

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The attention of "Watchman" readers is called to W. R. Brachbill's 20% discount sale on page five of this issue.

William L. Swann has been nominated for postmaster at Millheim and Miss Essie Spangler is the new postmistress at Blanchard.

A very pretty little tiger cat, well cared for and evidently a pet, followed Peter Gray Meek home from the vicinity of Linn and Spring streets, on Tuesday evening. The owner can recover same by inquiry of the lad.

Joseph F. Bertram is making extensive plans for growing water cross at the Forked Springs on the homestead farm, up Spring creek. The cross will be of a superior quality and marketed principally in the eastern markets, although local trade will be given especial attention.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's club will be held in the High school building on Monday, January 30th, at 7:30 p. m. The business meeting will be followed by a musical program. Mrs. Krader, who will direct this, has prepared a very fine and wonderful treat which should not be missed.

The First National bank, of Bellefonte, will be moved into its temporary quarters in the Harter building tomorrow afternoon after banking hours, and will be fully established to do business there on Monday morning. The contractors will begin work next week on the remodeling of their present banking house.

Chaplain and Mrs. T. W. Young entertained a number of friends at dinner on Wednesday evening of last week, at their comfortable home on east Bishop street. The guests included Rev. and Mrs. Wilson P. Ard, Mr. and Mrs. Nakel and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Griffith and daughter Betty. A most enjoyable evening was the result.

Notwithstanding the fact that many people miss the "week ahead announcements" of the Scenic as published in this paper last year, that popular motion picture show is still doing business at the old stand and showing pictures of superior merit. Patrons are always sure of an interesting evening's entertainment at the Scenic.

The students of all classes at The Pennsylvania State College are this week engaged with final examinations, the first semester closing on Saturday. No new Freshmen students can be admitted for the second semester which starts on Monday. A few will be taken into the higher classes who have spent a year or more at other colleges.

A small fire in a boarded up fire place in the old Powers house on Spring street occupied by Carl F. Cronmiller and family, resulted in a fire alarm shortly before eight o'clock on Monday morning and the calling out of the Undine triple pumper. The fire was easily extinguished with the chemical apparatus in a few minutes, so that very little damage resulted.

The temporary banking house equipment used by the Bellefonte Trust Co. while occupying quarters in the Harter building was sold at public sale last Saturday. The grill work was purchased by the First National bank, and will be used by that bank during the time it occupies the rooms. The big safe was purchased by L. Frank Mayes, presumably for the new First National bank at Centre Hall.

Mrs. Belle Ducey and Mrs. H. C. Shuey, of Tyrone, celebrated their sixty-fourth birthday anniversary last Saturday by entertaining eighty friends from Bellefonte, State College, Oak Hall, and various other places, at the Junior Fraternity building in Tyrone. Both ladies were born in College township on the same day and have been bosom friends since childhood, although not related in any other way.

At a congregational meeting on Sunday morning the members of the Presbyterian church voted to extend a call to Rev. David R. Evans, of Wellsboro, to become the pastor of the church. As there were no dissenters the call was made unanimous. W. B. Rankin was chosen to present the call to the Huntingdon Presbytery. Rev. Evans has preached in the Bellefonte church on two occasions and created a very favorable impression.

President John M. Thomas will next Sunday deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the group of sixty-six members of the Senior class at The Pennsylvania State College to be graduated at the annual mid-year vocational exercises on the evening of January 31st. This is the fourth consecutive year that a large class has been graduated at Penn State at the close of the first half-year's work, due to the interruption of student life during the war.

There will be open house and a reception for everybody at the Y. next Monday evening at 7:30. A musical program has been arranged, refreshments will be served by the ladies auxiliary and the president, Hon. A. G. Morris, will have something interesting to say. Plans are about completed to open the Y. for social, bowling and billiard privileges next week and it may be that calisthenic groups will be started as Mr. Eisman, the probable physical director, arrived in town Wednesday evening.

MANY VETERANS HEARD AND EXAMINED.

Clean-up Squad Kept Busy in Bellefonte on Monday from 9 a. m. Until 10 p. m.

Table with 2 columns: Examination Type and Number of Claims/Examinations. Includes Eye, Ear, Nose & Throat, Orthopedic, Heart and Lung, Neurologic, and X-Ray examinations.

The above tells the story in brief of the work done in Bellefonte on Monday by the Clean-up Squad under the direction of the Red Cross, the American Legion and the Home Service Bureau. It also tells in brief that more young men in Centre county are suffering as the result of their service in the world war than the public had any idea of.

Twenty men composed the squad, as follows: Dr. H. H. Hilsman, field manager; Dr. T. W. Penrose, assistant field manager; F. P. Petrott, legal advisor; Dr. Leonard D. Frescelein heart and lung specialist; Dr. Milton K. Meyers, neuropsychiatrist and specialist on endocrine disturbances; Dr. Thomas J. O'Dell, adjuster orthopedist and prosthetic appliances; Dr. William D. Barry, eyes, ear, nose and throat specialist; Drs. Hilton A. Wick, Russell G. Witman, John Spector, Francis X. McCarthy and Leo J. Laux, general medical examiners; John V. Murray, chief of interviewers; Chris Shaw and William Martin, interviewers; Edward F. Mahoney and Morris Stark, expert stenographers, and Horace Lorimer Magee, special messenger between the squad and the district office in Philadelphia.

The squad arrived in Bellefonte on Sunday and they must have heard of the town before because a number of them spent a portion of the afternoon watching the trout in Spring creek. The county commissioners kindly granted the squad the use of the court house and assisting in the preliminary arrangements were members of the local Red Cross, the Brooks-Doll Post and others. The squad also enlisted the assistance of Dr. J. L. Seibert and Dr. M. W. Reed, as special examiners; Miss Royer, the community nurse, and Miss Sara Letzell and Miss Pauline Clemens, registered nurses. Miss Geraldine Noonan and Miss Grace Sasserman, with Misses Esther Hines, Helen M. Smith, Ruth Poorman, and Eloise L. Smith, from the Bellefonte High school, were secured as additional stenographers.

The work done by the squad was thorough in every particular. As stated above, they were kept busy from nine o'clock in the morning until ten at night before the last case was disposed of. Questions relating to lost discharges, Liberty bonds, compensation insurance, back pay, travel pay, allotments and allowances, dependency claims and vocational training were handled and adjusted, eliminating much of the delay that would necessarily occur if the cases had been transferred to the district office in Williamsport. Information was also given regarding prosthetic appliances and men were provided with these when deemed necessary.

Dr. Hilsman commended the work of the local Red Cross and other organizations on their interest in the ex-service men. He also stated that this would not be the final opportunity for disabled ex-service men to file claims for compensation, but he did suggest that all claims for vocational training should be filed before December 16th, 1922. He also stated that claims of less than ten per cent, if connected with the service, for medical and dental treatment, must be filed before August 9th, 1922.

The rehabilitation act provides for two kinds of training, as specified in Sections 2 and 3. Section 2 training may be established by proving that an occupational handicap exists. In other words, a man must prove that he is unable to carry on at his previous occupation. This may be proven by medical examination, affidavits, employer's statements, physician's statements, etc. A man who has been awarded Section 3 training only, which is training without pay, is at liberty to appeal his case to Section 2 training, (training with pay), by furnishing information as above specified.

All new claimants for compensation should consult the Red Cross, which will furnish desired information and assist in making out the necessary forms. All ex-service men who allowed their insurance to lapse are urged to renew the same, which can be done by paying two month's premiums.

All local expenses incident to the squad's visit to Bellefonte was borne by the Red Cross.

Over the Hill.

A screen event of more than ordinary interest is "Over the Hill," now being shown at the Scenic and opera house—matinees at Scenic and evening shows at opera house. The picture was put on yesterday and will continue to be shown today and tomorrow. "Over the Hill" is based on Will Carleton's famous poem, "Over the Hill to the Poor House," published in another column of this paper. It is a picture that grips the heart and must be seen to be fully appreciated.

A musicale will be given in St. John's Episcopal church Tuesday evening, February 7th, at 7:45 o'clock. Talent from Lock Haven, State College and Bellefonte will assist and the program for the same, with the names of the soloists, will be printed in next week's issue.

Y. W. C. A. Girls!

Arrangements have been made with Mr. Aplin, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., to hold a special meeting of the Y. W. C. A. club in the community room, second floor of the Y. M. C. A. building, Tuesday evening, January 31st, at 7:30 o'clock. A large attendance is desired.

Star Course Number.

This (Friday) evening, at 8:15 o'clock, will be the occasion for the fourth Star course number, "The Mayfairs," two charming talented young ladies presenting a program of interest, variety and worth. The program consists of refreshing novelties, songs by alto and soprano, duets, pianologues, violin solos, readings, and ukelele selections. Their versatility as instrumentalists, vocalists and readers insures a full return for the 50 cents admission.

Watch for the Hoop-La Minstrels.

The Brooks-Doll Post of the American Legion began rehearsing last night for the big "Hoop-La Minstrels" which will be staged in the opera house two nights, Thursday and Friday evenings, February 9th and 10th. The minstrels will be given under the direction of the John B. Rogers Co. management, the same company, in fact, that had charge of the productions of "Katcha-Koo" and "The Feast of the Red Corn" when they were produced in Bellefonte. Bear in mind the dates as the boys promise something worthwhile.

Academy News Notes.

The American Legion and the Bellefonte Academy basketball teams will meet in the armory this (Friday) evening at 8:30 o'clock. This promise to be an exciting game and every fan should be there.

Since the holiday vacation a dozen fine young men have entered the Academy and in order to take care of all his students headmaster James R. Hughes has found it necessary to take six of his boys into his own residence. In fact the Academy has never been so crowded as at present, and still new boys are applying for admission.

All-Star Minstrels at Millheim.

The Bellefonte All-Star Minstrel company journeyed to Millheim last Friday and that evening staged an entertainment before a large audience that justified all advance notices. The first half of the entertainment, conducted in true minstrel style, was very well rendered and loudly applauded. The end men were fine and the interlocutor, Dale S. Musser, filled his position like a professional while the entire circle furnished splendid support. The second half of the program was mostly vaudeville and was equal in interest to the first part. In fact it would be unfair to all the performers to mention any one of them specially, as they all filled their parts amazingly well, and the fact that almost every number was liberally applauded and encores were frequently demanded, is evidence that the performance was appreciated by an audience numbering close to four hundred.

Philipsburg Firebugs Held of Court.

Byron Lewis and William Reed, two young men of Philipsburg, have been held in $1000 bail each for trial in the Centre county court on the charge of having attempted to burn a vacant blacksmith shop owned by John Hartley, in that town, on the morning of January 20th. The building had been set on fire but the flames did little damage before they were discovered and extinguished. The two young men were arrested Saturday night and at a hearing before Burgess Harry Todd, on Sunday, they confessed that they were intoxicated when they planned the deed. In reply to an inquiry as to where they got the liquor they stated at the Continental hotel and acting upon that information Sanford Lewis, father of Byron Lewis, swore out a warrant for the arrest of the landlord of the hotel and his wife, and both were held under four hundred dollars bail for their appearance at court. Both young Lewis and Reed were members of the Reliance fire company and at a meeting of the company on Monday evening both were expelled.

In Society.

Mrs. L. H. Gettig and Mrs. Donald Gettig were hostesses last week at a card party of five tables, given in celebration of Donald Gettig's birthday, at which his sister, Mrs. Davis, shared the honors with Mr. Gettig.

Mrs. William Bottorf entertained Tuesday night at her home on Spring street, six tables of cards being in play.

Wednesday night Mrs. Harry Yeager was hostess at an evening with cards.

Among the many sledding parties at this time in this section was that of the Sophomore class of the High school, the early part of last week. Numbering fifty, and with an evening spent in the F. P. Healy home, at Rockview, gave it the stamp as the most successful party of the season. Mrs. Menold, Mrs. Fred Witmer and R. F. Hunter were the chaperones.

Twenty-three of the future society set of Bellefonte, were guests of Peter Meek on a sled ride Friday afternoon. Following a drive of two hours Peter entertained his guests at the Bon Mot, where perhaps the happiest half hour of the afternoon was spent.

Five Excellent Educational Films Presented Free for School Children.

Free movies have been one of the educational features used in the Health Crusade in the public and parochial schools and the second of these, for the school year, was given Monday afternoon at half-past three o'clock in the Scenic. It is possible to have the free movies only through the generosity of T. Clayton Brown who gives the Scenic, free of charge, to the Tuberculosis committee of the Women's club. Five films were presented: "Father Knickerbockers Children," depicting some of the interesting work done by the Junior Red Cross in New York city; "A Day With the Junior Red Cross Colony in Czechoslovakia," showing how, far up in the beautiful Carpathian mountains, the Red Cross established a colony for bringing back to health and happiness, the little tots who had suffered by the war; "The Story of the Orange," a beautiful industrial picture telling in precise sequence each chapter in the life of the orange from the tiny bud to the golden fruit, picked, boxed and transported. These three films were furnished by the Red Cross. "The Tournament of Youth" and "Out of The Shadow" were from the National Tuberculosis Association. The latter was prepared by the Department of Agriculture of the State of Connecticut and illustrates proper methods of handling farm products, especially milk, as a prevention against disease, with special reference to tuberculosis. It would be well if every dairyman could have seen it for few communities seem as indifferent as ours to the advisability of having milk from tuberculin-tested cows.

Rush Township Man Perished in Big Snow Storm.

The finding of the body of Robert Cole, a resident of Rush township, on Sunday, about half a mile from the Rounders hunting club camp, reveals a tragedy of the big snow storm of January 10th. About a year ago Cole, who was a veteran of the world war, married Miss Henrietta Walk, a daughter of George W. Walk, who lives on the old Simcox place in Rush township. Since that time he and his wife had lived at the Walk home.

On the morning of January 10th Mr. Cole left the Walk home to walk to the home of his brother, Henry Cole, who lives on the Haworth farm, some six miles across the mountain, on the quest of a job. He arrived there late in the forenoon and stayed for dinner. On learning that he could not secure work there he decided to walk back as far as the camp of the Nant-y-Glo hunting club where his wife was staying temporarily. That was the last seen of him alive.

When his wife learned that her husband was not at the home of her brother, and had not returned to the Walk home she naturally became alarmed and notified the authorities. On Sunday Frank Reynolds and Barney Robison, two Philipsburg men who know almost every foot of ground in Rush township, started out to search for the missing man. Starting at the Henry Cole home they were not long in finding the dead body, notwithstanding the fact that it was partially covered with snow and ice. The supposition is that Cole became bewildered in the blinding snow storm and being unable to find his way through the woods, finally sank down exhausted and froze to death.

Business Men's Association to Hold Banquet.

At a meeting of the Bellefonte Business Men's association last Wednesday evening it was decided to hold a banquet on Thursday evening, February 23rd, and to have present as the principal speaker of the evening a member of the State Chamber of Commerce.

The new president of the association, H. C. Yeager, appointed the following standing committees: Executive committee—Robert F. Hunter, Nelson E. Robb and George Hazel.

Welfare—Charles Schlow, Rev. M. DePui Maynard, John M. Bullock, George Carpenet, J. Dorsey Hunter and Carl Weaver.

Publicity—George T. Bush, T. Clayton Brown and Ralph L. Mallory.

Finance—Walter C. Cohen, Frank M. Crawford and Claude Herr.

It was voted to continue the Building and Loan stock as an aid to furnishing capital for the building of new homes.

A motion was passed protesting against the small license fee charged street vendors who come into the town and unload inferior merchandise to the detriment of legitimate merchants who help keep up the town by the payment of taxes, and a petition of such protest is to be sent to the borough council.

Members of the association were urged to use the publicity stickers, which can be secured of the secretary, G. Oscar Gray.

Food Sale Postponed.

The food sale advertised for Saturday to be given by the Woman's Guild of St. John's Episcopal church has been postponed on account of various other sales on that day. Watch for later date.

County detective W. H. Myers, of Lock Haven, has been paroled by Judge Quigley after serving four months of a six month's sentence for operating a car while intoxicated.

Miss Mary Cunningham will leave today to return to Washington, after a visit of a week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cunningham. Miss Cunningham had not been well and was compelled to take a short vacation, but will go back to resume her work very much improved in health.

Mrs. J. A. Aikens will be in Bellefonte Sunday night, coming here from Cleveland to spend a few days, while overseeing the shipping of her furniture which did not go with her when she moved from here two years ago. During her short stay Mrs. Aikens will be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Walker.

Miss Ella Jones, in charge of the younger boys at the Odd Fellows Orphanage at Sunbury, will spend a day next month in Bellefonte with her sister, Mrs. Moseel. Miss Jones expects to visit with friends in Williamsport and Lock Haven during her vacation, making a visit to her former home here from the latter place.

Paul Coxe, one of Centre county's successful instructors, was in Bellefonte Saturday, looking after some business for himself and his mother, Mrs. Nannie Coxe, of Boalsburg. Mr. Coxe had been teaching heretofore at Moshannon but was transferred to the Branch school this year, where he is continuing his very good work.

Miss Ella Bottorf has returned to Lemont from Ames, Iowa, where she has been since fall, under the care of specialists, and visiting with her sister, Mrs. Robert Reed. During her absence the home at Lemont was closed, her mother, Mrs. Jacob Bottorf, spending the time in Bellefonte with her daughter, Mrs. John Otevine.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Coxe left a week ago for Bristol, Pa., for a visit with Mrs. Coxe's sister, and from there will go to New York, where they will be guests of her brother. Enroute home they will stop at York to spend a short time with Mr. Coxe's sister, Mrs. A. Howard Tarbert, expecting to be away from home for two weeks.

The Misses Margaret and Clarabelle Horner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkie C. Horner, of Altoona, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller, at their apartments in the Gross building on Spring street. High School Loses Close Game.

Last Friday night the Bellefonte High school basketball team met their first defeat of the season on the home floor by the Mt. Union five, in one of the most interesting and exciting games that has ever been played in the armory. From start to finish it was the nip and tuck struggle of two evenly matched teams. During the first half neither team had over a three point lead on their rival and at the ending of it Bellefonte led by a score of 11 to 9. The second half opened with a whirl and the local team soon had a five point lead. But during the closing minutes of play an unfortunate accident occurred that probably cost Bellefonte the game. Katz, whose stellar guarding had been largely responsible for Mt. Union's light scoring, suffered injuries of the instep and knee and was forced to retire. The visitors then forced the play and the game ended in a 20 to 20 tie. During the five minutes extra period Mt. Union brought the score to 24-21 in their favor.
