Farm Accounts.

Do you keep an exact account of your income and expenses, or do you regard your bank book and check book as the sole source of record? Does a bank balance of $500 at the end of the year mean that you have saved $500? Does a debt of $500 at the end of the year mean that you have lost $500 during that year? Just the opposite may be true of the above instances. A good system of accounts is the best way to be certain whether you are a success or failure.

Do you know which farming operation gives you the greatest return for your investment? Do you know how much you have made from corn, wheat, hay, hogs, cows or any other item of your farm income?

These are a few of the ways a farm account book will be a help to you. They may be obtained at the farm bureau office at cost and they will be very glad to help you start an account book at any time through the year that you may need help. It is not safe to guess. How long would a business firm continue in business without a good accounting system? The successful farmer of today must also be a good business man. April first is a good time to start.

Regarding Washington's Birthday.

Washington's birthday on Tuesday was not characterized by any special celebration in Bellefonte except by the postoffice and banks, which observed it as a national holiday. And just here the question might be asked, how many boys and girls, and grown people might also be included, know off-hand the exact date of Washington's birth? While a certain percentage might know the year, it is highly probable that there are very few who really know that Washington was born on February 11th, and not the 22nd, the day we now celebrate as his anniversary.

To be exact he was born on February 11th, 1732, when the United States reckoned time according to the old Julian calendar. Twenty years later, or in 1752, the United States in conformity with Great Britain, adopted the Gregorian calendar as the country's standard for computing time, and in doing so just dropped eleven days from the calendar, so that February 11 under the Julian calendar was then February 22 under the Gregorian calendar, and thus it has remained ever since.

State College District Organizes for Conservation.

The State College district of the Centre county Conservation Association was organized Monday night with the election of the following officers:

Harry Leitzel, director; D. F. Kapp, vice director; D. K. Cochran, secretary, and Newton Hess, treasurer. The district takes in Halfmoon, Patton, Ferguson and State College townships, and steps will be taken in the immediate future for the organization of the various committees under the following chairmen:

Forestry, Prof. George R. Greene; game, John Houser; fish, Phil Foster; song birds, Richard C. Harlow; wild fowls, Mrs. J. Ben Hill; recreation, Dr. S. W. Fletcher, all of State College; education, Rev. J. J. Reeder, Port Matilda. Meetings of all people in the district who are interested in these various conservation projects will be called and the committees elected. Discussion at the meeting included the liberation of more game in Centre county, closing some head streams and the cleaning out of foxes.

Removing Diseased Chestnut Trees.

Contractors are rapidly removing the diseased chestnut trees from the Logan state forest in Centre and Huntingdon counties, according to a report sent to the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry by district forester Morton, of Petersburg. C. A. Seeds has a crew of sixteen men cutting mine props on Short mountain, and W. A. Neals is manufacturing staves in an operation on Tussey mountain. Both of these operations are on State land, and are a part of the Department of Forestry's plan to cut out blighted chestnut timber as quickly as possible.

Foresters Morton and Bartschat this week definitely established the dividing line between the Logan and the Penn state forests. The line has been fixed near the Huntingdon and Mifflin county line.

Members of Centre Lodge, No. 153 I. O. O. F., celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of the institution of the Lodge with a big banquet on Tuesday evening to which many guests were invited.

The county commissioners have appointed William A. Bowes, of Eagleville, sealer of weights and measures in Centre county to succeed Deemer T. Pearce, of State College.

NASON.—Last week the "Watchman" told of the death of Mrs. Martha J. Nason, at Julian, and the critical illness of her husband, Mr. J. C. Nason, and now it is our unpleasant duty to record the death of the latter, which took place last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Nason were both taken ill on February 4th. Mrs. Nason passed away on the 13th and Mr. Nason's illness developing into pneumonia, he passed away on the 17th, just one day after the body of his wife had been laid to rest.

John Colbrook Nason was born in New Brunswick, Can., on April 4th, 1842, hence was close to seventy-nine years old. Like most men of that early day his manual education was received in the woods with the result that he became a skilled worker in every phase of a lumberman's life, from computing the value of timber on the ground to marketing the finished product from the mill. He came to the States along about the year 1862 and located at Phillipsburg, just at the time when lumbering was the big interest there. Naturally he took a hand at it and for a number of years was among the big operators in that section. When the big forests were finally denuded he gave his attention to smaller operations which he carried on a number of years. Finally he left Phillipsburg and went to California but was not satisfied with opportunities as he found them in that State and returning he settled on a farm at Julian and in addition to looking after the farm work he also did lumbering and mill work on the side.

His wife, who before her marriage was Miss Jennie McCord, dying last week, his only survivors are one son, O. H. Nason, and two step-children, Anna M. and John C. Andrews, both of Julian. Funeral services were held at his late home at one o'clock on Sunday afternoon by Rev. H. H. McElroy, of Huntingdon, after which his remains were laid to rest in the Fairview cemetery at Julian.

MIGNOT.—Mrs. Margaret Martin Mignot, widow of the late Emil Mignot, passed away at the home of her son Kyle, in Williamsport, last Friday. After her marriage to Mr. Mignot the young couple took up their residence at Frenchville, Clearfield county, where they resided until coming to Bellefonte in 1909. She was a life-long member of the Catholic church and always a devout worshipper. Mr. Mignot died on December 23rd, 1919, but surviving her are the following children: Boniface and John Mignot, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Edward Rougeux, of Newberry; Kyle, of Williamsport, and S. A. Mignot, of Clearfield. She also leaves one brother, Cornelius Martin, of Bellefonte.

When he grew to manhood he embarked in farming for himself on his father's farm in the Glades, now known as the J. W. Kepler farm. He lived there until the spring of 1893 when he purchased the Dr. Hamill farm at Oak Hall, and that has been his home ever since, though nine years ago he retired from the active management of the farm. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and an elder for many years. He attended a meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery last October and took his bed shortly after returning home. He was also a member of Centre Grange, a staunch Democrat and a splendid citizen in every way.

In 1871 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Johnson and they had two children, both of whom died at an early age. Mrs. Lowder died in 1874 and in 1877 he married Miss Addie Ross, a daughter of the late Major J. I. Ross. They had four children. The second Mrs. Lowder passed away in 1912 but surviving him are three sons, Ross, Elmer and Ralph Lowder, all of Oak Hall. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Rothrock, of Lewistown, and three brothers, John and James Lowder, of Union Furnace, and George, of Pittsburgh, as well as two grand-children.

Funeral services were held at his late home at 10:30 o'clock on Monday morning by Rev. Kirkpatrick, after which burial was made in the Branch cemetery.

KAUFFMAN.—Benjamin Kauffman, who for many years was identified with the most progressive farmers of Spring township, died at his home near Zion at eleven o'clock on Sunday morning following only a few days' illness. He was in his customary health up until Wednesday of last week when he contracted a heavy cold. Pneumonia developed and he passed away at the time above stated.

He was a son of David and Sarah Kauffman and was born in Spring township on August 12th, 1845, hence had reached the age of 75 years, 6 months and 1 day. Born on the farm he elected to make agriculture his life work and for many years his farm in Spring township, under his personal management, was considered one of the best in Nittany valley. Twenty-four years ago he retired from the farm and moved to a comfortable home near Zion where he had since lived. He was a member of the Lutheran church at Zion and a conscientious christian gentleman.

Surviving him are his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Elizabeth White; one adopted daughter, Carrie Rebecca, and two brothers, John and Amos, both of Zion. Funeral services were held at his late home at ten o'clock yesterday morning by his pastor, Rev. W. J. Shultz, after which burial was made in the Zion cemetery.

She was apparently in the best of health up until Tuesday evening when she was stricken with apoplexy and never recovered consciousness.

She was a daughter of Evan and Mary Ann Miller Evans and was born near Egg Hill, in Pennsylvania, on May 26th, 1837, making her age 73 years, 8 months and 27 days. As a young woman she was united in marriage to Geo. L. Goodhart, and all their married life was spent in Pennsylvania, most of the time on the farm and later in Centre Hall. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and always took an active part in all church work. Mr. Goodhart died in August, 1916, but surviving her are the following children: James, of the old homestead; Bruce, in Orangeville, Ill.; Mrs. John Evans, of White, S. D., and Mrs. D. Presbyterian Brotherhood Organized.

A Men's Brotherhood was organized in the Presbyterian church at a supper given in the chapel on Monday evening. About eighty-five were present and the principal address of the evening was delivered by Rev. Hoag, of Williamsport. A strong organization was effected by the election of the following officers: President, James Seig; vice-presidents, Robert F. Hunter and Thomas Beaver; secretary, Earle S. Orr; treasurer, Milan P. Walker. If the new organization proves as active in all good works as the men did at the tables on Monday evening it ought to prove a big factor in the work of the Presbyterian church.

The new census cut the representation of Clearfield county in the Legislature down to two Members. With all due respect to the service rendered in Harrisburg by the distinguished gentlemen from Clearfield we are of the opinion that the loss will not occasion more than local lament.

A Loving Tribute.

Not often does the summons to life eternal come as gently as it came to Mrs. Sarah Liggett Gray, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Hartsock, at Scranton, on February 13th. Ten days previous her other daughters, Mrs. George Glenn and Miss Esther Gray, had gone to spend her eighty-fourth birthday anniversary with her. She was not feeling quite as strong as usual but able to be around and quite interested in all the household and family affairs. Early Sunday morning she spoke of a pain at her heart and in a few minutes quietly passed away.

She was the daughter of John and Susannah Liggett and was born near Eagleville, Centre county, where she spent her early life. Fifty-eight years ago she married Isaac Gray and went to the old Gray homestead in Halfmoon valley where she made her home ever after, though many of the winters were spent at the homes of her daughters after the death of her husband thirty-two years ago. From girlhood Mrs. Gray was a member of the Methodist church and always keenly interested in its work and in every movement for human uplift. She was a constant reader of the daily press, the church papers and general literature. But it was in the home as mother and hostess that her gracious personality was most felt. Her unselfish devotion to her children was untiring, and guests recall that she rarely waited to greet them at her door but welcomed them at the gate. Her survivors include three daughters, six grand-children and two great grand-children.

The funeral service in the home Wednesday morning was conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. W. Reeder, assisted by Rev. H. W. Hartsock, of Harrisburg, and Rev. J. V. Thompson, of Evanston, Ill. Interment was made in Gray's cemetery.

In Memoriam.

In sad but loving memory of our dear son and brother, Thomas R. Sigel, who passed away February 26th, 1919:

Heaven retaineth now our treasure,
Earth the lonely casket keeps;
And the sunlight loves to linger
Where our loved one sleeps.
Yet again we hope to meet him
When the days of toil are o'er,
And in heaven hope to greet him,
Where partings are no more.

In front of one building in St. Paul, Minn., there are lined up every morning fifteen Franklin cars. It is a building occupied by physicians and every one of them uses a Franklin. It is so notorious in St. Paul that when the morning pedestrians passing greet them with: "Morning, Doc, how's Franklin?"

The Wednesday evening train was over two hours late owing to a wreck up in the neighborhood of Martha. Fortunately no one was injured.

Cow Testing Boosts Pennsylvania as Dairy State.

Headed for better and greater milk production for Pennsylvania with the hope of establishing the State as the foremost dairy center in the country, Pennsylvania farmers and dairymen, with the assistance of the cow-testing associations are making rapid strides in the industry. With a total of seventy-one associations now in operation, Pennsylvania ranks second in the United States in the number and scope of work accomplished in bettering dairy production.

According to a statement just issued by the Agricultural Extension division of The Pennsylvania State College, which directs county agent work throughout the State, 1922 farmers and dairymen are members of the 71 cow testing associations. A total of 771 "boarder" cows were discarded from their herds as a result of the test that showed them to be producing less milk than the cost of their feed warranted. This figure is somewhat lower than last year due to the fact that so many associations were operated for the first time in 1919 and the percentage of poor cows was much higher. Each year as the association members benefit from the tests the number of discards will decrease as the number of good cows grows.

There were 24,216 cows tested in the associations in 1920, and those tested by individuals brought the total up to 25,646. Slightly more than two per cent were discarded. The existence of the cow-testing associations is working wonders for the dairy industry in Pennsylvania. The desire for better cows brought about though the association tests brings on the need for pure bred stocks and a first class herd bull. Many co-operative bull associations have grown out of the work with results that will be astonishing in a few years.

WHAT HAVE WE DONE TODAY?

We shall do so much in the years to come.
But what have we done today?
We shall give our gold in a princely sum.
But what did we give today?
We shall lift the hearts and dry the tear,
We shall plant a hope in the place of fear,
We shall speak the words of love and cheer,
But what did we speak today?
We shall be so kind in the after a-while,
But what have we been today?
We shall bring to each lonely life a smile,
But what have we brought today?
We shall give to truth a grander birth,
And to steadfast faith a deeper worth,
We shall feed the hungering souls of earth,
But whom have we fed today?
We shall reap such joys in the by and by,
But what have we sown today?
We shall build our mansions in the sky,
But what have we built today?
'Tis sweet in idle dreams to bask,
But here and now do we do our task?
Yes, this is the thing our souls must ask:
"What have we done today?"
