Memorial day has come and gone and the next holiday will be the Fourth of July, but why wait until that time for pleasurable diversion when you can get it every night at the Scenic. Notwithstanding the fact that the Scenic is the only motion picture show open in Bellefonte every night manager Brown does not take advantage of that fact to hand out any kind of a program, but keeps right up in the fore front with the best pictures obtainable. This is the reason why so many people go to the Scenic.

After winning twenty straight games and not a defeat during the season the Penn State baseball team went to Philadelphia last Saturday and lost to the University of Pennsylvania nine by the score of 4 to 2. At that the State boys played a good game but their goal of luck was missing and the breaks were all in favor of the Quaker city team. Of course it would have been a wonderful thing if the team could have gone through the season undefeated, but as it is they have established a remarkable record.

The body of George Mayhew, one of Bellefonte's contingent of colored soldiers who was killed in France in July, 1918, arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday, and the funeral will be held at two o'clock on Sunday afternoon and will be in charge of the American Legion. The remains are now at the morgue of undertaker Hard P. Harris and on Sunday afternoon will be brought down to American Legion headquarters in the "Watchman" office building, and the Legion will march in a body to the cemetery.

The poppy was the favorite flower over Memorial day, but at that many people had to go without because the supply was not sufficient to go around. The American Legion had arranged for a supply of poppies, expecting at least a thousand, but when they came there were only four hundred and fifty and those were sold before six o'clock on Saturday evening. So many inquiries were made for the little flower that Miss Cooney, of The Hat Shop, turned over her entire supply of small silk poppies to the American Legion and every one of them was sold Saturday evening.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Large Crowds Attend Bellefonte High School Commencement.

The annual commencement exercises of the Bellefonte High school have attracted large crowds to every event this week. Beginning with the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening, the Methodist church was crowded to capacity. The graduating class, in caps and gowns and escorted by the members of the school board and faculty, marched in a body from the High school building to the church where seats were reserved for them in the centre of the front portion of the church. Rev. Alexander Scott preached a most inspiring sermon, replete with gems of thought and inspiration for the forty-nine young men and women who this week completed their four years' course of work in the High school.

The Junior declamatory contest on Monday evening drew a large crowd to the auditorium of the High school building. The program was published in full in last week's paper and was carried out in detail. Each one of the contestants did exceedingly well and it was only by a narrow margin that the judges were able to decide the prize winners as Marjory Hill and Harold Wion, with favorable mention for Lois Foreman and Edmond C. Miller. The gross receipts Monday night were $44.40, which will be applied to the library fund.

Notwithstanding the excitement of the Academy fire on Tuesday evening a large crowd thronged the High school auditorium to hear the beautiful biblical oratorio, "Queen Esther," as sung by the High school chorus under the personal direction of Mrs. W. C. Krader. This was a musical treat for all who attended and proved one of the best events of the week's exercises. It was repeated to another large audience on Wednesday evening. The receipts from the two entertainments were $195.00, gross, which will be applied to the music fund.

The plays given by the grade schools on Wednesday and yesterday mornings drew good audiences, especially the parents and friends of the young pupils taking part. While greater interest probably centered around the events in connection with the graduating class, the younger pupils were deserving of an equal amount of encouragement, as each and every one carried through the part assigned them in a most creditable manner.

Many visitors were attracted to the High school building Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday to inspect the various exhibits in industrial arts, manual training and household arts departments, displays that exceeded those of any former year. It is impossible to give even a faint idea as to what the students have accomplished in the above departments in the brief space at our command. The exhibits had to be seen to be appreciated, but they show that in these days schooling is not confined to "readin' writin' and 'rithmetic" but the young boys and girls are taught practical things, as well.

The final event was held in the High school auditorium last night when Dr. John M. Thomas, the new president of The Pennsylvania State College, delivered the commencement address to the graduating class. This was president Thomas' first public appearance in Bellefonte and naturally the auditorium was crowded to hear him. He is a fluent and polished speaker and each and every one of the graduates were undoubtedly impressed with the sound, common sense logic which was the predominating feature of his address.

The evening's exercises concluded with the presentation of diplomas to the various graduates and the awarding of prizes by Charles F. Cook, of the Bellefonte school board. The complete list of the graduates was published in the "Watchman" last week.

The social climax of the commencement will be the alumni reception to the graduating class which will be held in the armory this evening. Wright's saxophone orchestra, of Columbus, Ohio, will furnish the music and the arrangements as made prepared a most enjoyable event. Any one desiring to attend and who has not yet secured tickets can purchase same at Casebeer's jewelry store.

ANOTHER BELLEFONTE FIRE.

Entire Top Burned Off Bellefonte Academy Tuesday Evening.

The Bellefonte Academy, Bellefonte's historic school on the hill overlooking the big spring was badly damaged by fire on Tuesday evening. The flames were first discovered in the attic over the colonade and as the attic was open from end to end they spread quite rapidly and it was only a question of minutes until they had broken out through the roof and the entire southern part of the attic was on fire. Both fire companies responded to the alarm but notwithstanding their efforts the flames spread until the entire roof was ablaze. The roof and the building down to and including the third story were badly burned but there the flames were checked and finally extinguished.

A call was sent to Lock Haven for help and a motor pumper was sent up, making the run in forty-five minutes. It immediately went into action and assisted materially in reducing the danger of any further spread of the flames, though the fire was virtually under control when they got here.

While the fire did not reach the second floor considerable destruction was wrought in the lower part of the building by the immense quantity of water used to extinguish the flames. Headmaster James R. Hughes has so far been unable to estimate the damage but it will probably be anywhere from $30,000 up. He carried $22,000 insurance. The one hundred or more students were taken into private homes Tuesday night and kept until arrangements could be made for their lodging until the examinations are completed. The kitchen and the dining room of the Academy are located in the basement of the building and they were gotten in shape on Wednesday to feed the students as usual. Most of the boys naturally concluded that they would go directly home on Wednesday but Mr. Hughes very firmly insisted that they all stay and complete their examinations, as the Academy will close next week. He has made arrangements to use the High school building from tomorrow on and will complete his school year there.

All the students and members of the faculty worked valiantly to save as much as they could and got most of the stuff out of the building, but there has been considerable complaint about stuff being carried away by boys and others after it was out of the building. One boy was seen with a half dozen pair of shoes, but whether he got away with them or not, is not known. One thing was quite manifest, however, and that was the indiscriminate handling of students' books and clothing by boys who had no business there, and emphasizes the fact that at such times strict police supervision would not be amiss.

In 1904 the Academy was badly damaged by fire and after being rebuilt was entirely remodeled in 1913. Mr. Hughes will put men to work at once cleaning up and will repair the building just as quickly as possible.

Auto Party Had Narrow Escape.

Frank Crust and a party of six women and girls had a narrow escape on Monday morning when their automobile was struck by the Lewisburg and Tyrone train on the Dale Summit crossing and smashed into kindling wood just after every member of the party had jumped from the machine. And the only injury sustained by any one was a few slight scratches by one of the girls who stumbled and fell as she jumped from the machine.

Mr. Crust and party were on their way to State College for the Memorial day exercises. As they rounded the curve at Dale's Summit they saw the train bearing down upon them. Had they kept right ahead they would have gotten over the railroad but Mr. Crust endeavored to stop the automobile and back out of danger, but unfortunately he did not get the car stopped until it was directly on the track, and then, he stalled his motor. Realizing that whatever was done would have to be done quickly he called to the ladies to jump and they all jumped. The very fact that all of them got out of the car and clear of the track is evidence that had they gone ahead they could have gotten across the track in safety.

The train, however, hit the machine, a Hupmobile, broadside and literally smashed it to smithereens. In fact the impact was so great that the heavy iron pilot on the engine was driven back under the pony wheels and the train crew had to pry it out and tie it up with rope before they could continue the trip to Bellefonte.

Motorcycle Endurance Run.

A fleet of approximately forty motorcyclists, probably a few more or less, will leave Pittsburgh tomorrow morning, weather permitting, on an endurance run to Williamsport. They are expected to leave the Smoky city about ten o'clock in the morning and reach Bellefonte along about four o'clock in the afternoon. Arrangements have been made for the cyclists to check in upon their arrival in Bellefonte at the room of the Bellefonte Steam Vulcanizing company on Bishop street. The run has been arranged by Mr. Lester, of the Harrisburg Tire and Rubber company, who will be in Bellefonte and have personal charge of the checking in here.

All delegates elected to the Centre county Sabbath school convention to be held at Milesburg June 7th and 8th should send their names at once to Miss Anna Schroyer, Milesburg, in order that entertainment can be provided for them.
