

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

A new concrete floor was put down in the Bush house cigar store on Monday.

The armory floor is to be put in shape for the opening of the skating rink there on or about the last of March.

A number of new members will be initiated into Washington Camp No. 887, P. O. S. of A., of Bellefonte, this (Friday) evening. All members are requested to be present.

Policeman Elmer Yeager has been spending the week at State College and substitute George C. Glenn has been looking after the peace and dignity of Bellefonte during his absence.

Word received in Bellefonte during the past week from Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cook, in Orlando, Florida, is to the effect that their daughter, Miss Grace, who had been quite critically ill, is better, and hope is now felt for her recovery.

Members of the American Legion in Bellefonte are planning for quarters of their own and already have several locations in view. Just as soon as they can close a lease for one of them they propose opening headquarters of their very own.

At the Romick and Harrison sales, which immediately follow each other, on east Bishop street, Wednesday afternoon, will be all kinds of household goods, including furniture, a range, double heater, and everything to be used in a well set up home.

Anyone who is looking for a location for a shop might do well to see a large two-story building at the rear of A. R. Everett's home on Howard street. It is roomy, in good repair and easy of access. It is admirably adapted for laundry, painting or repair work.

An Easter food sale will be held at the Episcopal parish house on Saturday, March 26th, from 1.30 to 4 o'clock. All kinds of things for Easter day—bread, rolls, cakes, desserts, meat rolls, home-made chocolate eggs, other eggs, and candy. Be sure and attend.

The Bellefonte Academy students are now hard at work practicing for their annual minstrel performance on May 19th and 20th. Their repertoire of songs includes the most catchy and up-to-date selections, and they have already compiled a good list of new jokes and quips which are sure to please. Remember the dates and keep them open for the minstrels.

The State-Centre Electric company has filed a new tariff of rates with the Public Service Commission governing electric service in portions of Centre and Clinton counties. The new tariff becomes effective on April 1st, 1921, and amends Rule No. 13 covering penalty by adding the following clause: "Failure to receive bill does not relieve consumer of penalty."

While some of the lime industries around Bellefonte are closed down for lack of orders the Scenic is open every evening during the week except Sunday. There is no lack of good motion pictures and the Scenic is providing Bellefonters with a large share of the very best. That is the reason it is always so well patronized. No other place in Bellefonte offers the same kind of amusement.

Harry Johnson, who was recently awarded the contract for carrying the U. S. mail through Nittany valley from Bellefonte to Lock Haven, has already reud his bargain and will probably throw up the contract. Under the new regulations promulgated by the Postoffice Department the contractor will be prohibited from carrying passengers enroute, and this source of revenue being cut off Mr. Johnson considers his bid too low.

The storm doors at the First National bank were taken down last Friday; two new benches were taken to the court house on Monday as resting places for the old soldiers when the air gets warm and balmy; the curbstone orator is again in evidence; fresh rhubarb is creeping out of the ground and the lilac buds are bursting, ample evidence that spring will soon be here when the man with the spade and the hoe will be king bee in the garden patch.

The recent arrest of Joe Rosenthal, of Wilkes-Barre, the alleged head of the whiskey gang that has been flooding this section of the State with booze, may result in some interesting disclosures. It is said that the authorities have confiscated his books which show that he had about fifteen regular customers in Clearfield, a dozen at Osceola, six at Houtzdale, twenty at DuBois and eighteen in Phillipsburg and Bellefonte. It is also alleged that the authorities are considering the publication of the above list of customers.

Many persons in Centre county are under the impression that the European relief and Near East relief are one and the same worthy cause, but such is not the case, and those in charge of the European relief want this fact impressed upon the public. The Near East campaign is over and Centre county did its part in this great work. The appeal now before the people is for help for the European relief, and Centre county's share is approximately ten thousand dollars. As this will probably be the last general appeal to be made for any unusual assistance a generous response is hoped for.

Bellefonte Hotel Men Given Fine and Jail Sentence.

Judge Witmer, of Sunbury, this week disposed of the cases against Henry Kline, August Glinz and Walter Krytzer, of Bellefonte, arrested several months ago on the charge of illegally trafficking in liquor, by imposing the following sentences: Henry Kline, $500 fine and ten days in the Centre county jail; Walter Krytzer, $300 fine and ten days in jail; August Glinz, $200 fine, and Barney Bilger, $50 fine.

Charles Baney, charged with stealing confiscated liquor from the vault in the cellar of the Bellefonte postoffice, was given a two month's jail sentence, and Thomas W. Johnson (colored) arrested in company with Baney, was sent to jail for twenty days. W. G. Runkle represented Johnson before the U. S. district court which was held in Scranton, and after the latter was sentenced attorney Runkle was sworn in as a deputy U. S. Marshall to deliver him to the Centre county jail, which he did yesterday morning.

Readers of the "Watchman" no doubt recall the raid made by Rev. R. E. Johnson, the fighting parson, and his wrecking squad of Philadelphia, in Bellefonte during November when both the Haag house and Garman house were cleaned out of all the liquor the raiders could find, and the proprietors placed under arrest. About a case of whiskey was secured at the Haag house and a small quantity of liquor found in Krytzer's room at the Garman house, but from the latter place the raiding parson also took Mr. Glinz's private stock of old wines that he had declared to the government and were legally in his possession. This was the first booze stored in the old wine vault in the cellar of the postoffice, but since that time the stock has been added to frequently until now there is probably fifty thousand dollar's worth stored there.

The cases against landlords Kline and Glinz have hung fire ever since, and their applications for a license for 1921 were held up pending the disposition of these cases. The sentences of Judge Witmer being limited to fines these will likely be promptly paid and the cases closed on the docks of the U. S. court.

Found Small Fortune in Old Feather Tick.

A report comes from Mill Hall of the finding of a small fortune in an old feather tick by Mrs. Minerva Miller, who makes her home with her son, Clyde V. Mauck, at that place. It appears that Mrs. Miller had an old tick that had passed its days of usefulness and a few days ago she ripped it open with the intention of burning the feathers. In taking the feathers out of the tick she came across a cloth-wrapped package and, upon opening it, discovered the contents to be greenbacks, ranging in denomination from one to twenty dollars. Most of the outer bills were so old, worn and soiled that it is hard to determine their denomination, but the total amount of the find is estimated at from $1,500 to $2,000. The worn and soiled bills will be sent to the U. S. treasury for redemption.

The feather tick was given Mrs. Miller by an aunt, who died in Mill-hall about twenty-five years ago. That was before the days of so many banks in Millheim and the original owner of the tick had evidently used it as a safety deposit vault.

Centre Countians Inherit Money.

Nine natives of the wilds in Centre county literally gasped this week when they received checks for $1637.10 each as their portion from the estate of Martha J. Campbell, who died at Northumberland more than a year ago, says a Sunbury dispatch published in the North American yesterday. More than a year ago when Mrs. Campbell died, she left $5000 to a Presbyterian school in Philadelphia and the rest of her fortune to her blood relatives. A branch of the family lived in Columbus, Ohio, and the audit of the estate was about to be made when a Northumberland lawyer located another branch of the family in Centre county.

A correspondence followed and the investigation showed the Centre countians to be blood relatives and they shared in the distribution. The list of Centre county heirs as given in the dispatch includes Louise A. Hanselman, Lucy M. Cook, Adam Hanselman, Uriah Hanselman, William Hanselman, Richard Hanselman, Anne E. Harkey, Matilda J. Kessler and Peter Hanselman.

C. Y. Wagner and Co. Inc. Again Making Fine Flour.

The splendid new mill which has been recently completed by C. Y. Wagner & Co., Inc., is in operation and again the brands of flour that had such an enviable reputation when Mr. Wagner was milling at Roopsburg are on the local market.

"Our Best," which is a straight winter wheat product, and "Victory," the brand under which they manufacture their fine patented spring wheat flour, are both commanding the praise of local house-keepers who do their own baking.

The mill is holding out special opportunities for farmers through its advertised offer to grind feed while they wait and is also in the market for all kinds of grain.

Matthew Rogers Jr. has resigned his position as cashier of the First National bank at Howard to accept a similar position in Philadelphia, expecting to make the change on April first.

Mr. Henry Klonower, assistant director of the Department of Public Instruction, will speak on "The Plans of the State Educational Department," on Tuesday evening, March 22nd, at 8:15, in the old chapel, State College. All persons interested in the progress of education in the State of Pennsylvania are invited. Go and get first-hand information. The meeting has been arranged by the citizenship section of the Women's club of State College and is open to all.

Hugh and Philip Johnston, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy Johnston, of Bellefonte, both graduates of the Bellefonte High school where they took a leading part in all athletics, are keeping up in their sports at Dickinson College, where they are now students. Both young men played forward on the Dickinson basket ball team and showed rare form in the cage, being two of the heaviest shooters on the squad. They work exceptionally well together and promise to develop into two of the speediest cagemen Dickinson has ever had.

Thomas Caldwell, who has been head plumber in the Archibald Allison plumbing establishment for many years, last week closed a deal for the purchase of the entire store and equipment from Mr. Allison. Appraisers started this week to make an inventory of the stock in the store but before they got very far along in their work Mr. Caldwell became ill as the result of blood poisoning and has been in a very critical condition at his home on Lamb street. Yesterday, however, his condition seemed enough improved to lend encouragement to the hope for his speedy recovery.

In a few days the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. will be represented on the streets by a fine new motor truck. The big hardware firm has clung to the horse delivery system longer than any other of our local industries because the head of the firm has always been a lover of horses and just couldn't bear to let their faithful animals go. They have purchased a new White chassis and Forrest Bullock has completed a very substantial body for it so that very soon the hay motors of this well known wholesale concern will give way to the speedier but far less dependable power of gasoline.

Graduate manager Jay P. Harman, of the Susquehanna University, is somewhat exercised over the fact that some Bellefonte paper in commenting upon a recent game of basket ball between the Bellefonte Academy five and players from the Selinsgrove institution referred to the latter as the "Susquehanna University team," when in reality the quintette were only young men who are lovers of the game and not an organized team at all. So far as the comments referred to are concerned the "Watchman" pleads not guilty, but we gladly make the explanation just the same.

Quite extensive improvements are now being made in the Bush house which, when completed, will further increase the conveniences of this always popular hotel. Running water is being installed in eight additional rooms, which will make a total of twenty-eight rooms with running water, hot and cold, and seven rooms with private baths. The main hallways in the building are being repainted and papered, the dining room and office will be gone over and when all the work planned has been completed the interior of the hotel will present such an improved appearance that its regular patrons will hardly know the place.

A letter from Mrs. L. H. Turner, of Randallia, Iowa, brings to this office the announcement of the recent death at that place of George Kline Hall, a native of Centre county, who was born and grew to manhood at Howard. He was a nephew of former sheriff Kline, of Bellefonte. Mr. Hall went west many years ago and located at West Union, Iowa, but two years ago went to Randallia. Though he lived in the west for many years he kept in touch with affairs in his native county through the columns of the "Watchman" and would rather go without his Sunday dinner than miss an issue of the paper. He never married and his only survivors include nieces and nephews.

Bellefonte has a case of sickness that two physicians have diagnosed as smallpox. The victim is Joseph Baney, who has been employed as a section hand on the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad. Baney had been engaged in handling freshly creosoted ties and it was at first thought that the breaking out on his arms might be poison from the creosote but physicians diagnosed otherwise, and yesterday it was stated that the disease is now well defined. It is a comparatively light case, however, and Mr. Baney's condition is not at all serious. The man lives, as stated above, on Logan street with his wife and two young children. The house has been quarantined and every effort will be made to prevent the spread of the disease. How Mr. Baney came in contact with the contagion is an unsolved question.

Altoona Trying for Aviation Field.

Business men of Altoona are considerably excited just now over the possibility of that city being selected as a station on a new air mail line which it is rumored will be put in operation between New York and Chicago on May first. According to the rumor the Lawson Airline Co., Inc., of which Alfred W. Lawson is the president, claims they have been awarded the contract for carrying the U. S. mail from New York to Chicago, via Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, the contract to begin May first. During the past two weeks a gentleman named C. F. Anderson, who claims to represent the Lawson company, has paid Altoona several visits for the purpose of examining sites for a landing place in that city, claiming that regular stops will probably be made in Altoona. The Altoona papers quote Mr. Anderson as authority for the statement that when the Lawson company takes over the mail contract the government will naturally cease to function so far as carrying the mails is concerned over the present New York to Chicago route, and the result will be the abandonment of the aviation field in Bellefonte.

While the "Watchman" has no inside information in regard to the matter it does know that at the present time extensive improvements are being made to the wireless station on the Bellefonte field which will run into thousands of dollars, and other costly improvements and equipment have been planned for the field and buildings in general, and it hardly seems reasonable that these expenses would be incurred if the government intended abandoning the field as early as May first. And then again, the location of a suitable field in the neighborhood of Altoona may not be an easy matter, as just any old field will not do for airplane service.

Answers to Health Questions.

Question 1. What is the regulation of the Advisory Board in regard to kitchen or laundry water?

Answer. No kitchen or laundry water shall be allowed to flow into any gutter, roadway or public place.

Question 2. Before what officer is a case of infringement brought?

Answer. A Justice of the Peace.

Question 3. What does the State do when Boards of Health are inefficient?

Answer. Discharge the local Board of Health and take over the local health administration, charging all expense to the borough in question. The subject of the next lesson is "First Aid."

Prompt and sensible administration of first aid has a value which cannot be measured. Meddlesome first aid is dangerous, often productive of great discomfort to the patient and serious hindrance to recovery.

Grape Pruning.

Grape pruning should be done without delay. Remember that the fruit is borne on new wood, growing from the buds now present on last year's wood. Most people owning a few vines do not prune grapes heavily enough. A strong vine should be pruned to carry not more than twenty to fifty buds, and weaker vines will do best on even less buds. Too many buds will form too much inferior fruit, sapping the vitality of the vine. Eight canes with about six buds each is a good proportion for a strong vine.

Write to The Pennsylvania State College school of agriculture, State College, Pa., for Extension Circular No. 81, "Grape Culture in Pennsylvania," which contains full information on pruning.

Schlow, proprietor of Schlow's Quality Shop, from Mrs. J. A. Aiken. The block was built by Mrs. A. Aiken's husband a number of years ago and is one of the most substantial and convenient in Bellefonte. The price paid was $23,000, of which amount $8,000 was in cash.

M. A. Landsy returned to Bellefonte last Friday after a business trip to Franklin and other western Pennsylvania towns and was surprised to see that so far this town has not been so greatly affected with the slump in work and wages as the towns in the western part of the State. In fact, he asserts that business of all kinds in that section is simply rotten, and especially in the oil towns.

Mr. E. C. Poorman, of Tyrone, was a Bellefonte visitor on Tuesday and a pleasant visitor at the "Watchman" office.
