

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Hear Rev. Bidlock at the Methodist church on Sunday. A strong speaker and always a message worth while.

Among the appropriations which have received favorable recommendation is one for $681,923 for the western penitentiary.

Another cold wave Sunday night and Monday retarded vegetation but fortunately the mercury did not get down to the freezing point.

The Penn State track and field team defeated Harvard in a close contest at their dual meet on Beaver field on Tuesday by the score of 61 to 56.

The condition of Dr. H. M. Hiller, who was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, is slightly improved, and everything possible known to medical science is being done for his relief.

Since the need for food is so great in China, the Y. W. girls decided at a special meeting to give the fifty dollars they made at their dance, to the Chinese relief fund. Eleanor Weston, president of the club, will have charge of the Chinese life saving stamps for the town and county. Any one can secure these stamps by calling Miss Weston.

W. C. Rowe has resigned his position as chief clerk at the Bush house, a position he filled for a number of years past, and W. Lester Musser has been secured by the management as his successor. Inasmuch as Mr. Musser was employed in a similar capacity at the Bush house a number of years ago the job is not new to him and there is no question but that he will make a good man for his employers.

The Lutheran Brotherhood will meet tonight in the social rooms of the church, at 6:30, when dinner will be served. Prof. Weik's High school orchestra will furnish music. Captain "Jack" Schoch, of Williamsport, who has been intimately allied with military life for twenty years, will speak on "Through the Mud of France and Still Smiling." Chaplain Young will tell some interesting things concerning his recent trip to California.

The Bellefonte Academy minstrels are rounding into shape for their annual entertainment on the evenings of May 19th and 20th. The fifteen young ladies of Bellefonte who will take part will undoubtedly prove a big drawing card. Many new features will be introduced, while the songs will all be new and the repertoire of jokes and quips the best and most appealing of and collected by the Academy minstrels. Don't forget the dates.

Work on resurfacing the state highway on Bishop, Allegheny and Linn streets will be started by the State Highway Department next Monday morning at the corner of Allegheny and Bishop streets, working east on Bishop street. During the work that street will be closed to traffic. The Department will also eliminate that dangerous reverse curve on the Nittany valley road beyond the aviation field by cutting across the old roadbed of the Nittany Valley railroad, thus doing away with that dangerous spot.

All persons who are cleaning house and clearing out many articles of furniture, clothing or utensils that are of no further use to them should keep in mind the rummage sale which the women will have during the first week in May. It will be held in the Undine engine house and if you have anything that could be used by some one else less fortunately placed than yourself call Mrs. Brouse or send it to the Undine engine house, where it will be prepared for the sale, the exact date of which will be announced next week.

A convention of the county Christian Endeavor Union will be held in the United Brethren church, Bellefonte, on May 27th. Every Christian Endeavor society in the county is urged to send one or more delegates. Temporary officers of the Union were elected at the reorganization meeting held at Centre Hall in February, but permanent officers will be chosen at the convention to be held in May. This will be the first convention held since 1916. E. R. Buller, a student at State College, is the present temporary chairman.

The "Watchman" has been informed that a call has been extended Rev. M. DePue Maynard to become assistant rector to Rev. Upton at the Episcopal church in Germantown, but whether he will accept or not remains to be seen. It is also stated that a delegation from a large Presbyterian church in New York were present in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church on Sunday evening to hear Dr. McKinney preach. Both gentlemen are such able exponents of the Holy Truth that their many friends would naturally regret to see them leave Bellefonte.

Bellefonte and Pennsylvally will be about as greatly isolated during the summer as they were in the days before railroads and automobiles. According to an official notice published in another column of this paper the road over the mountain to Centre Hall will be closed, at least, until the first of August, and all traffic will have to be by way of Lemont. It is a big way around to get a short distance but it is one of the inconveniences that the public must endure if they want the public highways improved, and that is one thing most everybody wants these days.

MANY FISH CAUGHT FIRST DAY.

Opening of Trout Season Yielded Good Returns to Host of Fishermen.

Last Friday morning was ideal weather for the opening of the trout fishing season and about every man and boy who owned a rod and line was out trying his luck. And most of them were out early, too, as is evidenced by the fact that passengers on the Lewisburg train which left Bellefonte at 6:30 a. m. counted seventy-six fishermen on Logan's branch between the Titan Metal company's plant and the fish hatchery. And taken as a whole that stream yielded the poorest returns of any stream in this section on the opening day, while Spring creek offered up a bounteous supply of the speckled beauties. In fact, one fisherman told the writer that it was literally speaking a shame the way the trout were pulled out of that creek on Friday.

To begin with the stream was unusually low and the trout had congregated in the deepest pools they could find and naturally there were many of them in each pool, so that all a fisherman had to do was hunt a pool and go to work. The trout bit freely and a score of fishermen got the limit. The trout ran in size from six to fourteen inches, but the majority were from six to ten.

No unusually large catches were made in the vicinity of Bellefonte, so far as numbers are concerned, but the banner catch of the day was made by Frank Kern. While he got but eleven trout, fishing between the McCalmont & Co. office and Milesburg, he got one which measured 23 1/2 inches and weighed four pounds; another 18 inches long and one 16 inches. Dr. Kilpatrick got fourteen, his biggest one being 16 inches. William Winton got twenty-two for his day's work but none of them exceedingly large.

Among those who got the limit up Spring creek were Joseph Thal, Ray Strunk, Ed Miller, Willis Shuey and others whose names could not be learned.

Of course quite a number of Bellefonters idealize Fishing creek as the only place to go for trout, and evidently the fame of this remarkable stream has spread beyond the confines of Pennsylvania, because on Thursday evening a fully equipped fisherman arrived in Bellefonte from Cumberland, Md., and inquired how he could get to Fishing creek. Of course that stream was lined with fishermen on the opening day and quite a number got the limit. Among them were James C. Furst, Charles M. McCurdy, George R. Meek, W. C. Coxe, T. H. Harter and others.

ILLEGAL FISHERMEN GIVEN HEAVY FINE.

Three fishermen from Uniontown, namely, C. E. Cornish, Bryson Heath and Lyman Roderick, were caught in the act of fishing for trout in the closed portion of Spring creek just below the falls on Monday night, and also using outlines, were placed under arrest on Tuesday morning and at a hearing before Squire S. Kline Woodring were each fined $120.00 and costs, or a total of $385.50, which they paid.

The "Watchman" last week expressed the belief that most of the big trout had been scooped out of the creek below the falls on Wednesday night of last week, thirty-six hours before the opening of the trout fishing season, and since then the police have kept a superficial watch over the stream but failed to catch any one. Monday night, or rather a little after one o'clock on Tuesday morning Fred Love, Russell Lambert and Gilbert Waite came out of Moerschbacher's restaurant after eating a lunch and noticed two men standing on the bridge and acting in a rather suspicious manner. Walking up onto the bridge they discovered a man down in the creek just below the falls.

Love and Waite walked out Water street and just as they reached the falls they saw the man pitch an outline into the stream. In the meantime Lambert went up town, hunted up policeman Yerger and reported what they had seen. Mr. Yerger called the sheriff and they came down town just in time to see the three men enter the Bush house. They then went out to the falls and investigated, pulling in the outline on which was one sixteen inch trout.

Inquiry later developed the fact that the three men had gone to bed at the Bush house but a close watch was kept until morning to see that they didn't get away. About six o'clock the three men came out of the hotel and went around to the Beatty garage where they had their Ford car. They were promptly recognized as the men who were seen the night before and the sheriff and policeman Yerger followed them to the garage and placed them under arrest.

They were taken to jail and later information was made against the three of them, charging them with fishing in a closed stream and also fishing with illegal devices. They were taken for a hearing before Squire Woodring at ten o'clock in the morning, but they all plead guilty to the charge. In explanation they stated that they had been up in Lycoming county on a fishing trip and had met with poor luck. Coming to Bellefonte on Monday afternoon they were attracted to Spring creek by the "No Fishing" signs and naturally walked out along the creek. Seeing a few big trout below the falls they decided to stay over and run the risk of getting some.

Of course, having plead guilty the only thing the Squire could do was impose the stipulated fine and costs, $120.00 for each man and $25.50 costs, or a total of $385.50. One of the fishermen, by the way, Mr. Roderick, claimed to be a relative of State Senator Crow.

REWARD FOR INFORMANTS.

The members of the Sportsmen's association of Bellefonte, are raising a purse which will be divided equally between the three young men, Fred Love, Russell Lambert and Gilbert Waite, who detected the illegal fishermen and notified the officers.

Don't fail to see the demonstration of the Westinghouse automatic electric range at the Electric Supply Co., all this week. 16-1t

That wonderful picture, "Way Down East," has come and gone and most of the people in Bellefonte went to see it. Of course all motion pictures are not put out with the same magnitude as "Way Down East" but good pictures can be seen any night at the Scenic. In fact they are the best to be had and are sure to offer two hours of entertainment every evening.

Antonio Insano, of Jefferson county, was electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary on Monday morning for the murder early in 1920 of Rosario Panzerello, having lain in wait in the rear of his home and when Panzerello went to feed his pigs shot him. Insano claimed that Panzerello had robbed him of $2,000, his life's savings, but there was no evidence produced at the trial to show that his story was correct.

A forest fire recently burned over 150 acres of State land and about 100 acres of private owned land in Gregg township, Centre county, according to a report sent to the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry by district forester Bartschat, of Millroy. The flames were fanned by a high wind, and they were finally controlled by forest rangers Smith and McKinney and a crew of fifty men. The fire started in the vicinity of Summit road, and the damage is estimated at $2,000.

Friday night the pageant, "The Rights of a Child," scheduled to take place in the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock. No admission, but an offering will be lifted to defray expenses of children's treat.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock all Sunday school members are to meet at their respective rooms and form for parade. This parade will be headed by the Odd Fellows band.

High School Athletics.

The plan to have more students participate in athletics at the High school is succeeding very well. By means of the class baseball teams and the track work, between sixty and seventy-five boys take part, as against fifteen for basket ball.

During the past week the Seniors won their second game of class baseball by defeating the Juniors 3-0. On Saturday the Varsity team went to Centre Hall where they defeated the strong High school team of that town by the score of 8-7.

This week and next, with hope of fair weather, both the track and baseball squads will work hard to prepare for the coming contests. The former are determined that the first county track championship shall come to Bellefonte on April 30th. The latter are anxious to make up for the football defeat given by State College last fall, by winning the pair of baseball games this spring. The first of these will be at Bellefonte on May 4th.

State College Warmly Welcomed New President.

Dr. John W. Thomas, the new president of The Pennsylvania State College, arrived at that institution last Friday, having made the trip from Middlebury, Vt., by automobile, taking four days for the trip. The entire student body lined up on the campus to greet the new president and he made his initial speech to them from the steps of Old Main. This week Dr. Thomas has been busy getting comfortably located in the president's house and making acquaintance of members of the faculty and students. He will naturally take things a little easy at first until he gets acquainted with the general routine of the president's work at the college.

While the date of his official inauguration as the new president has not yet been set it will likely not be until some time next fall, possibly either on October 15th, the annual alumni home coming day, or November 5th, Pennsylvania day. Dr. Thomas will deliver the annual commencement address in June and then go back to Middlebury College to deliver the annual commencement address there.

Though Dr. Edwin Erie Sparks has retired as president of the College he will not be lost to that institution, but has been assigned an honorable faculty chair as lecturer on American history. He just recently returned to the College after spending several months on a tour through southern States.

ITALIAN STABBING AFFRAY.

Guy Bonfatto Slashed with Big Knife by Charles Montzell.

Had it not been for the timely assistance of Edward Eberhart we might now be telling the story of a brutal murder instead of a serious stabbing affray which took place on Tuesday afternoon on east Lamb street. The principals in the case were Guy Bonfatto, the little Italian who for the past two years has so successfully conducted a green grocery store in the Bush Arcade, and Charlie Montzell, another Italian, who was employed by the American Lime and Stone company until the plants were shut down when he started a fish route in Bellefonte and later added fruits to his stock in trade. This not only created a rivalry between he and Bonfatto but distinctly bad blood, as Montzell blamed Bonfatto for interfering with his trade.

Tuesday afternoon Bonfatto and his clerk, Mike Corsica, were up on east Lamb street making deliveries of fruit and just as they stopped their car in front of W. J. Musser's house Montzell with his old black horse and spring wagon drove up from Linn street. Seeing Bonfatto in the act of taking a basket of fruit into the Musser home Montzell drew a big knife and made for him. Bonfatto was taken unawares and Montzell slashed him before he had a chance to defend himself. Corsica jumped out of the car and ran to Bonfatto's assistance but could do very little to help him as Montzell slashed and cut like a raving maniac. Fortunately Edward Eberhart, who drives for Herr & Heverly, drove up onto the street and he ran to the rescue, wrenching the murderer's knife from Montzell's hand and then choking him until Bonfatto got out of his clutches.

Corsica and Eberhart naturally gave their first attention to Bonfatto, who had received a bad cut on the right side of the face down to the point of the chin, a cut over the abdomen, one in the back and one on the upper part of the right arm. Montzell ran down Lamb street and up Ridge and disappeared. In the meantime persons who saw the stabbing telephoned for the sheriff and state police and they promptly started on the trail of the frenzied Italian. Bonfatto was hurriedly taken to a doctor's office and from there to the hospital where his cuts were sewed up. While serious enough they were fortunately found not critical and after being given proper attention he returned to his lodgings in the Bush Arcade.

Montzell got away from the officers and might still be at large had it not been for the story of a woman living on Reservoir hill who stated that she had seen a man crawling into Angelo Genna's chicken coop. The sheriff was promptly notified and he and the state police hastened to Genna's home and the man proved to be Montzell. He was hauled out of the coop and promptly taken to jail to await trial at the next term of court.

Hard Cider Precipitates Fight.

On Sunday evening word was telephoned to Bellefonte that a murder had been committed in the neighborhood of the Advent church and sheriff Harry Dukeman and a member of the state police beat it out as quickly as possible to capture the murderer, but when they got there they found that instead of a murder it had been a general fight between Constance Sharp and John Barndt, precipitated by the too free indulgence in hard cider. Sharp got the worst of the bargain, as he was more or less cut and bruised about the head where Barndt had hit him with the flat side of a double bitted axe. Both men were placed under arrest, brought to Bellefonte and placed in the Centre county jail.

S. O. S. Call for China.

15,000,000 Chinese are face to face with starvation. The Chinese government, England, Australia and the United States have sent help, but not enough. We must save 5,000,000 men, women and children until the middle of June or relief will come too late for many and those not strengthened will be unable to reap their spring harvest and support themselves.

No American is so poor that he cannot save a life at the lowest rate ever quoted—3 cents a day or $1.00 a month; $2.00 will save a life until harvest. Even if you have already given, give again, that life may be saved.

This call is to the whole of Centre county. Is there not some one in each community who will volunteer to cooperate with the committee?

Life saving stamps (3 cents a piece) can be procured from Miss Eleanor Weston, Bellefonte.

The need is imperative. Please respond to some member of the committee, or better, volunteer to raise what you can in your own locality. What you do, do quickly.

Committee—Mr. Charles McCurdy, treasurer; Rev. M. DeP. Maynard, Mrs. Robert Mills Beach, Mrs. R. S. Brouse, Miss Margaret H. Cook, Miss Mary Hunter Linn and Miss Eleanor Weston, all of Bellefonte.

Community Party.

A community party will be given in the Town Hall, Bellefonte, on Wednesday evening, May 4th, from eight until twelve o'clock.

There will be dancing, cards and refreshments, under the direction of the Woman's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church and the music will be furnished by the Academy orchestra. An admission of 75 cents will be charged. 16-2t

He is now traveling for the Red Devil Co., of Chicago, selling grease and is meeting with such success that he wonders whether it all is true. "Nick" met his Waterloo as a decorator while in Washington. James is married now, farming for himself and has become greatly interested in church work.

The Abramsen Engineering Co.

For some time past an effort has been in progress in Bellefonte to dispose of fifty thousand dollars stock in the Abramsen Engineering company in order to keep the plant in Bellefonte. The question of the sale of this stock was the main thing discussed at the regular meeting of the Business Men's Association on Wednesday evening. In explanation it might be said that there is nothing financially wrong with the company. One or more of the present members are going to withdraw therefrom for good and sufficient reasons, and while the company can get plenty of other capital to go ahead on it is with the proviso that the plant be moved to Pittsburgh. Bellefonte, however, can keep the plant here by taking stock to the amount of $50,000. About $38,000 of this amount has been raised and if the plant is to be kept here the balance must be taken by Saturday. It was to urge the necessity of acting quickly that interested the Business Men's association. Any person interested should see either Robert F. Hunter or Charles M. McCurdy.

In view of the coming commencement the nurse's home has been the scene of some very pleasant social affairs. Recently the Seniors tendered a very delightful farewell party to the underclasses and on last Saturday evening the class of nineteen-twenty-two gave their reception to the graduating class. On both occasions the nurse's home was prettily decorated with cut flowers, and class and school colors. Guests were present from Altoona, State College, and other places, and after spending the evening in enjoying music, games, dancing and delicious refreshments, they departed, wishing the young ladies continued success in their splendid profession.

To Plant Black Walnut Trees.

The Centre County Conservation Association has received from the State Forestry Department at Harrisburg 3000 seedlings of the black walnut tree. It is planned to have these trees planted on the state forests. In years to come they will furnish food for squirrels and other forest animals. The black walnut tree requires a moist, rich soil for best development. It should be planted on the bottom land along streams and in open spots, for black walnut will not grow in the shade. Hunting clubs and others who wish to plant this tree near their cabins should apply to the chairman of the forestry or game committee in their conservation district, or to Professor George R. Green, chairman of the forestry committee, Forestry building, State College, Pa.
