Six fine young animals, ranging in weight from 1150 to 1500 lbs., are scheduled to go and anyone desiring good horses can buy them reasonably upon inquiry at the penitentiary barns.

At a congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church of Bellefonte, on Wednesday evening, it was decided to postpone the issuing of a formal call for candidates to fill the pastorate of the church until the beginning of October. The Ladies Aid society has offered to make some much-needed repairs on the parsonage and the trustees accepted the offer.

Mrs. Nancy McMin celebrated her ninety-second birthday Saturday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Curtin, at Curtin. Charles A. Morris has leased the Ceader house on Spring street for the winter and will go there with his family, from the Bush house, early in the month, or as soon as Mrs. Ceader can make arrangements to vacate the home. Considerable comment has been heard on the appearance of the new roof of the Bellefonte Academy, especially the rear portion of same which does not conform to the front and ends. Headmaster James R. Hughes is authority for the statement that the rear will in due time be made to conform with the front and ends of the building. But this can and will be done after the interior of the building is completed so that there need be no delay in the opening of the Academy at the regular time.

Up in Reese hollow, near Flat Rock on the road from Port Matilda to Philipsburg, lives Peter Kelly. He is now sixty-five years old and up to last Friday never was shaved or had his hair cut by a barber. He always shaved himself and some member of the family cut his hair. Last Friday he took a trip to Philipsburg and decided to have a shave and his long locks trimmed by a regular facial artist and when the job was done he was as tickled as a boy with his first pair of pants.

Quite a number of Centre countians motored to Lewistown last Thursday to take in the Miffin county fair and all of them have been talking about it ever since and telling what a wonderful fair it was. One man averred he saw a hog on exhibit that was eight feet long and four feet high, but he evidently must have been looking through a magnifying glass. Be that as it may, however, there were several hogs in the exhibit that weighed from 600 to 700 pounds, and that's some hog. The attendance on Thursday was estimated at twenty-five thousand people, while the average daily attendance ran from twelve to fifteen thousand.

The informal opening of the big gathering will take place on Grange Park tomorrow (Saturday) and the committee in charge is exerting every effort to make the park safe, sanitary and beautiful.

Tents are all erected and already campers are occupying them, and by opening day the white city, which annually springs up in the center of historic Pennsylvan, will be full of life and activity, every tent occupied. John D. Meyer Goes to Tyrone.

John D. Shelley Kloss, resigned.

Mr. Kloss resigned last week as vice president and a member of the board of directors and Mr. Meyer was elected as his successor at a meeting of the board of directors held last Friday.

As vice president he will be in active charge of the bank's affairs.

Mr. Meyer is a native of Centre county, having been born at Centre Hall. As a young man he chose teaching as a profession and not only taught in the Bellefonte High school but became superintendent of schools in Bellefonte. He resigned that position twelve years ago to accept a position in an Altoona bank. The success he has attained in the banking circles of Altoona is evidence of his ability as a financier, and his election as vice president of the First National bank at Tyrone is another step up on the ladder of success.

The wheat escaped the ravages of the fly this year but now the State Board of Agriculture has discovered another bug that may prove a menace to next year's crop if farmers don't watch out.

The scare stirred up over the greenish tint of the water in the Academy swimming pool has subsided. In fact there was no foundation for alarm or excitement at any time. The greenish sediment which has settled on the walls of the pool is the natural result of any body of stagnant water and doesn't signify either poison or impurities. The water is exceptionally fine these warm days for swimming and everybody who enjoys a dip should take advantage of the pool before cold weather comes along and puts an end to outdoor swimming.

Just two more Wednesday evening concerts will be given by the I. O. O. F. band in the Diamond in Bellefonte, which will fill their contract with the Business Men's association for this season. During the entire season only a few concerts were cancelled on account of rain or disagreeable weather and the band was always on hand to the minute. Hundreds of people thronged the Diamond every concert night to hear the music, many coming to Bellefonte from quite a distance. The people in general owe a debt of gratitude to the Business Men's association for their liberality in bearing the financial burden of the summer concerts, and the band is justly entitled to commendation for its efforts to give the people two hours of musical pleasure every week.

Twenty-five to thirty years ago the annual reunion of the Centre county Veterans club was regarded as the big gathering in Centre county. It always drew a crowd of several thousand people, not only from every portion of the county but from neighboring counties. Today the ranks of the old soldiers have been so depleted by death that only a corporal's guard remains and the soldiers now hold their reunions at the Granger's picnic in order to assure a crowd. The reunion this year will be held next Wednesday at Grange park, and every G. A. R. man in Centre county who can do so should attend. A program has been arranged which will be of interest to old soldiers. The Citizens band of Ferguson township will furnish the music. If you don't want to take a basket along your eating wants can be supplied on the grounds.

Mortgaged Home to Save Son Who Stole Diamond Ring.

At a brief session of court on Wednesday Judge Quigley suspended sentence upon Clifford Diller, of Akron, Ohio, for stealing a diamond ring valued at $320 from Paul Baney. Diller visited the Baney home late in July and when he left took along the ring and going to Buffalo, N. Y., sold the jewel to Louis Meyer, a jeweler, for fifty dollars. Sheriff Dukeman went to Buffalo, arrested him and brought him back to Bellefonte on August 6th. When his mother heard of the trouble her son was in she mortgaged her home in Akron to get the money to redeem the ring then came to Bellefonte to intercede in her son's behalf. Her sacrifice in this direction is what probably saved her boy from a term in jail, as the court suspended sentence upon the payment of costs and the good behavior of the young man.

Mike Hemmis, of Philipsburg, was before the court on the charge of threatening to kill, and after hearing his story the court also suspended sentence and placed him on parole for a period of one year.

Herbert's Greater Minstrels.

This, the most novel of all minstrel shows, will be the attraction at Garman's opera house next Monday evening, September 5th. If there is such a thing as a diversion from the old time minstrel that you have seen in the past, you will be sure to find it with this organization, which is composed entirely of negro talent and is conceded to be the peer of all colored minstrel shows.

A delightfully blended performance, including the good of the past, the better of the present, and the best of the future, and chuck full of pep, is a guarantee that you will be given an evening of wholesome amusement. The company is headed by the two best mirth-provoking, sorrow-dispelling comedians in the negro profession, Lester Carter and Harry Anderson, assisted by 30 others. The performance is replete with pleasing surprises, so out of the ordinary, and coming in such quick succession that it takes the form of a rapid fire production, and there is not one dull moment, for every tick of the clock will ring you a laugh. Too much cannot be said of the singing contingent with this show, for it is a fact that all of the best of the warblers of the Sunny South are under the Herbert banner, and it has been established that for harmony, none such can be found, as that rendered by the negro race. The Herbert comedy four will carry you with them, on their melodic waves.

The company numbers forty people, carries a crack band, and gives a parade. Be sure to see the great Adams with the parade. He will please you.

DAVID ESTRIGHT KILLED BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

Run Down While at Work on State Road Near Gum Stump.

David Estright, a well known resident of Snow Shoe Intersection, was instantly killed about 9:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning on the state road near Gum Stump, by being run down by an automobile driven by Thomas Budinger, of Snow Shoe. Mr. Estright, who was hard of hearing, was working on the state road for the Vipond company, of Altoona. Mr. Budinger, with other members of the family, was on his way to Bellefonte. He was driving along at an average rate of speed and when he reached the gang of workmen, at a point where the Gum Stump road intersects the state road, Estright started to walk across the road. Budinger, according to reports, was on the right side of the road and though he did all he could to stop the car he was unable to do so. He even ran down off the side of the roadway to avoid hitting the man, but as Mr. Estright did not see the car and could not hear the tooting of the horn, he walked directly in front of it. The unfortunate result was he was struck and knocked violently to the ground, dying almost instantly.

Mr. Estright was a son of Henry and Margaret Estright and was born at Pennsylvania Furnace forty-seven years ago. When two years old his parents moved to Snow Shoe Intersection and that had been his home ever since. He was a laborer by occupation, and an honest and industrious citizen.

He married Miss Mabel Blair and she survives with the following children: Cornelius, Samuel, Mrs. E. T. Summers, Alfred, Gladys, Agnes, Helen, Margaret, Violet and Betty, all at home. He also leaves three brothers and sisters: Isaac Estright, of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Meyers, of Tyrone; William, of Coalport; Mrs. Sarah Wyland, of Williamsport; Henry and Mrs. O. J. Summers, of Wingate; Mrs. Harry Kellerman and Samuel, of Milesburg, and John, of Tyrone.

Funeral services will be held at his late home at Snow Shoe Intersection at two o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon.

Returned from a Long Hike.

When Linn W. Bodle resumes his studies as a Senior in the Bellefonte High school on the 12th he will have something to tell his classmates and friends about that was an experience out of the ordinary.

Linn was born and raised in the Buffalo Run valley and started in High school while the family was living there. His father died before he finished school, then his mother remarried and moved to Numine, Armstrong county. The boy remained here to complete his course and has been living with the Misses McKnight, on Spring street. During his summer vacation he visited with his mother at Numine and while there decided to visit his uncle William Koch, who lives in Stockton, Ill. With another boy from Numine he set out on the long trail and made the distance afoot in just eight days. Proverbially walking is cheap. It was so in their case for subsistence and all enroute they spent only $1.25, which speaks a lot for the disposition of the people who live in the houses by the side of the roads they traveled to make "hand outs." They returned by train.

Henry W. Parker, who is a student at the University of Pennsylvania, is another boy who showed his mettle to Bellefonte people some weeks ago. He was here canvassing for books and as the business was not successful he found himself stranded. Nothing daunted he started to walk to his home in Germantown, Pa., and made the trip afoot in two days.

Labor Day Picnics.

Next Monday will be Labor day and the Logan firm company will hold one of its old-time picnics at Hecla park. Every arrangement has been completed and with fair weather this gathering promises to be second only to the big Business Men's picnic. Ample bus facilities have been arranged for from Bellefonte and Lock Haven to the park so that there will be no trouble getting there and back. Many sports have been planned for the day, including a baseball game and boxing bouts. Frank Wetzler's famous band, of Milesburg, will be there in all its glory and give various concerts during the day. An orchestra will also be present to furnish music for dancing in the pavilion during the afternoon and evening. Inasmuch as Labor day will be pretty generally observed as a holiday Bellefonte people should make their plans to attend the big Logan picnic.

FINE TIME AT PORT MATILDA.

The people of Port Matilda and vicinity will also have a big picnic on Labor day and have engaged the I. O. O. F. band, of Bellefonte, to furnish the music. Sports and dancing will feature the gathering and a big dinner will also be a drawing card.

The "Watchman" office was favored with a visit on Wednesday morning by Mr. W. F. Hoy, of Farmington, Mo. The very fact that he was so far away from home would indicate that he is not a frequent visitor, even if he was born and raised in Centre county. In fact it is thirty-five years since his last visit back among the vine-clad hills of Pennsylvania and his trip this time is to spend ten days or so with his only sister, Mrs. Samuel Dorman, of Lamar, and also to visit other relatives in different sections of Centre county. Mr. Hoy is a son of Mr. Elias Hoy and was born and grew to manhood on what was known as the Samuel Olevine farm at "Belling Springs," now called Axe Mann. Fifty years ago he pulled up stakes and went to Ohio where he lived seventeen years then decided to go further west and finally located in Missouri and went in to the fruit growing business.
