—At the regular meeting of the Board of Pardons last week the sentence of Sydney Rhyne, alias "Whitey Morris," was commuted from the death penalty to life imprisonment. Rhyne is from Delaware county and was brought to the death house at Rockview on June 25th for electrocution the following Monday. He is a hopeless paralytic and had to be carried on a cot. This fact was used in securing a reprieve from the Governor and also answered in getting a commutation of his sentence. He will now be taken back to the hospital of the eastern penitentiary.

THOUSANDS GOING AFTER DEER

Season Will Open Next Thursday and Hunters Anticipate Lots of Good Sport.

Upwards of six thousand hunters licenses have been issued by county treasurer L. Frank Mayes, by far the largest number ever taken out in Centre county. Of course every holder of a license will not go out for the opening of the deer season, which will be on Thursday of next week, but it is likely the majority of them will. And in addition, hundreds of hunters from all over the State come to Centre county every fall for deer, so there is hardly any question but that thousands will be on the trail with the break of day on the morning of December first.

Taking into consideration the fact that by far the larger portion of the deer killed in Centre county last year were in the Seven mountains, it is only natural to conclude that this will be the choice hunting ground this year. Notwithstanding the fact that in the neighborhood of one hundred and fifty bucks were killed in that region last season, many deer have been seen on the mountain this summer, and in fields along the mountain, and about the usual per cent. of them were bucks.

For several years past hunters on the Alleghenies have not met with the success of former years, but more deer have been seen in that locality during the summer than for some time, and hunting should be good there this season. Of course to hunt successfully either in the Seven mountains or on the Alleghenies it is almost essential to camp in the territory, and that is the reason most hunters go out in parties and camp on the ground.

But for those who do not care to go out camping, it might be stated, deer can be found in other places instead of the mountains mentioned above. Bellefonte hunters who would like to go out for a day only, could go by automobile to Scotia and hunt in the Barrens between that place and Gatesburg. There is a large scope of woodland there and many deer have been seen there this year.

Deer can also be found on Muncy mountain, though they are probably not so plentiful there. But a week or two ago a young Bellefonter, who went up on the mountain above Fillmore to look for wild turkeys, saw three deer and a bear on the mountain and could have had a good shot at the deer had they been in season.

And speaking of bear, this kind of game seems to be more plentiful than ever this year. Quite a number have been seen on the mountain and a few killed. And this brings us to the fact that the first three days of last week five men from Butler, Pa., among whom was Dr. Robert Greer, were hunting for small game in the Black Moshannon district. On Wednesday Put McCord and Port Bilger tracked a bear from near Rattlesnake to the head of Little Tar Kill where they killed him about noon. The bear, according to written information reaching this office, weighed about four hundred pounds.

Reception to Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Schmidt.

The twentieth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt, in St. John's Reformed church, Bellefonte, was celebrated Thursday evening, November 17th. A reception was held in the chapel adjoining the church for Dr. and Mrs. Schmidt, to which the members and their friends were invited. Although it rained nearly all evening fully 200 members and friends gathered to bear their congratulations and good wishes to the pastor and his wife. During the evening refreshments were served to the guests by the ladies of the church.

The surprise of the evening took place when elder Harry Keller Esq., spoke of the twenty years of harmony, good will and splendid service that had prevailed during these years. He then presented Dr. and Mrs. Schmidt with a box of gold pieces, in behalf of members of the congregation. Mrs. Harry Badger, the president of the Ladies Aid society, presented another package of gold pieces as a testimonial from the Aid society. Dr. Schmidt accepted the gifts on behalf of Mrs. Schmidt and himself and spoke of the blessed fellowship that had been theirs during these twenty years.

The entire affair was informal, and the latter part of the evening was spent in music and familiar songs. The chapel was decorated with flags and yellow and white chrysanthemums. During the evening many of the citizens of Bellefonte called to bear their congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. Schmidt, as well as to the congregation.

Mid-Year Conference of Sunday School Workers.

The regular mid-year conference of Sunday school workers will be held in the United Brethren church, Bellefonte, on Saturday, December 3rd. There will be two sessions, in the morning at 9:30 o'clock, and at 1:30 in the afternoon. Lunch will be served at the church. State secretary W. G. Landes and State children's division superintendent, Miss Emma G. Lemen, both of whom are well known in Centre county, will be among the speakers. The organization officials are very anxious to have every county officer, every district officer, every pastor and every Sunday school superintendent present, as these conferences are always very helpful.

—Have you noticed the advertisement of "The Basket Shop" in this issue of the "Watchman"? See page 5.

—Royal cord tires have the most imitative tread in America. But bear in mind that the tread on a quality tire is small in proportion to the cost of the canvass or body of the tire, which determines its usefulness. 46-1t

—Rev. David R. Evans, of Wellsboro, will conduct the services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening. The subject of his discourse in the morning will be "The Savior and the Storm," and in the evening "The Man at the Gates." Morning service at 10:45 and evening at 7:30.

—Wait for your Thanksgiving entertainment and fun until Friday evening, November 25th, and then spend the evening with the Epworth League of the Methodist church. They are planning an evening of real fun and pleasure in the lecture room of the church at 8 o'clock. You, no matter whether you are a Methodist and an Epworth Leaguer or not, are invited to attend. You will be sorry if you miss the good time which is being planned for you. Leave your pocketbooks at home. Invite your friends.

State Tied with Pitt.

The great Thanksgiving football classic between State and Pitt at Pittsburgh yesterday resulted in a draw, 0-0.

On paper and season's showing State should have won by two or three touchdowns, but, as last year when the teams tied also, State probably had gone stale after her hard schedule and did not play at top form. It rained hard all Wednesday night in Pittsburgh, so that Forbes field was a quagmire and made footing so bad that the great blue and white backs were unable to get off any effective open field work.

Practically all of the play was in Pitt territory. In the first half State worked the ball down to Pitt's fourteen yard line and seemed going for the goal when a fumble lost the ball and halted the march. In the second half Pitt carried the ball 40 yards to State's 25-yard line and there tried a forward pass which State intercepted. Those were the only times either goal was threatened.

The game here between the American Legion and Yeagertown teams resulted in a victory for the home boys by a score of 13 to 0.

War Savings Security News.

It may interest readers of the "Watchman" to learn that from January 1st to August 1st there have been sold in Centre county twenty-eight $1,000 savings certificates, and the holders of these securities are the patrons of the following postoffices: Centre Hall 8; Phillipsburg 5; Bellefonte 5; Zion 3; Fleming 3; Boalsburg 2; Rebersburg 1, and Spring Mills 1. Since the issue of the savings securities in 1918 Centre county has been among the leading counties in Pennsylvania. Our per capita record is as follows: In 1918, $20.38, ranking fourth; in 1919, second place with a per capita of $2.60; in 1920, first place with a per capita of $2.06; during 1921, up to October 1st, Centre county holds second place in the eastern district of Pennsylvania with a per capita of $1.10.

Savings stamps can be purchased at any postoffice. Treasury savings certificates for $25 or $100 maturity value can be purchased at either the Bellefonte, State College or Phillipsburg postoffices. Certificates of $1,000 can be purchased through W. Harrison Walker, assistant to the director of the Eastern district.

Annual Meeting of Centre County Farm Bureau.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee it was decided to hold the annual meeting of the Centre county Farm Bureau in the court house at Bellefonte on Saturday, December 24th, 1921.

At the annual meeting a complete report of the past year's work will be given and plans made for the coming year. In the afternoon short talks will be given on interesting agricultural subjects. Every farmer in Centre county is just as much a member of the Farm Bureau as the members of the executive committee, and hence should attend the annual meeting and give his assistance in making this work more effective throughout the county.

FARM PRODUCTS SHOW.

As in the past two years the Centre county farm products show will be held on the day of the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau, December 24th, at the court house. The fair at Centre Hall comes too early for a good farm products exhibit, so this is really the only farm products show in Centre county, and promises this year to be a real show.

The exhibits this year will include corn, potatoes and apples, same as last year, and in addition wheat and oats have been included. Several times last year's amount of premium money has been secured and the premiums this year will be especially attractive. Centre county is one of the most productive counties of the State and should have one of the best farm products shows. Start now to collect your exhibits. A premium list will be published at a later date in this paper.

PAROLED CONVICT STOLE HORSES AND WAGON.

Arrested in York County Last Week. Owner Recovers Team, Wagon and All.

On the night of October 30th some person stole a team of horses, spring wagon, harness, some corn and potatoes from John White, up near the penitentiary. The thief was trailed to Selinsgrove where all trace of him was lost. While the identity of the man was uncertain suspicion pointed to a paroled convict of the western penitentiary, one "Doc" Powers, and the penitentiary authorities were appealed to to assist in the search for the man, and he was finally located on a farm in York county, about three miles from York, with the team, wagon and all still in his possession.

Powers, who was one of the short term men brought to Rockview from the eastern penitentiary, had been discharged on parole about the middle of September, and had gone to his home in York county. But the week before he stole Mr. White's horses and wagon he was seen in the neighborhood of the penitentiary with a double barreled shot gun and had told some one that he had come up here to hunt. Two nights before he stole White's stuff he was seen prowling around the barn of Mr. Rice, up in that locality, and that gentleman got after him with a pitchfork, it is alleged, and chased him away. The fact that he was not seen after the horses and wagon were stolen led to the belief that he was the thief.

As soon as the authorities located him in York county sheriff Harry Dukeman was notified and last Friday he, accompanied by Mr. White, went down to get the man. He offered no resistance and the sheriff brought him back on Saturday and placed him in the Centre county jail. The team, wagon and harness were recovered intact, and Mr. White also left York county on Saturday to drive home. Powers is said to be a man of limited intelligence and hardly capable of comprehending the gravity of his crime.

Today and Tomorrow.

If you contemplate making a donation to the Bellefonte hospital and live in Bellefonte your gift will be called for today or tomorrow. The ambulance will be run over all the streets of the town and with it will be several nurses and ladies of the hospital auxiliary who will gladly receive anything you may have to donate; whether it be cash, linens, muslin, groceries, vegetables or any other article that could be used in the institution.

The hospital needs no praise from us. You know the splendid service it renders as well as we do. It must be supported more generously by this community than ever before because the State has reduced its aid by $2000.00 and as the institution was just about making ends meet before that blow fell we will all have to pull together to make up the loss. So be generous. Watch for the ambulance today or tomorrow and make this Thanksgiving donation commensurate with your means.

High School Athletic Notes.

The High school basket ball team will begin to prepare for its winter contests this week, practicing in the armory. It is unfortunate that the Y. M. C. A. continues to lie idle and that the skating rink will occupy the armory evenings, until Christmas. The boys will practice afternoons for a while, and as they will have an earlier start than usual they hope to get away with a good deal at the opening of the season.

That interest in football has revived in the High school was clearly demonstrated by the enthusiasm shown over an interclass game last week between the Juniors and Sophomores. The former came out on the long end of a 12 to 0 score.

Report of Red Cross Nurse.

The report of the Red Cross nurse, Miss Mary Royer, for the month of October is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Activity, Count. Nursing visits: 60. Infant welfare visits: 6. Visits to schools: 14. Home visits to school children: 72. Attendance at clinics: 12. Other visits: 11. Talks given: 8. Night calls after 8 p. m.: 4.

She also assisted in weighing and measuring 630 pupils in the public schools. One hundred and fifty pupils in the parochial school were examined and fifteen had tonsils and adenoids removed.

Centre County Third in Attendance at Penn State.

Allegheny county once more leads all others in the State in the number of men and women students attending The Pennsylvania State College this year. Of the 3011 students enrolled from Pennsylvania, Allegheny has sent 292. Philadelphia county is second with 235, and Centre third with 175. Luzerne county holds fourth place with 140 and Dauphin fifth with 124. Lackawanna has 107, Blair 89, Montgomery 88, Westmoreland 79, and Berks and Schuylkill are tied for tenth place with 78 each.

Just as Good.

When you see Royal Cord tires on a car you can tell the owner buys them, and is not being sold something which claims to be "just as good."
