Bigamists Sent to Penitentiary.

At a brief session of court on Saturday the case against George M. Taylor and Mrs. Mabel Shawley, charged with bigamy was heard and disposed of. Taylor is from Watsontown and a year or so ago worked at the limestone quarries near Bellefonte. While here he made the acquaintance of Mrs. Shawley, wife of Henry M. Shawley, and last June they left here together, went to Union county, where they were married. Early in the winter they came here on a visit and both were arrested. At the hearing on Saturday they plead guilty to the charge and were sentenced to serve from one to two years each in the western penitentiary.

Another case disposed of was that of George Page, charged with larceny. Prosecutor, J. C. Brooks. Page is originally from Pennsvalley but had been working as a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad with headquarters in Altoona. When the retirement system was put in force by the railroad company Page was bumped out of a job and went back to Pennsvalley. Early in December he appeared at Lewis Miller's garage in Bellefonte with a new auto tire which he sold to Mr. Miller for eight dollars. The tire proved to be one stolen from the rear of J. C. Brooks' car at Centre Hall, and on information sworn out by Brooks a few days later Page was arrested. At the hearing he plead guilty to the charge of selling the tire but declared he had not stolen it. That it had been given to him by a man in payment of a four dollar loan. He stated, however, that the man in question was married and had several children and that he would rather go where the early part of his life was to jail than tell on him. The court dollars received for the tire, costs of prosecution and serve six months in fore his retirement about eighteen that at the end of thirty days he would grant him a parole and give Miss Louisa Buck, of Centre county, him five months in which to earn the money to pay the costs, etc., but if he bin, at home, as well as a number of failed to make good he would have brothers and sisters. him brought back to serve out his sen-

BROWN .-- Mrs. Sarah R. Brown, wife of Frank Brown, of Oak Hall, died at the home of her parents, George and Emma Hassinger, at Milesburg, last Thursday night following a lingering illness with Bright's disease, aged 28 years, 1 month and 28 days. A telephone message to the "Watchman" last week conveyed the information that on Wednesday Mrs. Brown had attempted to take her own life by drowning in the Oak Hall dam, but her friends aver that this is a mistake, that she fell into the dam by accident. She was a member of the Evangelical church and lived a good, christian life. Surviving her are her husband and two little sons, Albert, aged seven years, and Ira James, aged five. She also leaves her parents and the following brothers and sisters: Charles, John, George and Clarence, all at home; Mrs. W. T. Reeder and Mrs. W. T. Brantd, of Milesburg, and Mrs. Arthur C. Hull, of Port Matilda.

Funeral services were held at the Hassinger home on Sunday after which barial was made in the cemetery at Curtin.

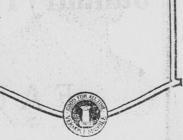

GLOSSNER .- Mrs. Rebecca Fearon Glossner, widow of the late Samuel H. Glossner, of Blanchard, died quite unexpectedly on Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. William Young, in Atglen, Chester county, where she had gone several weeks ago on a visit. She was a daughter of William and Elizabeth Fearon, of Beech Creek and when a young woman was regarded one of the best school teachers in Centre and Clinton counties. After the death of her husband she resumed teaching and taught a number of years. She is survived by one daughter, Margaret, of State College, and the following step-children: Harry Glossner, of Monument; Hugh, of Blanchard, and Mrs. D. H. Fredericks, of Flemington. She also leaves three brothers, Joseph Fearon, of Manhattan, Kan., John and Frank, of Mill Hall. The remains were taken to her old home at Blanchard yesterday and the funeral will probably be held tomorrow.

HOUSEMAN. - Rev. John H. Houseman, a veteran minister of the Lutheran church, died at his home in Juniata on Wednesday morning after an illness of several months the result of a general decline in health. He was eighty years old on January 9th, and was born at Pine Grove Mills spent. During his pastoral career he sentenced him to pay back the eight filled appointments in Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio, his last charge bethe county jail. Then he told Page years ago being at Mill Creek, Huntingdon county. He was married to who survives with one son, John Cor-

Milesburg's Monument to Its Gallant War Veterans.

The preliminary work in connection with the monument at Milesburg, being built in memory of all service men of that town and vicinity, has been completed. The foundation, base and shaft stand ready for the placing of the bronze plates. The above photo shows the monument as it will appear when completed, the blank space in the lower part of the picture being end of a 37 to 17 score, and Juniata where one of the bronze name plates will be placed.

The monument is 16 feet high and the base 8x8 feet. On each one of the four sides of the base will be placed a bronze tablet, bearing the names of soldiers and sailors from that vicinity who served in the Revolution, Civil, Spanish-American and World wars. This memorial will be equal to any in the State, and a credit to Milesburg and that vicinity.

The bronze tablets will be ordered within the next fortnight. If perchance, you Funeral services on Sunday were held in the Methodist church at Port Matilda and were in charge of Rev. W. H. Uppman, assisted by Rev. Gordon A. Williams, of Williamsport, and Rev. W. L. Lyle, of the Presbyterian church. A squad from Howard Gardner Post, of Tyrone, was present, as well as world war veterans from Port Matilda.

The remains of the other soldier were those of George W. Gill, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gill, of Julian. The young man was called for service by the Centre county board and sent away for training in April, 1918. In France he served in the ammunition train of Company C, 305th regiment. He died of influenza on October 28th, 1918. Rev. C. C. Shuey had charge of the funeral services on Sunday afternoon at one o'clock, burial being made in the Williams cem-service to the disabled ex-service man. To that end an immediate attempt is to be made to clear up all awards and complaints concerning awards of either compensation or training without further delay, and also to arrange for medical treatment where needed.

A clean-up squad from the bureau will be in Bellefonte on January 23rd, 1922, at the court house. This cleanup squad includes men who can assist in preparing applications for compensation, medical examination and evidence, and applications and decisions for training. It is imperative that every exservice man in this county who believes that he is entitled to receive some consideration from the govern- ed. ment be made aware of this visit. Any man known to you to be in need of any of the services should be told are suffering from a disability believed to have been incurred, increased or aggravated in the service, you should make it your personal business for your own benefit to meet these representatives and place before them the full facts regarding your claim. Bring your discharge and any letters received from the bureau in order to help the squad in adjusting your claim.

If you are in training at present or have been declared eligible for training, any adjustment you desire should be taken up with your training officer, as the squad is primarily in the field to adjust claims which have been disallowed, discounted, or where a reduction in compensation has occurred and a complaint is made by the claimant. The squad will also accept and prepare new claims when all the old claims have been heard and adjusted. Your co-operation is absolutely necessary if you are to receive the full benefits of what the government has provided for you. You cannot afford on Sunday. to miss this opportunity for immediate action.

Under this construction every jitney owner in Bellefonte, every owner of a delivery truck and every man who uses his car for business, and not purely for pleasure, would seem to come under the "commercial car" heading.

The one class of car owners that Mr. Woodring is undecided about is doctors, and he intends getting explicit instructions in regard to them. The doctor's car is of course used almost entirely in a commercial way, but whether the Department will rule them as commercial cars remains to be seen.
