TRAINED WILD ANIMALS.

That Were Trapped and Trained Have Become Clever Circus Performers.

More beautiful by far than painter's brush could portray are the picturesque groupings of the trained wild animals exhibited and performing for public safety within the confines of a huge steel girt arena at the Walter L. Main circus, on Monday May 9th. They form heroic pictures almost beyond the pale of mortal man's conception.

Here we see the trainer's wondrous art of subjugation demonstrated to the highest state of mental and physical possibility. The biblical injunction that the lion and the lamb should lie down together is here exemplified on a scale so broad that it passes understanding. Great natural, implacable foes of forest, jungle and frozen wastes are seen gathered together in amicable union, their inherent hatred for one another transformed into animal love by the gentle teachings and precepts of man. We see presented the incredible spectacle of the harmonious housing of once ferocious and lordly lions, fierce Bengal tigers, crafty and cunning leopards, sneaking and snarling pumas, great rapacious polar bears, and magnificent and lovable Great Dane dogs. The trainer enters the enormous steel cage and the animals answer his bidding in awesome and sensational stunts. Colossal pyramids and graceful and beautiful tableaux are formed; the jungle terrors, the tigers, playfully engage in a game of the see-saw, with a Great Dane dog balancing the board and furnishing the motive power; another tiger rides a tricycle propelled by the dogs; leopards and polar bears frolic together and do rolling and balancing stunts on barrels and chairs; lions and tigers convert themselves into a soft and downy couch upon which the trainer reclines in peaceful repose; the entire group gather around a festal board with the trainer as host, and a monster lion and lioness in the places of honor on either side; the largest tiger presently opens his huge mouth that the trainer may place his entire head on the inside; and the crowning test of the complete subjugation of these ferocious beasts comes when the trainer, with bare hands, feeds them rare tidbits of raw meat. One who knows of the savage instincts displayed by these terrible cats when feeding in their natural state can gain some conception of the wonderful character of this unparalleled feat. It may well be said that though they have not the gift of speech that is the only thing lacking to make these trained wild beasts the equal of human thespians.

(Cut this out and save for reference.)

SATURDAY, APRIL 16:

GEORGE WALSH in "NO. 17." This enterprising, energetic, acrobatic young man put over another of his athletic pictures, interspersed with love and romance, that pleases. Also, Snub Pollard Comedy.

Saturday Matinee Douglas Fairbanks in "THE NUT." Hero in love with girl goes to extremes to introduce her to rich people she wants to meet. Also, First National comedy, "Rich in High Life." Friday and Saturday Nights at Opera House.

MONDAY, APRIL 18:

Douglas McLean and Doris May in "THE JAILBIRD," a dandy comedy founded on a crook's reform under refining influences of small town folk, escapes into the penitentiary the same way he escapes out. Very good one. Sure to please. Don't miss it. Also, Screen Snap Shots and Pathe News and Topics.

TUESDAY, APRIL 19:

WILLIAM H. CRANE and BUSTER KEATON in "THE SAPHEAD." This Metro all star is a comedy drama taken from the play "Henrietta." Keaton's comedy work is fine. Seven reels. Story, Saphead, son of rich man, thrown out but later saves father's fortune by accident. Also, The Gumps and a comedy.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20 (Matinee and Night):

CHARLES RAY in "THE PEACEFUL VALLEY." This First National, seven reel picture is a wonderfully human picture that is guaranteed to entertain the most confirmed grouch. Don't miss it. A crackerjack. Also, Sunshine comedy, "The Baby." Come to matinee.

THURSDAY, APRIL 21:

BEBE DANIELS in "OH, LADY, LADY." A dandy comedy that's sure to please, with Walter Hires, Harrison Ford. Good story, lots of fun, fine titles, a sure fire please. Story, one woman and man get in wrong when other woman comes around. Also, Pathe News and Review.

FRIDAY, APRIL 22:

CARMEL MEYERS in "MAD MARRIAGE." A girl marries struggling artist and then become famous playwright. She married him because producer told her she must know more of life before she could write a play. Also, 14th episode of "Son of Tarzan."
