The W. C. T. U. Thimble Bee will be held at the home of Mrs. Eben Bower, on Howard street, on Saturday, May 21st. Members are urged to go and take their friends with them.

Seven loaded coal cars were wrecked at Snow Shoe Intersection Wednesday night blocking both railroad tracks. The wrecking crew from Tyrone got the tracks cleared for the passing of trains yesterday morning.

At the annual meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' association in Altoona last Thursday it was decided to hold a mid-summer conclave in Bellefonte some time during the month of August.

The Brotherhood of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church enjoyed the last supper for the winter season on Monday evening. The ladies who have been so successfully luring the men in this way will rest from such labors until fall.

The ladies of the Lutheran church of Pleasant Gap will hold a benefit social in Noll's grove, the evening of the 30th of May. The public is invited to join them in having a good time and to get some of their good things to eat.

The Bellefonte Academy won the interscholastic track and field meet held at State College on Saturday with forty points to its credit. The Bellefonte High school was credited with one point while the State College High was low with one-half a point.

The local post of the American Legion will have for sale on Memorial day one thousand poppies, the Legion's national flower. The Legion will attend divine service on Sunday, May 29th, at the Lutheran church, marching there in a body. They will also march in a body on Memorial day.

Delegates who anticipate attending the county Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Bellefonte next week, are asked to please notify R. H. Grove, Bellefonte, at once, that reservation may be made for them. Each society is urged to send representatives, as the program is one they cannot afford to miss.

Sunday morning will be like an old fashioned Methodist conference in the Bellefonte Methodist church. Visitors from adjacent Methodist churches—Milesburg, Unionville, Howard, Halfmoon, Snow Shoe and Pleasant Gap will be present. Dr. W. T. McDowell, of Washington, will be the speaker. A great modern pulpiteer. He goes from here to Tyrone for the evening.

A most brilliant display of the northern lights (aurora borealis) was visible in the sky on Saturday night. The lights were first observed about 10:30 o'clock and continued in evidence for an hour or longer. Reports from the eastern part of the country state that telegraph and telephone communication were badly disrupted by the lights but they did not affect the wireless service.

W. J. Emerick and family moved on Tuesday from their old home on Spring street to their new home on the corner of Linn and Spring streets, which he recently purchased from John P. Harris. Mr. and Mrs. Storch moved into the Emerick property on Spring street from their former home on Bishop street. Mr. Storch to have personal supervision of the Emerick motor bus business.

Chales Byrd and Timothy Green, two negro murderers of Dauphin county, were electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary on Monday morning. Two weeks ago Byrd slashed his keeper in the Dauphin county jail in an effort to escape, but was overpowered by trustees and the keeper rescued. Later his cell was searched and a dozen different instruments found, including, knives, saws, bludgeons, etc.

The Bellefonte Academy minstrels were greeted with a crowded house last night and the performance given confirmed the advance notices of these local fun-makers. If for any reason you failed to be among the audience last night be sure to be there this evening. There is no doubt but that you will enjoy every minute of the program and at the same time be contributing a little towards the firemen's benefit.

James Krape has tendered his resignation as caretaker of the Eastern Refractories building on High street to take effect on or about the first of the month and has accepted the job of head porter at the Brockerhoff house. In this connection it might be stated that the main offices of the various brick companies formerly allied with the Eastern Refractories company will probably be abandoned on June first, which will mean the closing up of everything above the first floor of the present office building, or else utilizing it in some other way. James, who is an ardent worker for his church, the United Evangelical, has just finished raising enough money to buy an electric sweeper, which will belong to the church equipment.

NEW FIRE FIGHTING EQUIPMENT.

Brought Forth Lengthy Discussion in Borough Council.

The question whether borough council can legally assume the responsibility of purchasing additional fire fighting equipment for the Bellefonte firemen and the exact kind needed was the main question at issue at Monday night's meeting of borough council, and owing to the fact that council had no definite information to act upon nothing decisive was done, but it is highly probable that a special meeting will be held within a week to decide the matter finally.

Eight members were present at the meeting, the only absentee being Mr. Knisely. There were no verbal nor written communications. The Street committee reported thirteen dollars collected by the borough manager and turned over to the treasurer.

The Water committee reported the collection of $123.50 on the 1919 water duplicate and $5.00 for water from the Walter L. Main show. The committee also reported that the steam pump is still being used at the water works as the electric motor has not yet been repaired.

The Fire and Police committee presented the burgess' check for $92.00 for licenses collected. The committee reported that the fire alarm had been connected up with the Commercial telephone exchange and all alarms in the future can be sounded direct from there. Report was also made of the fact that Mr. Clevenstine has offered the committee the right to install a switch in his bakery connecting with the fire alarm and all calls on the Bell phone made to his store would result in a prompt sounding of the alarm. The matter was left in the hands of the committee with power to act.

The Finance committee asked for the renewal of notes for $1,500, $2,000 and $3,000, all of which were authorized.

Mr. Harris stated that a day or two ago he went over the Pruner tract of land in Taylor township which Pittsburg gentlemen are desirous of purchasing for a game preserve and after seeing it he is satisfied that the price offered is sufficient. Mr. Cunningham stated that the borough, in the ordinance providing for the sale of the land, should not only reserve all mineral rights but also include a stipulation that the purchasers would not interfere with the taking out of such minerals, in the event any is unearthed at any time. A resolution was then passed that the ordinance be so amended and published.

At this juncture Mr. Faule, who is a member of the committee appointed as the result of the citizens' meeting held two weeks ago relative to the purchase of additional fire fighting apparatus, brought the matter before council and advocated that council assume the responsibility of purchasing the equipment, if it is legal to do so. He stated that he had asked the borough solicitor for a statement as to whether council has the legal right to lay a special tax for the purchase of such equipment, but so far he had not gotten the statement. He also stated that Mr. Bower had written to the Underwriter's association in Philadelphia and asked them just what kind of equipment Bellefonte needed to put its fire department on a first-class efficiency basis, but so far he has had no reply. Mr. Faule stated that so far as he is concerned he advocates the purchase of only the very best equipment made.

President Walker stated that there isn't any question as to the sentiment of the council regarding the necessity of the best equipment obtainable, the only reason for any hesitancy is the condition of the borough finances. He also called attention to the fact that Bellefonte faces the proposition of a sewage disposal plant which will mean an expenditure running up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, so that it behooves council to go very carefully in the matter of increasing the already heavy taxation. He stated that the millage now is in the neighborhood of fifty, and to purchase the fire equipment desired will require an additional twelve mills.

Both Mr. Harris and Mr. Cunningham thought it would be unwise to purchase two triple combination pumps at once, especially without knowing if they would be the best for Bellefonte. Mr. Cunningham further stated that if such pumps were purchased it would necessitate increasing the size of the connection with every fireplug in town, which would mean an expense of anywhere from $15,000 to $25,000.

Mr. Richard argued that council should go on record one way or another as to being in favor of or opposed to the purchase of the new apparatus and he therefore made a motion that council purchase the apparatus needed if the borough solicitor decides they have a legal right to do so. Considerable discussion followed, council being about evenly divided as to the wisdom of passing such a motion without knowing what power they might have to act. Finally one of the councilmen suggested the advisability of waiting for the decision of the borough solicitor and also the information from the Underwriter's association as to just the kind of apparatus Bellefonte should have, then call a special meeting of council to take action. With this understanding Mr. Richard withdrew his motion.

On motion $50.00 was appropriated to Gregg Post to help defray the expenses of Memorial day. Bills to the amount of approximately one thousand dollars were approved after which council adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

The Alpine club, the members of which are scattered throughout central Pennsylvania counties, will make its second climb this season on Saturday, May 28th, with an ascent to the top of Paddy mountain from the Woodward Narrows in the eastern end of Centre county.

Williamsport and Altoona papers on Monday evening carried a story that William H. Garman, of Bellefonte, while out fishing on Spring creek last Friday found a pocketbook containing fifty-five dollars. Questioned as to the story Mr. Garman stated that the book may have contained fifty-five dollars at one time but it was entirely empty of all coin of the realm when he found it. The story probably grew out of the report that some woman last week lost a pocketbook in Bellefonte containing fifty-five dollars, and if it was the book found by Mr. Garman somebody had abstracted the cash then thrown the book into the creek.

Unless the Supreme court again intervenes George C. Tompkins, the Philadelphia who almost four years ago murdered Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Humphries and their son, Edmund Jr., on the road near Carrollton, Cambria county, will go to the electric chair next Monday, the Board of Pardons on Wednesday having refused to commute his sentence on the plea of insanity. Mr. Tompkins was convicted three times, twice in the Cambria county courts and the last time in Blair county. The first two verdicts were set aside by the Supreme court and it is just possible another attempt will be made to save his life through intercession to the higher court. But any action that may be taken will have to be at once as the date of execution is now only three days away.

Bellefonters have had a practical demonstration of "bringing home the bacon" this week. Most every adult reader of the "Watchman" can recall the time when bacon was ordinarily called fitch, especially among residents in the country districts, and it was probably the most despised portion of the hog, outside of its value as a lard producer. But gradually it came into favor as bacon and only two years ago was about the most costly part of the hog. In fact up until Saturday of last week bacon was selling in Bellefonte at 35 cents the pound. On Saturday butcher John Eckel got in a barrel of bacon which he immediately marked down to 20 cents. Butcher L. H. Gettig also got in a barrel and he promptly went Eckel one better and marked his down at 17 cents. Then Eckel came down to 16, and lovers of bacon were in hopes the meat war would continue until they could literally "bring home the bacon" without the expenditure of much money. But sixteen cents was the low price, and as that was less than half the price it sold at last week, considerable of the bacon was gobbled up. In addition to bacon lard is also taking a slide down hill and is now being sold at some places in Bellefonte at 12 cents a pound.

Sent to Penitentiary for Robbing Brother-in-Law.

Thomas Gotwalt, of Snow Shoe, who was arrested about a month ago for robbing his brother-in-law, Republican county chairman David Chambers, of something like eighteen hundred dollars in cash and Liberty bonds, went into court last Thursday and pleaded guilty to the charge. It also developed that the man was no stranger in court, as on a previous occasion he had appeared on a charge of non-support preferred by his wife. At that time he was ordered to pay a certain sum monthly to his wife's support, but after doing so a few months fell down by the wayside. In addition, it is alleged, he became enamored with another girl and it was probable this fact assisted in his downfall. Judge Quigley asked him if he didn't think it a pretty low-down trick to steal from his brother-in-law, especially when the latter had taken him into his own home, and given him work, and Gotwalt admitted that it was and maintained that he wouldn't do it again.

Notwithstanding the fact that Gotwalt appeared quite penitent the court told him that he couldn't overlook his act but would have to punish him, and the sentence imposed was one dollar fine, costs of prosecution and two years in the western penitentiary. This was something Gotwalt didn't expect and he almost collapsed under the pronouncement. Later he pleaded with the court to remit the penitentiary sentence, maintaining that he knew "Davy didn't want him to go to the pen," but the court refused to remit and Gotwalt was taken to Pittsburgh on Saturday by sheriff Dukeman.

Five Nurses Graduated from Bellefonte Hospital.

The annual exercises incident to the graduation of nurses from the Bellefonte Hospital Training School were held in the court house last Friday night and notwithstanding the severe storm that prevailed at the hour of assembling the auditorium was filled with those interested in the graduates and the hospital.

After the board of trustees and members of the ladies auxiliary had entered within the bar the processional was started and entered the room from the main entrance. First the medical and surgical staff, then the superintendent and her assistants, Misses Eckert, Hartman and Neese, followed by the class of 1921, the undergraduates and members of the nurses' alumnae. At the bar the graduates left the procession and took the places arranged for them before the judicial bench where one draped chair had been placed in memory of Miss Maloy who entered training with this class and died in her first year.

Geo. R. Meek, president of the board, presided. After the invocation by Rev. M. De P. Maynard, of the Episcopal church, Mrs. Krader sang "Il Bacio" in her usual brilliant style, and then the Rev. Wilson P. Ard, of the Lutheran church, delivered the commencement address. It was really a commencement oration of the kind that we seldom hear these days of practical, plain talks and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone there. His theme was "Service" and by weaving the essentials of service, devotion to duty, cheerfulness, intelligence, etc., into a beautiful word designed tapestry he rose to oratorical heights that were quite forceful.

After the address a trio, composed of Milan and Cecil Walker and James P. Seig, sang the Winter song splendidly and then the president made a statistical report of the hospital's work for the year and presented diplomas to Misses Grace Vallimont, Mary Royer, Margaret Young, Mary Smith and Ida Mong, the graduates. A song by Miss Cecelia Moerschbacher, a new comer into the field of local soloists and with a charming soprano voice, followed and the audience was dismissed.

A reception and dance for the graduation class followed. It was tendered by the ladies of the auxiliary.

During the absence of the nurses from the hospital their work was carried on by a corps of graduate nurses.

Among Those Who Are Ill.

Word has been received in Bellefonte of the serious illness of S. Durbin Gray Jr., at Mont Alto. Mrs. Gray, his mother, is with her son at the sanitarium.

Mrs. Ebe, who is better known here as Miss Martha Shoemaker, is a surgical patient in a Pittsburgh hospital, having been taken suddenly ill last week.

Hiram Fetterolf, watchman at the Centre County bank, was taken violently ill last Friday afternoon and for some hours his condition was considered very serious. The trouble was diagnosed by his physician as an affection of the heart, and while he is now resting a little easier he will be compelled to take life easy for some time to come, and avoid any strenuous exercise. Mr. Fetterolf has been an attaché of the Centre County bank for many years and has always been so faithful in the discharge of all his duties that he will be greatly missed at that institution.

Mr. Jacob Smith is confined to bed in his home on Spring street, the result of having taken a sprained ankle too lightly and undertaking to continue his work before it had healed.

Curtin Furnace Destroyed by Fire.

Fire last Thursday night, or rather early Friday morning, burned the bridge house and the major part of the casting house at the Curtin furnace, at Curtin. The furnace had not been in blast for some time, so that there was no fire anywhere near it. The flames were discovered about three o'clock in the morning and spread so rapidly that it was with considerable difficulty they were overcome. While the origin is unknown it is generally believed that the buildings were either set on fire maliciously or that tramps were making a night of it at the furnace and carelessly started the fire. The loss is considerable, as the buildings will have to be rebuilt before the furnace can again be put in blast, and there was no insurance.

Dedication of Monument to 125th Regiment.

The monument erected by the association of the 125th regiment to the memory of their colonel, Jacob Higgins, will be unveiled and dedicated in Grandview cemetery, Johnstown, on Saturday afternoon, May 28th, at two o'clock. Members of the regiment are requested to meet at the Post room of Emory Fisher Post No. 30, G. A. R., of Johnstown, at 1:30 p. m. All persons going from Bellefonte, Huntingdon, Tyrone or Altoona should arrange to go on train No. 601, which leaves Tyrone at 10:44 a. m.

William H. Payne, of Bellefonte, a junior at State College, has been chosen as one of the assistant editors of LaVie, the annual year book published by the students at Penn State.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

County Auditor H. H. Stover, of Smulltown, was in Bellefonte on business on Monday and made a brief call at the "Watchman" office.

Miss Lucy Miller has resigned her position in Washington, D. C., and returned to Bellefonte, expecting to locate here permanently, coming home to be with her mother, Mrs. Della Miller.

Mrs. Cowen, with the three elder Lane children came in from McKeesport the latter part of last week to join Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane for the drive home Sunday. Mrs. Cowen is Mrs. Lane's mother.

Merchant William Wood, of Osceola Mills, was a juror at court this week and made a brief call at the "Watchman" office on Tuesday morning. Mr. Wood was the very efficient mercantile appraiser for Centre county last year and made a remarkably good record.

Miss Grace Cook arrived in Bellefonte Wednesday evening, so much improved in health that she was able to come here from Washington, D. C., unaccompanied, the nurse who had made the trip north from Asheville with her, going on from there to her home in New York.

Mrs. Martin Haines went out to Clearfield yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, as the official representative of the Bellefonte Methodist church. Miss Alice Davis is also in attendance as a representative of the young people's branch. The meeting began last night and will continue through today.

Mrs. Robert Evey, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. J. B. Mayes, of Lemoat, returned Sunday from Johnstown, where they had been for the funeral of Mrs. Margaret Deitz, mother of Mrs. Thomas E. Mayes. Mrs. Deitz, who died at the home of her daughter, Thursday morning, had many friends here, having frequently visited with Mr. and Mrs. Mayes while they resided in Bellefonte.

Mrs. J. A. Aikens arrived in Bellefonte Monday, coming here from Beaver Falls, where she and her daughter, Miss E. Jayne Aikens, have been week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson. Mrs. Aikens will spend two weeks looking after her business interests here, visiting with Mrs. Butz, at State College, and with Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Aikens, at Selingsgrove, returning from the latter place to her home in Cleveland.

Paul Rumberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rumberger, of DuBois, spent a day or two in this section the latter part of the week looking up old friends. During the winter he was located at Ridgway where he was engaged as a draftsman for a firm of civil engineers, but work becoming slack he was laid off and is spending the time visiting. From Bellefonte he went to Unionville to see his illustrious grandfather, George Washington Rumberger.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Callaway was at State College Friday, to take part in the benefit lawn fete given by the girls of the Senior class for the memorial fund of the class of 1921. Mrs. Callaway's accurate reading of cards, which makes her in such great demand everywhere, characterizing her from hand writing, dancing and refreshments were the inducement offered for a good time, and through which the occasion was made a great financial success.

Dr. Edith Schad, accompanied by her father, John P. Harris, went to Pittsburgh Wednesday for a ten day's visit. During their stay Mr. Harris will be a guest of his son, A. Scott Harris and his wife, while Dr. Schad will spend the time with her daughter, Mrs. Gail Chaney, who with Mr. Chaney went from here to Pittsburgh a year ago. Being deeply interested in social welfare work, Mrs. Chaney is devoting all her time to the work in connection with the West Penn hospital.

Mrs. Edmund Hayes came in from Pittsburgh this week to help in preparing Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes' apartment in the Eagle block for occupancy. Mrs. Hayes, who has been in the hospital since coming to Bellefonte in the early spring, is so much improved in health, that she anticipates leaving the hospital next week to take charge of her apartment. For the early part of her stay in Bellefonte, Mrs. Edmund Hayes will be a guest of Mrs. D. G. Bush and Mrs. Callaway.

John R. Bartruff, of New Bloomfield, Perry county, was a Bellefonte visitor the early part of the week, coming here to look after a few personal business matters. Mr. Bartruff is now living on a farm near New Bloomfield and he avers that he is really having the time of his life. Though he has been away from Bellefonte a number of years he keeps in close touch with all the happenings of Centre county through the columns of the "Watchman" and is always glad to get back here even if it is for only a few days.

Miss Winifred Woods, instructor in Art, and Miss Bryant, instructor in English, at the Birmingham Seminary, were over Sunday guests of Miss Woods' cousins, Miss McCalmont, Mrs. John S. Walker and Miss Shortlidge, at their home on north Allegheny street. Miss Woods came to Bellefonte to speak before the Missionary societies of the Presbyterian church, Saturday night, on her nine years in South America, where her close association with many of the leading personages, and intimate knowledge of the country, along with a pleasing personality, made her talk most instructive and delightful.

Mrs. John A. Woodcock will leave next week for her new home in Scranton, to spend a few days before going to Syracuse, where she expects to visit for a part of the summer as a guest of her son and his wife, Mrs. J. R. Woodcock. With Mrs. Woodcock's leaving Bellefonte, the Methodist church is losing one of the most efficient workers among children, in the Sunday schools of Pennsylvania. Her association with the children's department of the church has been her life work, to which she has devoted all time and thought, with the result that her influence on the lives of many of the little ones has stood for much in the molding of their character in after life.

Willis P. Bierly, who naturally is affiliated with Brush valley, but who for some years has made his home wherever he hangs up his hat, was in Bellefonte a few hours on Monday. He had been down at Smulltown transferring his household goods from storage in one building to another, and was on his way to Brookville to spend some time with his son, Karl Reed Bierly, now managing editor of the Brookville Republican. Mr. Bierly has for some time past been located in Harrisburg where he has been engaged in compiling a book which he says will make from a thousand to twelve hundred pages. The work is all done but going over the final proofs, but he has the compilation of two other books in sight which will keep him busy for some time.

Miss Mary Woods went to Tyrone Friday, to join a party of friends going to the Fairbrook Country club for the week-end. Miss Woods returned to Bellefonte to resume her work Monday morning.

Harry Brown returned home last week, after an absence of three weeks in Pittsburgh, where his efficiency is as much appreciated as in Bellefonte. It has been Harry's custom for several years to give several weeks of his time to patrons there.

Mrs. Gregg Curtin's mother and sister are here from Lansdowne for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Curtin, at their home on east Linn street. Upon returning to Philadelphia they will be accompanied by Mrs. Curtin's daughter, Carol Shipley, who will spend the summer with her mother's family.

Joseph W. Reifsnnyder, of Millheim, was a "Watchman" office caller on Wednesday afternoon. Serving as a traverse juror this week he was one of the "good and lawful twelve" who got caught on the last case and did not get through in time to return home on the Wednesday afternoon train.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger drove in from New Castle the afternoon of last week. Mrs. Stitzinger, with her son, remaining here for a week's visit with the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Johnston. Mr. Stitzinger, after a day's visit, went back home but will return tomorrow for his family.

Mrs. Thomas Hodges, of Syracuse, is at her former home at Curtin, in charge of Mrs. H. Laird Curtin's house and family while she is visiting with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Potter, at Rodgers Ford. Mrs. Curtin will be in Maryland for a month, while recovering from a recent nervous breakdown.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Oelg, of Coreopolis, were guests for several days the latter part of last week of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Locke, Mrs. Oelg being well known here as Miss Elder, a recent superintendent of the Bellefonte hospital. Since her marriage more than a year ago, Mrs. Oelg has continued her work by filling the position of community nurse in her home town.

Henry Cunningham, accompanied by a friend, motored in from Beaver Falls on Wednesday and will spend a week here with his brothers, Edward and J. M. Cunningham. It has been eight years since Henry left Bellefonte, following the Standard Scale company to Beaver Falls, but time has touched him so lightly that he doesn't look much older than when he left here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Myford, of Monessen, with their son and daughter, motored to Bellefonte yesterday for the Academy minstrel show and dance. Their son Samuel is a student at the Academy and was one of the entertainers last evening and their daughter, who is the possessor of a charming voice, contributed an unexpected and very delightful song number for the program.

At a special meeting of the Bellefonte school board on Monday night all the old teachers were re-elected for the 1921-'22 school term.
