PINE GROVE MENTION.

J. F. Mayes and W. H. Goss are among the sick this week.

Prof. Knight, of State College, brought down a large buck on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Williams, of Houserville, spent Sunday at the A. L. Bowersox home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thompson were motor guests at the John Markle home at Lemont on Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Stover were entertained at dinner on Sunday at the D. S. Neidigh home at Pine Hall.

Christmas exercises will be held in St. Luke's Lutheran church here on Monday evening, December 26th.

Dr. R. Walter Krebs and Martin A. Dreibleib represented this end of the county as jurors in court this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Johnstonbaugh spent the Sabbath among old neighbors at Boalsburg, their former home.

Squire E. K. Woomer is not sleeping very good these nights owing to a big burble on the back of his neck.

Dr. B. Frank Bowersox and wife, of Millheim, motored to this place on Sunday to visit the venerable Franklin Bowersox.

Now that the hunting season is over lumberman Elmer Long has put in operation his saw mill on old Tussey mountain, east of town.

Mrs. H. N. Walker is spending the week with friends in Williamsport, her husband being sole monarch of their home during her absence.

Mrs. J. H. Strouse is suffering with a severe attack of the grip and Miss Taylor, of Waddle, is lending a helping hand in the Strouse household.

Miss Edith Sparr, of Williamsburg, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Fred Fry, at Fairbrook, and helping to take care of Mrs. Fry's baby boy Freddie, who is seriously ill.

Elmer Cameron Musser, of this place, claims the championship as hog grower. He killed two which weighed 902 pounds and which yielded seven cans of lard.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peters and family, of Oak Hall, and James E. Peters, of the Glades, spent the Sabbath with their mother, Mrs. Sue Peters, on east Main street.

Our townsman, F. W. Swabb, took advantage of the excursion Saturday night to Washington, D. C., to go as far as Baltimore, where he visited his two daughters, Grace and Mabel.

That busy bird, the Stork, left a little baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smeltzer, of Pine Hall, on Sunday morning. The youngster has been christened Newton Clyde, in honor of its grandfathers.

Our new board of auditors, J. C. Gates and Chester McCormick, elected in November, and A. L. Bowersox, the hold-over member, held a meeting on Monday evening and passed upon the accounts of several of our township officers, finding them very satisfactory.

The members of Pennsylvan Lodge No. 276 I. O. O. F., with their friends will partake of their annual banquet on Friday evening, December 30th, at 8 o'clock. The change in date was made on account of the various Christmas entertainments to be held in this section.

The Ferguson township school board met on Monday evening and organized for future work. The new members are J. D. Neidigh and Reed R. Randolph, for six years, and H. S. Illingworth, four years. The old members are D. S. Peterson and Al Albright.

Mrs. Samuel Fleming, who has been in a Lancaster hospital most of the summer as the result of an operation, was brought to the Margaret Reed home here last Friday, none the worse for the trip. She is getting along splendidly and her complete recovery is looked for.

J. H. Bailey, one of the youngest members of the Sunday-Rossman hunting club which made such a good record hunting over at Sholl's gap, and which came out of the woods last Friday, can consider our hat doffed to him for a generous portion of one of the monster bucks brought in.

Rev. David Young Brouse, a former resident of this place but now located at York, Pa., where he is pastor of one of the best churches in the Central Pennsylvania Methodist conference, has been visiting his mother in town and arranging for a family Christmas feast at his home in York.

At the regular services in the Lutheran church last Sunday morning Rev. A. M. Lutton tendered his resignation as pastor to take effect on January 1st. He will preach his farewell sermon on Christmas. Rev. Lutton's decision to leave here was quite sudden and unexpected and is deeply regretted by everybody.

A telegram to relatives here announced the sudden death on Monday evening of Dr. Shultz, at his home in Cleveland, Ohio. His wife was Miss Martz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Martz, of this place, and the doctor was well known here through his frequent visits. He was just in the prime of life and his death is quite a shock to his friends. He is survived by his wife and a young son. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Irvin and Ed C. Martz went to Cleveland for the funeral which took place yesterday.

As echoes of the hunting season we mention the fact that Joseph S. Fleming, a day hunter, brought down a splendid buck on Saturday. It had twelve points on its antlers and weighed 200 pounds. The meat was fine and savory, as we have reason to know, as Mr. Fleming contributed a good sized hunk to our larder. Newton E. Hess, a member of the Fleet-foot club located in Shingletown gap, shot an eight pronged buck that was a curiosity because of the fact that its antlers were snow white. The animal had been seen on various occasions during the past two or three years but always escaped the hunter's shot until it was believed the animal was bullet proof. Mr. Hess, however, proved different. The Fleetfoot camp was visited by many people to view the curious specimen. Harry Gearhart, Ed Koehler and son Roy, the Dreibleib brothers and Hon. J. W. Kepler each brought down a deer the latter end of last week. N. E. Krebs holds the record for the finest specimen killed, one with ten prongs. He was a member of the Sunday-Rossman crowd.

BOALSBURG.

James M. Ross spent several weeks visiting friends in Altoona.

Our local merchants are displaying a fine line of Christmas goods.

Miss Harpster, of Harrisburg, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. O. Barr.

Henry Houser, of Linden Hall, was a business visitor in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Walter Korman and daughter, of Oak Hall, are visiting at the home of D. M. Snyder.

Samuel Glenn, of the Branch, was a visitor at the home of L. Mothersbaugh on Saturday.

Mrs. J. R. Harter and son returned home Wednesday, after a month's visit in Farmville, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wieland are in town on Monday en route to Tyrone, Altoona and Eldorado.

Cyrus Wagner is circulating among Boalsburg motorists taking orders for town name plates for automobiles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Keller and Miss Lillie Dale returned to Harrisburg, after spending a week in town.

Matthew Goheen recently purchased the O. W. Stover home on School street and will vacate the farm in the spring.

Mrs. Cunningham and Miss Dolly Lonebarger, of Vienna, Va., were in town several days last week, coming to attend the funeral of Mrs. P. B. Lonebarger. George Lonebarger accompanied them on their return.

LEMONT.

We have been having lots of rain of late.

B. F. Hoy and wife are slowly getting better.

The Methodist services are well attended and the preaching uplifting.

Good wishes to all the children for a pleasant time and a Happy Christmas.

The butchering is about all done, and every one has settled down for the winter.

Lots of the hunters from town were out deer hunting but not many trophies came to our town.

Little Margery, daughter of Thom-Boal, who is in a hospital in Philadelphia undergoing treatment, is reported as getting along nicely.

Mrs. Thomas Boal, of Houserville, went to Philadelphia, Monday, to enter the University of Pennsylvania hospital for an operation for goiter.

Quite a number of the young folks from town attended the Sunday school convention held at State College, Saturday, and report a very good time in every respect.

The Christmas entertainments in this town will be held as follows: Presbyterian and United Evangelical, Saturday evening, December 24th; The United Brethren of Houserville, Friday evening, December 23rd.

OAK HALL.

L. K. Dale made a business trip to Bellefonte on Tuesday.

William Raymond and Edward Zong each shot a fine buck this season.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peters and family were recent visitors among relatives at Pine Grove Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. George Houser and children, of State College, spent Sunday at the Frank Houser home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ethers and son George motored to Tyrone on Sunday and spent the day among friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lohr and family and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Frazier, of Linden Hall, spent Sunday at the Jacob Zong home.

Mrs. Alma Hoy and children, of State College, are spending a few days at the Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Homan home in this place.

The Oak Hall school was entertained at a Christmas party held at State College in the Y. M. C. A. building. Every one had a very good time.

Christmas Trees from State Forests

The Pennsylvania Department of Forestry has announced it will permit Christmas trees to be removed from state forests under the supervision of district foresters. In no case will forest officers give permission to cut a tree unless its removal benefits the forest.

Gifford Pinchot, the State's chief forester, has issued the following instructions covering the granting of requests for Christmas trees.

"The district forester will undoubtedly receive requests from communities and individuals for Christmas trees from state forest land. Choice specimens, such as can ill be spared, will naturally be desired.

"Requests from individuals should be dealt with strictly from the point of view of the forest. If the forest is benefited, the request may be granted; if it is not benefited, the request must necessarily be declined.

"Requests for community Christmas trees should be compiled with provided no serious injury to the forest is entailed. A tree cut for such a purpose does not and widespread good, and therefore cannot be considered as a dead loss. While the forests must in all cases be protected, the use of a tree for a community tree is entirely legitimate."

The "Watchman" makes the best kind of Christmas present.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

DAILY THOUGHT.

A Christmas Song Sing a song of Christmas, Puddings full of plums, Four and twenty snow-birds Picking up the crumbs; Stockings full of candy, Books, and games and toys; Isn't it a merry time For birds and girls and boys?

For the Book Lover.—A book plate is always liked by the possessor of many books and many friends. An originally designed plate with the full name of the owner engraved on it will be most highly appreciated.

Monograms, especially the small, round, seal-like ones—seem to be coming into notice again. For, while plain paper and severely simple address lettering is always sane and safe, the very best of good form, in fact, one can imagine certain types of women from whom a gay or even gaudy little letter flutters in at a bachelor's breakfast hour might be as appropriate as it was agreeable.

Correct letter-papers are pale pink with a white monogram, in gray with fine gray lettering, and in gray with red lettering.

There are many interesting dress accessories which make dainty Christmas presents. There are the little French nosegays, which add so becoming a note of color to the frock of dark velvet, duvety or satin. Even a blue serge dress is much improved by the addition of one of these little knots of flowers, if the right sort be chosen. One which added greatly to the effect of a frock of dark brown velvet, with leaves of light and dark green, a sprig of forget-me-nots, and two dull orange buds. Needless to say, these flowers were all very small. The stems were wound with silver thread, and the nosegay was worn high on the right shoulder.

These little flowers may be had in practically all shades and color combinations, and the woman who finds it advisable to wear plain dark dresses can wear a nosegay of the colors most becoming to her and so profit by their effect. One girl who is wearing her last spring's suit—an Eton suit—as an office dress, using a very frilly chemise instead of a blouse, wore one of these nosegays tucked into the lace frills, and greatly improved the costume.

Just a little touch, but a very pleasing one, was given by the new colored handkerchiefs. A manufacturer recently declared that he expected these handkerchiefs to enjoy great popularity during the coming winter, but deplored the fact that the samples which he had imported and were made of a linen could not be duplicated for a reasonable price unless cotton goods were used. However, these attractive little handkerchiefs are very easy to make, and the woman who is clever with her needle can add to her store of them in but a few evenings.

They are best made of handkerchief linen, and, as remnants can be well utilized in their making, no great expense is attached to them. The new-est ones are not hemstitched; when making them two threads should be drawn where the hemstitching would ordinarily come, and in their place is drawn a heavier thread of a contrasting color, or of white or black. The hem is then put in, and at one corner the thread which has been drawn through is sewn up through the handkerchief for an inch or so and ended in a small embroidered flower or in an initial.

Very smart indeed are the hatpins now being shown in the shops, their note of novelty depending on the use of hanging beads or medallions. For example, one very pretty hatpin had no head save a small rhinestone bead, but hanging from it by a short chain was a large, beautifully cut amber bead. Equally attractive was another pin from which hung a medallion of dull gray silver, outlined in tiny diamonds. One may select a hatpin to match one's earrings or string of beads.

Jade beads are still popular. An interesting string of opal matrix beads was seen in one shop recently; they were grayish in tone, with a hint of color beneath, and between them were tiny rhinestones.

Very smart for wear with evening gowns are the little bracelets wound with silver cloth, and ornamented with one or two tiny French flowers matching the gown in coloring, or, if the frock be white, giving a vivid note of color to the costume. Any at all so for evening wear are the garlands of dark green leaves sprinkled with diamond dust.

Should you decide to give a fur neckpiece you will get acquainted first of all with the fox family.

Rose fox is exquisite both in texture and coloring. The lovely young face looks out from it like a picture. Pointed fox, so-called, because of the little white pointed hairs in the black fur, ranks next both in price and popularity. White fox is charmingly soft and fluffy, while taupe is a favorite with many.

Other neckpieces are raccoon, which has splendid wearing qualities; and skunk and lynx, both of which have dignity and richness.

Covering pillows is a fascinating undertaking, and when Christmas spirit, secrecy and surprise enter into the equation, the two weeks before Christmas seem to be filled with play instead of work when pillow making is on the program. Pillows are always acceptable, since one can never have too many, and new ones are always needed to replace those that have grown shabby.

More than one card table can be used when all the members of the family are "bridge fiends."

If a man is interested in sports, either indoor or out, one can generally find something that will please his royal highness. Perhaps it may be a checker-board, either for home use or one that he can take on his travels with him; or if chess is his favorite pastime, he would undoubtedly welcome a new chessboard or an extra set of men.

RUNVILLE.

Mrs. William Walker, of Grampian, visited at the home of Forden Walker on Monday.

Mrs. Lucy Poorman departed last Monday to visit her son, Clair Poorman, at Hornell, N. Y.

Mrs. Harry Brown, of Corning, N. Y., is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Cyrus Lucas.

Mrs. Claude Lucas and little son, of Snow Shoe, spent last Saturday at the home of Mrs. Ida Witmer.

The Stork left a young son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker. Mother and babe are getting along nicely.

G. A. Sparks and John Furl attended a church work convention at Bellefonte last Saturday, in the U. B. church in that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Poorman and little son, of Bellefonte, made a call at the homes of F. L. Shope, John Walker and D. F. Poorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Johnson and four children, of Kylesport, and E. R. Lucas, of Altoona, spent Sunday at the home of L. J. Heaton.

The first quarterly business meeting for this year, will be held Friday afternoon, the 16th, at 2 o'clock, in the U. B. church, by J. S. Fulton. Also preaching in the evening by Rev. Fulton.

W. T. Kunes, formerly of this place, but who since the death of Mrs. Kunes has been spending the winter with his sister, Mrs. Addie Swisher,

WHEN NERVES ARE UNSTRUNG

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Builds Up Vigor and Strength.

There are times when men and women cannot help losing strength. They try to do too much or they lose sleep or do not eat enough food that nourishes. Blood becomes sluggish because poisons clog it. Faces grow pale and nervous get unstrung.

The best way to start a change for the better is to take a course of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It builds the blood. The weakness from a lack of red cells in the blood is overcome. Gude's Pepto-Mangan sends a fresh supply of red cells streaming through the blood.

Good blood, pure and free from poisons, starts building vigor and strength. Sleep is better, appetite keener, so that the body becomes properly nourished. Druggists have Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package.—Adv. 66-49

Statements That May be Investigated. Testimony of Bellefonte Citizens.

When a Bellefonte citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Bellefonte resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

M. H. Daley, railroad man, 213 E. Lamb St., says: "My back and kidneys were in a very serious condition when I began taking great benefit Pills. They gave me Doan's Kidney Pills. I was more than pleased with the results. I recommend Doan's whenever I have an opportunity."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Daley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 66-49
