Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coffey, who twenty-eight years, is now making his last rounds, as he intends quitting the business. He will spend the remainder saving all that was saved. of his days with his family in New Jersey, where he will set up as a merchant tailor. Last Monday evening the annual congregational meeting was held in the Presbyterian church; W. E. Reed presided. The report of the treasurer showed all obligations liquidated and a balance in the treasury of $414.06. Elmer Reed was elected trustee for a three year term. A unanimous call was extended Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick to become pastor of the charge. It was also decided to put new chairs in the lecture room and make a separate room for the juvenile class.

BOALSBURG.

Miss Anna Sweeney spent several days last week with friends at State College.

Meyer and Co. will open their ice cream parlor in the Malta hall on Sat-urday afternoon and evening, and will continue the sale of same during the James H. Potter, of Bellefonte, was a guest at the tavern on Saturday evening. Charles Mothersbaugh and Mrs. Charles Mothersburg. State College.

Mrs. Henry Reitz returned Saturday from a ten day's visit with friends in Sunbury and Williamsport.

Rev. J. M. Rearick, of Williamsburg, will preach in the Lutheran church Sunday evening, April 3rd. Messrs. George Fisher, George Rowe, Samuel Weber and Henry Hosterman spent a day last week in Altoona. Miss Amanda Mothersbaugh, of Altoona, was a visitor at the home of her brother, Leonidas Mothersbaugh, recently. The Boal-Corl bus on the State College-Lewistown route is again running on schedule time, after a few of a little son, this week. week's lay-off on account of the impassable roads. William H. Stuart is supplying the town people with milk; he having busy again. started a milk route through the town Earl Rhyl -a convenience our people should appreciate and patronize.

Mrs. Charles Kuhn was a Bellefonte visitor on Saturday, and was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. Mitchell Stover, of Altoona, who visited in this vicinity until Monday.

ORVISTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Lot Thompson, of the ball fields. Bellefonte ,were Orviston visitors last week. They stayed with Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson and renewed old friendships.

Mrs. J. H. Slaterbeck, who has been very ill in the Bellefonte hospital, has returned home much better. She is, however, far from well as yet; but is high in her praises of the nurses and doctors at the hospital.

Mrs. John Thompson, of West Brownsville, accompanied by her little boy and little grand-daughter, visited her sister, Mrs. Amelia Rickard, and her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Womer. Mrs. Rickard has been quite ill but is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Singer have a very sick little girl, Linda, who has been down with indigestion and a very severe cold. Mr. Singer was called to Romola by the illness of his father, John Singer, who has been ill for a long time, and is not expected to re-

Work is beginning to slacken here, and as a consequence, some of the folks are getting ready to pick out the hymns to be sung when they finish up (starvation) and ask what shall be said and who will be pall-bearers. Never mind, we will just forget groceries and go to church as we are to have "big meeting" in a few days, then we will have no cause to worry

The youngsters of the Orviston grammar school gave an entertainment at the school house for the benefit of the Near East relief, and it was quite a success from every point. They acquitted themselves splendidly. The Misses Doris and Lois Young, and the ed to the O. P. Bloom home near Baileyville and spent the Sabbath day all they could and rendered several songs to the amusement of the audience. The amount raised was not learned by the writer. Little Harold, the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, was scalded Saturday and had it not been for the presence of mind of his young mother the little fellow would have been in very bad shape. He pulled over on himself a pan of hot water his mother had placed on the stove for the purpose of scalding her breakfast dishes, and did not hear her baby, as he walks very lightly, and who pulled the pan over before she knew he was in the room. She snatched the wee man and tore the clothing off him instantly, before the burns had eaten into his tender flesh. Ointments were applied and a doctor called. However, he is improving and is surprisingly patient for a baby so young.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis N. Hume, of Renovo, were week-end visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hume Sr. They report a far greater loss from the Echange building fire, than was first supposed. With equipment, stock and fixtures, the loss amonuted to over $4000.00, and their insurance was only $2000.00, which amount they will not receive as Mr. Hume lost a lot of valuable papers and accounts while he with his wife were trying to arouse the inmates of the apartments above them. No one knows how the fire started, whether from rats chewing around, which has often occurred, a defective gas pipe, or electric wires, as both gas and electricity were used. Mr. and Mrs. Hume lost practically every-thing but the clothing they had on. Their niece, Miss Grace Croll, who makes her home with her uncle and aunt, and Mrs. Hume's daughter, Miss Mildred Nelson, lost almost all their clothing also. $1000.00 would not cover their combined loss in clothing and other belongings, and it would not have been so bad, but Mrs. Hume left were visiting with them at the restau-

The wild geese are going to the North-lands in large flocks. The grass has begun to grow and the fields are looking green. John Fishel is visiting among friends in Tyrone this week

Things have been selling rather low so far this year, at the sales. The wheat seems to have come through the winter in fine shape.

Peter Shuey and wife circulated among friends near town, Sunday. The farmers are busy plowing and getting ready for the spring seeding. John Lyle and brother are busy awing mine ties and hauling them to

Earl Rhykand, who has been a fireman on the freights between Altoona and Harrisburg, was laid off and is now spending his time on the farm of Norris Martz, near Linden Hall. The citizens of this town are quite busy fixing up their roads with the cinders that the P. R. R. Co. has been sending here for their use, free; and The Pennsylvania State College has two or more trucks busy hauling to Saturday evening when Willis Bathgate was on his way to Lemont in his Ford tuck, some one came around the corner where the Houserville road $400. joins the state road, near Samuel B. Wasson's, and struck his truck, throwing it off the road and if it had gone several feet further, would have landed in Spring creek. As it was he had to get John Stiver to haul him out to the road. Luckily no one was hurt.

place was ably filled by her brotherin-law, Rev. M. C. Drumm. The Literary society of the High school on Tuesday evening was large-ly attended. The pupils did very well, both in debate and their "play." Rev. W. R. Picken and son-in-law, R. P. Campbell, are in attendance at the Central Pennsylvania M. E. conference in session at Newberry.

Profiteers Forced to Build. Switzerland has found a new use for war profits. The Swiss who reaped an excess profit during the war can get an abatement of taxes if he will invest his surplus in residential Lousing under official regulation. The regulation guards against unsightly and insanitary building. It also restricts rentals to yield only a fair return on the investment. If the war profiteer does not care to put his easy money into this useful channel of public service at a fair return, the state takes a large part of it from him and itself subsidizes the building of homes.

Selling Human Bones. The keeper of a public cemetery of a small Bohemian town near Prague excavated the older parts of the graveyard, and sold all the old bones he could find for industrial purposes, as he found that certain manufacturers paid more for human bones than for those of animals. He had been earning money in this way for several years before he was detected and suspended from the post.

The Common Lot of Prophets.

From the Montreal Star. From the Montreal Star.

This is not a day of triumph: it is a day of dedication. Here muster not the forces of party, but the forces of humanity. Men's hearts wait upon us; men's lives hang in the balance: men's hopes call upon us to say what we will do. Who shall live up to the great trust? Who dares fail to try?—President Wilson's inaugural address, March 4, 1912.

The time was to come when the re-Miss Hazel Emery returned to her sponsibility borne by President Wilson was infinitely wider than could heard those words. It would be idle at this time to attempt with any confidence to estimate the place in history Mr. Wilson will occupy. Today, broken in health, he is also under the cloud of popular rebuke in his own country, which is but

In the feverish days of peace since the signing of the armistice, Democracy has not been kind to the leaders who bore terrible burdens of office in the dark and bloody times. Had this repudiation come during a period distinguished by idealism in private and public life, it would be easier to suggest with some assurance the ultimate verdict upon such men as Woodrow Wilson. #### GOLDINE DOES AWAY WITH GAS IN STOMACH

Mrs. Mary Miller, Mellenville, N. Y., said: "For seven years I suffered terribly from stomach trouble. Everyvous I could not sleep. I work at the Rob Roy mills, and it was hard for me. I got a bottle of Goldine about two weeks ago, and Mary Miller weeks ago, and am surprised how it helped me. That pressure in my head is all gone, which is a wonderful relief. I have no more burning in my stomach after enting, and my food digests well. I sleep better and feel better than I have in seven years. Goldine is a truly wonderful medicine and I am glad to tell others what it will do."—Mrs. Mary Miller.
