions. It might further be added that the trees and driveways in the cemetery will also be taken care of through the perpetual care fund.

Notice.

All interested persons are invited to attend a meeting at the court house, Bellefonte, on Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., January 30th, 1921, to hear the Honorable John F. Kramer, United States prohibition law enforcement officer, of Washington, D. C. This meeting should appeal to all who are in favor of the United States being governed by regularly enacted legislation for the betterment of the people as a nation. No admission charge will be made but an offering will be lifted to defray expenses.

Wanted.—A waitress.—Mrs. W. F. Reynolds.

—We supply real Punxsutawney coal. Telephone orders on Bell phone 169-W will receive prompt attention. —J. M. Showers & Co. 4-1t

—By consulting the Scenic advertisement in another column of this paper motion picture fans will be able to see just what will be shown at that popular place of amusement during the coming week. But you can't always go by names. The name of a play might not appeal to you, and yet the picture be one of the very best. Therefore, it is a wise move to go to all of them, then you'll be sure to see the good ones. And you can't go far wrong, because every picture is worth seeing.

Sunday will bring two interesting and very prominent speakers to the Lutheran church. At 10:45 a. m., Hon. John F. Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner, will speak along the lines of the layman's part in church work. Mr. Kramer is one of the active men in the Lutheran church body and is a most excellent speaker. At 7:30 p. m., Dr. I. Chantry Hoffman, of Philadelphia, will speak on "God's Big Business." Dr. Hoffman is a most vigorous talker and his address will be helpful and inspiring. Visitors welcome at both services.

The "Watchman" omitted to mention the fact last week that Hon. A. G. Morris, of Bellefonte, had been elected president of the board of managers of the Huntingdon reformatory at the annual meeting held two weeks ago. Mr. Morris was appointed a member of the board in 1896 and served continuously until 1916, having been president of the board for three and a half years. At the expiration of his commission in 1916 he was not reappointed but was again appointed to the board by Governor Sprout after his accession to office and now that he has again been elected president he will be back in the old chair which he filled so admirably before.

The Washington Furnace Lands Sold. Fishermen, hunters and picnickers all over Central Pennsylvania will be interested in the announcement that Charles L. Steele, of Northumberland, has sold his holding of mountain land in the Fishing creek narrows to the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal & Iron company. There are thousands of acres in the tract, which extends from the gap at Lamar clear through into Sugar valley. It is covered with fair second growth timber but as to whether that was what the new purchasers got it for we know not. We do know that last summer Mr. Steele was perfecting plans to cut the chestnut which was going back because of the blight. The only reservation he made in the sale was of the big farm at Lamar. Lately he has improved it very much and expects to hold it.

Convention of Road Supervisors.

The annual convention of the Supervisors' Association of Centre county will be held in the court house, Bellefonte, on Wednesday, February 9th, 1921. The meeting will be called to order by the officers of the association at 10 a. m. Supervisors are urgently requested to attend this convention as this is one of the most important duties of your office as township supervisor.

Either Joseph W. Hunter, township commissioner, or a representative of the township division will be present and will explain and answer questions relating to the State reward act. This is of vital importance to Centre county and to every supervisor in the county because of the fact that during the present year Centre county did not take full advantage of the provisions of this act, and as a result, over $2,000 went to other counties that should have been spent on the roads and bridges of Centre county.

Three Academy Students Injured.

On Sunday afternoon John Alwine, D. Brown, Willard Davis, and Messrs. Ennis and Knauer, took a walk and finally landed in one of the American Lime and Stone quarries, above the Bellefonte Central railroad shops. After looking through the quarry they came to one of the dump cars standing on the quarry track and conceiving the idea of taking a short ride down the grade. They all got into the car and started, but unfortunately the car soon acquired a momentum which they were unable to control. At the speed the car was traveling it was dangerous to attempt to get off and the five young men stuck to the car hoping that something would happen to get them out of their predicament.

And something did happen, but not just what they hoped for. The car ran to the end of the trestle, then tumbled down over the embankment, a distance of twenty-five feet or more. Of course the young men went with it. Knauer, Davis and Ennis, sustained a few ugly cuts and bruises, but no broken bones, while Brown and Alwine escaped without injury. The latter two assisted their companions into Bellefonte and to a physician's office, where they had their injuries dressed, all thankful that they got off so luckily, as one or more of them might have been killed. They also were left off pretty easily by the American Lime and Stone company, as all that has been required of them is to pay for the damage done.

Bellefonte Woman Still in Durance, but Safe.

Bellefonte friends of Mrs. Elinor Cook McDowell will be glad to learn that while she and her husband are still held in durance by the Turks they are both perfectly well and in no personal danger, as is evidenced by the following letter received from Mr. McDowell which was written on board a Near East relief ship, as they are not allowed to either write or receive mail where they are retained:

On board U. S. S. "Overton," Samsun, Turkey, Jan. 4. Dear Mr. Cook—I have this chance to come on board ship and write a note. You have probably heard of our situation. The N. E. R. is here to work but we can receive or send no mail. The Turkish government is making it as difficult as possible without actually putting us out. We are perfectly safe and are personally being treated courteously. Elinor and I are both well and happy. She had no chance to come aboard this time. She and I are carrying on the whole work where formerly there were five Americans.

We are counting on leaving here the first of April and reaching America some time in May. This is the first time in the four years that I have been out here that I have been keen on going back. But now I am fed up with the relief work and all the troubles that attend it. We will spend several months, at least, in the States, and may remain a year. What's going to happen out here I have no idea, probably more war.

We are entirely without news of the outside world. No mail of any kind. Continue writing, however, to Constantinople. We may get out soon. I haven't more time. With much love from both of us.

ROBERT McDOWELL.

Ralph Weaver Killed by Train.

Ralph Weaver, son of Jacob Weaver, of Hublersburg, was instantly killed on the railroad near the depot in Howard about two o'clock on Monday afternoon. He with one or two other men were engaged in loading a car with props for P. B. Crider & Son, of Bellefonte. Weaver went into the station to get a drink of water and as he stepped out of the building he saw a train coming down the track which he supposed was the Pennsylvania-Lehigh east.

An open freight car was standing on the siding just opposite the station and Weaver walked over and stood behind it waiting for the oncoming train to pass. But the train was not the Pennsylvania-Lehigh but local freight engaged in shifting, and according to reports they made a flying switch, shunted a car onto the siding which in turn bumped a freight car standing thereon and the latter car ran down against the car behind which Weaver was standing. This car was also bumped into action and Weaver being close to it was knocked down and run over, his body being badly mangled.

The unfortunate young man was not quite twenty-three years old, and was born at Hublersburg. His mother died when he was quite young and since then he made his home with an aunt. He is survived by his father but no brothers or sisters. The remains were taken to Hublersburg where funeral services were held at one o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. Messner, burial being made in the Hublersburg cemetery.

"My Soldier Girl."

Containing more than a score of novelties and elaborate scenic ideas, the musical spectacle, "My Soldier Girl," the season's greatest success, coming to the Garman opera house next Monday night, is without doubt the most novel attraction of the entire season. The producers, LeComte and Flesher, have spent money freely to make this play elaborate in every detail. The feature novelties are many, including the popular "flirtation walk," an illuminated run-board extending from the stage almost to the rear wall of the auditorium. The girls, in novel drills and cleverly staged dances, are a treat to look upon. A brilliant lawn fete, with banks of flowers and lights, New York city in grand illumination and shimmering opalescent scenery fulfills every expectation. The famous "pony" ballet from the roof of the New York theatre, is a revelation, while the cleverly selected cast is all that can be desired to make "My Soldier Girl" a success.
