PLEASANT GAP.

The prodigality of the poor creates the eminent wealth of the rich.

Miss Geraldine Bilger, of Bellefonte, visited here with friends.

James Carpenter, of New Milford, is spending a few days at the Gap.

Miss Helen Gttig has secured a clerical position in the offices of the Whitecock quarries.

Mrs. Fritz and Mrs. Ellison, of Portsmouth, Ohio, are visiting with George Gettig and family at the Cross roads.

Mrs. Paul Keller and two interesting little girls, of Philadelphia, are spending some time at the home of her father, William H. Noll Jr.

Mrs. Charles Bender and daughter, of Lancaster, after visiting with grandmother Bilger for some two weeks, returned home on Tuesday last.

That kind of financing that will carry on successfully a private business, is what we need at the head of our state department at this momentous time.

The McNitt-Huyett Lumbering Co. have nearly 30,000 first class railroad ties ready for market, but owing to railroad embarrassments no market exists as yet.

A cripple is valuable as an illustration of what may happen to you, either by carelessness or accident, and consequently anything given him is not thrown away.

Mr. and Mrs. William Florey and son Rea, accompanied by Mrs. Rachel Noll, motored to Williamsport recently. They report the scenery at this time as simply grand.

Mr. Leslie Miller and family, of Woodlawn, Beaver county, came to the Gap the early part of the week and expect to take in the Granger's picnic before returning home.

Mr. J. S. Miller is enjoying a ten day's vacation, and he surely deserves it. He is one of the favorite employees at the penitentiary, and barring his annual vacation he is onto his job every day of the year.

Mrs. Elmer Musser and daughter Natalia, of Cleveland, Ohio, arrived at the Gap a few days ago and will remain for some time before returning to their home. Mrs. Musser is a daughter of our townsman, Mr. W. A. Hoover, at whose home she usually makes her headquarters during her annual vacations.

Our state road management are in receipt of three car loads of brick, which would possibly amount to 30,000. Something like 500,000 brick will be required to complete the contract. It is doubtful if they will be materialized—the present invoice would be consumed in three days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kerstetter and daughter Tamazine left a few days ago on an extended motoring trip. Pittsburgh was their first stop. After seeing what they could see in the Smoky city they left for Cleveland, and will visit a number of notable cities before returning home. They will in all probability return Saturday or Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Herman, of Philadelphia, came here a short time ago with a view of remaining over until the close of the Granger picnic. John says there are two things he surely enjoys, they are to be in attendance annually at the Granger picnic and to eat his mother's apple pies. He says they have very fine apple pies in the city, but somehow mother's pies seem far superior to him than any other product.

Dr. R. S. Melroy and wife are over in the Lewistown Narrows residing in their cottage. It is there they spend their annual vacation and have an up-to-date good and enjoyable time. Mr. J. Abner Noll, Mrs. Melroy's father, went over to join them on Tuesday and remained until Thursday night. Abner's going was a surprise to the entire community, since he has been in business at the Gap for over thirty years and such a thing as a vacation is an unknown quantity to him.

A girl and her best fellow went up the state road taking a leisure walk in the direction of State College. They had boasted previously that they would, under no circumstances, make fools of themselves like injudicious youngsters do by making a public show of themselves on the street before they were married, when in fact they had a regular hugging match in broad daylight. A bunch of young men witnessed the antics and they are delighted, and chatter, and sing, and say, if properly presented to our Bellefonte friends would be an immense drawing card and no mistake.

Husbands are not always what they seem; neither are wives, and each are very much what the other makes of them. Most young women regard matrimony as the aim and end of life. So it is to many. They read of love, think of it, talk of it, and pray for it, until they become so wrought up over it that they are liable to mistake a passing fancy for it. Then they are delighted, and chatter, and sing, and dream. They don't know what it is, but they have it. If a woman would exercise as much care in selecting a husband as she does in choosing a domestic she would hit the nail on the head oftener than she does.

The Gettig reunion was a great success. The same was held at Gheritty's Seven mountains' famous resort. The affair was largely attended, among the number participating being Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Fanning, Paul Fanning and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gettig, Donald Gettig, wife and two children, Mrs. Frank Weaver and Irvin Gettig, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Geh-ret and John Hoy, all of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. John Herman, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Jay Caut and daughter Jean, Catherine and Fannie Miller, of Niagara Falls; H. E. Gettig and family, Henrietta and Carl Gettig, Mr. and Mrs. John Uhl and Roy Uhl, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoy and son William, Harry Hoy, wife, and five children, Miss Helen Hoy, and Ray Williams. All present enjoyed the festivities hugely.

George H. Smull and wife have been away over a week. Just where they have gone is not known, but are supposed to have gone on a business trip.

John Smith and two brothers called at the home of Herbert Stover for an old fashioned chat, Sunday afternoon. John is a jovial good fellow and always welcome.

Mrs. Edith Meredith, formerly Edith Detwiler, of this place, but now of Lewisburg, with her husband, has been spending some time pleasantly with the lady's mother here.

Sometimes it seems as though one man had all the trouble in this world, but when we hear other people tell of their experiences in life we are led to believe that all have their share of troubles and disappointments.

The Keystone printing house, Herbert H. Stover, proprietor, is rushed with work for weeks ahead. A talk with Mr. Stover reveals the fact that his printing plant has put out more work since last March than ever before in its history.
