It is alleged that a number of our townships in the county are up against it since their school boards are in a quandary to raise sufficient funds to carry out their school work.

Notwithstanding that the cherry crop is a decided failure and plums and apples will scarcely yield a half normal crop, the indications now are that we will have an abundant crop of grapes, blackberries and raspberries; in fact all varieties of berries look very promising.

So that we can congratulate ourselves that we will have a sufficiency of jellies and preserves to bridge us over. Providence never forsakes us.

The Methodist Episcopal Sunday school rendered a Children's service program on Sunday evening in a most acceptable manner. The church was crowded and all present enjoyed the efforts put forth by the children.

Experienced.

A Japanese "boy" came to the home of a minister in Los Angeles recently and applied for a position. Now it happened that the household was already well supplied with servants, so the minister's wife said, "I am sorry, but we really haven't enough work to keep another boy busy."

"Madame," said the Oriental politely, "I am sure that you must have. You may not know what a little bit of work it takes to keep me employed."

—Christian Register.

On Monday they were down and on returning home they brought her with them. Her friends hope her trip will prove of great benefit to her and that she may find relief.

Victory for Scranton.

Scranton staged a second Armistice day celebration recently when a message from Harrisburg announced that Governor Sprout had signed the bills that provide for protection against cave-ins of mines and for jail penalties for coal company officials who violate the bills.

The Governor's approval means that the citizens of Scranton and the entire anthracite region have won a battle that lasted for thirteen years against the coal companies, in protest against cave-ins that wreck schools, churches, homes, streets and cemeteries and which have resulted in many deaths.

Under the terms of the two bills passed by the Legislature, the companies cannot do any further reckless mining.

A dispatch says that when the word came that the bills had been signed sirens and whistles in industrial plants throughout the city raised a din like the like of which has seldom been heard. Impromptu parades surged through the streets, church bells were rung and automobile horns split the air.

Beidleman and Rasmussen at State College Farm Week.

Speakers for the evening meetings to feature the annual June Farmers' week at The Pennsylvania State College school of agriculture have been selected. On the evening of Wednesday, June 22nd, the day preceding the opening of the college demonstrational program, Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman and State Secretary of Agriculture Fred Rasmussen will give addresses. On the following evening the new president of Penn State, Dr. John M. Thomas, will give his first talk to the farmers of the State. The program for Thursday and Friday of Farmers' week will be the most complete of its kind ever offered to Pennsylvania farmers, and in that time it will be possible for the visitors to see practically every feature of the college and experiment station work.

Sounds Like Einstein's Theory.

Two gentlemen riding on a train were both very much intoxicated. First Gent.—"What time is it?" Second Gent.—(after extracting a match-box from his pocket with much exertion and gazing at it intently)—"Thursday."

First Gent.—"My heavens, I've got to get off here."—Everybody's.

—A New York garage owner whose safe had been cracked twice improvised a shrapnel shell, consisting of a liberal charge of gunpowder and buckshot. He placed this in the cash box of the safe in such a manner that upon opening it the charge would detonate. Following a loud report the watchman found the charge exploded and blood on the floor. The burglar had escaped.

—Chicago police will use wireless telephones in their war on crime. A wireless is being installed on the roof of the city hall for constant communication with fireboats, rifle squads, fire engine houses, patrol wagons and police stations. Officials hope ultimately to have every policeman equipped with receiving apparatus, weighing but a few ounces.

FRANKLIN K. LANE'S CELEBRATED ADDRESS ON THE FLAG.

Franklin K. Lane, in 1914, in an address to clerks in the Department of the Interior, of which he was Secretary, defined the meaning of the flag by representing it as saying:

"Let me tell you who I am. The work that we do is the making of the real flag. I am not the flag—not at all. I am but its shadow. I am what ever you make me, nothing more. I am your belief in yourself, your dream of what a people may become. I live a changing life of moods and passions, of heartbreaks and tired muscles. Sometimes I am strong with pride, when men do an honest work, fitting the rails together truly. Sometimes I droop, for then purpose has gone from me, and cynically I play the coward. Sometimes I am loud, garish and full of that ego that blasts judgment. But always I am all that you hope to be and have the courage to try for."

"I am song and fear, struggle and panic, and ennobling hope. I am the day's work of the weakest man, and the largest dream of the most daring. I am the Constitution and the courts, statutes and statute makers, soldier and dreadnaught, drayman and street sweep, cook, counselor and clerk. I am the battle of yesterday and the mistake of tomorrow. I am the mystery of the men who do without knowing why. I am the clutch of an idea and the reasoned purpose of resolution. I am no more than what you believe me to be, and I am all that you believe me to be. I am what you make me and nothing more. I swing before your eyes as a bright gleam of color, a symbol of yourself, the picture suggestion of that big thing which makes this Nation. My stars and my stripes are your dreams and your labors. They are bright with cheer, brilliant with courage, firm with faith, because you have made them so out of your hearts, for you are the makers of the flag, and it is well you glory in the making."

Whiskey Not a Medicine.

The recent declaration of the National Medical Association that whiskey has no therapeutic value finds strong support in the fact, brought to light through a recent canvass of the 152,627 physicians in the United States, that only 33,379 or 22 per cent. of their number hold permits to prescribe whiskey for medicinal purposes.

In 24 States druggists cannot fill such prescriptions and physicians are not allowed to prescribe alcoholic liquors as medicine. There are 40,000 physicians in these States, and in many of them pure grain or ethyl alcohol is found to be a satisfactory substitute for whiskey or brandy as a solvent or preservative.

All of which would indicate that there is nothing very drastic in the Volstead Act limitation of the physician's right to prescribe whiskey for medicinal purposes to not more than one pint for one patient in any ten days.

The Conscientious Juror.

Old John Moreton was a grinder in a cutlery in a small New England village, and was slightly deaf. He was drawn on the jury and there was much excitement when he left for the county seat to take up his duties.

Upon arriving home, three weeks later, many and varied were the questions asked by his old cronies—especially about the disposition of the case of one of their fellow-townsmen who had been up for horse-stealing.

"Well, boys," said old John, "the fact o' the matter is, that during the three days that my trial lasted it was rainin' so durned hard on the tin roof outside the window where I sat, that I didn't hear a word of the evidence, but they all said he was guilty, so I voted with the bunch."—Judge.

"What was that sentence the choir repeated so often during the litany?"

"As near as I could make out it was 'We are all miserable sinners.'"—Illustrated Bits.

MEDICAL.

Housework is a Burden

Woman's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for many Bellefonte women. Read what Mrs. J. T. Gordon, 130 E. Beaver St., Bellefonte, says: "I and another member of my family have found great benefit from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, which were procured at Parrish's drug store. My trouble was a dull, constant backache which kept me in misery at times. Mornings I was so sore and lame I dreaded to begin my housework, for it was a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills, taken according to directions restored my kidneys to a normal condition. I have had no return of the backache or kidney disorders. Doan's surely have my gratitude for the lasting benefit they brought me." (Statement given April 12, 1914.)

On October 19, 1918, Mrs. Gordon said: "I gladly confirm my previous statement for Doan's Kidney Pills, as I certainly have found them to be all that is claimed for them. Doan's cured me, for which I am very thankful."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Gordon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 66-23

STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN TO BRING ABOUT ENFORCEMENT OF DOG LAW.

The duties and obligations imposed by the dog law of 1917 has been brought to the attention of every burgess, mayor and constable in the State, by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. The 956 burgesses, 36 mayors and 3,300 constables have each been sent a letter calling attention to the fact that the law provides that these officials shall assist in carrying out the provisions of the act.

Not only have these public officials been asked to see that all dogs are properly licensed, but it has been urged that all dogs not kept in proper restraint by their owners, be promptly rounded up and the owners prosecuted.

Complaints, literally by the hundreds, have reached the Department of Agriculture, coming from city and suburban dwellers, whose gardens, lawns and flower beds have been torn up and destroyed by dogs permitted to run at large, particularly during the night time.

The danger from rabies, while present the entire year, is greater during the hot summer months, and for this reason the officers are urged to remain on the alert, rounding up stray and ownerless dogs to prevent an outbreak such as is now on in the south-eastern section of the State.

Present reports indicate that the registration of dogs is greater this year than ever before and it is hoped that a general registration of dogs can be secured in every county in the State without the necessity of resorting to the wholesale prosecutions, such as were required for proper enforcement of the law, in 1920.

The Overworked and Overflowing Ash-pit.

Of all ugly sights in a yard the overworked ash-pit is the worst. It has a pyramid of ashes, tin cans, wire, old rags and paper, rising above it and overflowing on the sides. Such a sight is a disgrace to any home. It is a badge of slovenliness that cannot be argued down. No housewife, or househusband, for that matter, can feel proud of such a sight or justify it to critical neighbors. It is an eyesore to the whole block. It makes no difference if it is in the back yard and cannot be seen from the front. The neighbors see it if strangers do not. Any person viewing the neighborhood critically, perhaps with a view of buying some home that may be for sale, is certain to be unfavorably impressed by it.

How is this to be remedied? If the owner has so little sense of neatness on his duty to his neighbors as to let it overflow, he can be brought into line when the national clean-up and paint-up campaign is on. That is the time when neighbors feel that they can speak to him about it. If he once gets the clean-up spirit and the idea of neighborhood co-operation into his mind he will get that ash-pit regularly emptied ever afterward. That is one of the greatest features of the campaign; it gets people to thinking in the right terms about their own premises and surroundings and they want to keep things clean and attractive all the time. That campaign is death to the overflowing ash-pit.

Because Adler-ika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel it often cures constipation and prevents appendicitis. One lady reports herself CURED of a bad case of bowel trouble and constipation. Runkle's Drug Store. 66-23

Deficient Vitality a Great Misfortune.

Persons who can rarely or never say that they feel full of life, are really among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but merely exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins.

A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings. Such a medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fall to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. It is simple justice to say these words in its favor.

Hood's Pills very effectively supplement it in cases where a cathartic or laxative is needed. 66-23
