Our Full Quota for Armenian Relief Has Been Contributed

It is estimated that there are more men unemployed in the United States today than at any time in its history. Times will not improve, or the prices of staples, like wheat and cotton and copper increase until conditions in Europe change. Every dollar contributed to European relief will return to us ten-fold. Transportation has brought the whole world together into one big business family. Great as our resources are we cannot go it alone. Until we realize this and act accordingly conditions here cannot permanently improve.
