—The Festival of Christmas will be kept this year at St. John's Episcopal church with a beautiful service on Christmas Eve beginning just before midnight. The choir has been practicing for some weeks and the music will be especially excellent. The public is cordially invited to attend.

—Homer Barr, a member of the Riley hunting party, of Boalsburg, was stricken with paralysis in the hunting camp on Wednesday night and yesterday morning was taken to his home in Boalsburg by automobile. The stroke is quite a severe one and Mr. Barr is unable to talk, although conscious.

—Mildred Jane, ten months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Johnstonbaugh, died at the family home in Altoona on Wednesday evening after a brief illness with pneumonia. The remains will be buried in the Pine Hill cemetery at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Rev. Harkness officiating.

—Shopping naturally is very tiresome, and why allow yourselves to grow weary in well doing. Take an hour or two off each evening and go to the scenic and see the motion pictures. You'll find them so interesting that you will forget you ever were tired. A big show of high-class pictures every evening during the week.

—A general appeal is made to Bellefonte for contributions for the "kiddies treat" for Christmas. While you are busy planning for yourselves give a thought to the fact that there are quite a number of children in Bellefonte who are not situated as you are and who will have a cheerless Christmas if a generous response is not made to this appeal. All contributions should be sent to either Miss Mary H. Linn or Mrs. R. S. Brouse.

—The reorganization meeting of the Mother's Pension committee of Centre county was held at the home of Mrs. John S. Walker, Thursday morning, with all the members present. The committee includes, Mrs. Charles E. McGirk and Mrs. W. L. Nuttall, of Philipsburg; Mrs. G. S. Frank, of Millheim; Mrs. Frank D. Gardner, of State College; Mrs. John S. Walker, Mrs. W. F. Reynolds and Miss Mary H. Linn, of Bellefonte. Miss Mary F. Bogue, of Harrisburg, state supervisor of the work in Pennsylvania, was there to try to answer some of the perplexing questions that have been continually confronting these women, regarding the distribution of the appropriation made for the work.

—James I. Thompson, of Meadowbrook farm, near Lemont, was struck with an auto truck on the state highway near the State College sewage disposal plant about eleven o'clock on Monday morning, knocked down and injured somewhat about the head, but fortunately not seriously. Mr. Thompson was walking along the roadway, which at that point was wet and slippery. He made a misstep, slipped and fell down just as a Boalsburg truck came along. The driver of the truck was traveling at slow speed and while he could not avoid hitting Mr. Thompson, he was able to stop the truck without running over him. As it was he sustained one or more abrasions on the head but no broken bones, and inquiry at the Thompson home yesterday brought the comforting information that he is now all right, save for a little stiffness.

Game Hunting Season Ended Yesterday, December 15th.

The hunting season for all kinds of game with the exception of raccoon ended yesterday, but the majority of deer hunters returned to their homes last week, many of them because the hunting parties of which they were members having killed their limit of six deer and others because they had exhausted the time they had at their disposal. The "Watchman" last week published a list of most of the hunting parties from Centre county and other parts of the State who hunted in Centre county mountains, with the number of deer they killed, and while it is impossible to get the exact number of animals slain, it is generally believed that the total will exceed that of last year. In fact, various estimates place the number at from 225 to 250.

One of the peculiar circumstances of the hunt was the killing of seven bucks by the Sunday-Rossman crowd of Ferguson township. They had killed five bucks but decided to make one more drive before breaking camp. In doing so a five pronged buck was driven out to one of the watchers who brought it down in its tracks. Hardly had the report of his gun been heard when a four pronged buck ran out to the watcher a little further along and he naturally supposed it was the deer the other man had shot at and he took a crack at it, bringing it to earth. When the hunters discovered what had happened they dressed the last deer killed and promptly notified the nearest warden, turning the deer over to him to send to a hospital. In so doing they met the requirements of the law and were not subject to a fine.

The White Pine hunting club returned home last Saturday with their four deer and hung them up in front of Gettysburg meat market, where they attracted considerable attention all afternoon.

From the number of spike bucks killed many people are of the opinion that these form the greater part of the kill. The writer took occasion to figure up the kill of a number of hunting parties picked at random and out of fifty-two deer killed 14 of them were spike bucks, 4 had two prongs, 12 had three prongs, 12 four prongs, 7 five prongs and one each with seven, eight and ten prongs, so it will be seen that almost as many four and five pronged bucks were killed as spike bucks. Practically all the deer were in good condition, evidence that they have had splendid pasture, and the does and fawns ought to be in good shape for wintering.

Mrs. Frank J. Miller, of Julian, is, so far as known, the only Centre county woman to kill her deer this year, she having bagged a twelve pronged buck on Smay's run, in the Alleghenies, last Friday. Mrs. Miller is quite proud of her feat.

In our regular letter from Pine Grove Mills mention is made of the buck with snow white antlers shot by Newton E. Hess, a member of the Fleetfoot hunting club, which camped in Shingletown gap, in addition to its peculiarity in bearing white horns the buck was the largest deer ever brought off Tussey mountain, its dead weight being 250 pounds. Scores of hunters and others visited the Fleetfoot camp to take a look at the majestic stag.

George T. Bush Again Honored.

At a meeting of Jaffa Temple, Ancient Arabic Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, an organization of thirty-five hundred members, held in Altoona last Friday, George T. Bush, of Bellefonte, was chosen one of four representatives to the Imperial Council of the order which will meet in San Francisco next June. Following so close upon the honor conferred upon him last summer when he was appointed grand standard bearer of the Grand Commandery of the Knights Templar of Pennsylvania makes this mark of esteem all the more appreciated.

In this connection it might be stated that Mr. Bush's Masonic affiliations are rather extensive. He is a life member, past commander, recorder and trustee of Constans Commandery No. 33 Knights Templar; past high priest and trustee of Bellefonte Chapter No. 241 Royal Arch Masons; member of Bellefonte Lodge No. 268 Free and Accepted Masons; member of Andoniram Council No. 26 Royal and Select Masons, of Williamsport; charter applicant of the Williamsport Lodge of Perfection 14th degree; Williamsport Council Princes of Jerusalem 16th degree; Williamsport Chapter of Rose Croix 18th degree; Williamsport Consistory S. P. R. S. 32nd degree; life and charter member of Jaffa Temple Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Altoona; charter member of the National Masonic Research Association, of Iowa, and life member of Penn State Chapter of the Acacia Fraternity, of State College, a branch of the national college Masonic fraternity degree.

—On Tuesday, December 6th, the Y. W. C. A. club held their first meeting in their new club room in the Crider stone building on High street. The growing interest was quite marked, as there was a large attendance and a number of new members added to the roll. The club room is open each evening for several hours, and it is hoped that the girls will make use of that opportunity to get together. Any girls wishing to join the club may do so by communicating with either of the following captains: Nora Stover, Kathryn Hoy, Elizabeth Eckenroth and Mary Chambers.

—By the time you are through reading this edition of the "Watchman" you are mighty tired hearing about Christmas Seals, aren't you? But you'd be a mighty sight more tired if you were a young person just ready to begin life and yet were condemned to sit patiently for hours in an invalid's chair trying to fight tuberculosis. That is why you are asked to buy seals and help prevent such tragedies.

—Some of the merchants of Bellefonte aver that the holiday trade so far is not up to expectations, while others declare that their business is almost up to that of last year. Last year, by the way, was an exceptional year. Every person who wanted work had been employed at top notch wages, and while the black clouds of hard times were lowering in the distance they had not then reached Bellefonte and everybody spent money lavishly at Christmas time. But conditions are different this year. Work has not been so plentiful and wages have been considerably reduced. Farmers throughout the county have not made the money this year they did during several years previous, and it stands to reason that holiday purchases will be limited to the condition of the purchaser's purse. There is no gainsaying the fact that everybody would like to see all the stores do a record holiday trade, because that would mean easy money all around, but conditions have not been such the past year as to justify it.

Wrigley, of Clearfield, cut off her long hair and placed the shorn tresses on a shelf in her wardrobe, put on men's clothing, slipped out of the house and going to the Susquehanna river plunged in and was drowned. Her body was recovered about three o'clock Saturday afternoon. Several months ago Miss Wrigley suffered a nervous breakdown as the result of toxic poisoning and her continued ill health was undoubtedly the cause of her drowning herself.

This oratorio will be rendered by some mixed voices under the direction of Mrs. Krader. No admission will be charged, but a silver offering will be lifted to help defray expenses.

Another entertaining attraction will be held on Monday evening, December 26th, at the same hour, when the regular Christmas festival of the Sunday school, including a children's cantata entitled, "A Secret for Christmas," will be given. An offering for the Bethany's Orphan's Home will be lifted during this entertainment. Go and enjoy these services.

W. C. Rowe Buys Hecla Park from George Smith.

A deal was closed through the Robert F. Hunter real estate agency the past week whereby Hecla park has again changed hands, W. C. Rowe having purchased the same from George Smith. Mr. Smith purchased the park grounds, including the old mill, from George H. Yarnell last summer and has since erected thereon a comfortable bungalow which, however, he has never occupied.

Mr. Rowe, the new owner, contemplates making some very decided improvements which will make it one of the best amusement parks in this part of the State. These improvements include electrification of the entire grounds; the installation of ice cooled drinking fountains at various points of convenience throughout the grounds, and greatly enlarging the dancing pavilion. In fact the pavilion will be just doubled in length and the width increased one-half over its present size, while a band stand will be erected in the center.

An enclosure twelve foot in width will be built entirely around the pavilion, and almost level with the ground. This space will be furnished with chairs, including rockers, and tables, where those who do not care to dance but want to hear the music can sit and enjoy themselves; and where they can open their baskets and partake of their dinner or lunch, if they prefer it in the open air. This space will of course be under roof and will be equipped with movable windows, so that it can be closed entirely in case of storms or hard rain. Mr. Rowe has other improvements in mind which he will doubtless make in due time.

As to the bungalow he does not intend occupying that during the coming year but will lease it to parties desiring to spend a week or two at the park during the summer. As there are sure to be many applicants all applications will be booked as received, and any one desiring to engage the bungalow should make reservations at once.

Contest for Tax Collector.

Judge Quigley on Saturday heard the testimony in a contest between D. Porter Woodring, Republican, and D. F. Spotts, Democrat, to decide which one was elected tax collector of Worth township at November's election. The returns showed 84 votes for Woodring and 88 for Spotts. But 8 votes were cast on the Prohibition ticket for "P. W." Woodring, and Mr. Woodring claimed those votes were meant for him. He had with him one man who voted the Prohibition ticket and who testified that he had intended his vote for D. Porter Woodring, but that made only 85 votes. The court asked Mr. Woodring why he didn't produce the other men who voted the Prohibition ticket in order to get their testimony as to whom their vote was intended for, but he was compelled to admit that they declined to come. Under the circumstances the only thing the court could do was to decide in favor of Mr. Spotts.

Wilson I. Fleming Retired.

James F. Woodward, Secretary of Internal Affairs at Harrisburg, announced on Monday that Wilson I. Fleming, of Bellefonte, would be retired on Thursday of this week and be succeeded by W. H. Harrison, of Mount Union, as chief of the industrial division of the bureau of statistics and information of the Department of Internal Affairs. Mr. Fleming is probably one of the oldest employees in point of service on Capitol Hill. He was appointed to a position in the State Department by the late Governor Daniel H. Hastings in 1895, twenty-six years ago, a position he filled most acceptably for eighteen years. Eight years ago he was transferred to the Department of Internal Affairs where he has been until his retirement yesterday.

To the Mothers of Bellefonte.

Perhaps you have sons who are far away from home, or perhaps one or more brought back from France cold in death. My mother sleeps beneath the sod of the Keystone State, and the last resting place of one of her sisters is near Bellefonte. When the breeze blows from the north it seems to say "where is my wandering boy tonight?" He is here in failing health, with a wife almost blind and helpless. Now if any mother can brighten the writer's Christmas with a little assistance their reward will be from Him who was once a babe in the manger. The writer feels the poet's lay: Over thy heart in the days that have flown, No love like mother love ever was known.

To all a Merry Christmas.

J. B. CROWELL, Mountain Falls, Va.

Two More Soldiers Dead.

Ferguson, trustee, of Philadelphia, to cut up into building lots the four hundred acres of ground of the defunct Philadelphia Motor Speedway association at Hattboro.
