In the absence of Rev. W. J. Shultz on Sunday last the pulpits on the Zi-on charge were filled by Prof. James R. Hughes, of the Bellefonte Academy. A large audience was present at Snydertown in the evening and all en-joyed the sermon. Rev. Shultz was absent as supply at the Jersey Shore Lutheran church, which is vacant at present.

On Thursday of last week Mr. A. B. Beck took the train for Jackson-ville, Florida, to visit his son, John D. Beck, who is in charge of a large stock farm near that place. The farm is owned by a Mr. Logan and is stocked with several hundred head of Aber-deen Angus cattle, all full blooded. The herd drew a number of prizes at the recent Florida state fair. Mr. Beck expects to spend some time in ALMOST ADAMLESS EDEN.

Antioch, Neb .- There are now only 43 men in a population of nearly 1000 in this town. Two months ago there were more men than women. They were employed in four big potato-reducing plants, all of them now closed. Two of these are in the Bankruptcy States.

Many employees of these two com-panies had not been paid off when the crash came. They had to leave their families behind when they trekked elsewhere for a job. Some of them were so short of money, that, they court. were so short of money that they walked many miles to nearby cities of Having insufficient funds to pay the country merchant, the latter could not pay his account with the fertilizer makers, who dispose of their product through him. Then the fertilizer companies cancelled their contracts with the potash makers, leaving two of these so far out on a financial limb that in order to hold their properties together they had to go into bankruptcy. They hope to reopen when the financial situation enables the fertilizer companies to resume buying. The Nebraska potash lakes, during the period of the war, yielded richer dividends than most gold mines. Germany, the sole source of supply, be-ing cut off, the fertilizer makers bid against each other and ran the price up to where 50 per cent. a month was earned by the first company. #### Washington and George III.

One of the most important letters of George Washington ever offered for sale in Great Britain was sold in London a few years ago for $900. It London a few years ago for $900. It is three pages quarto, is dated "Mount Vernon, Feb. 5, 1789," and is address-ed to Samuel Powell. In it Washing-ton refers to George III's first attack of madness, saying: "Be the cause of the British king's insanity what it may, his situation (if alive) merits commiseration. Better, perhaps, would it have been for his nation, though not for ours (under present prospect) if the event had happened at the time." The letter was written the day after Washington was elect-ed the first President of the United States

Martha Washington, according to all accounts was an ideal helpmate for the first President, of whom somebody has said, "Providence left him child-less that he might be called the Father of His Country."

The Minister's Fault.

A man in a threadbare coat and a week's beard came out of a downtown mission, where he had signed the pledge and joined the church, only to be nabbed for theft a half hour later. "Why did you make off with the pocketbook you saw this lady drop in the street?" demanded the judge in court.

"It's all the minister's fault," de-clared the thief, in depreciation. "I went to him discouraged and out of money, and he told me I must learn to take things as I found them."-Judge.

HAT BOTHERED "UNCLE JOE"

Veteran Legislator Objected to "Plug," But Was Finally Persuaded to Don It Temporarily.

In 1901 Representative Cannon was living at the Cochran hotel, and the evening before the inauguration, L. White Busbey, now his private secretary, but at that time correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean, entered Mr. Cannon's room at the hotel and found the venerable legislator standing before a mirror and swearing over a plug hat with which he was practicing

"I tell you I won't wear the d-n thing," ejaculated Uncle Joe explosively. "I never wore one in my life and I won't begin now."

"But, Mr. Cannon," suggested Busbey amiably, "if you don't wear it you will attract more attention in the parade than the president, and you don't want to do that." "How's that?" snapped Uncle Joe.

"Why," exclaimed Busbey, "you will be the only man in the carriage that won't be wearing a silk hat, and you will be too conspicuous." At that comment Miss Cannon, the daughter whose devotion to her father was so well known, entered the room. "Father will wear the hat, Mr. Busbey," said Miss Cannon gently. "You needn't worry." Uncle Joe dutifully wore that hat the next day. He wore it again at the funeral of McKinley. These are said to be the only times in his life he has worn a silk hat .-- Washington Letter in Boston Transcript.

These furnaces will burn 1,000 tons of coal per day, and from the time the coal leaves the mines in West Virginia until its residue is carried away as ashes, it will not be touched by human hands. All requisite operations will be done mechanically-dumping, pulverizing, carrying to bins, stoking, and even transportation of the ashes in small dummy cars.

It Was Easter, Too! A cabinet officer said at a dinner, appropos of certain criticisms on his department: "Politics—all politics. Nothing, not even woman, is as cruel as politics, and yet woman can be very cruel.'

The secretary then told a story about the cruelty of woman. "One Easter Sunday," he said, "two ladies met on the Atlantic City boardwalk with little outcries of surprise and joy. "Why Mame!" said the other lady.

How flattering this is!" "'Flattering ?' said the younger la-dy, with a perplexed air. 'How so?" "'You haven't seen me,' said the older lady, 'for seventeen years-and yet you recognize me, so to speak, right off the bat. That means I have not changed so dreadfully, doesn't it?' "The younger lady gave a cold laugh. "'Oh,' she said, 'I recognized your bonnet.'"—Washington Star.

A Safe Test

For those who are in need of a rem-edy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kid-ney Pills. They are strongly recom-mended by Bellefonte people. Mrs. J. F. Thal, 23 N. Thomas St., Bellefonte, says: "I suffered with back ache and severe nains through back ache and severe pains through my kidneys. I had headaches and dizzy spells, when I first got up in the morning and my kidneys acted irreg-ularly. My attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills and I heard of so many being benefitted by their use that I procured a box at the Green Pharmacy Co. That one box removed the backache. The headaches and dizzy spells left and my kidneys became regular and I felt better in every way. I cheerfully recommend Doan's to anyone who suffers as I did." (State-ment given October 19, 1918). On October 18, 1919, Mrs. Thal said: "I am very glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. Today I am a well woman and to recommend Doan's is a pleasure.' Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't

In fact there will be more changes in the low-er end of Walker township than have occurred in many years, but only one change in ownership is involved. heirloom in Miss Lovell's family, and few knew of its existence. Upon her father's death she became its owner. It was known to the family as "Washington's headquarters flag.

"That it is the unidentified flag of Peale's portraits there can be no doubt," said the Rev. W. Herbert Burk, founder of the Valley Forge museum, who obtained the treasured relic. "The flag of one picture," says the Rev. Mr. Burk, "it a blue jack with thirteen stars. The flag now in the museum is a light blue silk jack with thirteen stars, the blue faded and the stars yellow with age."

The flag is thirty-six inches long and twenty-eight inches wide. The heading is of homespun linen, with three eylets worked with thread. The stars are six pointed, double stitched, and the silk back of them has been cut out to show the stars on both sides. The stars are not arranged in a circle, but in lines following the crosses of the British flag, which the Rev. Mr. Burk said, seems to have been the earlier arrangement.

The fame of the Beautiful Women of Kentucky has been told the world over in song and story. Yet we sel-dom hear of the wondrous beauty of the Women of Bulgaria far off in the Famous Balkan country of oriental Europe.

BLOOD WILL TELL.

The Bulgarians are famous for their knowledge of Botany and produce at least two-thirds of the World's most Famous Perfume, "Attar of Rose." Their fellowship with nature for thousands of years has taught these people the secret of health and long life. They seek from nature the means for keeping the blood pure by brewing nature's roots, barks, leaves, seeds, berries and flowers in tea form. This Bulgarian style of blood tea has been used by the Bulgarians for centuries.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION.

Keeping the system in perfect shape is the real secret of a beautiful complexion. Blood that is rich and pure is bound to show in the color of the skin.

Bulgarian style blood tea was intro-duced in this country many years ago by H. H. Von Schlick, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and today is used by millions of happy people who realize its wonder-
