

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Storch entertained their large circle of friends, with cards, Tuesday night, at their bungalow on Bishop street.

A beautiful Shriners' pin was found on Allegheny street one day last week. The loser can get information of same by inquiring at this office and paying for this notice.

The Thimble Bee of the ladies of the Reformed church was held at the home of Mrs. Newton B. Spangler, on east High street, Thursday afternoon of this week.

The Lauderbach-Zerby company have purchased from G. R. Gamble the building over the race now occupied by them as a wholesale grocery. The price paid was $12,500.

Councilmen E. H. Richard and Harry Flack were the only two to make their appearance at the council chamber on Monday evening, consequently there wasn't any meeting of borough council.

The Near East relief fund received a pledge of $120.00 from the Sunday school of St. John's Reformed church and the members of the congregation contributed an additional $260.00 to the same fund.

From the crowds that flock to the scenic night after night it is evident that the public appreciates the quality of pictures being shown there. Sequel: When you want to see good motion pictures follow the crowd.

Weather prophets are predicting a big blizzard for March 4th, the day of the inauguration. If it comes it will not mean much of a disappointment to many Bellefonters, as so far we have heard of very few Republicans who contemplate going down to the national capital to see the new President ushered in.

The McVey company calls especial attention in their advertisement in another column in this issue of the "Watchman" to the fact that their spring catalogue will go to press March first. If you have a property to sell and want to take advantage of that medium you should see their local representative at once.

The Patriotic Order Sons of America will hold a public patriotic meeting in their hall this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock. Instrumental and vocal music will be special features. The Hon. A. W. Johnson, presiding judge of the Union county judicial district, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Everybody is invited.

Sunday's deep snow and eight degrees below zero on Monday morning would indicate that the groundhog is absolutely no weather prophet, and those wild geese that flew north last week will probably wish they had spent a few more weeks basking in the sunshine of southern climes before flying to their nesting grounds in the north.

The regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held in the High school building Monday evening, February 28th, at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be open to the public at 8:30. Mr. Charles Sehlow will speak on Vocational Education. Refreshments will be served and a cordial invitation is extended to all, who are interested, to be present.

This has been a big week for the automobile dealers of Blair county because of the elaborate automobile show held in the new Ford building, Altoona. Forty-five different makes and over one hundred models of passenger cars have been on exhibition, as well as numerous trucks, tractors and accessories. The show will close tomorrow (Saturday) evening and any one interested should visit the Altoona show.

A jury in court at Clearfield last Friday evening returned a verdict of $10,000 in favor of Mrs. Julia Kelley, in her action against the Pennsylvania Railroad company to recover damages for the death of her husband, the late E. W. Kelley, game warden of Clearfield county, who with game commissioner Kalbfus was killed on the Saybrook crossing in Warren county in August, 1919, when a train struck their automobile. The jury deliberated seven hours before returning the verdict.

In the "Watchman's" item last week regarding the Bellefonte Academy minstrels the wrong dates were given, the correct dates being May 4th and 20th. This little error, however, will not detract from the fact that the minstrels are planning to give the best entertainment this year in the history of the Academy. And the fact that it is to be given for the benefit of the Bellefonte firemen is sufficient reason why the public in general should give the minstrels every encouragement and co-operation possible.

The annual football dance of the Bellefonte Academy was held in the armory last Thursday evening and the consensus of opinion of those present is that it was just about a little the best dance of any ever held. The decorations were elaborate and beautiful, the music far above the ordinary, the attendance large and an ample supply of pretty girls to add variety and vivaciousness to the evening's pleasure. Of course, amidst such surroundings time flies fast, so that it was well on in the early morning hours when the orchestra responded to their last encore and the dance became only a memory.

Principal Bequests Made in Will of Late F. W. Crider.

The will of the late F. W. Crider, of Bellefonte, was probated in the office of Register Frank Sasseran on Monday morning and among the principal bequests are the following:

To Furst P. Crider, of Blanchard, (a nephew), 50 shares of Pennsylvania Match company stock.

To Blanche Alters, of New Bloomfield, and Kate Schott, of Wellington, Ohio, (nieces), each 50 shares of Match company stock.

To Mrs. Mary M. Jacobs, 5 shares of Match company stock.

To Charles K. Rath and Charles E. Dorworth, (sons-in-law), each 100 shares of Match company stock.

To the Bellefonte hospital, 50 shares of Match company stock, the income from which is to be used first, for care of any employees who have worked in the plant of the Penna Match Co.; second, for any persons who have worked for me (Mr. Crider) or the issue of such persons; third, in case income should not be needed for employees as above named, then it shall be used in the discretion of the hospital trustees.

To the resident minister of the Methodist church and his successors respectively, 100 shares of Match company stock, one-half of the income from which shall be paid to the Central Pennsylvania conference claimants of the M. E. church, and the balance to the worthy poor of the M. E. church of Bellefonte, in the discretion of the trustees.

A fund of $75,000 has been placed with the Girard Trust Co., of Philadelphia in trust for Burns Crider (a son) and family, the net income derived from investments to be paid as follows: "$100.00 per quarter to Irene, wife of Burns H. Crider, for her personal use, until the death of my son Burns; $100.00 per quarter direct to Burns H. Crider (both he and she will have life insurance coming to them as per policies on my life in Aetna Insurance Co. and Prudential Insurance Co., etc.); and the balance of the net income from this fund to be paid to Irene, wife of Burns H. Crider, for the family needs and the education and support of the children of Burns H. Crider, for and during the life of my said son. Should Irene's death occur before Burns', I direct that the whole amounts, named above payable to her, shall be paid to a guardian of the minor children, and to any that may be of age, in equal shares, until each minor child shall become of age, or until the death of Burns.

"Upon the death of my son Burns I direct that one-third of the total net income from this fund shall be paid to his wife Irene, for and during the term of her natural life, or until her re-marriage, should it occur, and the remainder of the net income from this fund to such children (or their guardian, if any) as may then be living of my said son, etc.

"I direct the trustee to pay $25.00 per week to my son Burns and Irene his wife, until they begin receiving from my life insurance or trust funds, hereinbefore named." They also shall have the privilege of occupying the house they now reside in during their life-time and at their death the same shall go to their children. Should Burns and his wife not desire to occupy the premises they have the privilege of renting the same and keeping the net proceeds after the payment of taxes, etc.

To Hugh N. Crider the Crider stone building on High street, $5,000.00 in cash, lots of ground in Young's addition to May's Landing, N. J., and $25,000 interest bearing securities, or in lieu of the latter $25,000 cash.

To Mrs. Rath and Mrs. Dorworth the Crider Exchange building in equal shares.

To Mrs. Rath, the Mott drug store property (which has been sold since will was executed), ore, coal and oil rights on various properties.

To Mrs. Dorworth the small house and lot on west Linn street, double house on Logan street, two houses on Lamb street, property in Milesburg, the homestead property and furnishings on west Linn street, policy of life insurance and $5,000 cash.

All the rest and remainder of the Penna Match company stock to be divided equally between Hugh N. Crider, Mrs. Dorworth and Mrs. Rath.

After the above bequests have all been met his residuary estate is left in trust with the Girard Trust Co., the income from which is to be paid share and share alike to Hugh Crider, Mrs. Dorworth and Mrs. Rath, and at their death to go to the surviving heirs of all his children.

The entire estate is estimated as amounting to slightly more than a million dollars.

Hugh N. Crider and Charles E. Dorworth were appointed executors under the will.

Many Thousands to Churches and Charities.

The will of the late William Thompson, of Alexandria, who died in Philadelphia on February 6th, was probated in Philadelphia last Saturday by John Scott Jr., executor and trustee, and after providing for bequests of about ninety thousand dollars to relatives the balance of his estate, estimated at close to a million dollars, will go to churches and charities. Included in the bequests are the following:

$100,000 to the board of home missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States.

$20,000 to the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church.

$10,000 to the J. C. Blair Memorial hospital at Huntingdon, in trust for the maintenance of a free room.

$10,000 to the trustees of the Presbyterian church at Alexandria.

$50,000 to the Salvation Army for the support of its religious and charitable work in Pennsylvania.

$30,000 to the Presbyterian board of ministerial relief and sustentation, for the use of the relief department.

$30,000 to the Presbyterian board of publication and Sabbath school work.

$10,000 to the trustees of Lincoln University, Oxford, Pa.

$100,000 to the Young Men's Christian Association of Philadelphia.

And in closing the testator bequeaths the residue of the property to the executors and trustees, unto whom is granted "full and unlimited power and authority to pay over, appropriate, dispose of and distribute in amounts and proportions as they may see fit, the said rest, residue and remainder of my estate to and among such religious and charitable purposes, objects and institutions as may commend themselves to my said executors in their discretion. I include among the institutions to which distribution may be made, the Memorial Free Library, of Alexandria, Pa., but leave the selection of the beneficiaries generally to the good discretion of my executors."

The Bellefonte Academy basketball team will play the St. Francis college five in the armory Saturday evening at 8:15. Admission, 25 cents. The public is invited.

The Chemical Lime company on Wednesday received five big army trucks purchased of the U. S. government which they will use in their lime and stone operations up Buffalo Run valley.

According to the report of Miss Mary Linn the fund for the Near East relief has now reached to within five hundred dollars of the allotment for Centre county. All contributions toward helping to make up this amount will be gladly received.

The February term of court will be held next week, and according to the list of cases down for trial, will hardly last the week out. But more than the usual amount of interest will be attached to it because of the fact that a number of women have been summoned to serve as jurors, and of course, everybody will be interested in the outcome of any and all cases on which they may be called upon to sit.

The auditor's statement for Centre county is now in the hands of the printers and will soon make its appearance in the newspapers for the information of the tax payers of Centre county. In past years it has always been the custom of the auditors to turn their report over to a typewriter for copying but this year auditor H. H. Stover did that work himself, completing his task last Saturday morning.

Scattered through the crowd of fifteen hundred people who witnessed the University of Pennsylvania-Penn State boxing bouts last Friday evening were three hundred girls and women, and it is reported that they cheered just as lustily for the local boxers as any of the men present. And they were all overjoyed with the fact that State won a 6 to 1 victory. The State wrestling team also downed the Harvard team on Saturday night by the score of 30 to 0.

Judge Henry C. Quigley has been invited to go to Philadelphia next month to sit in quarter sessions court for a period of four weeks and has accepted. It will be his first appearance on the bench in the Quaker city, though he has established quite a reputation as a quarter sessions judge in Pittsburgh, having returned home on Sunday from a two week's session on the bench in the latter place. And judging from the newspaper comments he received during the two weeks his actions on the bench there have met with the approval of the bar and the public.

The State Highway Department has awarded to Leo Kelly, Inc., of Brooklyn, N. Y., the contract for building a stretch of state highway between Phillipsburg and Allport, a distance of 25,426 feet, or almost five miles, for $34,415.80. The building of the above section of road has been under consideration for several years and the awarding of the contract is assurance that it will soon be constructed. It is understood that work on the same will be started as early in the spring as possible. The Leo Kelly Inc. company is the same that built the state highway through State College last summer and has a reputation for pushing its work.

On Sunday afternoon the Beaty Motor company, with two Fordson tractors and a large road drag made from lumber furnished by Hugh N. Crider, opened the roadways in the deep snow through the principal streets of Bellefonte. When they started out they had the tractors hitched side by side but later put one in front of the other. The drag was a little too light at first so a number of men climbed on and rode it as it was hauled through the streets and the result was it proved quite successful in opening up the streets. On both High and Allegheny streets two roadways were opened thus affording good driveways for automobiles and other vehicles going in either direction.

Government Will Continue Carrying Mail by Airplane.

A very substantial appropriation for the continuance of the air mail service during the next fiscal year has been included in the appropriation bills passed by Congress after the Postoffice Department submitted facts and figures showing what had been accomplished in this new venture. The report states that inaugurated May 15th, 1918, the air mail service has carried nearly fifty million letters and the planes have traveled more than one and a half million miles. The statement declares that the performance of the service, including pilots, planes and mechanics, is "far beyond the conception of the most optimistic authorities in aviation at the time of the inauguration of the service." The Department now has twenty-one planes in service and the average of all types under all conditions of operation has been 83.6 miles per hour.

Pilot C. E. Ebersole, who will be remembered by Bellefonters as among the first squad of fliers to pilot planes over the New York to Chicago airmail route, figured in a thrilling episode at Mendota, Mon., last Saturday when he jumped from his plane at an altitude of three thousand feet and descended safely to ground by means of a parachute. Ebersole contends that his machine got out of control and one motor had apparently torn loose from its moorings, but witnesses state that the plane continued its course with both motors running after Ebersole was seen to jump. An investigation is being made, according to the announcement of assistant superintendent of air mail service Frank H. Tower, at Minneapolis. Mr. Tower, by the way, is also known in Bellefonte, having had charge of the field here for a few weeks prior to the appointment of Morris J. Kelly as superintendent.

From San Francisco to New York in 34 Hours, 50 Minutes.

In order to try out the speed of the air-mail service the Postoffice Department this week made a record by covering the distance between New York and San Francisco in exactly 34 hours and 50 minutes. The experiment, for such it will be for the present, was made for the purpose of ascertaining what could be accomplished by the air mail service. The schedule planned was thirty-six hours for the flight and six o'clock Tuesday morning was set as the time. Two ships were started from New York and two from San Francisco. The two from New York failed to get through. One was forced down at McGee's Mills, Clearfield county, on account of the storm and the other was held up at Chicago for the same reason.

The two ships leaving San Francisco established the record, but one flier lost his life at Reno, Nevada, when his plane went into a tail spin and fell to the ground. The flight from Cheyenne to Chicago was made at night, and the fliers who piloted the planes were Murray and Jimmie Knight, both well known in Bellefonte. The last lap of the flight east was made by pilots Allison and Hopson, the former reaching New York at 4:50 p. m. Wednesday and Hopson getting in at 5:05. Both machines going west and one of those eastbound stopped at the Bellefonte field for inspection and supplies, and were checked out in record time.

More Booze Seized in Bellefonte.

On Sunday two federal officers arrived in Bellefonte and early Monday morning proceeded to the old building formerly occupied as an office by the Nittany Iron company and placed a government seal on the door. On Tuesday morning two other officers arrived from Scranton and taking George Doll with them went out to the building, broke the seals and entered. Nothing incriminating in the booze line was found in the room, but the officers ordered Mr. Doll to open the vault and in the iron box were found one full barrel of whiskey, another barrel which was only partially full, and eight quarts of whiskey. The booze was taken by the officers and conveyed up town where it was deposited in the vault of the postoffice cellar. The building in which the booze was seized has been in charge of George Doll for some time past, and it is rumored that others beside himself are implicated in the ownership of the whiskey, but so far no arrests have been made.

Former Gridiron Star Dead.

Alexander B. Gray, a former captain and one of the best guards ever sent on the gridiron at Penn State, died at his home at Washington, Pa., last Thursday, of spinal meningitis. Gray, who was thirty-six years old, captained the 1910 State team and made a wonderful record as a player. When the United States entered the world war he enlisted in the aviation section and saw service in France. He had a severe attack of influenza during the epidemic in the fall of 1918 from which he never fully recovered. Returning to his home at Washington, Pa., he was elected sheriff of the county and was serving in that capacity at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Fink, of Altoona, spent Tuesday in Bellefonte as guests of Mr. D. W. Eberhart and daughter, Miss Mary. Mrs. Fink before her marriage was Miss Belle Confair and will be well remembered by a number of Bellefonte people.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Weaver, of Windber, were called to State College Saturday, by the serious illness of Mrs. Weaver's sister, Mrs. Bertley. Mr. Weaver returned home Monday, while Mrs. Weaver remained to spend the week with relatives in Centre county.

Edward Brown Jr. and his daughter, Miss Katherine Brown, left Wednesday for Omaha, Neb., with no plans for returning to Bellefonte. Miss Mayme Brown and her brother Leo were here Sunday, coming over from Johnston on a farewell visit with their father and sister.

Fred Bloom, one of the dependable men who keep The Pennsylvania State College warm and working, left his position in the boiler room long enough on Wednesday to take a bus ride to Bellefonte. While here he attended a little business that required his attention.

Mrs. M. B. Garman and Charles A. Lukenbach left Bellefonte last week for Detroit, Mich., where Mrs. Garman will remain with her brother until spring, expecting then to return to Bellefonte to open her home for the summer. Mrs. Garman and Mr. Lukenbach came east for the Christmas season.

Mrs. Grant Pifer, of Wilkingsburg, is spending two weeks in Bellefonte with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Hoy. Mrs. Pifer was called here a week ago by the indisposition of her father, who is rapidly recovering his former health, expecting to be able to join the family in their celebration of his eighty-sixth birthday, Monday.

Mrs. Earl Way, who with her son and daughter, Crighton and Margery, had spent the winter at the Brant house, has gone to Waddle, to open the home in anticipation of her mother, Mrs. D. L. Meek's return from Altoona. Mrs. Meek has been with her daughter, Mrs. Musser, since fall, and as soon as the weather permits will come to her home at Waddle.

Capt. John R. Lemon, of Gatesburg, was a Bellefonte visitor last Saturday, the first time in a number of months and of course he couldn't come to town without giving the "Watchman" office a few minutes of his time. And if every reader of this paper would do what the Captain did, it would mean a big boost for the paper, as he brought in and plunked down the money for a new subscriber.

Dr. Eloise Meek, of Cornhill; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Morris, of Pittsburgh and their son King; Dr. Ezra Youcum, of Woodrich; Dr. Thomas O. Glenn, of Bradford; Dr. Lee B. W. E. Hartsock, of Juniata, was in Bellefonte between trains yesterday. Mr. Hartsock, whose former home was at Paradise, left the Buffalo Run valley ten years ago to go with the P. R. R. Co. at Altoona, but the call of home associations is so strong at times that he makes frequent visits back to mingle with former friends.

Prof. Louis E. Reber was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schaeffer the latter part of last week, while stopping in Bellefonte over night on his way down Nittany valley for a short visit with his sister, Mrs. John H. Beck. Prof. Reber, who is head of the Extension department of the University of Wisconsin, was on his way east on a business trip in the interest of his work.

Noted Musicians Coming.

Kayem's Feature musicians and Jack Liden will appear in the High school auditorium Monday evening, February 28th, in a program which every one should like. It consists of popular and classic music presented in a novel manner. With them is an excellent humorist. These boys are clean-cut, virile, ex-service men, masters in their particular lines. Note the variety of their work: A saxophone quartette, a brass quartette, an instrumental quartette, brass instrumental and accordion solos, the marimbaxlophones, various musical surprise features, flute solos, stories and jokes.

Louis Colangele, manager of the company was leader of the 56th infantry band, 7th Division. He is one of the best cornet soloists in this country.

Signor Grasse, flute soloist with the musicians, refused an offer with the Chicago symphony orchestra to finish the season with this company. He is a musical humorist, one of the funniest men on the platform.

Jack Liden, story teller, was in the navy for two and a half years. He was known as "Duffy" in the navy by the thousands of boys whom he entertained. Liden had roamed the United States from ocean to ocean, from the Lakes to Mexico. He has entertained in many States and under all circumstances. He presents stories in the Irish, Italian, Swedish, and Jewish dialects.

Black-Sheffer.—Dr. W. E. Black, a successful dentist of Lewistown, and Miss Nancy Jane Sheffer, of Milroy, were married at noon on Thursday of last week at the Chambers-Kyle Memorial Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, by Dr. Harold M. Robinson. Following a wedding trip to Atlantic City and New York they will be at home in Lewistown after March first. The bride, who has been a teacher in the Lewistown High school the past two years, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sheffer, of Milroy, but formerly of Bellefonte, and has many friends here who extend congratulations.

Kelly-Raymond.—Word has been received in Bellefonte of the marriage of St. Petersburg, Florida, on Wednesday last week, of Mr. Harry P. Kelley, of Snow Shoe, and Mrs. Catherine Raymond, of Bellefonte. Mr. Kelley has been spending the winter in St. Petersburg and according to the information received came north to Washington, D. C., about two weeks ago where he met Mrs. Raymond and together they journeyed south to St. Petersburg and matrimonial bliss.

Teaman—Dunkle.—George Teaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Teaman, and Miss Margaret Dunkle, daughter of Mrs. Mary Dunkle, both of Bellefonte, were married on Tuesday by Rev. E. J. Dunn, of the Evangelical church.
