PLANS FOR THE INAUGURATION

Retiring and Incoming Presidents Will Ride Together.

President Wilson expects to attend the inauguration of Vice President Coolidge in the Senate chamber today, but whether he will witness the inauguration of President Harding may not be decided until the last moment.

Final arrangements for President Wilson to accompany Mr. Harding to the capitol this morning were made Wednesday at a conference between Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the joint Congressional inaugural committee, and Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to Mr. Wilson.

As the program was worked out, the Congressional committee will call on Mr. Harding and Mr. Coolidge at the New Willard hotel this morning at 10:30 o'clock. From the hotel the party will go to the White House and take President Wilson into the automobile of the President-elect. The start then will be made for the capitol with a view to arrival there at 11 o'clock so President Wilson will have time to act on the bills passed in the closing hours of this session of Congress.

TO USE FOUR AUTOS.

There will be at least four automobiles for the inaugural party. President Wilson, Mr. Harding, Senator Knox, representing the Senate, and Representative Cannon, of Illinois, acting for the House, will ride in the first. The second automobile will carry Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Harding, with other members of the Congressional committee; the third automobile will bear Vice President Marshall and Mr. Coolidge and the fourth the wives of the Vice President and Vice President-elect with other members of the Congressional committee. There will be the usual staff of secret service men in another machine and also cars for newspaper correspondents.

CAVALRY AS ESCORT.

The party will be escorted by troops of cavalry from Fort Myer. After arrival at the capitol, President Wilson and Mr. Harding will go to the President's private room, off the Senate chamber, where Mr. Harding will receive visitors while President Wilson acts on the final legislation of Congress.

Just before the adjournment of Congress, the President and President-elect will enter the Senate chamber and from adjacent chairs view the swearing in of Mr. Coolidge and listen to his address.

At the conclusion of the Senate ceremonies Mr. Harding will go through the capitol to the east portico, after all Senators and guests have taken their places about the speaking stand. There he will take the oath of office and deliver his inaugural address under a canopy of amplifiers designed to carry his voice distinctly to every listening ear in the great assembly.

WILSON MEETS LAST TIME WITH CABINET.

Members Buy Chair to Give Him; Farewell Touching.

Washington, March 1.—President Wilson met with his cabinet today for the last time and at the meeting's close said farewell to the ten men who have been his official advisers, four of them since he entered the White House in 1913.

After an hour and a half spent as cabinet members said in a discussion of "official business and otherwise," the President autographed for each of his advisers a photograph taken at last week's meeting. Then Mr. Wilson said good-bye to each member. At times the President's voice trembled as he extended his thanks for past services and good wishes for the future.

Each of the department heads expressed to the chief executive a few words of appreciation for his helpfulness and co-operation with their respective departments. They have arranged to purchase the chair which the President has occupied at cabinet meetings during his two administrations for presentation to him before his departure from the White House Friday.

When they were gone, the President remained behind for a few minutes to receive a waiting delegation of the Valley Forge Historical society who presented him with a certificate as "honorary perpetual benefactor" and the insignia of the organization. Dr. W. H. Burk, of Valley Forge, made the presentation and offered the certificate, the first of its kind ever bestowed by the society to the President, as a "teacher, writer and maker of history."

JOHN HANNA YOCUM.—The belated notice of the death of John Hanna Yocum, which occurred in the Orange, N. J. Memorial hospital on Thursday, January 27th, has just been received at this office and brings with it more than the ordinary modicum of sorrow. He had been ill only three days with pneumonia.

Mr. Yocum was born in Ashland, Pennsylvania, but came with his parents to live in Bellefonte when he was just a boy. His father, the late Hon. Seth H. Yocum, was associated with the late Daniel G. Bush in the practice of law here; having come to Bellefonte to take the place of his brother, the late George Yocum, who had been killed in a hunting accident. At that time the Yocums lived in the house on Spring street now occupied by the Bent family and later bought the beautiful country place near the fair grounds which later became the home of the Shoemakers. The family left Bellefonte shortly after the expiration of the father's term in Congress. The older residents will recall the historic political fight at that time that resulted in giving this District a Greenback representative.

John was a graduate of The Pennsylvania State College, class of 1891, and had been honored with both the B. S. and M. S. degrees by that institution. He was a chemist of national repute, having specialized in application of the science to the leather industry. He was the first chief chemist for the United States Leather Co., and under his direction the first national survey of available tan bark was made. He was a fellow of the Royal chemical society of England and an authority on the tanning industry of the United States. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, a Shriner and the first President of American Leather Chemist's Association.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Margaret. Two brothers, Frank H. Yocum, of Virginia; Dr. Joseph Grant Yocum, of New York City; and two sisters, Mrs. Richard W. Canfield and Miss Betsey H. Yocum, both of Orange, are living.

KURTZ.—Mrs. Anna Kurtz, widow of the late Hon. Frederick Kurtz, of Bellefonte, passed away at four o'clock on Tuesday morning at the home of her son, Charles R. Kurtz, at Overbrook, following a few days' illness with a complication of diseases due to her advanced age.

She was a daughter of William and Rebecca Harter and was born near Aaronsburg on September 6th, 1835, hence had attained the venerable age of 85 years, 5 months and 25 days. She was married to Frederick Kurtz when a young woman and the greater part of their married life was spent in Centre Hall, coming from there to Bellefonte, and going with her son to Overbrook upwards of eight years ago. She was a life-long member of the Lutheran church and one of those kindly, old-fashioned women whose home was always open alike to friend and stranger and who was only supremely happy when ministering to the wants of others.

Her husband preceded her to the grave about nine years ago but surviving her are two sons, Charles R. Kurtz, of Overbrook, and J. Fred Kurtz, of Lewisburg. She was one of a family of twelve children, seven of whom survive as follows: Mrs. Lewis Mensch, of Aaronsburg; Mrs. Levi Murray, of McKees Rocks; Mrs. S. M. Campbell, of Millheim; Daniel H. Harter, of Sterling, Ohio; Andrew J., of Rockford, Ill.; Aaron H., of Harrisburg, and Thomas H., of Bellefonte.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte on the 4:44 train last evening and taken direct to the Union cemetery where burial was made in the Kurtz lot.

GRAY.—Mrs. Susan Mattern Gray passed away on Sunday afternoon at the home of her niece, Mrs. Irving L. Foster, at State College, following an illness with a complication of diseases that dates back a number of years. She was a daughter of Jacob and Susan Fetterhoff Mattern and was born at Warriorsmark about seventy-one years ago. Her early life was spent there where she acquired a large circle of friends. Later in life she became the wife of George S. Gray and lived on the farm in Halfmoon valley for a number of years. On the breaking up of her home there she went to State College and made her home with her sister, Mrs. W. C. Patterson, until her death eleven months ago, since which time she had lived with her niece. Her survivors include one brother, Jacob H. Mattern, of Warriorsmark, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Gray was a staunch member of the Methodist church all her life. Funeral services were held at the Foster home on Tuesday, after which the remains were taken to Warriorsmark for burial in the Methodist church cemetery.

BURKET.—Mrs. Harriet A. Burket, widow of David Burket, died at the family home in Altoona on Monday night as the result of an attack of pneumonia, following an illness with various complications which dates back for a period of five years. She was a daughter of David and Hannah Gray McKinney and was born at Stormstown, this county, on June 29th, 1842. In April, 1864, she was married to David Burket, who passed away a few years ago, but surviving her are two sisters and one brother, Miss Belle McKinney, of Altoona; Mrs. Anna M. Russell, of McDonald, and Robert C. McKinney, of Iola, Kan. Burial was made in Tyrone on Friday afternoon.

COLDREN.—J. E. Coldren, a brakeman on the P. & E. division of the Pennsylvania railroad running between Sunbury and Harrisburg, dropped dead on the subway steps at the McClay street depot in Harrisburg about eleven o'clock last Thursday night just as he had completed his run. Coldren, who lived at No. 15 Aberdeen street, Harrisburg, had complained to his fellow trainmen about not feeling well on the trip from Sunbury to Harrisburg and at one of the regular stops had made a hasty trip to a doctor's office for some medicine. He continued his trip, however, left his train and was walking up the subway steps when he fell down. Several trainmen were with him and they at once undertook to lift him up but he expired almost instantly. Acute indigestion was assigned as the cause of death.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Coldren and was born at Pleasant Gap, this county, on February 24th, 1884, hence was exactly 37 years old the day of his death. He was united in marriage to Miss Kerstetter, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kerstetter, of Bellefonte, who survives with one son, Russell. He also leaves his mother, living at Pleasant Gap, two brothers and one sister, namely: J. I. Coldren, of Sunbury; Mrs. W. H. Bilger, of Bellefonte, and Roy A. Coldren, of Tyrone.

The remains were brought to Centre county last Saturday and taken to the home of his mother at Pleasant Gap, where funeral services were held at 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning by Rev. W. P. Ard, of Bellefonte. Burial was made in the Pleasant Gap cemetery. Five members of the Brotherhood association of Harrisburg, of which he was a member, attended the funeral.

MOYER.—Mrs. Mary E. Moyer, widow of the late Joseph K. Moyer, passed away at her home in Rebersburg last Saturday night, as the result of general debility. Her maiden name was Mary E. Kline and as a girl she attended the Millersville Normal school where she equipped herself as a teacher. Later she taught school at Loganton where she met Joseph K. Moyer and their marriage occurred in February, 1869. The latter was a lumberman and some years after their marriage they located at Rebersburg which had been their home ever since.

Mr. Moyer passed away eleven years ago but of their ten children, eight survive, as follows: Flora (Mrs. Lambert) and John Nevin, of Rebersburg; Sara (Mrs. Bray), of Freeland, Pa.; Elizabeth (Mrs. Kreider), of Toledo, Ohio; Hiram Bruce, of Albion, Pa.; Jason K., of Corning, N. Y., and Miriam (Mrs. Sherman), of Freehold, N. J. One daughter, Eva Moyer, died a few years ago and Calvin in childhood. She also leaves one brother, Howard J. Kline, of Adrian, Mich., and a sister, Mrs. Hattie Mengle, of Palmerton, N. J.

From early girlhood Mrs. Moyer was a faithful member of the Reformed church and a true christian woman. Funeral services were held at her late home at Rebersburg on Wednesday morning by Rev. Kurtz after which her remains were laid to rest in the Union cemetery at Rebersburg.

COMERFORD.—Mrs. William C. Comerford, well known to many Centre county people, passed away last Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harger, in Pittsburgh, after a brief illness with bronchial pneumonia. She had made all arrangements to return to her summer home at Howard, and had already sent her trunks to that place, so that her illness was of short duration.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lauth and was born at Pittsburg seventy-two years ago. Some years later her parents moved to Howard and it was there the early part of her life was spent. After her marriage to Mr. Comerford they took up their residence in Pittsburgh and most of her married life was spent there, though after the death of her husband she invariably spent her summers at the old home in Howard. She was a faithful member of the Catholic church all her life and a most engaging and charming woman.

She is survived by three children: William and Mrs. Harger, both of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Buck, of Youngstown, Ohio. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Cameron Burnside, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Louise Comerford, of Canton, Ohio. Burial was made at Pittsburg last Saturday morning.

WEISER.—Mrs. Catherine Weiser, widow of Henry H. Weiser, died at her home in Millheim last Saturday night following a year's illness, aged 87 years, 10 months and 12 days. Her husband died twenty-five years ago but surviving her are the following children: S. L. Weiser, of Marion, Ohio; F. F., of Millheim; Mrs. Sallie Grove, of Larned, Kan., and Mrs. Robert E. Harter, of Bridgewater, S. D. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Rishel and Mrs. Mary Royer, both of Millheim. Burial was made in the Union cemetery, Millheim, yesterday morning.

LOVE.—Russell M. Love, a member of the teaching force in the agricultural extension department Pennsylvania State College, died quite suddenly on Monday morning as the result of uraemic poisoning. He graduated at the College in the class of 1917 and was well known among Pennsylvania dairymen. The body was taken to his old home at Tarentum for burial yesterday.

HOPKINS.—Mrs. Mary Ann Hopkins, widow of the late William A. Hopkins, died at noon on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John B. Holter, at State College, after a seven week's illness. Her illness was the result of a general breakdown owing to her advanced age, and remarkable as it may seem, she had never had a spell of illness before in all her life.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rumberger and was born at Barre, Huntingdon county, on February 16th, 1832, hence was 89 years and 11 days old. As a young woman she was united in marriage to William A. Hopkins, a forgerman by occupation, and their married life was spent in Huntingdon, Blair and Centre counties. They moved to Howard about forty-one years ago and that was her residence until after the death of her husband, or about eight years ago, when she went to State College and had since made her home with her daughter. She was the mother of ten children, only three of whom survive, as follows: Mrs. M. B. Hamer, of Altoona; Mrs. S. V. Berger, of Andola, N. Y., and Mrs. John B. Holter, of State College. She also leaves five grand-children.

She was a life-long member of the Methodist church and her pastor had conducted the funeral services which were held on Wednesday morning, the remains being taken to Howard for burial.

Centre County Ores Made Money for Carnegie.

In the autobiography of Andrew Carnegie as copyrighted by his widow, Mrs. Louise Whitfield Carnegie, and now being published in the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph, he tells about their hunt for suitable iron ores for their blast furnaces and has the following to say in connection with their Centre county operations. After writing of the material increase in their blast furnace activities, he said:

There now remained to be acquired only the supply of iron stone. If we could obtain this we should be in the position occupied by only two or three of the European concerns. We thought at one time we had succeeded in discovering in Pennsylvania this last remaining link in the chain. We were misled, however, in our investment in the Tyrone region, and lost considerable sums as the result of our attempts to mine and use the ores of that section. They promised well at the edges of the mines, where the action of the weather for ages had washed away impurities and enriched the ore, but when we penetrated a small distance they proved too "lean" to work.

Our chemist, Mr. Prouser, was then sent to a Pennsylvania furnace among the hills which we had leased, with instructions to analyze all the materials brought to him from the district, and to encourage people to bring him specimens of minerals. A striking example of the awe inspired by the chemist in those days was that only with great difficulty could he obtain a man or a boy to assist him in the laboratory. He was suspected of illicit intercourse with the Powers of Evil when he undertook to tell by his suspicious-looking apparatus what a stone contained. I believe that at last we had to send him a man from our office at Pittsburgh.

One day he sent us a report of analyses of ore remarkable for the absence of phosphorus. It was really an ore suitable for making Bessemer steel. Such a discovery attracted our attention at once. The owner of the property was Moses Thompson, a rich farmer, proprietor of seven thousand acres of the most beautiful agricultural land in Centre county, Pennsylvania. An appointment was made to meet him upon the ground from which the ore had been obtained. We found the mine had been worked for a charcoal blast furnace fifty or sixty years before, but it had not borne a good reputation then, the reason no doubt being that its product was so much purer than other ores that the same amount of flux used caused trouble in smelting. It was so good it was good for nothing in those days of old.

We finally obtained the right to take the mine over at any time within six months, and we therefore, began the work of examination, which every purchaser of mineral property should make most carefully. We ran lines across the hillside fifty feet apart with cross-lines at distances of a hundred feet apart, and at each point of intersection we put a shaft down through the ore. I believe there were eighty such shafts in all and the ore was analyzed at every few feet of depth, so that before we paid over the hundred thousand dollars asked we knew exactly what there was of ore. The result hoped for was more than realized. Through the ability of my cousin and partner, Mr. Lauder, the cost of mining and washing was reduced to a low figure, and the Scotia ore made good all the losses we had incurred in the other mines, paid for itself, and left a profit besides. In this case, at least, we snatched a victory from the jaws of defeat. We trod upon sure ground with the chemist as our guide. It will be seen that we were determined to get raw materials and were active in the pursuit.

At the February meeting of the Woman's club, held in the auditorium of the High school building on Tuesday evening the members voted to contribute $25.00 to Chinese relief, $30.00 to European relief and $25.00 to the department of home economics of the High school in recognition of favors extended on various occasions. In addition to the above Mrs. Robert S. Walker assumed a book for the collection of $60.00 from the club and its members for the Armenian relief.

Ethics of Shoveling. You can make a science out of anything. You may remember the old joke about the Irishman who said that Hogan was a good shoveler, but he wasn't what you'd call a fancy shoveler. A big plant that manufactures shovels has made a study of shoveling and has unearthed some interesting facts. For instance, a good shoveler should pick up a heavier load than 21 pounds. A good shoveler should not throw further than ten feet horizontally or eight feet vertically. Shovelers should have two ten-minute periods of complete relaxation every two hours. Shovelers should work in pairs, not alone. Two men together will shovel twice as much as two alone. Now, spit on your hands and go to it!—Cincinnati Enquirer.
