It was so hot on the evening of the Fourth of July that only two councilmen showed up at the public building, consequently there was no meeting of that august body.

Spring township in the vicinity of Pleasant Gap has been hard hit by the dashing rain storms the past two weeks, which washed the fields and gardens, doing considerable damage.

The success of the Bellefonte Chautauqua is to be assured by a very simple thing—the attendance of every guarantor at the meeting next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, in Petrikin hall.

Bellefonte has been reinstated as a lay-over station in the aerial mail service, and a pouch of mail from New York is now being delivered here as well as mail taken from here for the west.

While handling cream cans on Monday Harry Oakes, of Ferguson township, sustained a fracture of the right leg above the knee when a can fell against it. The injury will keep him housed up for some weeks.

At the monthly business meeting of the Employees Council of the Bell Telephone, held in Bellefonte yesterday, the district was represented by S. H. Wian, district superintendent of traffic; Miss Myrtle J. O'Brien, chief operator, and Miss Edna Newcomer, of Williamsport; Miss Josephine Genner, of Galeton; Miss Edna Rowe, of Sunbury, and Miss Ruth Karstetter, of Lock Haven.

On Sunday O. J. Harm, of Snow Shoe, motored to Bellefonte, and as he was driving along Allegheny street in front of the Broeckerhoff house the right rear wheel came off of his machine and went rolling down the street. It careened across Bishop street, plunged through the large plate glass window in Won's garage and smashed the show case before it halted in its wild career.

Bellefonte will be given a rare musical treat next Monday evening, July 18th, at 8 o'clock, when the famous Boys' band from the Loysville orphan's home, will give a concert in front of the High school building. This organization is made up of forty-two boys ranging in ages from nine to sixteen years, and is one of the largest and best known juvenile bands in the State. They will come to Bellefonte under the direction of the Lutheran church. An offering will be lifted, all of which will go toward the support of the home with its family of three hundred orphaned boys and girls.

An all day porch reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Clemson at their country place in Halfmoon valley, Monday, July 4th, in compliment to their eldest son, Frederick, and his bride, whose marriage took place in Allentown on the 18th of June. Friends from Allentown and all parts of Centre county were Mr. and Mrs. Clemson's guests, for whom the hospitality, entertainment and elaborate luncheon provided, made it the most successful social function of the summer, in that section of the county. The entire Clemson family, save Miss Sara, who is at the Columbia school of music in Chicago, with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Keiser, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Sigfried and Miss Heber, all of Allentown, were members of the house party, for which the reception was the climax.

JOHNSTOWN WOMAN KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

State College Men Have Miraculous Escape When Auto Went Down High Embankment.

Miss Julia Schilkey, of Johnstown, was instantly killed and Alysius Minzer seriously injured when the automobile in which they were passengers sideswiped a telephone pole just west of Milesburg at 4:30 o'clock on Sunday morning, July 3rd. Mr. Minzer, Miss Schilkey, John Kotroba and Miss Marie Fisher left Johnstown about two o'clock on Sunday morning on a drive to Elmira, N. Y. Mr. Minzer was driving the car. Coming down Bald Eagle valley they ran into a dense fog and above Central city where the new concrete state road crosses the railroad track they saw the red light warning motorists that the road was still closed, mistook it for a train and veered to the left with the result that they ran off the road into a deep ditch and sideswiped the telephone pole on the left hand side of the road.

Miss Schilkey was sitting on the right hand side in the tonneau of the car and was thrown across the car, striking her neck and the left side of her head against the telephone pole, meeting instant death. Minzer was also thrown against the pole and sustained concussion of the brain so that he was unconscious for five hours or longer, but finally responded to the treatment given him at the Bellefonte hospital, whither he was quickly taken. Miss Fisher was thrown through the top of the car and landed twenty feet away, but was only slightly injured. Kotroba was also thrown from the car, but his injuries were only superficial. Miss Schilkey's remains were taken in charge by undertaker F. L. Wetzel and shipped to Johnstown the same afternoon for burial.

STATE COLLEGE BOYS IN ACCIDENT.

On Friday, July first, the State College borough baseball team went to Snow Shoe to play ball and returning home six of them, George Gilliland, Odie Spicer, Otto Spicer, William Dunkle, Lester Minnich and Forest Homan, occupied one car, Gilliland being the driver. Those who saw the car passing along the state road in front of the Beaver and Hoy row aver that it was going at the rate of sixty miles an hour and the driver evidently failed to see the curve in the road just opposite the McCoy property on north Water street with the result that the auto crashed through the double railing and plunged down over a fifty foot embankment into the old canal.

The accident happened about 9:30 o'clock and passing autoists who saw it expected to find some if not all of the young men dead, but miraculous as it may seem, not one was even critically hurt. In fact only two were seriously enough injured to be taken to the hospital, young Gilliland and Otto Spicer, and neither of these had any bones broken. Gilliland went home on Sunday following the accident and Spicer was taken home last week.

The car, a new Kase, belonged to Gilliland's brother-in-law, E. S. Moore, and it was a sorry looking machine when finally fished out of the old canal.

Two Centre County Cases affirmed by Supreme Court.

In a long list of decisions handed down on July first the Supreme court of Pennsylvania affirmed the judgment of the lower court in two cases carried up from Centre county, namely: Stine vs. The Pennsylvania Railroad company and Lewis vs. Merryman.

The first mentioned was the case of S. B. Stine vs. the Railroad company in which the plaintiff was given a verdict by a Centre county jury for $116,038.23 for the destruction of his foundry at Osceola Mills on the allegation that the building was set on fire by a spark from a passing locomotive. An appeal was taken by the defendant company on an alleged error in the charge of Judge Quigley, but the Supreme court ruled that inasmuch as the attorney for defendant had raised no objection nor taken any exceptions to the charge prior to the submission of the case to the jury and the return of their verdict the complaint of error could not be considered and the judgment of the lower court was affirmed.

The case of Lewis vs. Merryman was an ejectment case from Taylor township and in this the judgment of the lower court was also affirmed.

The Newly Organized Bellefonte Lumber Company.

In a recent issue we announced that the Bellefonte Lumber company had changed hands. Mr. Huyett, the president, and Messrs. Smith and Buck, who were the efficient and more active members of the company, sold their interests and the new stockholders have now completed an organization by making Col. W. Fred Reynolds, president; Edgar C. Miles, secretary and treasurer, and John T. Harnish, manager; the directors being Messrs. W. Fred Reynolds, John T. Harnish, C. H. Troup, Edgar C. Miles, and W. F. Reynolds Jr.

The plant has been thoroughly overhauled and the foreman, Mr. J. P. Smith, has under him an exceptionally fine crew of experienced mill men. With ample capital and in efficient hands the public can expect satisfactory product, prompt delivery and fair prices. The community, therefore, should in every way possible lend encouragement and support to this, one of the successful industries in this locality.

Voting women of Centre county will not get off as easy this year in the payment of taxes as they did last. Of course every borough and each township has its own millage and no two are alike, but women the county over will be rated the same. The general rating will be twenty-five dollars and in Bellefonte this will mean a tax of a dollar or more. But this is not all, as each voter will be assessed a school tax of $2.50 in addition to their occupational tax, which will mean almost four dollars tax for every woman voter, whether she owns property or not.

Last Sunday evening W. G. Runkle Esq., took his wife and children for an auto ride down Nittany valley. They were in the neighborhood of Salona when a hard thunder storm swooped down the valley and Mr. Runkle was so occupied in steering the car that he failed to hear another car which passed him from the rear, and on the wrong side of the road, until it was too close to get out of the way and the result was the rear wheel of the passing car tore off the front wheel of Mr. Runkle's car, leaving him and his family stranded by the roadside. Fortunately he was not driving very fast and no one was injured.

If ever there was an argument in favor of the use of tractors on a farm the protracted spell of hot weather we have experienced the past several weeks should be the most convincing, because of the fact that more horses have died of heat prostration in Centre county than ever before. One of the mated team of dapple grays on the penitentiary farms died last week and one farmer near Lemont lost two animals. Up in Ferguson township three horses died of the heat, one in Boggs township and one over in Centre Hall, a total of eight that has come to the attention of the writer. And in every case they were valuable animals.

The average farmer in Centre county harvested one of the best crops of wheat this season garnered in many years but aside from the experimental farms at State College the bumper crop in the county was undoubtedly grown on the penitentiary farms. As an illustration, seven self-binders were required to cut the crop and one field of forty-two acres was so heavy that the binder couldn't handle the grain. It literally choked the machine and two men had to follow the binder to keep the machine clear of the sheaves. A portion of the field was cut in the old-fashioned way, by cradling. And when the grain was cut the sheaves were literally piled up in huge windrows, like hay.

Two breweries, the Mount Carmel and the Binder, of Renovo, have been seized by prohibition enforcement officers within the past ten days for manufacturing beer of more than one-half of one per cent. alcoholic content. Last week an automobile was driven into Clearfield with 232 quarts of whiskey and parked on one of the main streets of the town while the driver went into a private house to interview a customer. Thirsty individuals took advantage of the driver's absence, drove the car into the country and stole the whiskey. Since the last issue of the "Watchman" it is reported a woman bootlegger drove right into Bellefonte with three cases of whiskey, which she delivered to thirsty individuals, so that it looks like an almost hopeless task to make prohibition really prohibitive.

Last Saturday William Cross, on the Cross and Meek farm south of town, was cutting wheat with four horses hitched in a binder and cut right over a ring-necked pheasant hatching on her nest. The bird was uninjured and never moved until some time later when Mr. Cross went to see if she was all right when like a flash she scuttled into the standing wheat. He examined the nest and found eleven eggs in it. Going away some distance he watched to see the pheasant return but she did not, so he left. On Sunday he went out to the field and found the bird on her eggs. Curious to see how long the pheasant would stick to the nest he walked closer and closer until finally he got so close that he stooped down and stroked the bird's back, and she was either so tame or so faithful to her trust of hatching that she didn't leave the nest.

John Matos, son of Steve Matos, of Spring township, was arrested by state policemen on Friday on the charge of attempting to pass worthless checks. The young man went to the store of Sim the Clothier and purchased a bill of goods tendering in payment a check considerably in excess of the value of the goods on the pretense of wanting the money for other purposes. Inquiry at the bank elicited the information that the check was no good. Mr. Baum not only got the goods back but made information against Matos and he was placed under arrest. He was given a hearing before justice of the peace S. Kline Woodring on Saturday morning and in default of bail was committed to jail for trial at the next term of court. Matos, it is said, also attempted recently to pass a similar check on N. A. Miller in payment for an automobile but that gentleman also inquired of the bank and finding the check worthless did not give the young man the machine.

League of Women Voters Hold Convention.

The annual convention of the League of Women Voters for Centre county was held at the High school building, Bellefonte, last Friday, morning and afternoon. At the morning session officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Chairman—Mrs. A. L. Kocher, State College. Vice Chairman—Mrs. John M. Shugert, Bellefonte. Secretary—Mrs. W. R. Ham, Boalsburg. Treasurer—Miss Mary Gray Meek, Bellefonte.

Directors—Mrs. Robert Mills Beach, Bellefonte; Mrs. Frank Gardner, State College; Miss Mary R. Greist, Unionville; Mrs. James Leathers, Howard; Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, Centre Hall; Miss Ella Wagner, Milesburg.

Mrs. John S. Walker addressed the convention on the mother's assistance and Mrs. Frank Gardner on the revision of the state constitution. Miss Martha G. Thomas, of Philadelphia, state treasurer of the organization, told of the work of the League, National and State. She asked the women to remember that the vital function of the machinery of government, was the primary; that the coming primaries were of unusual importance because of the election of a Congressman-at-Large, and still more so because the election will decide whether Pennsylvania shall hold a constitutional convention and shall elect delegates to that convention. She urged that the women should register and enroll in the party of their choice in order that they may use their influence at the primaries. Before the primaries, which are to be held September 20th, the women must see that good candidates shall be put up in both political parties. Miss Thomas explained that although the League of Women Voters is non-partisan, its members can be effective only by enrolling in the political parties. The League stands for legislation, which all parties should be induced to further.

The National and State organizations have both formed legislative committees, composed of a number of women's organizations, to work at Washington and Harrisburg, endeavoring to write into the law some of the things for which the women needed the vote.

The Pennsylvania legislative committee is composed of six organizations—the Federation of Women's Clubs, W. C. T. U., the Parent Teacher, the chairman of the Republican committee, the chairman of the Democratic committee and the League of Women voters.

This committee has backed the mother's assistance, the Finegan program, the revision of the constitution and other forward looking measures. The members of the committee work jointly or separately according as the different measures apply to their interests.

It was urged that a membership campaign be started immediately to convince the women of Centre county of the necessity of supporting this organization, if in no other way, at least by their membership dues of $1.00.

At a brief session of court on Wednesday of last week Edward Emel, of Spring township, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of attempted seduction and rape and was sentenced to not less than fourteen nor more than fifteen years in the western penitentiary.

Frederick Lutz and Theodore Herr, arrested some time ago for stealing a hand car on the New York Central railroad, were required to pay the costs and placed on parole for a period of two years.

John Kotch pleaded guilty to forging the name of N. A. Shope, of State College, to a check, and it being his first offence he was sentenced to pay the costs and put on parole for one year. Kotch was working for Mr. Shope at the time of the forgery and that gentleman agreed to take him back in his garage.

The case against John Dunston, of State College, charged with rape, was nolle prossed on order of the court. Dunston not only maintained his innocence of the charge but the story he told evidently impressed the court as being a true version of the case. When discharged he eloquently thanked the court.

Lancy Brown, who escaped from the western penitentiary on July 18th, 1919, was captured last week in Detroit, brought to Bellefonte Friday morning and promptly sentenced by Judge Quigley to serve out his old sentence and an additional sentence of eighteen months to three years, and was taken back to Pittsburgh on Saturday by Sheriff Dukeman.
